

MGT501_Quizzes_Notes

1. HRM stands for Human Requirement Management. (False)
2. High employee turnover is not a concern of HRM. (False)
3. Discriminatory actions are not the concern of HRM. (False)
4. The leading function involves analyzing current situations, anticipating the future, and determining objectives. (False)
5. The organizing function compares the actual with the benchmark. (False)
6. Efficiency and effectiveness are synonyms of each other. (False)
7. An organization with legitimacy and official recognition is known as an informal organization. (False)
8. 'People' are the basic arrangement of employees in an organization. (False)
9. An organization is a social entity that is goal-oriented and not deliberately structured. (False)
10. Organizational behaviour (OB) improves quality and employee productivity by showing managers how to empower employees. (True)
11. Organizational behaviour (OB) studies the impact individuals, groups, and structure have on an organization. (True)
12. Organizational behaviour (OB) does not have the capability to address diversity challenges. (False)
13. In synergy $1 + 1 = 11$. (True)
14. A problem-solving team is a formal group of employees who operate without a manager and are responsible for a complete work process. (False)
15. A virtual team is an extension of electronic meetings. (False)
16. The shift from personnel management to HRM took place in two stages. (False)
17. In the 1970s, the main job of the HR manager was to keep their companies out of court. (True)
18. The main functions of HRM consist of recruitment, training, appraisal, compensation, etc. (True)

19. The new term used for “personnel management” is human resource management. (True)
20. TQM is an abbreviation for total quantity management. (False)
21. Environmental Challenges refer to forces internal to the firm that are in management’s control and influence organizational performance. (False)
22. Firms that manage workforce diversity are more likely to survive in today’s competitive environment. (True)
23. Diversity is a term that can be used to differentiate groups and people from one another. (True)
24. Affirmative action is taken to eliminate the present effects of past discrimination. (True)
25. Equal employment opportunity means treating a few employees equally in terms of employment. (False)
26. Diversity is a term that can be used to differentiate groups and people from one another. (True)
27. Affirmative action is taken to eliminate the present effects of past discrimination. (True)
28. Equal employment opportunity means treating a few employees equally in terms of employment. (False)
29. Union is a group of employees who have joined together to deal collectively with their employer. (True)
30. Bonus is a type of non-financial reward. (False)
31. External environmental factors comprise those factors that affect a firm’s human resources from inside the organization’s boundaries. (False)
32. Staff managers assist and advise line managers in accomplishing their goals. (True)
33. Line managers usually work on the front line of a business, supervising junior staff members and reporting to upper management. (True)
34. HR managers are generally staff managers. (True)
35. Glass ceiling effect prevents women from getting higher positions. (True)

36. Civil Rights Act of 1964 act is violated when a sales person, more than 55 years old, is terminated and replaced by four younger sales representatives. (False)
37. Equal Pay Act of 1963 requires the same pay for men and women who do the same job in the same organization. (True)
38. Creative recruiting is a good approach an organization do while facing shortage of workers. (True)
39. Foresee the future HR needs and make practices to meet those needs is not the main objective of human resource planning. (False)
40. An organization should not opt restricted hiring to reduce surplus of employees. (False)
41. Mission is known as the matching of internal organizational strengths and weaknesses with external opportunities and threats to maintain competitive advantage over competitors. (False)
42. The strategic human resource planning is developed at corporate level. (True)
43. HRIS is the part of MIS. (True)
44. The job duties and responsibilities statement is the most important section of job description. (True)
45. Job enlargement is conducted to collect information about a particular job. (False)
46. Job description and job specification are outcomes of Job analysis. (True)
47. Department of labor procedure is a quantitative job analysis technique which is more applicable to lower level, blue color jobs. (False)
48. Functional job analysis is a quantitative job analysis technique which provides a more accurate picture of what the jobholder does. (True)
49. The process of evaluating the relative value or contribution of different jobs to an organization is known as job specification. (False)
50. All the following factors adversely affect the recruitment process of an organization except (Stagnant economy with low level of unemployment; Salary benefits not compatible with the market; Growing economy with low level of unemployment; Potential opportunities for the career development)

51. All the following techniques are used to forecast the demand and supply of human resources except (Bottom-Up Approach; Top-down Approach; Mathematical Models; Zero Based Forecasting)
52. To address the shortage of workers, the ABC organization intends to recruit in different geographical areas than in the past to seek different kinds of applicants. The organization may have to use..... (Training Programs; Creative Recruiting; Different Selection Standards; Compensation Incentives)
53. A forecasting technique that uses a mathematical model to experiment with a real-world situation is..... (Yield ratio; Simulation; Use of Mathematical Models; Real time analysis)
54. A forecast to determine the organization's future demand for employees to realize its goals is called Forecasting Human Resource Availability. (False)
55. A forecasting technique that uses a mathematical model to experiment with a real-world situation is..... (Yield ratio; Use of Mathematical Models ; Simulation; Real time analysis)
56. In the ABC organization, the HR department notifies its present employees about the job openings through personal letters. This is an example of..... (Promotion; Internal selection; Job Posting; Advertising)
57. All the following are the reasons, an organization go for external recruitment except (To acquire new skills; To fill entry level jobs; To obtain new ideas; To increase organization loyalty)
58. Recruiting is a function of..... (Employee development; Selection; Human resource; Management)
59. The selection process aimed at making judgement about a fit between..... (Applicant and salary; Applicant and organization; Applicant and job; All of the above)
60. is the example of a source of information that an organization utilize for the initial screening process. (Background checks; Interview; Pre-employment Testing; Resume)
61. After clearing the screening interview for the post of a Manager, Mr. Ali is waiting to proceed to the next stage of selection process which is..... (Pre-employment Testing; Aptitude Tests; Background Checks; Application Blank)

62. Screening interviews are used to verify information provided on application blanks. (True)
63. To measure the candidate's ability to learn and perform the job for which he/she is applying, ABC organization will design (Personality tests; Cognitive aptitude tests; Vocational interest tests; None of these)
64. Mr. Ali applied for the position of HR manager at ABC Company and was interviewed by the several representatives of the organization. This is an example of..... (Stress interview; One-One-One interview; Board interview; Group interview)
65. A test designed to ensure the accuracy of the applicant's information provided in the application blank is..... (Work sample tests; Polygraph tests; Intelligence tests; Personality tests)
66. During the selection process, the interviewer concluded in the first few minutes that Mr. Ahmad would not be a suitable candidate for the project manager job. It indicates the following error. (Poor knowledge of job; Snap judgment; Pressure to hire; Negative emphasis)
67. To verify the applicant's educational and legal status to work, the organization observes the following. (High school certificates; Background Investigation; None of these; Medical history)
68. Which of the following is the correct sequence of selection process? (Application blank, Initial screening, background checks; Initial screening, background checks, interviews; Initial screening, application blank, interviews; Application blank, Initial screening, interviews)
69. Which of the following needs to be considered as part of a background investigation? (Medical history; Marital status; References; Age)
70. What is meant by the acronym "HCN" (Host council national; Host cooperative national; Host career national; Host country national)
71. In which one of the following stages do workers begin to feel like part of the organization? (Encounter stage; Anticipatory stage; Metamorphosis stage; Pre-arrival stage)
72. In _____ phase of socialization, new hires have started work and are facing the reality of the job. (Pre-arrival Stage; Encounter; Anticipatory stage; Metamorphosis Stage)

73. Which one of the following is the best method of creating appropriate expectations about the job? (Group interview; Assessment centre; Graphology; Realistic job preview)
74. In the encounter phase, the new hire has started work and is facing the reality of the job. (True)
75. At the encounter stage of socialization, applicants generally have various expectations about the organization and job based on accounts provided by newspapers and other media, word of mouth, public relations, and so on. (False)
76. _____ is a creativity training technique in which participants are allowed to generate ideas openly, without fear of judgment. (Job rotation; Brainstorming; Simulation; Internships)
77. Which one of the following off-the-job training methods are often used by the organization when the information to be mastered is complex, the equipment used on the job is expensive and/or the cost of a wrong decision is quite high? (Simulation; Internships; Apprenticeships; Job rotation)
78. Which one of the following allows employees to gain experience at different kinds of narrowly defined jobs in the organization? (Simulations; Apprenticeships; Job rotation; Internships)
79. A training program designed to increase workers' efficiency might justifiably be evaluated regarding its effects on productivity or costs, but not in terms of employee satisfaction. (True)
80. The manager may be responsible for the entire process in large organizations, although external training sources may still be used. (True)
81. The manager may be responsible for the entire process in large organizations, although external training sources may still be used. (True)

BS English (Applied Linguistics)

<https://whatsapp.com/channel/0029VaazKAVBfxoDMH4l9U0u>