

MGT510 CURRENT SOLVED SUBJECTIVE MID PAPERS BY SARIM

Total Quality Management

Provided by Sarim

Q1) Describe avoidable cost give 2 examples.

Answer:

Avoidable costs are expenses that can be eliminated or reduced through specific actions. Examples include unnecessary overtime payments and excessive material waste.

Q2) If the quality of a product exceeds expectations, then what u say about quality.

Answer:

If the quality of a product exceeds expectations, it is considered exceptional or superior quality.

Q3) How the prevention cost incurred by a manufacturing business can be minimized?

Answer:

Prevention costs in manufacturing can be minimized by investing in proactive measures like robust quality management systems and regular training programs to prevent errors.

Q4) Why the customer is the judge of quality?

Answer:

Customers judge quality because they directly experience and assess products or services, determining whether they meet their expectations and requirements.

Q5) Briefly discuss the appraisal cost along with 9854 examples

MGT510 CURRENT SOLVED SUBJECTIVE MID PAPERS BY SARIM

Answer:

Appraisal costs involve evaluating and inspecting products to ensure quality. Examples include inspection expenses and testing costs.

Q6) Discuss the difference between reliability and durability

Answer:

Reliability refers to consistent performance over time, while durability refers to longevity and resistance to wear.

Q7) Types of failure cost that is incurred after delivery of product

Answer:

Types of failure costs after delivery include warranty costs, customer service expenses, and product recall expenses.

Q8) The role of quality professional in inspection, statistical quality control and quality assurance

Answer:

Quality professionals play crucial roles in inspection, statistical quality control (SQC), and quality assurance (QA) to ensure products meet standards.

Q9) Quality loss function

Answer:

Quality loss function quantifies the financial impact of quality deviations from the target.

Q10) The juran's ten steps to quality improvement

Answer:

Juran's ten steps to quality improvement provide a systematic approach to achieving and sustaining quality excellence.

MGT510 CURRENT SOLVED SUBJECTIVE MID PAPERS BY SARIM

Q11) 1-10-100 rule

Answer:

The 1-10-100 rule highlights the importance of prevention in managing quality costs: $1 to prevent a defect, $10 to detect and correct during production, and $100 after delivery.

Q12) Crosby's contribution in quality management

Answer:

Crosby emphasized prevention over detection and introduced concepts like "zero defects."

Q13) Transcendent view of quality and critique of transcendent view of quality

Answer:

The transcendent view sees quality as an abstract concept, while critics argue it lacks practicality and measurability.

Q14) How quality control is customer driven

Answer:

Quality control is customer-driven as it aims to meet or exceed customer expectations and requirements.

Q15) Importance of staff motivation in quality

Answer:

Staff motivation is crucial in maintaining quality as motivated employees are more likely to be engaged, productive, and committed to delivering high-quality work.

Q16) Deming cycle

Answer:

Deming cycle, also known as PDCA (Plan-Do-Check-Act), is a continuous improvement methodology used to achieve and maintain quality in processes and products.

MGT510 CURRENT SOLVED SUBJECTIVE MID PAPERS BY SARIM

Q17) Theory of variance n its types

Answer:

The theory of variance explains the difference between planned and actual performance.

Types include favorable variance (actual better than planned) and unfavorable variance (actual worse than planned).

Q18) Difference between authority and control in old vs new paradigm

Answer:

Authority refers to the right to make decisions and take actions, while control involves monitoring and regulating activities. In the old paradigm, authority was centralized, whereas in the new paradigm, control is decentralized.

Q19) Unavoidable cost with two examples

Answer:

Unavoidable costs are those incurred regardless of production or activity levels.

Examples

include rent

insurance premiums

Q20) Employees of the organization are important to the quality of the product. What is the way of motivating Employees?

Answer:

Motivating employees can be achieved through recognition, rewards, career development opportunities, and fostering a positive work environment.

Q21) Comment on cost of quality

Answer:

MGT510 CURRENT SOLVED SUBJECTIVE MID PAPERS BY SARIM

Cost of quality includes prevention, appraisal, and failure costs incurred to ensure product or service quality meets standards and customer expectations.

Q22) Explain briefly the Quality assurance and its role in the operational management of business

Answer:

Quality assurance ensures that processes and products meet predefined standards and requirements. It plays a vital role in ensuring consistency, reliability, and customer satisfaction.

Q23) Concept of quality

Answer:

The concept of quality is customer expectations, achieving compliance with standards, and continuous improvement efforts.

Q24) Juran three points of quality management

Answer:

Juran's three points of quality management include

- ✚ Quality planning
- ✚ Quality control
- ✚ Quality improvement

Q25) Define Internal and external cost

Answer:

Internal costs are incurred within the organization due to poor quality.

External costs arise from quality issues experienced by customers or suppliers.

Q26) Define TQM and also 2 principals of TQM

MGT510 CURRENT SOLVED SUBJECTIVE MID PAPERS BY SARIM

Answer:

Total Quality Management (TQM) is a approach to quality management that emphasizes continuous improvement, customer focus, and employee involvement.

Its principles include customer focus and continuous improvement.

Note:

For more subjects latest and currently updated files or need help/guidance contact us

Get Most Important PAST PAPERS freely from VUStudentspk.com.

Current paper is most important and recommended there will be highly chance to ask in exams as repeated questions.

REGARD: SIR SARIM

WHATSAPP +923162965677

Share with fellows and help others in their studies.