Question No : 42 of 52

Marks: 2 (Budgeted Time 4 Min)

What is the "intrinsic skew" problem in Hash based join? Give an example?

read all

Answer (Please click here to Add Answer)

Normal Arial 12 B I U

Hash-Based Join: Intrinsic Skew
Intrinsic skew can become a problem for hash, as well as sort-merge join.
The skew is in data, NOT due to hash function.
Example: Many non-CS majors registering for CS-101 instead of CS students in summer.
Intrinsic skew occurs when attributes are not distributed uniformly; it is also called attribute value skew. For example a basic Computer Science (CS) course being offered in summer, and taken by many non-CS majors who want to know about computers. The course taken by few CS-majors who missed it or got an incomplete (i.e. I) grade during the regular semester due to one reason or another. Ironically, intrinsic skew effects the performance of both hash and sort-merge joins. Sort-merge join works best when the join attributes are the primary key of both tables. This property guarantees absence of duplicates, so that a record in the left-hand-side of the relation will join with at most one record in the right-hand-side of the relation, thus avoiding the intrinsic skew

Referential Integrity Validation

Example:

How many outstanding payments in the DWH without a corresponding customer_ID in the customer table?

While doing total quality measurement, you measure RI every week (or month) and hopefully the number of orphan records will be going down, as you will be fine tuning the processes to get rid of the RI problems. Remember, RI problem is peculiar to a DWH, this will not happen in a traditional OLTP system.

“One-way Clustering gives a local view whereas Two-way Clustering gives a global view”.

Answer (Please click here to Add Answer)

Normal

Arial

B I U

1. One-way Clustering-means that when you clustered a data matrix, you used all the attributes. In this technique a similarity matrix is constructed, and then clustering is performed on rows. A cluster also exists in the data matrix for each corresponding cluster in the similarity matrix.

2. Two-way Clustering/Biclustering-here rows and columns are simultaneously clustered. No any sort of similarity or dissimilarity matrix is constructed. Biclustering gives a local view of your data set while one-way clustering gives a global view. It is possible that you first take global view of your data by performing one-way clustering and if any cluster of interest is found then you perform two-way clustering to get more details. Thus both the methods complement each other.

We can identify the Session in Word Wide Web by using "Time-contiguous Log Entries" however there are some limitations of this technique. Briefly explain any two limitations.

Answer (Please click here to Add Answer)

Normal Arial 12 B I U

Limitations

- This method breaks down for visitors from large ISPs because different visitors may reuse dynamically assigned IP addresses over a brief time period.
- Different IP addresses may be used within the same session for the same visitor.
- This approach also presents problems when dealing with browsers that are behind some firewalls.

Notwithstanding these problems, many commercial log analysis products use this method of session tracking, which requires no cookies or special Web server features.

100%

Clustering: Identify outlier records using clustering based on Euclidian (or other) distance. Existing clustering algorithms provide little support for identifying outliers. However, in some cases clustering the entire record space can reveal outliers that are not identified at the field level inspection. The main drawback of this method is computational time. The clustering algorithms have high computational complexity. For large record spaces and large number of records, the run time of the clustering algorithms is prohibitive.
