

PAK301 Glossary

❖ Evolutionary Process

Evolution is a process that brings changes in the heritable traits of biological populations over successive generations. Evolutionary processes give rise to diversity at every level of biological organization, including the levels of species, individual organisms, and molecules.

❖ Political Supremacy

If one group of people has supremacy over another group, they have more political or military power than the other group.

❖ Ethnicity

Ethnicity has been defined as "the social group or ethnic group is a grouping of people who identify with each other on the basis of perceived shared attributes that distinguish them from other groups. Those characteristics can include a common language, diet, religion, ancestry and physical features traditionally associated with race".

❖ Dynasty

A dynasty is a sequence of rulers from the same family. Especially in the context of monarchies or other forms of government where power is inherited within a specific family lineage.

❖ Constitutional Safeguards

Safeguard through law, rule, or measure intended to prevent someone or something from being harmed. Safeguarding constitutional rights: the uses and limits of prophylactic rules.

❖ Charismatic Leader

Charisma is a rare personal quality attributed to leaders who arouse fervent popular devotion and enthusiasm or personal magnetism or charm. Charismatic leader is a leader who possesses these traits and with the help of these qualities he inspires the masses to follow him and his strategy.

❖ Swaraj

The "Swaraj" means self-rule. Gandhi started the Swaraj movement; the idea of this movement was to tell the British that they should quit from Sub-continent and power should be given in the hands of Sub-continent people. But Hindus were in majority in the Sub-continent. So, it meant power should be given in the hands of Hindus. This was the reason that Quid-i-Azam showed his disagreement with Gandhi.

❖ Extra-Constitutional

Not authorized by or based on a constitution; beyond the provisions of a constitution.

❖ Separate Electorates

Separate Electorates are type of elections in which minorities select their own representatives separately, as opposed to Joint Electorates where people are selected collectively. When minorities fear that they would not get representation in state affairs and government then they demand separate electorates.

❖ Devanagari

Devanagari script is a Hindi language writing script.

❖ Dynamic Force

Dynamic force is a force acting on an object that causes it to vary or change its size, position, or direction.

❖ Democracy

Democracy is a system of government by the whole population or all the eligible members of a state, typically through elected representatives. On the other hand, dictatorship is a form of government in which one person or a small group possesses absolute power without effective constitutional limitations like the government through Martial-law.

❖ Capitalism

An economic system in which a country's trade and industry are controlled by private owners for profit. Capitalism, also called free market economy or free enterprise economy, economic system, dominant in the Western world since the breakup of feudalism, in which most means of production are privately owned and production is guided and income distributed largely through the operation of markets.

❖ Materialism

A tendency to consider material possessions and physical comfort as more important than spiritual values.

❖ Spiritualism

A system of belief or religious practice based on supposed communication with the spirits of the dead, especially through mediums.

❖ Despotic

Despotic rule is that when the rulers who rely on brute force or the threat rather than the rule of law to keep order is called Despotic rule.

❖ Medieval

Relating to the Middle Ages or relating to the period of European history from about A.D. 500 to about 1500.

❖ Political Mouthpiece

A person, newspaper, etc. that expresses the opinions of the government or a political group is called Political Mouthpiece.

❖ Distinct Nation

A stable, historically developed community of people with a territory, economic life, distinctive culture, and language in common.

❖ Revivalist Movements

Revivalist means to restore anything or to improve condition or the position. In 18th Century, Movements were started by the Muslims for the political and spiritual regeneration of the Hind o Pak. Towards the end of the 19th Century a series of Hindu revivalist movements were started like Arya Samaj, Prarthana Samaj, Shuddhi Movement, and Gaurakshini Sabhas.

❖ Conspiracy

The activity of secretly planning with other people to do something bad or illegal is called conspiracy.

❖ Prejudice

Preconceived opinion that is not based on reason or actual experience.

❖ Self-Government

Self-government is a system in which the citizens of a country (or smaller political unit, such as a state) rule themselves and control their own affairs. Self-governments are free from external government control or outside political authority.

❖ Extra Territorial

The privilege granted to some aliens, especially diplomats, of being exempt from the jurisdiction of the state in which they reside.

❖ Darul Islam

Dar al-Islam means 'house of peace' and refers to the dominion of Islam, namely, any structure (be it a home, community, or state) that allows the free practice of Islam.

❖ Revolt

To break away from or rise against constituted authority, as by open rebellion; cast off allegiance or subjection to those in authority.

❖ Central Legislature

The Central Legislative Assembly was the lower house of the Imperial Legislative Council.

❖ Constitutional Amendment

Amendments is a “minor change or addition designed to improve a text, piece of legislation, etc.” It is the need for the constitution grew out of problems, amendments are made by the governments according to the need of the time.

❖ Dyarchy System

Dyarchy is a system of double government introduced by the Government of India Act (1919) for the provinces of British India. According to this arrangement subject were divided into two categories i.e., Reserved subjects and Transferred subjects.

❖ Territorial Nationalism

Territorial nationalism describes a form of nationalism based on the belief that all inhabitants of a particular territory should share a common national identity, regardless of their ethnic, linguistic, religious, cultural and other differences.

❖ Restricted Franchise

The right to vote and be voted for in this case is restricted to only qualified voters.

❖ Coalition Government

A form of government in which political parties cooperate to form a government. Coalition governments usually are a temporary alliance, being formed when no single political party gains a clear majority and competing parties instead negotiate to work together.

❖ Theocracy

A system of government in which priests' rule in the name of God or religion.

❖ Executive

The executive is the part of the government of a country which executes laws. The executive is the organ exercising authority and holding responsibility for the governance of a state.

❖ Sectarianism

Sectarianism is defined as excessive attachment to a particular sect or party, especially in religion or very strong support for the religious or political group that you are a member of, which can cause problems between different groups.

❖ Native States

"Native states", existed in India, which were not fully and formally part of British India. There were the parts of the Indian Subcontinent which had not been conquered or annexed by the British but under indirect rule, subject to subsidiary alliances like Junagadh, Hyderabad, Kashmir and Manipur.

❖ Federal System

A federal system of government is a two-tiered system. It is a type of government in which power is divided between a central government and federation units (individual states or provinces).

❖ Sovereign State

A sovereign state is a state that has the supreme authority over a territory. The state is the political institution in which sovereignty is embodied. A state is a political division of a body of people that occupies a territory defined by frontiers and sovereign in its territory.

❖ Dominion

Dominion status refers to a form of self-governance granted by the British Empire to its colonies in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

❖ Princely States

Princely states were semi-autonomous territories that existed in India during the British Raj, ruled by native Indian Princes who acknowledged British suzerainty but maintained internal sovereignty.

❖ World War I

World War I, also known as the First World War or the Great War, was a global war that lasted from 1914 to 1918.

❖ World War II

World War II was a global war that lasted from 1939 to 1945.

❖ Interim Government

An interim government is a temporary government that run the affairs of country until a permanent government may be established after the elections.

❖ Legislation

Legislation is the preparing and enacting of laws by local, state, or national legislatures.

❖ Federation

A federation is a political system in which power is shared between a central government and its constituent parts, such as states or provinces.

❖ Orthodox Religious State

An Orthodox Religious State is a political entity where the government is based on the principles of orthodox religion, and the laws and policies are influenced by religious beliefs and practices.

❖ Geographical Contiguity

Geographical contiguity is a term used to describe the condition of two or more geographic locations that share a common boundary or are adjacent to each other.

❖ Act

In law, an act refers to a formal written document that sets out legal rules, procedures, or regulations that are binding and enforceable.

❖ Legislature

A legislature is a governmental body primarily responsible for creating, passing, and amending laws. The Government consists of three branches: executive, legislative and judicial for run the affairs of a country and the Legislature, lawmaking branch of a government.

❖ Delegate

"Delegate" is a term that refers to the act of assigning or entrusting a task or responsibility to someone else.

❖ Proclamation

A proclamation is an official announcement made by a government or other authority figure, often to make a public statement or declaration.

❖ Bicameral Legislature

A bicameral legislature is a legislative body that is divided into two separate chambers or houses. i.e., National Assembly as the lower house and the Senate as the upper house.

❖ Provincial Rights

Provincial rights refer to the powers and responsibilities that are granted to each province within a federal system of government.

❖ Presidential System

A presidential system is a form of government in which a president serves as both the head of state and the head of government.

❖ Secularists

Secularists are individuals or groups who advocate for the separation of religion from government and public affairs.

❖ Subversive

In the context of law, "subversive" refers to actions, behaviors, or activities that aim to undermine or overthrow established legal and governmental systems or institutions.

❖ Provision

A provision refers to a specific section or clause within a law that outlines a particular rule, requirement, or condition.

❖ Directive Principles

Directive principles refer to provisions that set out goals or objectives that must be achieved, but do not provide specific instructions on how to achieve them.

❖ Lower House

The lower house, also known as the lower chamber or the National Assembly, is one of the two chambers of a bicameral legislative body.

❖ Upper House

The upper house, also known as the upper chamber or the Senate, is one of the two chambers of a bicameral legislative body.

❖ Interim Constitution

An interim constitution is a temporary constitution that is put in place to govern a country or region during a transitional period.

❖ Discretion

Discretion is the quality of behaving or speaking in such a way as to avoid causing offense or revealing confidential information.

❖ Overriding Powers

Overriding powers refer to the authority or ability of one person, group, or entity to make decisions or take actions that supersede or override the decisions or actions of another person, group, or entity.

❖ Nominal Headship

Nominal headship refers to a situation where a person holds a title or position of authority, but does not have actual power or control over the organization or group they are supposed to lead.

❖ Abrogate

Abrogate means to officially or legally revoke, cancel, or abolish a law, agreement, or regulation.

❖ Parliamentary System

A parliamentary system is a form of government in which the legislative branch, or parliament, holds the primary power and authority.

❖ Martial Law

Martial law is a type of emergency rule in which the military takes control of civilian government and imposes its authority over a designated area or country.

❖ Ratification

Ratification refers to the formal approval or acceptance of a legal document, such as a treaty, agreement, or constitution.

❖ Preamble

A preamble is an introductory statement or clause in a document that explains the document's purpose and underlying philosophy.

❖ Theocratic

Theocratic refers to a form of government in which religious leaders or institutions hold the primary power and authority, and religious law is used to govern society.

❖ Uni-cameral

Uni-cameral refers to a legislative body that consists of a single chamber or house.

❖ Communal Conflict

Communal conflict is defined as a conflict between non-state groups that are organized along a shared communal identity.

❖ Legitimize and delegitimize

Legitimize To legitimize something that means to officially approve it, or make it seem acceptable.
Delegitimize To make something illegal that was previously legal It demonstrates that nationalism, as a collective consciousness, is embedded in the very system of colonialism that it apparently was confronting and trying to delegitimize.

❖ Riots

a violent disturbance of the peace by a crowd.

❖ Refugee

A refugee is a person forced to flee from his or her home country due to persecution or life-threatening circumstances.

❖ EBDO

In 1959, during Ayub Khan's martial law regime, the Elective Bodies Disqualification Order (EBDO) was enacted, resulting in the disqualification of numerous politicians.

❖ Civil War

The term "Civil War" typically refers to a large-scale armed conflict between factions within a single country, often characterized by significant political, social, and economic upheaval

❖ Agitation

Agitation can refer to a state of emotional disturbance or restlessness

❖ Ushar

is an Islamic finance and refers to a type of religious tax, typically associated with agricultural produce or income.

❖ Local Bodies

Local bodies are grassroots organizations units that performs the administrative functions at the local or municipal level of government.

❖ Legal Framework Order

The Legal Framework Order, 1970 was a presidential decree issued by then-President of Pakistan Gen. Agha Muhammad Yahya Khan that laid down the political principles and laws governing the 1970 general election Coalitions.

❖ Coalitions

a temporary alliance for combined action, especially of political parties forming a government

❖ Durand Line

The Durand Line serves as the official demarcation line separating Afghanistan and Pakistan

❖ RABI

Rabi crops are a type of agricultural crops sown in the winter season, typically between October and December.

Kharif

Kharif refers to the summer crop season in South Asia, typically spanning from June to October, during which crops like rice, maize, cotton, and millet are cultivated.

❖ Water Logging

Waterlogging is a condition in which soil becomes saturated with water, often due to excessive rainfall, poor drainage, or high water tables.

❖ Salinity

Salinity refers to the concentration of salt in soil. It is a crucial factor which destroy the soil fertility.

❖ Euphoria

It can be define as a feeling or state of intense happiness, excitement, or well-being. Which may be considered normal abnormal as well.

❖ Privatization

Privatization happens when a government-owned firm, enterprise, or property is acquired by a private, non-governmental entity. Privatization may also refer to the process by which a corporation transitions from publicly traded to privately held.

❖ Socialization

Socialization is the lifelong process through which individuals, particularly children, learn and internalize the values, norms, behaviors, and cultural practices of their society or social group.

❖ Political Parties

Political parties are organized groups of individuals with common political goals and ideologies that seek to influence government policy and gain political power through electoral process.

❖ Bilateral

Bilateral is a term used to describe relationships, agreements, or conditions that involve two parties or countries.

❖ Multilateral

Multilateral means involving or participated in by more than two parties or countries. It often refers to agreements, negotiations, or organizations that include multiple nations working together towards a common goal or issue.

❖ Solidarity

Solidarity is a concept of unity, support, and cooperation among individuals or groups.

❖ UN

The United Nations is an international organization established to promote global cooperation, peace, security, and development. It was formed in 1945.

❖ Arms Race

An arms race is a competitive buildup of military forces, technologies, and weaponry between two or more states to attain superiority.

❖ Gulf States

The term "Gulf States" typically refers to a group of countries situated around the Persian Gulf in the Middle East. This region includes nations such as Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, the United Arab Emirates, Qatar, Bahrain, and Oman.

❖ SAARC

SAARC is a regional organization consisting of eight South Asian countries: Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, the Maldives, Nepal, Pakistan, and Sri Lanka. It was established to promote regional cooperation and development in South Asia.

❖ Colonialism

Colonialism refers to a system where one country subjugates and dominates another country or region, often exploiting its resources, labor, and people for the benefit of the colonizing power

❖ Abdication

Formal renunciation of crown, power or office by a sovereign or a ruler.

❖ Achhut Community

Achhut Community is a term which refers to all the untouchables, lower class communities and Pariahs.

❖ Adjournment Motion

A motion moved by a member in the legislature to adjourn consideration of the business in hand and instead discuss a matter of urgent public importance of which he simultaneously gives a notice.

❖ Affidavit

A written statement, confirmed by oath, for use as evidence in legal proceedings.

❖ Agent Provocateur

A person employed and smuggled into the territory of the adversary to organize subversion while outwardly posing as an adherent; it also relates to a person employed to detect suspected offenders by tempting them to overt action.

❖ All rights reserved.

Warning by the owner of the copy right against any infringement thereof.

❖ Allegiance

Loyalty or duty of a subject to the sovereign or the government.

❖ Ambassador

A diplomatic envoy of the highest order sent by one Sovereign or State on mission to another Sovereign or State.

❖ Amnesty

General Pardon shown to the convicts on special occasions or an exemption from prosecution or punishment granted to political and other offenders.

❖ Anarchism

As political doctrine, anarchism does not mean disorder or absence of normalcy. According to this doctrine, the State or government is evil and should be abolished and replaced by free association of groups with no laws or restrictions. The instinctive desire on the part of the people to act together for their mutual benefit will ensure order in such a State.

❖ Anarchy

Greek word meaning "no government". It relates to conditions in a country equivalent to absence of government or with a government, powerless to maintain order. The doctrine that advocates conditions of anarchy is called anarchism.

❖ Apartheid

A South African word meaning "no government". It relates to policy of racial segregation(separation of Whites and non-Whites) practiced mainly in South Africa.

❖ Appeasement, Policy of

The act of gratifying one's adversary with concessions even by sacrificing principles. This policy has topical reference to the British policy of appeasing Hitler by granting him territorial concessions during the period 1935-38.

❖ Aristocracy

A word of Greek origin meaning government by the best men. In modern times, however, it refers to the government by a superior class, superior in birth and position.

❖ Armistice

A temporary cessation(termination) of fighting pending formal negotiations for peace.

❖ Asylum

Refuge or protection requested by or granted to a foreign national in another country.

❖ Attorney, Power of

A document, executed under seal and in proper manner, appointing another person and conveying his authority to act on his behalf in the matters specified in the document.

❖ Autocracy

An autocracy is a form of government where the political power is held by a single individual. The term autocrat is derived from the Greek word autokratôr (lit. "self-ruler", "ruler of one's self"). Compare with oligarchy (rule by a minority, by a small group) and democracy (rule by the majority, by the people).

❖ Autonomy

Right of Self-government; power to manage internal affairs in a restricted sense as applied to a State in a federal order.

❖ Axis Powers

The Axis Powers were those nations opposed to the Allies during the Second World War. The three major Axis Powers, Nazi Germany, Fascist Italy, and Imperial Japan, referred to themselves as the "Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis" and were part of an alliance. At their zenith, the Axis Powers ruled empires that dominated large parts of Europe, Asia, Africa and the Pacific Ocean, but the Second World War ended with their total defeat.

❖ Balance of Power

This is an International states' relation policy. The policy of preservation of equilibrium (balance) of strength or power among countries or groups with a view of preventing them from becoming too powerful for the safety of others is called Balance of Power.

❖ Balfour Declaration

The policy statement of the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. A. J. Balfour in 1917, pledging British support for the establishment of a Jewish State on the Palestinian land is called Balfour Declaration.

❖ Ballot

Secret voting or the votes so recorded.

❖ Bamboo Curtain

First used by British's war-time Prime Minister, Mr. Winston Churchill in an address in 1946, the term denotes the Soviet Union's efforts to seal off itself and its East European satellites from normal contacts with the non-communist countries.

❖ Bicameral system

A form of government in which Legislative Assembly comprises two chambers, as the 'Upper House' and 'Lower House'. In England Upper house is known as 'House of the Commons' and Lower is 'House of Lords'. In Pakistan Upper house is known as 'Senate' and lower house is known as 'National Assembly'.

❖ Big Five

The five big participants in the II World War against the Axis powers (this was name of alliance see Axis power). They are U.S.A., U.S.S.R., U.K., France and China. These nations continue to have a dominant voice in the United Nation. The first powers are called the Big Four.

❖ Bilateral agreement

Bilateral means mutual or two-sided, therefore bilateral agreement means an agreement signed by two countries by equal willingness.

❖ Black Panthers

A terrorist organization of the American Negroes whose members wear black jackets, carry firearms and resist white excesses by resorting to racial violence.

❖ Blitzkrieg

A German word meaning lightning war, a violent, lightning attack intended to bring about a speedy, sweeping victory.

❖ Blockade

Closing of ports and coasts of a country (in war) to prevent ships from reaching or leaving it. The measure is generally against neutral ships trading with the enemy.

❖ Blue Book

It denotes documents issued by the British Parliament as well as report of Commissions and Committees. They are bound in blue paper covers.

❖ Bolshevism

The political doctrine of Bolsheviks (in Russian, Bolsheviki means majority within the party). It is the doctrine of Proletarian (lower class) Dictatorship as advocated in Russia by the Bolsheviks led by V.I. Lenin.

❖ Bourgeoisie

French name given initially to citizens of French towns and subsequently to middle classes everywhere, generally belonging to the mercantile and trading communities. The word used in the Marxian terminology denotes the modern capitalists.

❖ Buffer State

The word "buffer" means a shock-absorbing object, interposed between two bodies about to come into contact. A Buffer State is therefore, a small neutral State between two large States (generally not on good terms) helping in minimising the chances of hostilities.

❖ Bureaucracy

Form of the government wherein the paid officials exercise the controlling influence. These days, the class of officials is also known as bureaucracy.

❖ By-election

A mid-term to a seat rendered vacant by death, resignation or the unseating of member.

❖ Cabinet system

A parliamentary process by which a council of ministers, loosely known as the Cabinet, is made responsible for the government of a country. In a parliamentary democracy, the majority party elects a leader who chooses his colleagues to form his council of Ministers. The Cabinet must enjoy the majority support of the Parliament, failing which it has to resign.

❖ Casting Vote

The Vote of the chairman that decides between the two parties of equal strength.

❖ Caucus

American term for a meeting of party managers to devise strategy and select a candidate for election. The term also denotes a powerful faction or a dominate group within a party.

❖ Charge'd Affaires

The senior most diplomat after the Head of the Mission who temporarily conducts the affairs of the Mission during the absences of the Head of the Mission.

❖ Chauvinism

Aggressive patriotism with contempt towards other nation.

❖ Civil-Disobedience

Non-cooperation towards and disobedience of the authority of the government

❖ Co-existence

Simultaneous Existence (and toleration) of conflicting creeds, ideologies and systems. Co-existence may be national or international and political, economic or religious.

❖ Coalition

A combination or association of two parties with the purpose of forming a composite government. In times of war, a coalition of the party in power and the opposition is formed to forge unity of action.

❖ Cold War

The extremely aggressive propaganda campaign waged between two power blocs and having potentialities of culminating into a shooting war any time. This campaign may be accompanied by a mad struggle for power and prestige.

❖ Collective responsibility

In a parliamentary democracy, the fact of the Cabinet being jointly answerable to the legislature. Thus every member of the Cabinet (designated as Minister) is responsible for the action of the Cabinet, as the Cabinet as a whole is responsible for the action of the Minister.

❖ Collective Security

The doctrine that all nations should collectively ensure safety of individual nations; the security alliances like NATO, SEATO, CENTO, AND Warsaw Pact are described as such alliances but, in reality, they are bastions of aggressive power.

❖ Cominform

Communist information Bureau, formed in 1947 by Russia and her satellites. It expelled Yugoslavia in 1948 for insisting on autonomy. The Bureau was liquidated in 1956 to reconcile Marshal Tito, President of Yugoslavia.

❖ Comintern

The Third International, formed in 1919 at Moscow to spread Marxian socialism in the world. Stalin dissolved this organization in 1943 as a friendly gesture towards the Allies.

❖ Commonwealth

The English noun Commonwealth dates originally from the fifteenth century. The original phrase "common wealth" or "the common weal" comes from the old meaning of 'wealth' which is 'well-being'. The term literally meant "common well-being". Thus commonwealth originally meant a state governed for the common good as opposed to a authoritarian state governed for the benefit of a given class of owners, including even despots. When capitalised, "Commonwealth" normally refers to the 53 member Commonwealth of Nations - formerly the "British Commonwealth" - a loose confederation of nations formerly members of the British Empire (with one exception: Mozambique).

❖ Communism

A socio-economic theory, based on Marxian doctrines and ultimately aiming at a classless society in which the principle "from each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs" will be consistently applied. In the economic field all resources of the nation will be communally owned and production and distribution will be state-directed. Socialism is the transitional phase leading ultimately to the goal of communism.

❖ Concordat

An agreement between the Pope, in his spiritual capacity, and a State, as the temporal authority, regulating points of conflict between the Church and the State.

❖ Condominium

Joint rule over a country by two or more other States. The Sudan was jointly administered by Britain and Egypt from 1899 to 1955.

❖ Confederation

Alliance of countries for specific purposes but States continue to retain their individual independence.

❖ Constituent assembly

A constituent assembly is a body elected with the purpose of drafting, and in some cases, adopting a constitution. OR Body of elected representatives who have assembled to frame a constitution for country.

❖ Constitution

A constitution is a system, often codified in a written document, which establishes the rules and principles by which an organization is governed. In the case of countries this term refers specifically to a national constitution, which defines the fundamental political principles and establishes the power and duties of each government.

❖ Contraband

Goods and war material which are forbidden under the international law to be supplied by the neutral State to the belligerents.

❖ Counsul

An official accredited by a State to protect the commercial interests of her nationals in a foreign country.

❖ Coup d'état

Sudden change of government, forcibly effected by a ruler, the Army or a political party.

❖ Court Martial

A Service Court for trying members of the Armed Forces, both officers and men, in accordance with the military law for offences or violations of the military discipline.

❖ Credentials

Credential is literally meaning of the letter of introduction. It refers to the letter of authority and other documents regarding the appointment of an envoy to another country which he presents to the Head of the State of the country, he is accredited to, before formally getting down to his official work.

❖ Cross Voting

The act or practice of some individuals or groups, both ruling and in opposition, to vote against the directions of the party they belong to. Thus some from the ruling group vote for opposition and vice versa.

❖ Cut motion

A motion or resolution, moved by a legislator, calling for a token cut (as small as a rupee) but occasioning discussion on the performance and budgetary demands of a Ministry or department.

❖ De facto recognition

Recognition accorded to a country in fact, whether valid in a law or not.

❖ Deadlock

Completely standstill situation wherein further negotiations are impossible.

❖ Decree

Decision or a judgement having the force of law.

❖ Delegitimize

Delegitimize means to make something legally wrong or to revoke the legal or legitimate status of something.

❖ Demagogy

The art of provoking and appealing to the prejudices of the people by false, unscrupulous orators.

❖ Despotism

Despotism is a form of government by a single authority, either an individual (ie. autocracy) or tightly knit group (ie. oligarchy), which rules with absolute political power. On its classical form, a despotism is a state where one single man wields all the power and authority, and everyone else is considered as his slave.

❖ Dialectical Materialism

The doctrine developed by Marx and Engels and based largely on the logic of dialectic propounded by the German philosopher Hegel. According to him, progress results from the interaction of two conflicting half-truths; one concept (thesis) yoking its opposite (antithesis) and the two interacting to form new concept (synthesis). According to Marx, historical change is the result of the conflict between the classes. The workers' struggle is seen as thesis, the capital's antagonism as antithesis and the resulting compromise as synthesis.

❖ Diarchy (Dyarchy)

A system of government wherein the executive is divided into two sections one consisting of elected representatives responsible to the legislature and the other comprising nominated officials or others responsible to the Head of the State.

❖ Dictatorship

A political order wherein supreme power are vested in an official or a part leader-turned-ruler.

❖ Diplomacy

Diplomacy is the art and practice of conducting negotiations between representatives of groups or nations.

❖ Electoral college

Electoral College is a body of electors chosen to elect President or Nazim.

❖ Embargo

Temporary stoppage of a particular trade; originally it related to the denial of freedom of movement to ships.

❖ Envoy

A diplomatic emissary accredited to a country and holding a status below that of an Ambassador.

❖ Episcopacy

The government of Church by bishops or government of religious leaders.

❖ Espionage

A well-planned and well-directed system of spying laid by a government or its agency in a foreign country.

❖ Extradition

Extradition is handing over by one government to another of a fugitive from justice.

❖ Fascism

A narrow political creed developed in Italy by Mussolini. A reaction against socialism and democratic equalitarianism, it meant end of parliamentary government, concentration of power in the autocrat, anti-Semitism, aggressive nationalism and denial of collective bargaining to the labour and of right to declare lockouts to the management.

❖ Federal Government (Federalism)

A system of government in which autonomous states unite and agree to surrender a part of their authority for certain purposes but for others they are independent. The division of power is laid down in the Constitution. The central subjects generally include defence, external affairs and communications whereas subjects of local importance are given over to the federal units.

❖ Feudalism

A socio-economic order in which feudal lords were granted absolute rights in land return for certain services to the king including the raising and providing of solidier in time of war.

❖ Fifth Column

Body of anti-national spies who, in the time of war, sympathise with the enemy and work for it by organising subversion to hinder the national effort.

❖ Fillbuster

Pirates and adventurers who either plundered the newly established colonies or organised armed attacks into friendly countries. In modern times, it refers to the obstructionist activities in the legislative bodies (especially in the U.S)

❖ Fixed-term elections

A Fixed-term election is an election that occurs on a set date, and cannot be changed by the incumbent politician. Fixed-term elections are common for mayors and presidents, but less common for prime ministers and other members of a parliamentary system of government.

❖ Floor Crossing

The act or practice of a person or a political group, under democracy, to cross over to the opposition with the intent of toppling the ministry system, etc.

❖ Four Freedoms

In his message to the Congress in June, 1941, President Roosevelt of the USA, pleaded for four freedoms to form the basis of civilised society. They are freedom of speech and expression, freedom of worship, freedom from want and freedom from fear.

❖ Franchise

Right of voting at public elections.

❖ Fundamental Rights

The basic rights of an individual, especially in a civilized society. These include freedom of expression and religion, rights to equality, liberty and property and right of constitutional remedies. The fundamental rights have been embodied in most of the world's written constitutions.

❖ Gallup Poll

An opinion poll devised and put into vogue by G.H.Gallup, American journalist. Trends in public opinion are gauged and broad conclusions are deduced with the help of this device by interviewing representative sets of people.

❖ Genocide

Willful extermination of a racial, ethnic, religious or a political group. This has been made an international crime by a UN Convention of 1948. Genocide was systematically practiced by the Nazi regime in Germany and millions of Jews were done to death by various means. It was practiced by Mujibur Rehman with Indian help in East Pakistan.

❖ Glorious Revolution

The term Glorious Revolution refers to the generally popular overthrow of James II of England in 1688 by a conspiracy between some Parliamentarians and the Dutch stadtholder William III of Orange-Nassau (William of Orange). The revolution was the last successful invasion of England. The Revolution is closely tied in with the events of the Nine Years War on the continent of Europe.

❖ Gold Standard

Gold Standard is a state of affairs in which a country keeps the value of a defined weight of gold at an equality with each other.

❖ Good offices

A pacific and conciliatory role played by a third party to help compose the difference between two groups or nations antagonist to each other.

❖ Guerilla

Irregular warfare. Guerilla warfare consists in attacks upon a regular army by bands of irregular troops, usually the inhabitant of an invaded country.

❖ Guided Democracy

The 'Guided Democracy' is a political system in which the free play of democratic practices has been subjected to certain limitations.

❖ Habeas Corpus

Act of British Parliament passed in 1679. Under the Act, if a person is kept in prison without trial the Courts are empowered to issue a writ to the jailor to produce the person and bring him for proper trial. It also provides facilities to the prisoner for a speedy trial and release on bail.

❖ Hansard

Verbatim record of the day-to-day proceedings of the British Parliament. It is named after Thomas Curson Hansard, an English printer, who began to issue accounts of Parliamentary debates in 1803. In 1908, the government took over this responsibility but retained the name given to these reports.

❖ Hierarchy

It denotes a body, religious or secular, organised on ranks, order or grades.

❖ Hot line

A direct telephone line between the White House(USA) and the Kremlin (USSR), established in 1963, making personal contact at the top possible between the two countries in a time of crisis and thus avoiding accidental wars. A similar Hot line was also established between Moscow and Paris in November, 1966 "in order to strengthen mutual contacts at highest level".

❖ Impeachment

Formal accusation and prosecution by a legislature against the Head of State or high public officials for serious misconduct or crime against the State or Constitution.

❖ Imperial Preference

The system whereby some goods from the countries within the British Empire were exempt from the payment of duties while others were granted tariff concessions.

❖ Imperialism

An urge of nation to organize economic and political penetration in other countries culminating in empire building. During the last 200 years, many European nations acquired, administered and developed less advanced territories for purposes of trade, prestige and domination.

❖ Inquest

A legal or judicial probe into the circumstances leading to the death of an individual.

❖ International law

Body of laws regulating the relations between nations and including pacts, treaties and conventions. It deals with such matters as the treatment of prisoners and the wounded, contraband and blockade and the rights of neutrals. International law is administered by the Court of International Justice at the Hague.

❖ Iron Curtain

First used by British's war-time Prime Minister, Mr. Winston Churchill in an address in 1946, the term denotes the Soviet Union's efforts to seal off itself and its East European satellites from normal contacts with the non-communist countries.(also known as Bamboo Curtain)

❖ Islamization

Islamization is the imposition of Islamic legal, political, economic and social system by the government.

❖ Jury

A formally appointed body of persons to render verdict on questions, submitted to them before trial, in respect of both civil and criminal cases of importance.

❖ Laissez-faire

French phrase meaning "Let alone". It is the individualist doctrine envisaging no interference by government in politics or commerce.

❖ Law

The Law is the body of rules and principles, governing the affairs of a community and enforced by a political authority; a legal system.

❖ Legation

A diplomatic mission in status lower than the Embassy. The official residence of the head of this mission is also known by this name.

❖ Legislative Assembly

A Legislative Assembly in British constitutional thought is the second-to-top or third-to-top tier of a government led by a Governor-General, Governor or a Lieutenant-Governor, inferior to an Executive Council and equal to or inferior to a Legislative Council. Politicians elected to a Legislative Assembly are usually referred to as a Member of the Legislative Assembly (MLA).

❖ Liberalism

A political order, credited with free trade, religious liberty, abolition of slavery and extension of franchise.

❖ Limited Monarchy

A constitutional set-up wherein the monarch enjoys only nominal powers and the real power rests with the representatives of the people though the business of the State is conducted in the name of the monarch. Such a system exists in England.

❖ Lobbying

Play of influence and pressure by some legislators over the others in the lobbies of the legislature in connection with important legislative business.

❖ Local elections

Rules for, and experience with, local elections vary widely across jurisdictions. In those electoral systems that roughly follow the Westminster model, a terminology has evolved with roles such as Mayor or Warden to describe the executive of a city or town or region, and Reeve, Alderman or Councillor to describe the legislators who deliberate decisions. However, job descriptions vary so widely across jurisdictions that these terms do not effectively describe the various ways in which local election campaigns and means of election vary.

❖ Lynching

System of extra legal punishment inflicted on Negroes by the Whites in the 18th century in America and Europe. It was widely prevalent in the areas where racial antagonism was strong and authority weak. The name is taken from the Virginian farmer Charles Lynch who was the leader of those who took summary vengeance on black men for offences against the whites.

❖ Mandate

The system of trusteeship established by the League of Nations for the seized German and Turkish colonies or territories. Under this system, Britain governed Tanganyika, Palestine and Jordan and France governed Syria as mandated territories.

❖ Manifesto

A pre-election declaration of policy by a political party detailing its future programmes, if voted to power.

❖ Mediation

Efforts by intermediaries to help compose differences between two antagonists.

❖ Metapolitics

n. theoretical political study. metapolitical, a. metapolitician, n.

❖ Mobilizing

Mobilize means: 1: To make mobile or capable of movement. 2: To assemble, prepare, or put into operation for or as if for war. 3: To assemble, marshal, or coordinate for a purpose.

❖ Monarchy

Monarchy, (from the Greek monos, "one," and archein, "to rule") is a form of government that has a monarch as Head of State. A distinguishing characteristic of most monarchies is that the Head of State usually reigns for life; in a republic, the Head of State (often called the president) is normally elected for a certain amount of time. There are currently 29 extant monarchies in the world.

❖ Money Bills

Bills involving financial commitments on the part of the government such as the annual budget, etc.

❖ National Anthem

The official song of a nation which is played on state ceremonial occasions.

❖ Nationalism

The doctrine of social philosophy in which the good of the nation is paramount. In its narrow sense, it may mean excessive or aggressive zeal for the welfare and advancement of the country, even at the cost of other people's interests.

❖ Nationalization

The Policy of taking business, industries or other projects under the control and management of the State.

❖ Naturalisation

The process by which an alien is granted citizenship of a country.

❖ Naxalism

Taking its name from the Naxalbari uprising of March, 1967, it is the ultra-revolutionary Marxist movement, violent in character. Forcible dispossession of the land-owners, grabbing of land by the tillers and armed agrarian revolution are the prominent features of this movement. All Naxalites are Mao supporters.

❖ Nazism

The political ideology of the National Socialist German Workers Party, led by Adolf Hitler till 1945. It was steeped in the glorification of German race (the purest Aryans), strong nationalism, anti-Semitism and establish of a pan-German empire. Jews and Communist were the "greatest enemies" of Nazism.

❖ Neutrality

An attitude (or policy) of strict impartiality and non-alignment towards the warring nations or ideologically antagonistic countries.

❖ Nomenclature

1: Nomenclature is a system of names used in an art or a science. 2: Nomenclature is also a procedure of assigning names to the kinds and groups of organisms listed in a taxonomic classification.

❖ Oligarchy

Greek word meaning the rule of the few. It is considered as a bad form of government since the few will always rule, as motivated by their own interests. OR Oligarchy is a form of government where most or all political power effectively rests with a small segment of society (typically the most powerful, whether by wealth, family, military strength, ruthlessness, or political influence). The word oligarchy is from the Greek words for "few" (oligo) and "rule" (arkhos). Some political theorists have argued that all governments are inevitably oligarchies no matter the supposed political system.

❖ Open Door Policy

It refers to the policy of equal commercial and industrial rights for all nations.

❖ Ordinance

A decree or Act promulgated by the Head of the State in a state of emergency, or when the legislature is not in session. Such ordinances are valid only for a specific period after which they must be approved by the legislature.

❖ Pacifism

Doctrine of elimination of war by individual and collective action. The pacifists strongly oppose the wilful killing of human beings and advocate obstruction of all efforts at militarism.

❖ Parliament

1. A national representative body having supreme legislative powers within the state. 2. Parliament The national legislature of various countries, especially that of the United Kingdom, made up of the House of Lords and the House of Commons.

❖ Parole

A prisoner's word of honour that, if released, he will not attempt escape, will return to custody and (in case of a military prisoner) will not take up arms against the captors for a specific period.

❖ People's republic

Peoples' Republic is a political organization founded and controlled by a national Communist Party.

❖ Persona non grata.

A diplomatic envoy not welcome (or not acceptable) in the host country.

❖ Personality cult

Extreme adulation of a ruler or a political figure by the people. Such idolization generally turns that person's head and often helps him assume absolute powers and turn a tyrant.

❖ Pilgrim Fathers

The English Puritan separatists who sailed to America in 1620 in the Mayflower and founded the Plymouth colony, Massachusetts.

❖ Plebiscite

Derived from a Greek word, it denotes vote of the entire electorate on a distinct or important issue.

❖ Plenipotentiary, Envoy

A diplomatic official who has been invested with full and special powers with regard to his assignment.

❖ Plutocracy

A government run (or dominated) by a wealthy class of people.

❖ Polarization

A situation when two factions within an organization or when two separate organizations come to profess and practice diametrically opposite opinions and ideologies, forming themselves into mutually-opposite forces.

❖ Polycentralism

The doctrine that all socialist countries and all communist parties have equal rights, with none possessing the privilege or right to impose its particular experience on others.

❖ Power Politics

Political activity aimed mainly at capturing power or retaining it in disregard to the welfare and good of the people.

❖ Prerogative

The exclusive right or privilege enjoyed by a person or a body.

❖ Privilege Motion

A motion moved by a legislator to draw attention of the House towards a matter involving breach of privilege of the House or any of its members.

❖ Promulgate

Promulgate means to make known publicly, declare, announce or proclaim. It particularly implies the proclaiming of a dogma, doctrine, or law.

❖ Proportional Representation

The fact of a member of an electoral college commanding a number of votes in proportion to the number of electors that he represents.

❖ Protectorate

A dependent (in certain cases weak) State which looks to another (strong) State for its protection and for the conduct of its foreign relations.

❖ Protocol

Diplomatic etiquette; original draft of terms and treaty (between two governments) agreed to in conference and signed by the parties.

❖ Proxy

A person acting on behalf of another

❖ Quisling

A traitor who helps and co-operates with the enemy who is in occupation of his country. The term is derived from Vidkun Quisling, an officer in the Norwegian Army, who assisted the German invasion of Norway in 1940 and who was installed a puppet Premier. After the war, he was tried for treason and shot. His name has become a synonym for a traitor.

❖ Quorum

A fixed minimum of members (in legislature and other elected bodies) whose presence is essential for the proceedings to be held valid.

❖ Referendum

The Swiss practice of referring constitutional amendments and other important legislation of controversial nature to the direct vote of the people. The verdict of the people is binding on the government.

❖ Representative Government

A government run by the elected representatives of the people. The elected representatives, in fact, carry out the wishes of the electors which are reflected in the various legislative and executive actions of the government.

❖ Republic

Opposite of Monarchy. Under this system, sovereignty rests with the people and is exercised by their elected representatives. Head of the State is called the President.

❖ Responsible government

A system of government in which the executive is answerable for all its actions to the elected legislature.

❖ Rule of Law

A political order in which all people irrespective of their religion, colour or profession, are equal in the eye of law. No man will be punished bodily or in any other manner except for a clear breach of law, established in the ordinary legal manner.

❖ Sabotage

Wanton destruction of machinery or other factors of production by the workers. It also means senseless damage of public utility services or important defence installations by paid agents of the enemy.

❖ Sanctions

Penalty or reward imposed for disobedience or obedience (as the case may be) attached to a law. This is done to enforce obedience to any rule of conduct.

❖ Secular

Secularity and secular are derived from the Latin word saeculum, an expression of time meaning one generation or century.

❖ Secularism

The system under which there is no state religion yet all religions and faiths enjoy equality of treatment. In the strict literal sense, secularism denotes a system that rejects belief in God, religion and future life.

❖ Self-determination

The term means the right of a nation to decide its own form of government and its political destiny.

❖ Single transferable vote

A phenomenon in which a member of the electoral college possesses one vote but as many preferences as the number of candidates. By exercising his preference, the elector is said to have transferred his vote to another person.

❖ Skinheads

Close-cropped, heavy-booted white youngsters in Britain (mostly coming from the nation's slums) who provide an antithesis to the "hippy cult". Of late, these elements have been terrorizing the coloured immigrants, especially the Asians, in Britain.

❖ Socialism

A political and economic doctrine aiming at socialisation of the factors of production and state control over the processes of distribution. Competition is to be replaced by co-operation and rewards of labour are to be apportioned equitably. Marxian socialists believe that such an order is born out of a public upsurge culminating into a revolution. Others maintain that socialism is possible through democratic methods. OR Socialism refers to a broad array of doctrines. As an economic system, socialism is usually associated with state or collective ownership of the means of production. This control, according to socialists, may be either direct, exercised through popular collectives such as workers' councils, or it may be indirect, exercised on behalf of the people by the state.

❖ Sovereignty

It is the supreme and ultimate power of a State to impose its will upon all persons, associations and things within its jurisdiction. Freedom from external control is an essential element of sovereignty. OR Sovereignty is the exclusive right to exercise supreme political (e.g. legislative, judicial, and/or executive) authority over a geographic region, group of people, or oneself.

❖ Sphere of Influence

Territories where the will and the influence of a superior power have a decisive role.

❖ Spoils system

The widely prevalent practice in the U.S.A. to apportion important offices to the loyal members of the party in power.

❖ State

A state is a set of institutions that possess the authority to make the rules that govern a society, having internal and external sovereignty over a definite territory.

❖ Statute

Laws made by the Parliament, which are said to have been placed on the statute book. These laws are binding on all subjects of a particular country.

❖ Suffrage

The right of voting in political elections.

❖ Syndicalism

A doctrine of French origin which, during the days of early 20th century, aimed at the elimination of the capitalists, and control and management of industry by the syndicates comprising the workers.

❖ Territorial Waters

A belt of sea surrounding the coasts of a country over which that country has jurisdiction. The generally accepted territorial waters limit is three miles though some countries are known to have arbitrarily increased this limit.

❖ The Nine Years War

The Nine Years War can also refer to a conflict in Ireland, 1594–1603; see Nine Years War. The war was fought to resist French expansionism along the Rhine, as well as, on the part of England, to safeguard the results of the Glorious Revolution from a possible French-backed restoration of James II of England.

❖ Totalitarianism

A political order in which absolute powers are concentrated in one (the ruling) group and no rival loyalties or parties are tolerated.

❖ Treason

Gross violation by a subject of allegiance to the authority of the State or active collaboration with, or adherence to the enemy.

❖ Troika

The unsuccessful Russian proposal for the abolition of the post of the UN Secretary-General and its replacement by a three nation executive, called Troika, comprising a member each from the West, Soviet Bloc and the neutral nations respectively. All the three members were to be invested with veto power.

❖ Unicameral

A legislature having only one house.

❖ Upper & Lower Houses

In Pakistan National Assembly is lower house and Senate is upper house. The members of the National Assembly are directly elected and executive is taken from the lower house. Lower house is broadly representative of the population. The upper house is representative of the federation and has equal representation of federating units.

❖ viceroy

A viceroy is a royal official who governs a country or province in the name of and as representative of the monarch. The term derives from the Latin prefix vice-, meaning "in the place of" and French roi, meaning king.

❖ Weightage

Allowing a particular community (or group) more representation than it can claim on the basis of its population.

❖ whip

An important party official, entrusted with the responsibility of organising disciplined voting according to the party directions and ensuring attendance of the party members on a specific occasion.

❖ White Paper

A detailed policy statement issued by a government with regard to a matter of considerable public importance. Originally, it was the name given to the reports of the British Government giving official version of important of important matters of public concern

❖ Will

A legal document by which a person disposes of his assets on death.

❖ Writ

A written order by the Supreme Court or the High Court directing the state or a lower Court to act or abstain from acting in a particular matter.

For Files and Groups of Maha Malik:

<https://whatsapp.com/channel/0029VaLvft01XquQQ7sIB12s>