Culture Defined

A school culture is a complex pattern of norms, attitudes, beliefs, behavior, values, ceremonies, traditions and myths that are deeply ingrained in the very core of the organization". Barth (2002)

Traditions

There are some schools which keep the tradition alive. By having those tradition displayed and most of the time talked about the school, in the class room, among the meeting and also the other staff of the school.

Myth

- ❖ There are certain myths in certain sectors of the country where people follow certain myths. These things are going to happen in the same way they were happening 10 years because of certain reasons.
- ❖ All these are deeply ingrained in the very core of the organization. So the organization ingrained in their policies, action and display, so that all these things are practice in the school.

Low Literacy

- ❖ The drop out at primary level is 45 percent, while at middle/elementary and secondary level is about 30 percent.

- ❖ Low literacy rate is mainly due to poverty and non-statutory primary education

Culture

The term culture is a system of:

- ❖ Shared, meanings symbols, experiences.
- ❖ Practices, shared values, beliefs and sense-making (Morgan, 1989).
- ❖ Culture includes deep pattern of values, belief and tradition that have been formed over the course of the school's history". (Deal and Peterson 1990) The term culture is a system. Morgan (1989) called culture to be a system.

Winners and Losers

The concept of winners or losers prevails in the minds of parents to a great extent, nonetheless, it is also sometimes displayed by the behavior and attitude of teachers and school staff.

School generated problems

Some teachers are insensitive to the needs and problems of students and their families.

Students sometimes come home and talk about their teachers' insensitivity towards their problems.

Some problems which are generated by the school. Some teachers are insensitive to the needs and problems of students and their families. Because these teachers they do not know what is going on in the family of the students. Therefore, they are unaware that are problems students are facing at home or in their families. They become totally insensitive toward it.

Confidence and Trust building

Students coming from any cultural background and any community must have trust in their teachers that they will be heard by the school authorities.

Students coming from any cultural background and any community must have trust in their teachers that they will be heard by the school authorities. Even if there is violent act in a school that is taking place by the children, as a result of some frustration because they were negative feeling about the community or the school or they were child abuse in a school. Anything that happen, the students and child must have trust and confidence in the school, in the community and in their family. If they are not having this the confidence that mean they are not going to talk about the issue which has come up to be result of some unfair treatment from the school. Authorities or the parents or some kind of frustration which has led to that particular incident. So, whether they are coming from any cultural background or any economic status they should

What are the expectation my parents for my future?

Usually in the context of Pakistani society, the parents expect a lot from their children and specially from their male children. From the very earlier childhood, boy is told that parents are expecting him to be the earner of the family when the parent getting old. The child has a lot of pressure because of that. He think that he has priority to earn money for the rest of family when he grows up. With this pressure on his shoulders, he has also pressure his on priority. When he goes to the school, may be the priority totally changed. The teachers want to the student to be concentrating on their subject. The school expects them itself in different activities in a school. Therefore, the students feel pressurized having all these priorities and responsibility on his shoulders.
