

ENG524

MIDTERM PAPER

ZAINEE...

Note: Focus only on the handouts, as only 10% of the paper was from the file.

It is better to prepare handouts instead of wasting time.

1. Interpretation is the second stage of Fairclough 3d model.
2. CARS stands for create a research space.
3. Genre analysis can be made for speeches and other political genres, such as debates and interviews,
4. MMDA stands for multi-modal discourse analysis.
5. MCDA stands for Multi-modal Critical Discourse Analysis.
6. Justification aims to depict the social object as just, rational, worthy of support.
7. Which one is not a discursive strategy?
 - a) Predication
 - b) Nomination
 - c) Perspectivization
 - d) Abstraction.
8. In CDA Ethos is a proof through the credibility of the character of the speaker
9. As language is ambiguous; What things mean is never absolutely clear.
10. The term corpus is used to refer to large collections of texts which represent a sample of a particular variety or use of language(s) that are presented in machine readable form

11. According to Malinowski and Firth; the context consists of

- a) Field
- b) Tenors
- c) Mode
- d) All of these.

12. Positioning of information in the text, how the text fits with the overall knowledge in the related epistemic/discourse is dealt with at discourse level.

13. Discourse analysts frequently conceive of discourse as “text in context”.

14. Metaphor, even if partly based in embodied experience, is also a function of pragmatic choices and never independent of its context of use.

Subjective part

1. Pragmatic argument:

A pragmatic argument evaluates an action by focusing on its positive or negative consequences, arguing that an action should be accepted if it leads to beneficial outcomes and rejected if it results in harmful effects.

Example:

The government should promote renewable energy because it reduces pollution, protects the environment, and ensures long-term sustainability.

2. Difference between stance and engagement?

Stance shows the writer’s attitude, evaluation, or certainty toward the content (e.g., “This clearly shows...”).

Engagement shows how the writer involves or addresses the audience (e.g., “As we can see...”).

In short, stance = writer’s position, engagement = reader involvement.

3. Fill in the blanks (representation, immigrants, phenomenon, meaning)

- I. A viewpoint about multimodality is the cognitive approach, inspired mainly by the work of Forceville.
- II. This approach studies how visual metaphors, in film, advertising and cartoons, for example, as with metaphors in language, can be used to shape perceptions of particular phenomenon.
- III. some critical discourse analysts to show some visual metaphorical patterns in the representation of immigrants.
- IV. “A multimodal social-semiotic approach assumes that all modes of representation are, in principle, of equal significance in representation and communication, as all modes have potential for meaning.”

4. True/False

(Note: These True/False answers were generated using ChatGPT; therefore, independent verification is recommended. Please confirm at your own end.)

- I. The term positive discourse analysis was first introduced by Martin in 1988.
False
- II. Martin’s approach to PDA solely focuses on deconstructing language without analyzing or participating in sites of successful social change. False
- III. PDA discourages critical thinking and instead promotes passive acceptance of societal norm. False

- IV. PDA emphasizes designing intervention based on consideration of improving the world. True
- V. PDA exclusively focuses on analyzing language withing the social change. False