Q. How does code mixing and code switching of English and regional languages improve the effective communication?

SOLUTION

Code mixing and code switching of English and regional languages can significantly improve effective communication in several ways:

Facilitates Multilingual Communication

Code mixing and code switching enable speakers to communicate with people who speak different languages, promoting multilingual communication and bridging language gaps.

Enhances Expressiveness and Clarity

By incorporating words and phrases from regional languages, speakers can convey complex ideas and emotions more effectively, adding nuance and depth to their communication.

Builds Rapport and Establishes Common Ground

ZB

Code mixing and code switching can help establish a connection with the audience, creating a sense of shared identity and community. This can be particularly important in multicultural settings.

Increases Accessibility and Inclusivity

By incorporating regional languages, communication becomes more accessible and inclusive, allowing people who may not be fluent in English to participate and engage more easily.

Supports Cognitive and Cultural Diversity

Code mixing and code switching reflect the cognitive and cultural diversity of multilingual communities, promoting linguistic diversity and challenging traditional notions of language purity.

Fosters Creativity and Playfulness

The passing criteria is defined in such a way that it ensures the student shall be consistent in his studies throughout the semester.

Therefore, for passing a course/subject, student shall fulfill the following:

- Secure minimum 20% score in Formative Assessments/Mid terms
- Secure minimum 20% score in Final Term Examinations.
- Secure at least 40% marks in aggregate while fulfilling the above requirements

Course Selection and Credit Hours

Q: How do I select courses when the course selection is open?

A: Follow these steps:

- Check the credit hours allowed by your university (e.g., 21, 18, or 15 credit hours).

ENG 506 GDB Solution

ZB

2. Each subject typically has 3 credit hours.

3. Divide the total allowed credit hours by 3 to determine how many subjects you can select.

Examples:

21 credit hours = 7 subjects

18 credit hours = 6 subjects

15 credit hours = 5 subjects

Remember, the university may allow different credit hours for each student, so check your specific allowance.

By following these steps, you can make informed decisions during course selection and manage your credit hours effectively.
