Question No: 20 (Marks: 5)

Individual cultural variables are very important to understand intercultural communication, discuss with three individual cultural variables:

Individual cultural variables are very important to understand intercultural communication because While communicating, the message sender and the receiver are both affected by external and internal stimuli. So communicating with business people in a foreign country you must realize that overall individual cultural and other culture as well.

Three individual cultures are discussed below:

1.Food:

Food is one of the individual cultural variables. In order to understand individual culture It may be a good idea prior to visiting your host country to visit various ethnic restaurants in your home country. Then you'll have an initial idea as to the kinds of foods available: how they are served, fixed or eaten.

2. Manners:

Another individual cultural variable is Knowing manner which is also very important. You must follow the manner according to the countries. As Children shake your hand in Germany, hug you in Italy. So different countries have different manners of greeting, we need to follow it for better understanding of individual culture variable.

3.Time

Persons in Latin America and the Middle East treat time more casually then do Americans, prefer promptness. Germans are time-precise. In Latin America – and in Buddhist cultures – you may wait an hour; just reflecting a different concept of time; arriving late is a social accepted custom.

ANS:

"Please ship parcel post, 300 Dell computers before the end of November."

Question No: 19 (Marks: 3)

Point out some barriers in communication which arise due to attitude and value differences of sender and receiver?

The term attitude describes people and explains their behavior. More precisely an attitude can be defined as a persistent tendency to feel and behave in a particular way towards some object.

A receiver's attitude toward a message can determine whether it is accepted or rejected. The effectiveness is influenced also by the values, attitudes, and opinions of the communicators. People react favorably when they receive agreeable message.

We can also explain barriers in communication which arise due to attitude and value by this example.

"Name does not like night shift, so his attitude is negative towards his work assignment."

Question No: 20 (Marks: 5) Write short notes on the following:

1- Importance of communication in your career

2- Developing the right attitude

1- Importance of communication in your career :

Importance of communication has gained recognition because it is the most vital mean by which people are connected together in the society. Unlike many other skills, communications skills can be used in virtually every field. Wherever you work, you always need to communicate with others. There is no job in this world in which you don't need to communicate with other people. Whether you are a teacher, a driver, a designer, or anything else, communication is an indispensable part of what you do. The good thing about this is your effort on improving your communication skills will definitely be fruitful since you can always use those skills. Communication skills will always be relevant though you switch to new careers.If you are good at communicating, there is a good chance that you will quickly advance in your career. On the other hand, if you are bad at communicating then it would be difficult for you to move higher in your career. 2-

Developing the right attitude:

Attitude describes people and their behavior .Your attitude when dealing with customers, clients, and the public reflect on the company you represent. So you must develop right attitude in yourself. Because "To the customer, you are the company." Our attitude will reflect your country and your culture.

Each message communicates the essential quality and culture of your company and can either build goodwill of destroy it. Doing an honest job enthusiastically and competently helps both the doer and the receiver. Answering even routine inquiries should and can be a inter easting challenge.

Question No: 21 (Marks: 10)

What is meant by Globalization? The implications of globalization on organizational behavior are profound and direct. Comment on this statement?

ANS:

WHAT IS GLOBALIZATION?

Globalization means that for a Company to survive, it must establish markets not only in it own Country but also in money foreign countries .Globalization describes a process by which regional economies, societies, and cultures have become integrated through a globespanning network of communication and trade.

It is the Name for the process of increasing the connectivity and interdependence of the world's markets and businesses. This process has speeded up dramatically in the last two decades as technological advances make it easier for people to travel, communicate, and do business internationally.

Implications of globalization:

There are various implications of globalization on organizational behavior like

- New organizational structures
- Different forms of communications
- Need more sensitivity to cultural differences
- More competition

Now a days globalization is very much important for survival. Organizations expand globally to gain access to resources as inputs and to sell there products as outputs. Companies seek the expertise found in other countries. Competition is of greater extent in global environment. Companies compete with foreign competitors. The world is viewed as a single market. There exist a diverse workforce and the challenge of managing it increases as organizations expand their operations internationally. People from different countries have difficulties in non verbal communication due to differences in their cultures.

So globalization is no doubt an important need now but due to this organizations have to face many challenges

Question No: 20 (Marks: 5)

What is the role of time, space and silence in effective communication?

TIME:

Time plays a vital role in making the communication effective. Time is one of the most central differences that separate cultures and cultural ways of doing things. In the West, time tends to be seen as quantitative, measured in units that reflect the march of progress. For ex Germans are considered time precise

SPACE:

Another important tool to make the communication effective is space. The concept of space is also necessary while communication. It depends How close may strangers stand to you. The space between the sender and the receiver of a message influences the way the message is interpreted.

Example:

Concepts of office space differ

Some cultures consider those who stand close to you as intrusive, rude, pushy, and overbearing.

SILENCE:

Silence also plays an important role to make the communication effective. Silence for a while should also maintain in order to know the response about your communication.

Question No: 21 (Marks: 10)

What type of barriers in communication will be faced by a foreigner in a country he visited for the first time and how he will be able to overcome them?

People in the world are not exactly alike. Cultures or countries are not the same. These differences, however, can cause problems in conveying your meanings and become barrier in communication which is faced by a foreigner in a country.

Following are the barriers in communication which are faced by foreigner.

1. SEMANTIC BARRIERS:
2. PHYSICAL BARRIERS:

The explanation of these is given below:

1.SEMANTIC BARRIERS:

A basic principle of communication is that the symbols the sender uses to communicate messages must have the same meaning in both the sender's and receiver's minds. You can never be sure that the message in your mind will be clearly sent to your receiver. The world is full with errors, as a result of differences in semantic (meaning) understanding.

Denotation is a term of semantic barriers.

A denotation is usually the dictionary definition of a word. Denotative meanings name objects, people or events without indicating positive or negative qualities. Some words have positive connotations in some contexts and negative meanings in others.

EXAMPLE:

slim girl and slim chances

2.PHYSICAL BARRIERS:

Another set of barriers is caused by your own physical appearance, your audience, or the context of the document or the presentation. Your ideas, however good and however skillfully imparted, are at the mercy of various potential physical barriers Following are some sub categories of physical barriers:

Psychological Barriers
Emotional Barriers
Barriers Involving Values, Attitudes etc.
Barrier of Perception of reality

Psychological Barriers:

Because of the changing world, everyone has his own concept of reality. Also, human beings, sensory perceptions – touch, sight, hearing, smell, and taste are limited, and each person's mental filter is unique. In our daily interaction with others, we make various abstractions, inferences and evaluations of the world around us.

Emotional Barriers

One possible psychological block is emotional, you may be emotionally block is you are announcing a new policy you may become popular or unpopular.

Barriers Involving Values, Attitudes etc

The term attitude describes people and explains their behavior. Both personality and attitude are complex cognitive process. The difference is that personality usually is thought of as the whole person whereas attitude may makeup the personality. A receiver's attitude toward a message can determine whether it is accepted or rejected

Such as Some people hold rigid views on certain subjects. They maintain their rigid views regardless of the circumstances. Such a closed minded person is very difficult to communicate to.

Barrier of Perception of reality

In perception of reality barrier the term Inferring is used which means Conclusions made by reasoning from evidence are called inferences. We make assumptions and draw Conclusions even though we are not able to immediately verify the evidence. For example.

When we reach a foreign country, we are sure that we will be treated politely.

When we post a letter, we infer that it will reach its destination.

Conclusions we make about things we have not observed directly can often be against our wishes.

What is the organizational plan for order letters? Discuss each point briefly

Organizational plan:

Organization plan is the plan that how to order product in proper manner. it contains the following:

A. Direct Statement of the Request

- Use wording that indicates an order rather than a request: "Please send me" or "please ship" instead of "I want" or "I need," which are neither polite nor legally appropriate for a business order.
- Open with a general description of your order that encompasses all the details.

B. Justification, Explanation, and Details

- For complex orders, provide a general explanation of how the requested materials will be used.
- Provide all specifications: quantity, price (including discounts), size, catalog number, product description, shipping instructions (date and place), arrangements for payment (method, time, deposits), and cost totals.
- Use a format that presents information clearly and makes it easy to total amounts.
- Double-check the completeness of your order and the cost totals. C. Courteous Close with Request for Specific Action Include a clear summary of the desired action.
- Whenever possible, suggest a future reader benefit of complying with the order.
- Close on a cordial note.
- Clearly state any time limits that apply to your order, and explain why they are important

Write an order letter to ABC Company for the purchase of weather vanes?

Dear Sirs,

Please send me one of your weather vanes which I saw advertised for Rs. 2000. We have recently repainted our garage, and a weather vane would be a wonderful finishing touch.

My cheque is enclosed.

Sincerely yours,
