

ENG101

Reading: Presenting Information Graphically

- Presenting Information Graphically: Showing information using visuals like charts, graphs, tables, or diagrams to make it easier to understand.

Writing: Sentence Types

- Sentence Types: Different kinds of sentences based on their structure and function, like declarative (statements), interrogative (questions), exclamatory (strong emotions), and imperative (commands).

Writing: Effective Sentences

- Unity, Coherence, Emphasis:
 - Unity: Ensuring that all parts of a sentence relate to the main idea.
 - Coherence: Making sure sentences flow logically from one to the next.
 - Emphasis: Placing the most important information in a sentence where it stands out, like at the beginning or end.

Writing: Identifying Sentence Errors

- Identifying Sentence Errors: Finding mistakes in sentences, such as incorrect grammar, punctuation, or word choice.

Writing: Revising Sentence Errors

- Revising Sentence Errors: Correcting the mistakes found in sentences during editing, like fixing grammar or improving sentence structure.

Subject-Verb Agreement

- Subject-Verb Agreement: Ensuring that the subject (who or what the sentence is about) matches the verb in number (singular or plural). For example, "She runs" (singular) vs. "They run" (plural).

Writing

- Writing: The act of composing text to communicate ideas clearly and effectively.

Word Choice

- Word Choice: Selecting the right words to convey the exact meaning you want and to fit the tone of your writing.

Punctuation

- Punctuation: The marks (like periods, commas, question marks) used in writing to separate sentences, clarify meaning, and make writing easier to read.

Writing: Paragraphs: Structural Parts

- Paragraphs: Structural Parts: The different parts of a paragraph, typically starting with a topic sentence, followed by supporting details, and a concluding sentence.

Writing: Paragraph

- Paragraph: A group of related sentences that focus on one main idea or topic.

Writing: Paragraphs

- Paragraphs: Larger blocks of text made up of several sentences that all support a central idea.

Writing: Essay Writing

- Essay Writing: The process of writing an essay, which is a longer piece of writing that presents and supports a specific argument or idea.

Essay Writing

- Essay Writing: Crafting a well-organized text that includes an introduction, body paragraphs, and a conclusion to explore a topic in depth.

Writing: Essay Outlines

- Essay Outlines: A plan or blueprint for an essay that organizes the main ideas and supporting points before writing the full essay.

Writing: Selecting and Researching an Essay

- Selecting and Researching an Essay: Choosing a topic for your essay and gathering relevant information from sources to support your argument.

Writing: Ways of Organizing Texts: Linear

- Ways of Organizing Texts: Linear: Organizing writing in a straight-forward, step-by-step manner where each point follows from the previous one in a logical order.

Writing: Ways of Organizing Texts

- Ways of Organizing Texts: The different methods of structuring writing, such as chronological order, cause and effect, or compare and contrast.

Writing Skills

- Writing Skills: The abilities required to write well, including grammar, structure, clarity, and organization.

Writing: Summary Writing

- Summary Writing: Condensing a longer text into a shorter version that includes only the main points and key ideas.

Grammar and Usage: Tenses and Passive Sentences

- Tenses and Passive Sentences:
 - Tenses: The form of a verb that shows when an action happened (past, present, future).
 - Passive Sentences: Sentences where the subject receives the action, such as "The book was read by her."

Grammar and Usage: Word Order: Adverbs

- Word Order: Adverbs: The position of adverbs (words that describe how actions are done) in a sentence, often placed near the verb or at the end of the sentence.

Grammar and Usage: Articles

- Articles: Words like "a," "an," and "the" that are used before nouns to indicate whether you're talking about something specific or general.

Language Functions: Language Forms and Functions

- Language Forms and Functions: The way language is used for different purposes (functions) and the specific forms (structures) that are used to express these purposes, like asking a question or making a statement.