 PAK522 – Lecture 16 (Final Most Important Shorts)

Q1

Why can a state not exist without sovereignty?

Answer: Because sovereignty gives the state supreme authority to make laws, enforce decisions, and govern independently. Without sovereignty, a state cannot function as a fully independent political entity.

Q2

Why is government called the working machinery of the state?

Answer: Government is called the working machinery because it makes policies, implements laws, maintains administration, and manages the daily affairs of the state.

Q3

Why are Legislature, Executive, and Judiciary interdependent?

Answer: The Legislature makes laws, the Executive implements them, and the Judiciary interprets them. Effective governance is possible only when all three organs work together.

Q4

How does Checks and Balances protect democracy?

Answer: Checks and Balances prevent one organ of the state from becoming too powerful. It ensures accountability, transparency, and the rule of law.

Q5

Why does Pakistan follow Fusion of Powers but still have an independent Judiciary?

Answer: In Pakistan, the Executive and Legislature work together under the parliamentary system, but the Judiciary remains independent to protect the Constitution, fundamental rights, and the rule of law.

Q6

Answer: A population becomes a strength when it is educated, skilled, healthy, and productive and contributes to national development.

Important Long Questions (Easy English)

Long Question 1

Explain the concept of State and its four essential elements.

Answer:

A State is a political organization where people live in a fixed territory under a government with sovereignty. Its main purpose is to maintain law and order, protect citizens, and provide justice.

A state has four essential elements:

1. Population

Population means the people living in the state. An educated and skilled population helps the country develop.

2. Territory

Territory is the fixed land of the state. It includes land, rivers, mountains, and airspace.

3. Government

Government makes laws, implements laws, maintains law and order, and provides public services.

4. Sovereignty

Sovereignty is the supreme authority of the state. It allows the state to make its own decisions without interference.

Conclusion: A state cannot exist without these four essential elements.

Long Question 2

Explain the three organs of the State and their functions.

Answer:

A state works through three main organs.

Legislature

The Legislature makes laws and represents the people. It also approves budgets and keeps the Executive accountable.

Executive

The Executive implements laws, maintains law and order, collects taxes, and manages the country's administration.

Judiciary

The Judiciary interprets laws, provides justice, protects fundamental rights, and settles disputes.

Conclusion: These three organs work together to ensure good governance and justice in the country.

Long Question 3

Explain Separation of Powers, Concentration of Powers, and Checks and Balances.

Answer:

Separation of Powers was introduced by Montesquieu. It means the Legislature, Executive, and Judiciary should work independently. This system is followed in the United States.

Concentration (Fusion) of Powers means the Executive and Legislature work together. This system is followed in Pakistan and the United Kingdom.

Checks and Balances is a system where each organ checks the powers of the others. It prevents misuse of power, protects the Constitution, and ensures accountability and the rule of law.

Conclusion: These principles help maintain balance, justice, and effective governance in the state.
