

ENG503

→ Introduction to ELT

- English Language Teaching (ELT) involves instructing students in the English language.
- Effective ELT considers learners' needs, cultural backgrounds, and learning styles.

→ Nature and Functions of Language

- Language serves multiple purposes: communication, expression, social interaction, and identity formation.
- Language functions include informative, persuasive, and performative communication.

→ History of English Language

- Old English (450-1100 AD): Germanic tribes influenced English.
- Middle English (1100-1500 AD): Norman Conquest introduced French influences.
- Early Modern English (1500-1800 AD): Renaissance and colonization expanded English.
- Modern English (1800-present): Globalization and technology continue to shape English.

→ English as an International Language (EIL)

- EIL recognizes English as a global language for international communication.
- EIL emphasizes mutual intelligibility and cultural sensitivity.

→ English in Pakistan

- English is an official language in Pakistan.
- Challenges include limited resources and diverse linguistic backgrounds.

→ Psychology of Language

- Language acquisition involves cognitive, emotional, and social processes.
- Key concepts: motivation, attitude, learning styles, and learner autonomy.

→ Second Language Acquisition

- SLA examines how individuals acquire a second language.
- Factors influencing SLA: age, motivation, instruction, and environment.

➡ Methods and Approaches of Language Teaching

- Grammar-Translation Method: focuses on grammar rules and translation.
- Audiolingual Method: emphasizes listening and speaking.
- Communicative Language Teaching: focuses on real-life communication.
- Task-Based Learning: learners complete tasks to develop language skills.
- Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL): integrates language and subject-matter learning.

➡ Teaching of Listening Skills

- Authentic materials: use real-life listening materials.
- Comprehension exercises: check learners' understanding.
- Listener training: develop active listening skills.
- Strategies: teach learners to identify main ideas and supporting details.

➡ Teaching of Speaking Skills

1. Fluency and accuracy: balance communication and correctness.
2. Pronunciation practice: focus on intonation, stress, and individual sounds.
3. Role-plays and discussions: encourage learner interaction.
4. Encourage learner autonomy: promote self-directed speaking practice.

➡ Teaching of Reading Skills

- Extensive reading: encourage learners to read widely.
- Intensive reading: focus on specific texts and comprehension.
- Reading strategies: teach learners to identify main ideas and supporting details.
- Vocabulary building: develop learners' vocabulary through reading.

➡ Teaching of Writing Skills/Integrated Skills

1. Writing processes: emphasize planning, drafting, and revising.
2. Writing strategies: teach learners to organize and express ideas.
3. Genre-based approach: focus on specific text types (e.g., essays, reports).
4. Integration with reading and speaking skills: develop learners' overall communication skills.

➡ Assessment of Language Skills

- Standardized tests: measure learners' proficiency.
- Classroom assessments: evaluate learners' progress.
- Portfolio evaluation: assess learners' work over time.
- Self-assessment and peer assessment: encourage learner reflection.

→ Teaching the Sounds of Language

- Sound awareness: develop learners' phonemic awareness.
- Pronunciation practice: focus on individual sounds and intonation.
- Phonemic awareness: teach learners to recognize sound patterns.
- Intonation and stress: emphasize proper sentence stress and intonation.

→ Teaching the Words of English Language

- Lexical chunks: teach learners to recognize and use common phrases.
- Word associations: help learners connect words to meanings.
- Contextual learning: teach vocabulary in context.
- Vocabulary strategies: encourage learners to use dictionaries and flashcards.

B.Ed. \(1.5 Years\)

BS English

Files

MAHA
MALIK'S
Compilation