1: what do you know about argumentative text?

It is similar to debates, but debates are oral and argumentative is a written form of debates. It is usually an argument between two people. There is a point taken with two sides on a coin while both sides are trying to prove a point. There is a sequence in the dialogues from both sides. One point is being discussed and then there is a counter argument. Both sides of the argument are to be taken into consideration. Opinion of both or more parties should be included in the dialogue writing. Punctuation is very important in the conversation to make the dialogues clear. Without punctuation the arguments won't be shown like a dialogue. Some words which are used in spoken language can be used in argumentative writing as well for e.g; "In my opinion", "I think"… Such phrases will make the argument evident. Polite phrases can be used according to the scenario for eg; "thank you for your opinion but…"

2: How can you create favorable classroom environment for developing speaking skills?

The environment must be natural, not artificial where people are mocking at each other and looking down upon the speaker. Even if students are making mistakes there must be no shame in that. Mistakes are supposed to help us improve. The atmosphere should not be of shame and guilt. Hence the environment must be friendly and accepting errors of others as English is a second language. This way student will not feel hesitation to speak up. The teacher should encourage students to speak in English only. She herself should avoid the mother tongue. This would make the classroom more favorable.

3: what is the importance of pair work in speaking skills?

It plays an important role in developing speaking skills. Students often feel shy speaking to a higher authority. If this activity is done in pairs, where they speak to their partners and the teacher can supervise where they lack. She can note down their mistakes and give them collective feedback so as not to be embarrassing the students. This way they would not become conscious. Personal feedback can be given at a later level. In the beginning teachers should always give collective feedback without taking names. Otherwise, it would become very demotivating for the students. Teacher should explain her point and then she can observe their progress. Teachers should develop a structure of giving feedback when supervising pair work. It is also important to give positive feedback and praise where due. This would make the feedback authentic that the teacher was not only pointing mistakes but also appreciating the effort.

4: How do the language game plays a role to learn a language?

Speaking skills are best learnt by fun. It is a natural instinct for people to speak comfortably in their own language. But in order to learn a foreign language, it is a good way to not to force people but use comedy and fun. When there is no stress on the brain, it is accepted freely. More words are picked by the learners in a game; funny words are very quickly absorbed by young learners. Words used in movies often become clichés and become popular among the mass mostly in a comical manner. Games in a classroom are a subtle way to convey the message. Teachers should however maintain discipline in the classroom.

5: Which different activities used for match the word?

1) Word-Picture Matching
2) Word-Definition Matching
3) Synonym/Antonym Matching
4) Collocations Matching
5) Category Matching
6) Homophone/Homonym Matching
7) Idioms and Phrases Matching
8) Sound and Spelling Matching

6: what is the present perfect tense? State example

It has to be in present form but it uses a participle. For example, I have written a letter. "Written" is the past participle. The tense is present. It indicates that this action was done not a long time ago but in recent past.

7: how can you familiarize the student's difficult words on the tape audio? And how can maintain feasible environment?

The teacher needs to emphasize on intonation and pronunciation in the audio tape. What is the tone of the words being said, what is the mood of the speaker and the pitch of the speaker. The teacher can use some words from the tape and write them on the board to familiarize the students.

Nimra Malik

Edit with WPS Office

While the tape is going there must be no movement and sound. The students need to have full focus and attention on the audio. The teacher can do live speaking as well while sitting so that there is less focus on her movement. She should use short sentences as long ones might distract the students.

By using this strategy, you can effectively familiarize students with difficult words in an audio context and maintain a supportive and engaging learning environment.

8: Write the Types of text.

(1) Narrative

(2) Argumentative

(3) Dialogue

(4) Exposition

(5) Report

(6) Discussion

9: Write the Types of writing,

(1) Formal writing

(2) Informal writing

10: How will you teach application profile Conditionals?

An important part of an application is profile writing. It means people want to know you, a picture of what you are, how have you achieved your aims, what are your hobbies. Where details are required, few words will not be enough. Students need to give a good idea to the reviewer of their application. Students should not just write "cricket" in the hobbies section. They should explain at which level, with whom, who inspired them etc. Profile will give a lot of detail about a person's personality and character. Use different paragraphs for different topics in a subjective answer. Writing about your family, education, skills, hobbies, and talents is a good way to fill up your profile picture.

11: What is Pragmatics?

This is the practical language, the language that is being spoken. If something is being said politely, pragmatics shows that it has been said in politeness. Students need to know that word selection is important to convey their meaning well with a practical application. Teachers need to use language that has a practical impact. If the students use words that convey annoyance, it would not have a long lasting impact. Teachers should focus on pragmatic language to make the students learn.

12: what is Know Me activity?

That is a very popular activity; it can be done both in pairs and groups. For primary schools students, they can be divided into pairs. They are supposed to ask each other question. The teacher can give a topic and students can decide what they have to ask. It should be a learner centered class as in when the speaking skills class is going on the teacher should only be a facilitator.

13: How informal teaching method is more proper than formal?

Both informal and formal teaching methods have their advantages. Whether informal teaching methods are more appropriate than formal methods depends on various factors, including the learning objectives, the subject matter, the age and learning styles of the students, and the context in which teaching is taking place. Informal methods can often make learning more engaging and relevant, while formal methods provide structure and rigor. Combining the strengths of both can lead to a more effective and enriching educational experience.

14: How teacher guides students to write short story?

Guiding students to write a short story involves several steps:

1. Introduction to Short Story Elements
2. Brainstorming Ideas
3. Developing Characters and Setting
4. Plot Structure
5. Writing the First Draft
6. Revising and Editing
7. Polishing the Final Draft
8. Sharing and Publishing

15: Write the Outline of a Short Story.

It is also included in the literature course. It is usually interesting to read as it is short. Students can be encouraged to write short stories themselves. Teachers can give either ending or beginning to give students an outline. Along with outline, she can also give a sentence, or the whole story can be written in a gap filling exercise. Students can imagine and write what they think happened. Teacher can provide resources to help students. She can integrate multimedia resources as well. The visual learners would be very happy to see pictures and words in order to write a story. Teacher can tell the beginning orally as well. Students can then continue after that. She can then carry on with the story. The teacher can then develop the rest of the story on that idea.

16: What is Netiquette – IT LANGUAGE?

The etiquette to use language online, the net language also has some manners. Students are usually speaking that language too. Casual and informal language can be used but there should be restrictions on its use. Since the words are spread to a lot of people, some words should be censored. Some words are not accepted in the society members like senior citizens or children.

17: what is Reflective writing?

It can be both under formal and informal writing. It depends on the organization and culture. It is something that we write reflecting back on what we have done in order to keep a record for further references. It is usually demanded by an institution and then it is a formal writing. It might be published somewhere and read by many people. Any kind of academic writing is formal. A prospectus is a good example of formal reflective writing. You can write your own reflective writing as well, as in the case of a personal diary where you can jot down your own reflections for improving yourself. This may be only bullet points or like spoken language for only the writer to read.

18: What is Salutation?

These are phrases like „Dear Father" or „Dear Friend" etc. Sometimes we use different salutations for respectful relations. For informal writing, we can just use hi, hello. Phrases like „Good morning" and „Good day" can be used in both formal and informal writing. Some salutations are fixed for particular persons like for a legal officer, political leader, and royal family member. In that case „Your Highness", „Most Respected" would be used when the position of that person is limited in number. These can be used for a mayor, governor, judge and sometimes teacher.

19: Explain Match the Words.

These exercises are useful and they build up vocabulary and understanding. It is started by matching pictures with words. This way they can learn names of things, even in the classroom. In secondary school, the teacher can provide two words which are similar in meaning put sequence is jumbled up; column A has to be matched with column B. There can be collocations to match the words. This is a useful exercise to enable students to look for another similar word. Students can also think of a third word and write that down side by side. This way they are going to enhance their vocabulary. Teachers should accept those words and not consider them wrong.

20: How teacher can help student in grammar and vocabulary during a creative writing?

Nimra Malik

Edit with WPS Office

These are important tools for creative writing. Sometimes, students are creative in their thinking but not in writing. Here is where the teacher needs to help them with grammar of sentences to remove the barrier to creative writing. Students should not be discouraged if there are grammar mistakes. Build confidence in students to enhance their creative writing skills. Vocabulary is like hunting for words. Teachers can display words on the walls of classroom to reduce students struggle for the right words. Although reading is a great way to increase vocabulary but words close in meaning to the idea in mind should be easily available. Lesser vocabulary would discourage the student to write creatively.

21: What are Creative Writing Skills?

Writing should encourage creativity. Skill of creating must be instilled in children of all social backgrounds. Teachers need to teach grammar and spellings yet polish the imagination of students. Students should be taught to note down creative ideas whenever they come to their mind. This habit can be developed by carrying a notebook with them. The more we practice creativity the more it is generated. Imagination must be extracted from the mind and used on paper. The mind can think of a possibility of something extraordinary which should be transferred to paper.

22: What is Future Tense?

It is about what is going to happen in future. The action is a planning or a wish. Future consists of a subject, the future form of the verb and the object. For example, I will eat an apple tomorrow. The use of will and shall with the verb is very important. Later, tomorrow, afterwards are words that specify that the action will be done in future. The teacher can add the extensions of the future tenses according to the need of the future tense. Students can add phrases of their own choice as well/

23: What are Gap filling exercise how are they useful?

These exercises are to develop the reading, writing skills and how an essay is to be read. This exercise can be useful for all levels. Gap fillingexercises, traditionally called fill in the blanks, enable students to form meaningful sentences. They also develop the skill for looking for vocabulary. Instead of students looking for words and wasting time, teacher should provide them with the list of words. In order to achieve the aim, she should facilitate the students with word bank. Teacher can mention how many words are required in the gap, by mentioning the number in the bracket at the end of the sentence. She can also fill the first one to help the students. In primary school, teacher should supervise the students in this exercise.

24: What is the present simple tense give two examples?

Present simple is the first tense students learn. The best way to learn it is with examples like I eat, I go, I run, I laugh. What is happening at present is being described in present simple tense. An action verb and a subject is what make a present simple tense. A subject can be a noun or a pronoun. An object may be added. E.g., I eat an apple. This transition should be very gradual. Use of article has to be introduced gradually as well.

25: Which language game can be based on descriptions?

There are many language games that can be based on description. Primary school students can be asked to describe the things in the classroom. Students love to look around in the class. This way they would be learning a lot. Students can first name the things, then make sentences about their description. This activity is bound to increase observation and vocabulary. They can practice this at home as well. For secondary school, we can modify it. They can talk about a character, a celebrity or any family member. They can use adjectives and learn sentence formation. Students at higher level can also go for an interview. They can then share and reflect about their experiences.

26: what are benefits for students to know about the difference between formal and informal writing? Where these writings can b used?

Formal Writing

Formal writing has different definitions in different regions in the world. Academic writing like assignments and essays is mostly considered formal. Words in spoken English may not be used in formal writing. There is a proper format for formal writing. There is a beginning, title and ending with a formal greeting. Writing in an official context is an example of formal writing. Personal communication is usually informal writing. Formal writing should be presentable.

Informal Writing

This is an opposite of formal writing. It can be included in the course of primary school children to make them understand the difference. Emails are usually written informally, without a title/name. But they can be formal as well, it depends on the receiver. If he or she is in a higher position, for eg; a boss or parent we tend to use formal writing. There is nothing wrong with informal writing; it just has different features and characteristics. It is mostly used online among young people with their peers.

The content of informal writing does not include explanation of the text. In this regard informal writing is similar to spoken language. The listener is usually familiar and knows what we are talking about.

27: write the elements of CV writing.

Layout of the CV is very important be it for higher education or job. It should be organized, starting with educational qualifications with the dates. You should specify if it is a degree, course or certification. The name of the institute must also be mentioned. Whether it was full time or part time should also be mentioned. You should stick with the format, whichever you are using. Divide your qualification in columns. It should be in chronological order. You should also mention extracurricular activities; volunteer and charity work come under this.

Nimra Malik

Edit with WPS Office

- Your details
- Personal statement
- Work experience
- Education
- Skills
- Hobbies and
- interests References
- A clear and simple layout
- Things to watch out for Check for spelling or typographical errors.

28: Write Second conditional and an example.

As it is clear, these are on a second level degree. They are based on wishes, for e.g. “if I had money I would buy a house”. The condition is if the person had the money. The sentence carries a meaning of wish. Use of if shows the wish. Would is the modal word here. Second conditionals are also used when things are not really possible. Some second conditionals are also put in first conditionals; e.g. “if I had worked hard I would have been successful”, because it is not really possible. Usually the facts are in first conditionals, and impossible wishes are in second conditionals. Things that are never going to happen e.g.; if I was a billionaire I would buy the world.

29: What is past simple test and how can you teach past simple test to students?

It is something similar to present simple but the difference is in time. The time has passed now. “I eat” now becomes “I ate”. A teacher can draw a timeline as it is a useful tool in grammar lessons. It is a common practice at all levels. Jumping from present to past would make students understand it well. The past tenses of verb must be taught to students. Teacher can make columns of verbs in random order and ask students to match them. It is not a good practice to memorize the past forms of verbs. Students should be able to consult the teacher for help.

30: how and which skills developed by using "look at the picture' activity?

The teacher must bring a picture which should be interesting and elaborate. She should leave it to the imagination of the students to describe the picture. Students would develop imaginative skills. Teachers should not be too critical in judging student's imagination. A higher level student may relate the picture to some background story. It is the right of every student to learn, whether they are imaginative or not. Teachers should encourage students to participate in them. Students can practice this exercise outside the classroom as well.

31: what u understands about statement of interest?

It provides information that has to be used at a formal place. It is usually used in applications for job or admissions. Teachers should know the structure and format of applications. It should give precise information about applicants. Students should exhibit the statement of interest which means telling why they are interested in the job or admission. Statement of interest is based on the attitude and aptitude of the person. It is an important question in the job interviews, what is the priority reason for you? Along with being precise it should have information that is written formally. Students should learn how to write a statement of interest for a travel expedition or a voluntary case to evaluate their interest. This way they can know about their abilities and skills.

32: how detailed feedback is helpful in writing skills?

Detailed feedback is an invaluable tool in developing writing skills because it provides clear, specific, and actionable guidance. It helps writers understand their mistakes, reinforces their strengths, and encourages continuous improvement. By learning from detailed feedback, writers can enhance their writing abilities in a structured and informed manner.

33: how students learn from their peers?

It is a good practice to make the students assess their peers. They like to listen to what the other person is saying especially if they are of the same age. They tend to focus more on what they are saying. It is like a chain building activity. The teacher should explain what she needs them to do. Students should be very honest and fair in assessing their peers. This way students will understand how an assessment is done. Students come to realize the accuracy of the teacher in assessing them. It is like a reciprocal activity. It has many advantages. Their listening skills are also developed. They can compare their own speaking skills and be motivated to learn from a better example. The teacher may give a criterion for assessment in case there is some problem.

34: why listening is a product of speaking?

It is common to give sheets of paper to students to write new words they have encountered. This way students will try to focus more and become good listeners. Speaking is a product of listening and this way speaking would also be improved. The content of the audio would also help students gain insight into how words are used.

35: What is 3rd condition?

Nimra Malik

Edit with WPS Office

Third conditionals are mostly based on regret. Modal words are also used along with the use of if, e.g. “If I had worked hard I would have scored maximum marks”. The condition here is of working hard. Now I cannot work hard, the time has gone. The verb is in past as it is showing regret. If I could have seen my mother she would have blessed me. These regrets cannot be undone now, they have already caused harm. The condition is that this action should have been done in past therefore the verb is in past. E.g., “if I would have reached earlier” shows an irreversible regret. To put it simply, it is regret with a condition.

36: What is essay?

Essay is usually a part of the literature syllabus, but students should know how to analyze an essay. An essay is a collection of sentences and paragraphs. The beginning of each paragraph must express the purpose of that paragraph. A new idea must begin in a new paragraph. The linking pf paragraph is also significant to learn. The sentence formation usually has all the parts of speech in it. Students should use different kinds of adjectives. With the use of nouns it is difficult to use different words, e.g. a cupboard will always be a cupboard.

37: what is word stress, intonation, collocation?

Word stress – stress on the word to get meaning.

Intonation – high or low pitch of spoken sentence.

Collocation – two or more words that go well together.

38: What is Intonation?

Students should know the importance of intonation to bring out the meaning of the sentence. Usually language labs have audios, if they are not available; teachers can repeat the sentences to emphasize on the pronunciation and word stress. She should repeat a sentence five times. Usually a good listener needs to listen to a sentence at least three times. There can be an activity of compare and contrast. She can say a sentence with and without intonation and students can tell if there is a difference in meaning. If students are not able to follow, teacher can put the intonated word on the board for the students to focus. This way she can cater to the needs of weak learners.

39: how you teach students to write a letter?

When it comes to formal letters we must address the person with title or surname. Upon ending, we should use greeting phrases like „Best Wishes", „Yours Sincerely" etc. Usually letters are formal when the recipient is a professional seniors, doctor, teachers etc. It is usually somebody with whom you have distance of respect. In the content of the letter, it should be within limits and there should be no unnecessary details. Teachers should provide an outline of a formal outline, beginning, middle and end for the ease of students. The formal manner should be according to the relationship of the recipient and sender. The details in the letter should be relevant to the issue at hand and of course respectful. It has to be to the point and precise.

40: Which skill is developed when teacher use picture exercise activity?

- Speaking and Communication
- Writing Skills
- Imagination and Creativity
- Social and Collaborative Skills
- Cultural Awareness
- Emotional Intelligence

41: In speaking skills why Introducing your self-activity is useful and how yu can conduct this activity?

The teacher can ask the students to introduce themselves. She can begin by introducing herself as an example. The students can follow her pattern. This creates a friendly environment in the class in the beginning. Later she can compare if they have learnt how to ntroduce or added anything new in their introduction. Teachers can make students imagine a certain situation or create scenarios. Also she can consult students about what they want to talk about. This would enable them to face any kind of situation. This social skill plays a major role in shaping the future of the students.

42: why phrases learning is not teaches at primary schools?

The teacher can provide different phrases for students to use in their conversation. This activity is not possible in primary school as they would not be able to understand the meaning of phrases. Teachers can use phrases from text or lessons students are already familiar with. Students can find meanings of phrases by asking their peers. This activity should be more intrapersonal rather than the teacher intervening all the time. Teacher can take rounds and monitor them while not making her presence felt. She should not look at the faces of students to make them conscious. The students should be dealt with independently. It should be learner centered activity. The teacher can make informal observations of her students and perhaps evaluate them. After ten lessons she can reevaluate them to check their progress.

43: what is diffrence between formal email and informal email?

It is a very common means and used in offices mostly. It is a useful substitute for memos which were used to let the staff know about any order by the higher authority. It can be formal when you have to email a person who is higher in position and age or in a senior office position. An informal way can be as if it is a chain of communication just like a conversation. The thread can continue informally within an online group. It is like responding as if we are talking to a person. Emails have the advantage of replying instantly.

44: how you can improve your students vocabulary? write different techniques.

Vocabulary plays an important part, how can we read if we don"t know what is written. It can be provided by resources. For primary school students, teachers can provide word banks on charts, board, slides etc. For higher level students, you can have a resource corner in the classroom where you can put newspapers, magazines for consulting when students are short of vocabulary. This reduces the burden on the teacher and enables students to work independently. Students develop a sense of responsibility and confidence. Building vocabulary also helps students become confident that they don"t lack the ability to use words. Familiar words are better absorbed by the students. It should be a regular affair for the class activities. Teachers can have dictionaries placed in the classroom and inculcate the habit of using them, few times they would need teacher"s help but later they would learn this habit.

45: How diary writing considered a form of reflective writing?

Diary writing is another form of reflective writing. It can be done while doing an action or after the action has taken place. It is different from reflective writing in the sense that it can be current. It can be called note writing also. It can be used both formally and informally but mostly it is informal. Students can note down words in a diary for a word bank and a vocabulary building exercise. For formal writing you can use those words for a formal purpose. This is recommended for secondary level students. They can use technology to note down words too. Then they can always convey it into formal writing.

46: What is elision?

The time gap that we give while talking is called elision. It is actually related to speaking however, speaking skills are greatly affected by our reading skills and thus it is important to be careful about noticing elision while reading; this is especially true for literature reading as there are elision points in the dialouges. They may be shown as a dot, dash or sometimes empty quotation marks which show that the speaker was taking a pause.

47: What is CV?

It is formal informative writing, as it is about providing facts based on reality. You have to inform the person about yourself, about facts that are always going to stay with you, like name, date of birth, nationality, religion etc.

48: Explain the Personal Response.

This is the response that the teacher expects from the students to respond after the reading activity. While doing the reading activity students need to know what the comprehensive text is.

Nimra Malik

Edit with WPS Office

In order to do that the teacher needs to do a lot more before starting the reading activity. The pre reading, prediction and skimming help the students get an idea of what they are going to read and thus help in comprehending the text. The teacher needs to develop the whole environment of the understanding of the text to prepare them about what they are going to read. Students should be made familiar with the reading material maybe by giving them the words that they are going to encounter in the reading material. Giving the reading pieces in bit and reading in bit does not allow the students to comprehend the text. In order to do good writing it is important to do good reading.

49: Explain Personal Response - Cohesion

Sometimes, such writings where we have argumentative type of texts or where we have discussions we need to look at the factor of cohesion and coherence. We need to look at the dialogues or the arguments that are being made, whether they do have some cohesion or coherence in the writing. This is mostly done at the higher level. This topic is a little advanced for the primary school children. This is an important part of the reading and writing process and as mentioned earlier it is a bit advanced, thus the teachers need to give clear instructions to students. The students should develop the skill of writing coherently as a personal response to the reading that they have done. This is a productive skill for their writing forms.

50: What is Fun language?

This is a more informal way of learning a language. Teachers should make students aware that fun language can"t be used on formal occasions. Teachers should however keep in mind the culture of the organization. It can be used on a casual occasion. It lacks salutations and greetings. Fun language can be added in the games played in the class. A teacher can replace words with codes, numbers, letters or gestures or anything she chooses to make any word into a more polite word.

51: What do you know about confidence in speaking skill?

A lot of confidence is needed to speak a foreign language. It becomes easy when we get into the habit of speaking that language. The teacher is mainly responsible for building confidence for speaking in English, if she appreciates the effort it can boost the confidence. Confidence plays a major role to help people become good speakers. Sometimes language therapists can make immense improvement by making people speak clearly. People with speaking disability can improve a lot by encouragement. Students should be encouraged to express the ideas. Unfortunately, teachers can hinder the progress of the students by being overly critical. Therefore, praise is very important. A session of speaking in English in the assembly is useful, because a student is standing in front of a big group, this makes him very confident. Encouragement from parents also makes a lot of difference. This confidence is like producing an engine to start, and it works like a miracle.

52: What do you know about Collocations in Speaking skills?

They are relevant to higher level students. Teachers should not be doing this activity with primary grades. Collocations are like phrases, with more than one word that goes well with another. The only difference is that collocations are words commonly used together for example; get well. Advertisements use collocations like: buy one get one. People tend to learn these quickly as they are quite catchy. In case of phrases, usually they have a different structure of words. The teacher can divide the class into two groups. She can give slips to each student of first group with one word of the collocation and other word to second group. Students can then try to find the match of the word they have and stand next to their partner when they find the right word.

53: How to build character in informal writing?

We often build characters in narratives, dialogues, dramas and stories. Even journalists use some character sketch to build the persona of a character. They use certain words to describe the attributes of a person. It can be both formal and informal. For a formal context we need to use formally accepted words. Sometimes we can describe the character in a casual way. For example, in fashion magazine we can talk about celebrities in an informal manner. Formal language may not be appropriate for people we are fond of to bring them closer. Whereas, a historian needs to use very formal language to talk about a political figure. Newspapers also use both formal and informal styles of building a character depending on the situation. Students need to learn this in literature where describing characters is very important to place the character in the right place.

54: 3 advantages of emails.

1) Cost-Effectiveness
2) Efficiency and Speed
3) Global Reach
4) Security and Privacy
5) Collaboration and Coordination
6) Eco-Friendly

55: Explain predict and tell activitity.

This is also fun learning especially for primary school level students. It is very popular among students all over the world and is sometimes taken as a game by them. This can be done by reading a book or pictures, the pictures can be put anywhere in the class. The teacher can also give students a first sentence of the story to get them started. With a bit of advancement the exercise can be given to higher level students by giving them a short paragraph that could either be beginning, middle or end of the story and ask them to predict what could have happened before or after that. This exercise boosts imagination, vocabulary and language skills and enhances creativity, If carried out in a group, students learn to accept others ideas, argue, compare their prediction with those of other students; they also see that there is more than one view to something. It builds up team work, lets them carry out discussions and opens up their minds. At primary level this could be done individually however, at secondary level it should be done in groups.

Nimra Malik

56: Politeness is important in advices and request give examples

Advises and requests usually require polite language. We need to show that in our intonation. A request should not look like an order. Advises should be firm in their intonation. You cannot make a request when you are impolite and loud. Teachers need to advice with a lot of faith and not confusion. It will not really have an impact. Certain words create confusion. Proper words should be used as they make a lot of impact.

57: What is the Importance of spelling in academic?

Spelling is very important for academic writing as it is usually marked for in assignments. Writing on Computer indicates a different spelling of a word, American or British, the teachers should regard both as correct and acceptable. Too many spellings mistakes make the text lose its content. The marking criteria should be divided for segregated areas in writing. If the student is able to convey the idea properly but the spellings are incorrect some marks should be given for the idea. The assessment criteria should be fair. Detailed feedback is helpful for a student. What is right should be given credit for.

58: What is Close reading?

Close reading is related to the development of writing skills. A particular text is given to them and no other choice is given to them. For example, if we want them to develop the skill of report writing thus give them to read lots of reports in the newspapers. The teacher needs to let them know the objectives of close reading. Let them know that they are supposed to read the features of that writing and then design a similar text. The students should sequence the features; for example the incident, title, date and the timing, venue, relate the incident and in the end they should relate what is going to happen. The teachers should also put these features on the board so that the students know what they are going to observe in the given text. The three important factors in Close Reading are Literal Meaning, Inferences and Contextual Meaning.
