Q.1 A person who is responsible for proper working of database and DBMS is known as _____.

A. Database Administrator

B. End User

C. Application Programmer

D. Analyst

Q.2 In SQL server, data is stored in database in the form of _____.

A. Files

B. Images

C. Objects

D. Tables

Q.3 The instances of _____ cannot exist independently?

A. Strong Entity

B. Weak Entity

C. Hybrid Entity

D. Naming Entity

Q.4 Microsoft SQL server is a ____ DBMS.

A. Hybrid

B. Hierarchical

C. Network

D. Relational

Q.5 Relationships between two entities in the Entity Relationship Data Model are represented by _____.

A. Oval symbol

B. Rectangular box

C. Line

D. Diamond symbol

Q.6 How many users can access data stored in a database using SQL server?

A. Maximum 10 users

B. Only one user at a time

C. Many users concurrently

D. Exactly 50 users

VU TOOLKIT

Q.7 Which of the following diagram is most commonly use for designing databases?

A. Block Diagram

B. Tree Diagram

C. Sequence Diagram

D. Data Flow Diagram

Q.8 A type of Data Flow Diagram which provides minimal amount of details about the working of system is known as _____.

A. Context diagram

B. Level 3 diagram

C. Level 1 diagram

D. Level 2 diagram

Q.9 Which of the following company develops SQL server software?

A. Oracle

B. HP

C. Acer

D. Microsoft

Q.10 The basic purpose of Microsoft SQL server is _____.

A. To represent data in graphical form

B. To store and retrieve data from database

C. To fetch the data from Internet links

D. To design web pages

VU TOOLKIT