Q.1 In database, key is a single or combination of more than one column which is used to identify _____ in a table.

A. Rows & columns

B. Rows

C. Cells

D. Columns

Q.2 The format of a primary key decides by _____.

A. Programmer

B. Organization of the database

C. Database Administrator

D. Database Designer

Q.3 "Address" is an example of _____ of Employee entity.

A. Derived attribute

B. Key Attribute

C. Composite attribute

D. Simple attribute

Q.4 In ANSI SPARC architecture of DBMS, table creation is performed on _____.

A. Database level

B. Conceptual level

C. Physical level

D. Conceptual & physical levels

Q.5 In Entity Relationship diagram, the diamond symbol represents _____.

A. Entity Type

B. Relationship Type

C. Attribute

D. Primary Key

Q.6 The foreign key creates a _____ between two tables.

A. Internal link

B. Physical link

C. Logical link

D. External link

VU TOOLKIT

Q.7 In Entity Relationship diagram, the multi-valued attribute is represented by _____.

A. Dotted oval symbol

B. Double oval symbol

C. Oval symbol

D. Oval symbol having line inside

Q.8 In Entity Relationship diagram, the dotted oval symbol represents _____.

A. Key attribute

B. Simple attribute

C. Composite attribute

D. Derived attribute

Q.9 Which column can be an appropriate surrogated key for the following RENTAL_PROPERTY table?
RENTAL_PROPERTY (PropertyID, PostalCode, Street_no, City_name, Province, Rental_Rate)

A. PropertyID

B. Street_no

C. City_name

D. PostalCode

Q.10 Which statement is FALSE for the surrogated key?

A. Surrogated key has artificial values

B. Surrogated key is NOT NULL

C. Surrogated key is supplied by DBMS

D. Surrogated key is of various length

VU TOOLKIT