

The indirect narration of 'Hurrah! We have won the match' is:

- ▶ They exclaimed with joy that they had won the match. Correct
- ▶ They exclaim with joy that they had win the match.
- ▶ They cry with joy that they did won the match.
- ▶ They cried with joy that they will won the match.

Which verb can be both singular and plural?

- ▶ Is
- ▶ Am
- ▶ Has
- ▶ Do correct

Choose the best way to complete the sentence given below:

I didn't know what he meant. (?)

- ▶ what he mean
- ▶ what did he mean
- ▶ what did he meant
- ▶ what he meant correct

Choose the correct option.

My friend Ken will come with me to Metro town.

▶ Declarative sentence correct

▶ Interrogative sentence

▶ Imperative sentence

▶ Exclamatory sentence

Choose the correct option.

Listen carefully.

▶ Exclamatory sentence

▶ Interrogative sentence

▶ Imperative sentence correct

▶ Declarative sentence

The persons who use their voices (pitch, rhythm, stress) and their bodies to communicate their message are:

▶ Speakers correct

▶ Writers

▶ Readers

▶ Listeners

Using various symbols to represent sounds is called:

- ▶ Pronunciation correct
- ▶ Syllabication
- ▶ Etymology
- ▶ Derivation

Choose the option that best defines 'Clarity':

- ▶ To be tightly structured
- ▶ To express a clear point Correct
- ▶ To be syntactically correct
- ▶ To be substantive

Choose the option that best defines the 'Conciseness':

- ▶ Wordiness correct
- ▶ Creativity
- ▶ Verbosity
- ▶ Brevity

Popular expressions which may not be considered proper in formal use are called:

- ▶ Formal speech
- ▶ Slang correct
- ▶ Timeline
- ▶ Antonyms

A message's success depends upon the fulfillment of the following points:

- ▶ Understanding, Social contacts
- ▶ Investigation, Reusability and Analysis
- ▶ Understanding, Social Contact, Common Medium, Transmission
- ▶ Common Medium, Transmission, and Understanding

The indirect narration of 'Hurrah! We have won the match' is:

- ▶ They exclaimed with joy that they had won the match.
- ▶ They exclaim with joy that they had win the match.
- ▶ They cry with joy that they did won the match.
- ▶ They cried with joy that they will won the match.

How many adverbs are there in the sentence given below?

I really woke up too early this morning.

- ▶ 0

ENG001

Mid Term

▶ 1

▶ 2

▶ 3

Choose the correct option.

What a rainy day!

- ▶ Exclamatory sentence
- ▶ Imperative sentence
- ▶ Interrogative sentence
- ▶ Declarative sentence

A noun which names anything (or anyone) that you can perceive through your physical senses is:

- ▶ Collective noun
- ▶ Concrete noun
- ▶ Countable noun
- ▶ Non-countable noun

Which one of the following does modify a noun or a pronoun by describing, identifying, or quantifying words?

- ▶ Conjunction

▶ Adverb

▶ Adjective

▶ Verb

Identify what part of the sentence is missing and needs to be added to make the fragment into a sentence.

‘they told each other’

▶ Add a subject

▶ Add a verb

▶ Add a subject and a verb

▶ The subject and verb are present, but it doesn't express a complete thought.

The direct narration of 'He told me that he would accept my offer' is:

▶ He said, “I have accept your offer.”

▶ He said, “I will accept my offer.”

▶ He said, “I will accept your offer.”

▶ He said, “I will accept his offer.”

Choose the best choice to complete the sentence given below:

He said

- ▶ the weather it is colder than usual
- ▶ the weather was colder than usual
- ▶ the weather be colder than usual
- ▶ that the weather colder than usual

SMOG Index stands for:

- ▶ Simple Measure of Gobbledygook
- ▶ Short Measure of Gobbledygook
- ▶ Simple Management of Gobbledygook
- ▶ Simplest measure of Gobbledygook

A list of technical words or expressions used in a field of study or book is:

- ▶ Etymology
- ▶ Glossary
- ▶ Syllabication
- ▶ Derivation

Using various symbols to represent sounds is called:

- ▶ Pronunciation
- ▶ Syllabication

- ▶ Etymology
- ▶ Derivation

The indirect narration of 'Samira said, "Monica speaks English very well" is:

- ▶ Samira said that Monica is speaking English very well.
- ▶ Samira said that Monica spoke English very well.
- ▶ Samira said that Monica had spoken English very well.
- ▶ Samira said, "Monica speaks English very well."

Choose the correct option.

Which word of the following does mean "before cooking"?

- ▶ cooking
- ▶ precooking
- ▶ recook
- ▶ uncook

Choose the option that best completes the sentence.

Camels store water _____ of fat in their humps.

- ▶ form
- ▶ by the form

▶ in the form

▶ with the form

Questions:

Q1. What are journalistic questions?

Answer:

Questions starting with who, what, when. How, where and why.

Q2. Identify the following sentence as passive or active sentence.

Answer:

It would have been fixed on the weekend. (passive voice)

Q3. A misplaced modifier is a word, phrase, or clause that is improperly separated from the word it describes.

Indicate the error of misplaced modifier in the sentence from options given below

1. Making only minimum wage, I nearly earned $2,000 last summer.

a. Misplaced phrases

2. The bus station was located by a river which was made of red brick.

b. Misplaced words

3. A fish was found in the Pacific Ocean that had been considered extinct.

c. Misplaced clauses

Q4. Write a brief note on Conjunction and its types.

Conjunctions are words which join two sentence clause together.

Q5. "A good writer should be considerate towards his/her readers." Briefly explain with an example.

Answer:

it means that when writer is writing something he or she should think who his reader is. What they want to read. The piece of writing should not be too hard or complicated for his readers to understand. It should have verity and interesting elements to keep the reader captivated.

Q6. Write a brief note on Adjective and its types.

It is a word which describes noun.

Q7. Rewrite the following sentences by changing the word order as necessary.

1. Up the stairs dashed the reporter.

The reporter dashed up the stairs.

2. Onto the stage glided the ballerina.

The ballerina glided on the stage.

3. Here is the butter.

The butter is here.

4. There go the geese.

The geese is going there.

5. To and fro rode the girl on the horse.

The girl on the horse rode to and fro.

Q8. What is a dictionary?

Ans: Dictionary is a writing tool for writers.

Q9. What are Compound Sentences?

Ans: compound sentence mean a sentence which have two independent clauses together.

Example:

I am a student and my brother is a policeman.

Q10. Define the term 'clause' with examples?

Q11. What is meant by free morpheme? Explain with examples.

Ans: The free morpheme mean the linguistic unit which can stand alone.

Example:

Cat, Hen, Boy, etc.

Q12. Ernest Hemingway once said that good writing was one-tenth inspiration and nine-tenths perspiration. He also said that to be a good writer, you need a "built-in, shockproof crap detector." Both of his statements point to the importance of the hard work of revising and rewriting in producing good writing. Discuss.

Q13 What are some of the differences between writing and speaking skills?

Ans: Learning to write is not a natural extension of learning to speak. Following are some differences between writing and speaking skill.

Speech	writing
Speakers pronounce.	Writers spell.
Speech is usually informal and repetitive.	Whiting on the other hand is more formal and compact.

Seekers draw own their listeners reactions to know how or wheter to continue.	Writers are often solitary in there process.even they d'nt know where are their readers
Speakers use pauses and intonation.	Writers use punctuations.
Speakers can gauge the attitudes, beliefs nad feelings of their audience by there verbal and non verbal reactions.	Writers must consider what and how much there audience needs to know about a given topic.