

PAK301

The Problems of the New State

- The Problems of the New State: The challenges faced by Pakistan after its creation in 1947, including political, economic, and social difficulties, such as establishing a government, securing borders, and uniting diverse regions.

The Objectives Resolution (1949)

- The Objectives Resolution (1949): A resolution passed by the Pakistani government that set the guiding principles for the country's constitution. It emphasized that Pakistan would be based on Islamic principles and aimed to protect the rights of minorities.

Constitutional Issues

- Constitutional Issues: Problems related to the creation and implementation of the country's constitution, including disagreements about how the government should be structured and how power should be divided.

Constitution Making (1947-56)

- Constitution Making (1947-56): The process of creating Pakistan's first constitution between 1947 and 1956, which faced many delays and challenges due to political disagreements and instability.

The 1956 Constitution

- The 1956 Constitution: The first constitution of Pakistan, which was adopted in 1956. It declared Pakistan as a republic and introduced a parliamentary system of government.

The 1962 Constitution

- The 1962 Constitution: The second constitution of Pakistan, introduced in 1962 by President Ayub Khan. It established a presidential system of government and concentrated power in the office of the president.

The 1973 Constitution

- The 1973 Constitution: The third constitution of Pakistan, adopted in 1973, which restored the parliamentary system and made Pakistan a federal republic. It remains the constitution of Pakistan today, with various amendments over time.

Political History

- Political History: The history of politics in Pakistan, including the different political parties, leaders, and key events that shaped the country's governance and policies over time.

Political History (1972-2003)

- Political History (1972-2003): The political events, developments, and challenges in Pakistan from 1972 to 2003, including the rise and fall of political parties, military rule, and major shifts in governance.

Geography, Land, Boundaries and Neighborhoods

- Geography, Land, Boundaries, and Neighborhoods: This refers to Pakistan's physical location, its land features, its borders with neighboring countries like India, Afghanistan, and China, and its relationships with these neighbors.

Natural Resources, Agriculture

- Natural Resources, Agriculture: Pakistan's natural resources, such as minerals, water, and land, and its agricultural sector, which is vital for the economy, producing crops like wheat, rice, and cotton.

Industrial Development

- Industrial Development: The growth and progress of industries in Pakistan, such as manufacturing, textiles, and cement, which play a key role in the country's economy.

Education in Pakistan

- Education in Pakistan: The state of the education system in Pakistan, including schools, colleges, and universities, and the challenges it faces, such as quality of education, accessibility, and literacy rates.

Foreign Policy of Pakistan

- Foreign Policy of Pakistan: The strategies and decisions made by the Pakistani government in relation to other countries, including trade, diplomacy, defense, and international relations.

Pakistan and the Muslim World

- Pakistan and the Muslim World: Pakistan's relationship with other Muslim-majority countries, especially in terms of political, religious, and economic ties. This includes Pakistan's role in organizations like the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC).

1: Ideology of Pakistan:

What is an Ideology? It is a set of BELIEFS, VALUES & IDEALS a group and a nation subscribes to ingrained in the social consciousness of the people over time. It provides:

1. Principles, Ideals, Vision for the future
2. Review of existing political, social and economic arrangements.
3. A consciousness based on its principles
4. A commitment and a sense of direction
5. Legitimization and De-legitimization
6. Leadership's role

Ideology of Pakistan is actually Two-Nation Theory, i.e., Muslims possess a distinct SocioPolitical and Cultural Identity and are a separate NATION. This sentiment was provided and buttressed by ISLAM and its WORLDVIEW. Islam plays a CORE and CENTRAL role in creating this consciousness. Other factors like history, economy and political experience were also there. In India there was a gradual evolution of this consciousness among the Muslims.

2: Freedom Movement:

Its study is important to understand why Muslim Identity acquired political salience. Why did the Muslims demand a separate state?

The reasons were:

- Muslim Political experience in India during 1857-1947 played vital role.
- Changed political environment under the British created a new situation
- Colonial Rule
- New Elite with Modern Education having Conscious of Rights and Interests.
- Competition with the majority community.
- Initial demands of the Indian Muslims were safeguards against encroachment of majority community, Constitutional Guarantees, a Federation of Provinces.

During the course of Indian Politics important topics covered were:

- Lucknow Pact
- Delhi Muslim Proposals
- Jinnah's 14 Points
- Roundtable Conferences.

When the Muslims demanded a separate state, a number of factors were responsible for that demand:

- Role of Nehru Report

- Provincial Ministries
- The Cabinet Mission Plan

3: New State, Political History and Constitution:

We started with the problems in setting up the new state and Constitution making. Issues were structure of federation, representation, language, electoral system, Islamic state, and parliamentary or presidential system. Then we studied History of Constitution making:

- Workings of two Constituent Assemblies.
- One Unit Scheme
- Constitution made in Feb 1956
- Constitution of 1962, 1973
- Features of the Constitutions
- Experiment with different systems, parliamentary and presidential.
- Political History: 1947-1971 and 1972-to the Present.

4: Basic Data and Information: Then we shared some information about:

- Geography, Physical Features, Boundaries and Neighborhoods of Pakistan,
- Natural Resources, Agriculture
- Industrialization
- Education.

These factors influence domestic Choices, policies, status and interaction with other states i.e. boundaries & neighborhoods. Their study is vital for policy makers.

5: Foreign Policy: This chapter discusses the framework of Foreign Policy and Relations with the Muslim States. The aims of Foreign Policy are:

- National Interest
- Independence, Sovereignty
- Friendship with all on the basis of Sovereign equality, Shared interests,
- Mutual benefits, Non-interference.
- Peaceful resolution of conflicts.
- Faith in the UN Charter

Compilation