

ENG506 Most Important questions for Midterm 2024 By Vu360

SHORT QUESTIONS (2 &3 MARKS)

- ❖ Lingua Franca
- ❖ Syntax
- ❖ Code Switching
- ❖ CPEC
- ❖ Regional Dictionary
- ❖ Approach
- ❖ Semantic Role
- ❖ Aboriginal Australian English
- ❖ Gender Studies
- ❖ Code Mixing
- ❖ ESP
- ❖ ELT
- ❖ Hegemony
- ❖ English of Different Regions
- ❖ Dialects
- ❖ Renaissance Period
- ❖ Spellings Standardization
- ❖ Spanish as Global Language
- ❖ Colonial Policy
- ❖ Methods (Definition)
- ❖ Corpus Linguistics
- ❖ Techniques (Definition)
- ❖ Codification
- ❖ English in Different Regions (China, Japan etc.)
- ❖ Dictionary
- ❖ Lexicographers
- ❖ Malaysianisation.
- ❖ Mother Tongue Role
- ❖ Different Types of Dialects
- ❖ Abbreviations (ES, EFL, BPO, ITO, BRI, CPEC, TOEIC, TEFL)
- ❖ Difficulties in English Language Learning
- ❖ Language Policy and Economic Concerns

LONG QUESTIONS (5 MARKS)

- ❖ Linguistic Imperialism
- ❖ Regional Analysis
- ❖ European Ideology
- ❖ Spanish as Global Language
- ❖ Code Mixing
- ❖ Code Switching
- ❖ Current Status and Role of English Language
- ❖ English as Dominant Language
- ❖ English as a Choice for Bilingualism Women
- ❖ Codification
- ❖ National and Official Language in 1973 Constitution
- ❖ English in Different Regions (China, Japan etc.)
- ❖ Disadvantages of not owning English Language
- ❖ Language Policy in Different Circles (Inner/ Outer Circle Countries)
- ❖ Native and Nonnative English Speakers
- ❖ Features of Different Englishers

Here are the answers from vu360:

1. Lingua Franca

A lingua franca is a common language used for communication among people with different native languages. It facilitates international communication and trade. English is often used as a lingua franca globally.

2. Syntax

Syntax refers to the rules governing the structure of language, including word order and sentence formation. It is a crucial aspect of language study and use. Understanding syntax is essential for effective communication.

3. Code Switching

Code switching refers to the practice of switching between two or more languages in a single conversation or text. It is a common phenomenon in multilingual communities and can serve various social and communicative purposes.

4. CPEC

CPEC (China-Pakistan Economic Corridor) is a major economic project aimed at connecting China with the Middle East and Europe through Pakistan. It has significant implications for regional trade and language use.

5. Regional Dictionary

A regional dictionary documents the language and vocabulary specific to a particular region or area. It helps preserve local language varieties and promotes linguistic diversity.

6. Approach

An approach refers to a methodology or perspective used to teach, learn, or study language. Various approaches, such as communicative or task-based approaches, prioritize different aspects of language use.

7. Semantic Role

A semantic role refers to the meaning or function of a word or phrase within a sentence or text. Understanding semantic roles is essential for effective communication and language use.

8. Aboriginal Australian English

Aboriginal Australian English refers to the language varieties used by indigenous Australians. These languages are unique and important part of Australian cultural heritage.

9. Gender Studies

Gender studies examine the social and cultural constructions of gender and their impact on language use and communication. It is an important field of study in linguistics and language teaching.

10. Code Mixing

Code mixing refers to the practice of combining elements from two or more languages in a single utterance or text. It is a common phenomenon in multilingual communities and can serve various social and communicative purposes.

11. ESP

English for Specific Purposes (ESP) refers to the teaching and learning of English for specific occupational or professional purposes, such as business or medicine.

12. ELT

English Language Teaching (ELT) refers to the teaching and learning of English as a second or foreign language. It is a significant field of study and practice globally.

13. Hegemony

Hegemony refers to the dominant position or influence of one language or culture over others. It can impact language use, teaching, and learning.

14. English of Different Regions

English varies across different regions, such as American, British, or Australian English, each with unique features and characteristics.

15. Dialects

Dialects refer to regional or social language varieties that differ from standard language forms. They are an important aspect of linguistic diversity.

16. Renaissance Period

The Renaissance period saw a resurgence of interest in classical languages and culture, influencing the development of modern languages and literature.

17. Spellings Standardization

Spellings standardization refers to the establishment of consistent spelling conventions for a language, facilitating communication and literacy.

18. Spanish as Global Language

Spanish is a widely spoken global language, with significant cultural and economic influence, particularly in the Americas and Europe.

19. Colonial Policy

Colonial policy refers to the language and cultural policies imposed by colonial powers on colonized regions, often suppressing local languages and cultures.

20. Methods (Definition)

Methods refer to the approaches and techniques used to teach and learn language, such as grammar-translation or communicative methods.

21. Corpus Linguistics

Corpus linguistics involves the study of language using large databases of texts, providing insights into language use and patterns.

22. Techniques (Definition)

Techniques refer to the specific strategies and activities used to teach and learn language, such as role-plays or group discussions.

23. Codification

Codification refers to the process of standardizing and documenting language rules, vocabulary, and grammar, often through dictionaries and language academies.

24. English in Different Regions (China, Japan etc.)

English is used in various regions, such as China, Japan, and India, with unique language contact and cultural contexts shaping its use and teaching.

25. Dictionary

A dictionary is a reference book documenting language vocabulary, meanings, and usage, serving as a valuable resource for language learners and users.

26. Lexicographers

Lexicographers are scholars who compile and write dictionaries, documenting language vocabulary and usage.

27. Malaysianisation

Malaysianisation refers to the promotion and development of the Malay language and culture in Malaysia, reflecting national identity and unity.

28. Mother Tongue Role

The mother tongue plays a crucial role in language development, literacy, and cultural identity, and is often the primary language used in early childhood education.

29. Different Types of Dialects

Dialects vary across regions, social groups, and cultural contexts,

Vu360° Official: <https://chat.whatsapp.com/F5zhJsitf5yL4RjDODz1fL>

Vu360° Assignments Solutions :

<https://chat.whatsapp.com/HJYBCFqTTpX3QYAHhOLSa2>

Chatting With Vu360 : <https://chat.whatsapp.com/IlukS0LK2Uh15b0eBN2IJw>