
ENG 524
(Critical discourse analysis)

(Final Term MCQ & handout)

Final Term File

MCQ include Handout

ENG 524

Leacture 19-24.

1 . Fairclough (1999) uses a term “textual mediation” of social reality.

2 . A founding ideal of Critical Discourse Studies is to improve people's lives and to have a deep look on social change by feeding our critiques.

3 . Research that is “problem-oriented” and which offers “practical implications and applications”

4 . According to Mahboob and Paltridge (2013), critical approaches are used in the study of language policy, language teaching, learning and testing.

5 . Language is invariably abstracted and recontextualized as a “text” for analysis and discussion.

6 . institutionalized critique needs to invoke discourses recognized within the social practice it critiques.

7. Academics should pay close attention to the kind of training other professionals receive.

8. Foucault (1977) claims that sense theory does not express, translate, or serve to apply practice.

9. Some researchers tend to exclude this work from their publications such is the demand for theoretical over the practical.

10. “Advertising is one of the most prominent, powerful, and ubiquitous contemporary uses of language.

11 . critical discourse analysis seeks to reveal the hidden assumptions.

12 . Investigating discourses about the past opens up a space to explore the dynamic nature of meaning-making practices.

13. Flowerdew thinks that we connect our past, present and future in order to make meaning and understand their context.

14. Historiographical CDA has explored the representations of the past as content and practice.

15. CDA historiographical approach aims to contribute to our understanding of the reproduction of inequality and discrimination in contemporary societies.

16. CDA has explored

the ways in which people make history and shape their historical consciousness in contested contexts.

17. The use of monochrome and sepia colors creates distance in time.

18. Some techniques are used, i.e. transdisciplinary, borrowing from the practices of historians and historical sociologists.

19. Intertextuality is a key concept used in this method to trace the relation and development of constructions of the past across time and space.

20. Collaborations in multi-disciplinary groups organized around an area of interest will be key to exploring the complexity of these processes.

21 . Ideology is thus a question of material existence and practices.

22. Corpus linguistics studies, related to CDS, have pointed to social theories.

23. Language has become ever more central in late capitalism.

24. Gramsci also views language as historical and permitting all social relations.

25. Discourse provides a system of relations between elements.

26. In linguistics, it is now widely accepted that the human capacity for speech is genetically based, though activated in human social relations.

27 . Political discourse is the formal exchange of reasoned views as to which of several alternative courses of action should be taken to solve a societal problem.

28 . Defining political discourse is not a straightforward matter.

29. Growing interest in the area of political discourse since the early 1980s.

30. Political discourse operates as an interaction.

31. Political discourse has specific connections to the emotional centers of the brain.

32. Political discourse is anchored in multi-dimensional deixis.

33. 'theory' refers to 'a systematic knowledge'.

34. Political discourse is deliberative even when it is instantiated by particularly bad or undemocratic examples of deliberation.

35. A weaker language cannot be expected to survive over a long period unless it receives government help (Birch 1993: 129).

36 . Names play a crucial part in the construction of any identity.

37. The noun Conservatism refers solely to political principles, not to the party.

38. According to Du Bois (2007) a “stance” is a social act, something we do through communication when we evaluate or align ourselves with objects or other.

39 . One of the most important things we do with words is take a stance.

40. The sentence can be hypothesized as an abstract linguistic structure detached from any mooring in a specific context of use.

41. Consider the following sentences: The Caribbean is incredible.

MCQ include Handout

ENG 524

Leacture 25-35

1 . The neoliberal era began in the 1970s and continues to the present.

2. Neoliberalism is antithetical to the protection of group interests, and rather has a hyper focus at the level of the individual.

3. Fairclough's seminal work on critical discourse analysis of neoliberalism and globalization

4 . An obsolete force, after World War II and the establishment of the European Union.

5. "Border politics" are part of national identity politics and are now increasingly.

6. The fourth and last element includes "myth memories" of "golden ages" and glorious heroes who are to be celebrated.

7 . Terrorism as a socio-political construct is difficult to be defined objectively and universally.

8. People cannot engage in war [and violence] without the mediating force of discourse.

9 . This “continuance” period generated discourses that offered a pretext for the war.

10 . Retributive justice and revenge did not prove legitimate enough reasons to take any kind of definitive action.

11 . The traditional definition of race and ethnicity is related to biological and sociological factors respectively.

12. Researchers prefer to use Ethnicity instead.

13. Different authors have pointed to the early 70s as the historical moment when immigration controls in Western Europe became a generalized procedure.

14. Integration discourse as both product and producer of controlling institutional frameworks.

15. FCDA shares with CDA and feminist approaches a constitutive view of discourse.

16. A fixed binary with associated gendered stereotypes predominate in common sense understanding.

17. Victim Blaming Blaming the victim is associated with constructions of respectability, rooted in social and cultural mores.

18 . CDA aims to raise people's consciousness of how language contributes to the domination of some people by others.

19. In January 2011, the BBC launched the great British Class Survey (GBCS). An additional survey.

20. Class has not been a central focus among CDA researchers.

21 . Critical Discourse Analysis has gained much popularity in Educational Research in the recent years.

22. According to Rogers (2005), there were only 46 articles published between 1983 and 2005.

23. Most remarkable is the accelerated publication rate of CDA-inspired educational research.

24. CDA published in 140 different journals around the world.

25. Macgilchrist considers ethnography as a ‘way of seeing’.

26. media scholars had already been doing a kind of critical discourse analysis before “CDA” became an established identity.

27. Van Dijk (2004) also argued that an “explicit theory of context” is still missing and acknowledged the difficulties of contextual analysis.

28. Journalism is typically a discursive re-construction of reality.

29. Discourse institutionalization is the transformation of institutional structures and/or practices in a way that embodies a certain discourse.

MCQ include Handout

ENG 524

Leacture 36 - 40

1 . Newspapers report the same event in different ways by manipulating headlines

2. The headlines used in newspapers increase or decrease news worthiness of any incident or event.

3. Design of the study adopted an exploratory design.

4. Television is a penetrating medium, capable of creating false consciousness among the viewers.

5. Elaboration and Explanation and from presentational relations are Motivation and Evidence.

6. A basic assumption is to view actions and artifacts used in communication as semiotic resources.

7. According to the definition of oxford dictionary, Web 2.0 is the second stage of development of the Internet.

8. The “biographical” study of social and political matters can therefore help make sense of the arrangements that govern us.

9. A comparative- synchronic analysis means looking at various representations of an issue at the time of the writing of one specific news text.

10. Framing is to organize discourse according to a certain point of view or perspective.

11. The constitution of a corpus of news texts depends on a variety of factors and on research goals.

