

* Introduction to Psychology *

-: Lecture no 01 :-

-: What is Psychology :-

MCQs:-

* Beginning with the first psychological laboratory, founded in 1879 by German philosopher and physiologist Wilhelm Wundt.

* جو پہلی psychological laboratory قائم کی گئی تھی ۱۸۷۹
میں قائم کی گئی تھی اور اس کا ایک German philosopher
اور physiologist Wilhelm Wundt نے قائم کیا تھا۔

Q:- Misconception about Psychology and psychologists:-

Answers:-

* Anybody who has studied psychology can read people's personality:-

- This is the most frequent thought that comes into the mind of people who believe that psychologists are like magicians who can tell every thing about any person, his thoughts, feelings, emotions, personality and all that other people cannot tell.

Psychology is not a magic

This actually is not the case, because psychologists are not the magicians or something like that. They are professionals and their area of interest is basically the study of human behaviour and mental processes and this requires good observation as well as good prediction.

* Psychologists can predict fate or destiny:-

- In reality, the case is different since psychologists can only predict not the destiny but the direction that one may adopt in future; psychologists can assess and predict personality and behaviour because they get professional training for studying human behaviour and that is why they can easily tell what type of a person one is, what might be his potentials and how much he/she is capable of performing certain task.

* Psychologists are doctors:-

- Another very common misconception is that psychologists are doctors. Psychologists are not at all doctors. They are specially trained people who deal with the psychological problems and not the medical problems.

- also on what:
- psychiatrists, on the other hand are doctors who have a professional degree in medicine as well as training in treating those suffering from psychiatric / psychological problems.

Q- Definition of psychology:-

Ans:- "Psychology is the scientific study of behavior and mental processes of human and animal"

Q- Goals of psychology:-

Ans:- following are the goals of psychology.

- To understand the nature and mechanisms of behavior and mental processes.
 - To develop an understanding of the relationship between behavior and mental processes.
 - To apply this understanding to real life situation.
 - To employ the scientific approach for developing this understanding.
 - Control of human behavior and mental processes.
-

∴ Lecture no 02 ∴

Historical Roots of Modern Psychology ∴

MCQs:-

- Wilhelm Wundt set the foundation of modern psychology in 1879, by establishing the first psychology laboratory in Leipzig, Germany.

Historical roots of modern psychology:-

- In 1590, Rudolf Goeckel used the term "psychology". This word is the combination of two Greek words "psyche" and "logos". The former means the "soul" and the latter "discursive knowledge".

∴ The Greek Philosophers ∴

• Hippocrates:-

MCQs:-

- (460 - 377 B.C.)
- Hippocrates was a physician, who not only raised the standard of medical investigation but also developed the codes of ethics for the physicians.

- He postulated a theory of "humors" that account for the basic human activity.

Short Questions-

Q:- Theory of "Humors:-"

Ans:- He postulated a theory of "humors" that account for the basic human activity.

He believed that four temperaments form personality.

- Sanguine (cheerful and Active)
- Melancholic (Sad)
- Choleric (Angry and Aggressive)
- Phlegmatic (Calm and Passive)

• Plato:- (427 - 347 B.C)

According to Plato.

~~Plato's theory:-~~

Q:- Parts of soul:-

Ans:- The soul has three parts or components

- Reason
- Spirit
- Appetite.

He discovered that there are three different kinds of activity going on in a person.

- First An awareness of the goal or a value and this is the act of reason.
- Secondly, there is a drive towards action which is called the spirit.
- Last, there is the desire for the things of the body, the appetites. In the body the soul experience sensation, desire, pleasure, love and pain as well as fear and anger.

MCQs:-

- The rational or thinking parts is the highest in order.
- The soul has three parts or components
Reason
spirit
appetite

Q:- Aristotle:- (384-322 B.C)

Ans. It is to him that we owe the first systematic treatment of psychology. His method was two-fold both inductive and deductive.

He introduced two theory.

- The first theory of learning

- succession of ideas.

Q:- Succession of ideas:-

Ans- The theory that ideas are generated in consciousness based on four principal:

- contiguity
- similarity
- contrast
- succession.

Q:- Socrates:-

MCQs:-

- He believed in the care of the soul to be man's most important task.
- The man's greatest concern should be the proper care of his soul so as to make the soul as good as possible.

Q:- Alcameon:-

MCQs:-

- He believed that sensation and thought exist in the brain.
- He was known as "father of Greek medicine".
- Brain is the seat of all human intellectual faculties.

- A physician, who performed the first dissection.

Muslim Influence:-

MCQs:-

- The period which was called Europe's Dark Age was the period when Muslim philosophy, science and knowledge flourished.
- Muslim thinkers and philosophers established the first mental hospital in Spain.

Q. Muslim philosophy: Types of soul:-

Ans. Man is a compound of body and soul. Soul is of two types.

- Rooh - e - Rabbani
- Rooh - e - Haewani

* Rooh - e - Rabbani

- The part of the soul that makes it possible for man to make a connection with God.
- If there is a balance between body and soul, then the individual is normal.

* Rooh-e-Haawani:-

- Man possesses "Nafs" or the soul.
- It is the force with the help of which man fulfils all his desires.

Q:- Level of "Nafs" ?

Ans:-

Nafs is divided into three level.

- Nafs-e-Mutmainna
- Nafs-e-Liwana / Nafs-e-Natiqua.
- Nafs-e-Ammaraa.

Nafs-e-Mutmainna:-

- At this stage, the body and soul are in complete harmony.
- There is no conflict between good and bad man is satisfied physically, mentally and spiritually.

Nafs-e-Liwana:-

- At this stage, the conflict between good and bad starts, both positive and negative forces clash with each other.
- Man is in a state of "do" and "don't"

Nafs-e-Ammaraa:-

- At this stage, negative forces have a complete control over the individual.

- It is the animals tendency of man, the base self.
- All bad habits and wrong doing are due to this nafs e.g. greed, pride, anger, lust, hatred etc.

Q:- Imam-Razi ?

Ans:- A person maintains sentimental attachment with the physical / material object and when he has to part away from the object he becomes frustrated and a mental patient due to the sentimental attachment with the mortal things.

Q:- Al-Farabi ?

- Ans:-
- philosopher and poet.
 - According to him, man is composed of two element; body and soul.
 - He was of the view that there exist no relationship between body and soul.

Q:- Ibne-Muskawia ?

- Ans:-
- "Man is a compound of body and soul"
 - 'Rookh' is the main factor that control our action and maintain them.

- If "soul" rules over the body then person remains mentally healthy but if body rules over the soul then the person become mentally ill.

Q:- Ibn-e-Sina :-

- Ans:- A scientist, physician and a philosopher.
- considered as the great physicians of "Middle Ages".
 - Gave importance to the "sentiments" of the individual.
 - He said "when man is away from God's love, he is also away from man's love".
 - According to him, there are three kinds of mind.
 - * vegetable mind
 - * Animal mind
 - * Human mind.

Q:- Imam-Ghazali :-

- Ans:- Believed that "self" which is called "Qalb" is the essence of Man.
- According to him there are six powers of "self".
 - * Anger
 - * Impulse
 - * Apprehension
 - * Intellect

- * Appetite
- * will
- Anger is the "bestly power" and intellect is the "divine power".
- His method of treatment is called "contradictory treatment" i.e. illiterate is treated with literacy.
- The therapist was named "sheikh" and patient called "Muxced".

Ibne Arabi:-

- Believed in the idea of "Wahdat-ul-wajood" which means that man is the part of God himself.

Mujaddad Alfarsi:-

MCQs:-

- Supported the idea of "Wahadat-ul-shahood" means "Reflection of God" which means that the reflection of God can be seen in the things which have been created by God.

Q:- Shah wali Ullah?

Ans:- MCQs:-

- Mentioned about two forces.
 - * Beastly Force or Bahaemi
 - * A s - Rabbani or divine.

- Both are contradictory force and are always struggling. This struggle is called "Tajazub".
- When there is no struggle between these forces, then the individual condition is called "Istallah".
- But when they are struggling and have conflict, then it is called "Alkashie Tajazub".