MGT601 Final Term Paper shared by Student

on Sunday

50 questions 40 msqs and 10 long .

Q1: TQM objectives

- Decrease of mistakes in all operating areas,
- Early mistake recognition,
- Mistake prevention as a preventive step,

- Avoidance of wastes,
- Reduction of the lead times,
- Increase of the flexibility and profitability,
- Better capture and conversion of the customer's needs,

Q2: which steps are taken by Pakistan for implementation the GATS.

Pakistan is cautious in its approach to GATS commitments. But what was unique to Pakistan was that while it had paid a great deal of attention to inward flow of foreign investment and technology

Pakistan has already liberalized substantially at least 16 of its major services.

Pakistan should also extend its interest to all the four modes of supply

. Q3: job specification and job description k head mai entries krni thi.

Job Description

It consists of a written statement of the major and minor duties involved in each task along with a description of responsibilities, work conditions and task requirements e.g. hazards, time involvement etc. The job description, therefore, focuses on what, why, when and how tasks are to be performed.

Job Specification

It describes the salient features of the person expected to fit in the job. It enumerates qualities, knowledge, skills and abilities an individual should possess to perform satisfactorily along with such other characteristics as planning, leadership and decision-making abilities, experience, education etc. It provides a standard against which to measure how well an applicant matches the job

Q4: write the test which r conduct by any organization for selection .

Employment Tests

Though not a sole criterion of selection, these tests are making the employee selection more efficient. These are:-

- 1) Aptitude test to measure mechanical, electrical, manual dexterity and other potential talent.
- 2) Achievement test to measure performance (skill proficiency)
- 3) Intelligence test to measure general mental abilities e.g. verbal ability, reasoning, comprehension etc.
- 4) Personality test to select managers

Q5: characteristics of geographically distribution product

Geographic distribution refers to the way that something is distributed over ageographical area and can be represented on a map. Geographical distribution is commonly used to demonstrate the spread of animal species and plants around the world.

Q6: five points of control tariff

A tariff is a tax that a government collects on goods coming into a country.

www.ranapk.com

1. Tariffs and protectionism,
2. Export subsidies and dumping
3. Quantitative restrictions and quotas
4. Trade agreements
5. State trading

Q7: 3 points which are cover under the head of GATT.

The GATT is an international trade agreement whose objectives are: (a) to help raise standards of living; (b) to achieve full employment; (c) to develop the world's resources; (d) to expand production and exchange of goods; (e) to promote economic development.

Q8: ISO decreasing the export of Pakistan , yes or no support your answer.

To enhance the credibility of our products we need to adopt international quality standards. Pakistan still has a long way to go in obtaining certifications of ISO- 9000, ISO-14000 and other standards. We need to set up accredited testing laboratories for conformity assessment. Pakistan is committed to fulfilling TRIPs obligations, for which five laws have been promulgated. The Government had announced, in Trade Policy

200-03, establishment of umbrella organization PIPRO for improving the administration and enforcement scenario, but necessary legislation for PIPRO to start functioning, is still pending. The results show that export performance is positively correlated with ISO 9000 certification.

Total 46 Mcqs. Mcqs were really really conceptual and logical, hardly 2 or 3 came from past papers rest were fresh & new. Don't focus on past papers focus on handouts.

Objective questions were not that much difficult if you have prepared the handouts then you can solve them.

5 question of 5 marks

Subjective

Q1: Transfer of Technology

Technology transfer, also called transfer of technology (TOT), is the process of transferring (disseminating) technology from the places and ingroups of its origination to wider distribution among more people and places. ... Horizontal transfer is the movement of technologies from one area to another.

Q2: How TBT and GATT are different, please describe?

Technical barriers to trade (TBTs), a category of nontariff barriers to trade, are the widely divergent measures that countries use to regulate markets, protect their consumers, or preserve their natural resources (among other objectives), but they also can be used (or perceived by foreign countries) to discriminate

General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) was a multilateral agreement regulating international trade. According to its preamble, its purpose was the "substantial reduction of tariffs and other trade barriers and the elimination of preferences, on a reciprocal and mutually advantageous basis.

Q3: GATT code of custom valuation

Custom Valuation

The agreement on Customs Valuation intends to provide greater uniformity and certainty in the application of customs valuation rules and procedures. It provides for a fair, uniform and neutral system for the valuation of goods for customs purposes and precludes the use of arbitrary or fictitious customs values. Transaction value is the principal basis and method of value.\.

Q4: Describe advantages of advertising

The major advantages of advertising are: (1) introduces a new product in the market, (2) expansion of the market, (3) increased sales, (4) fights competition, (5) enhances good-will, (6) educates the consumers, (7) elimination of middlemen, (8) better quality products, (9) supports the salesmanship, (10) more employment opportunities, (11) reduction in the prices of newspapers and magazines, (12) higher standard of living!

Q5: job analysis

Job Analysis is a process to identify and determine in detail the particular job duties and requirements and the relative importance of these duties for a given job. Job Analysis is a process where judgements are made about data collected on a job.

Q6: horizontal commitment & sector -specific commitment difference?

Horizontal Commitments of Pakistan

The Horizontal Commitments of Pakistan, that is, commitments that apply to all sectors, relate to "commercial presence" or "presence of natural person". Pakistan's commitments regarding "commercial presence" are subject to incorporation in Pakistan with maximum foreign equity of 51% unless different percentage is inscribed against a particular sector or sub-sector. All expenses of representative offices have to meet by foreign remittances. A Foreign undertaking is allowed to hire up to 50% of its total executive and specialist from abroad.

www.ranapk.com

Sector- Specific Commitments

The Sector- Specific Commitments cover 47 activities within the business, communications, construction/engineering, health, financial and tourism/travel services. The GATS agreement recognizes 12 main sectors for the purpose of classification of services are as follows.

1. Communication.
2. Financial.
3. Construction/Engineering.
4. Health.
5. Tourism/travel.
6. Distribution.
7. Education.
8. Environment.
9. Recreation/culture.
10. Sporting.
11. Transport.
12. Others.

Q7: how will you segment market if you are running a super store?

Ascertain firm's Capabilities.

It must know what set of needs it can satisfy. For instance, the small firm may be willing to sell its products to foreign buyers. But it must ascertain whether it has the necessary financial, promotional or distributive capabilities.

II). Ascertain the Competition.

Identify the characteristics and extent of competition in the various segments. All other conditions being equal, it should focus on the segment which has the least competition or the segment which are too small for large firms.

III). Focus on the Segment Chosen.

For a small firm, the segment chosen on the criteria of customer characteristics such as geographical region, demography has been found to be more suitable..

4. One about WTO.

5. Problems faced by SME's in developing countries.

6. Problems faced by Agriculture in developing countries.

The result on rice and wheat could have mixed effects. The agreement to reduce subsidies on rice and wheat maintained by developed countries could result in increased market access. The reduction on subsidies and resulting price increase would mean that total expenses of Pakistan for wheat imports, in wheat deficit years, will rise. Pakistan is not fully availing of investment subsidies generally available to agriculture and other input subsidies admissible under AoA. besides provision on S&DO treatment permit developing countries to use subsidies to reduce cost of making exports of agricultural products including upgrading and other processing costs and the cost of internal and external transport and freight. But GOP is not extending such subsidies to the warranted level on the pretext of budgetary constraints.

It is ironic that while developed countries are slow in phasing out subsidies under WTO regime, most of the reductions in farm subsidies in Pakistan so far have been made under the commitments to IMF, ADB and other international financial institutions

How Government of Pakistan implement the TRIPs in Pakistan ? 5 Marks

General enforcement obligations under TRIPs

Pakistan IPR legislation follows the TRIPs standards by providing for civil and criminal remedies and also for broader measures for enforcement of IPRs. For all forms of intellectual property, civil remedies are available against infringement. All decisions of lower courts i.e. the district courts are appealable in the High Court. Due process such as the timely service of notice, right of being heard. Production of evidences etc. is available in IPR cases as in any other legal action in Pakistan. In any suit for infringement of IPR in addition to provisional and border measures the courts may order remedies that act as effective deterrents to infringements of intellectual property.

Mcq's were easy and subjective are as follows:

Why SMEs of Pakistan reluctant to submit anti-dumping case

The developing countries including Pakistan are facing problems of hiring law firms to advise and represent them in WTO related cases. Exorbitant fees of these law firms ranging from US$ 200 to US$ 600 an hour restrict the developing countries from seeking relief. This underscores the need to train local lawyers with WTO expertise.

Export promotion in Pakistan is not an easy task

The two agreements seek to increase market access for the exports of its member countries. However, the prerequisite is that they abide by the strict rules the WTO has formulated for the development of mandatory technical regulations, voluntary standards and conformity assessment procedures. This is where developing countries like Pakistan come up short. They do not possess the institutional and technical capacity to develop, advocate and formalize such standards in WTO for a, nor the conformity assessment and accreditation bodies to certify that domestic industries are complying with international standards. While the WTO, in principle, offers technical assistance to developing countries to develop these capabilities, the concern expressed by various stakeholders suggest that Pakistan has not tapped into these opportunities._

Basic and vital constrain in development policy of making for SMEs.....

1. Business Environment The large size of the SME sector limits the ability of Government and business support institutions to achieve complete coverage by support programs.
2. Relationships between Government and SME The relationship between Government and SME seems to be fundamentally flawed.
3. Taxation issues High tax rates are one of the major reasons for firms to drift into the informal economy.
4. Labour issues: Labour Laws and regulations in Pakistan¹⁴ are considered to be one of the most complicated areas with which any business enterprise deals.

How industrial and technological developments are together in SMEs... (3 Marks)

Technology is in fact not applied in isolation but as part of the performance of one economic activity or another which contributes to development. In such activity, say industrial development, technology is again applied, not alone, but matching with investment, skills, resources and other related factors, in other words, the application of industrial technology cannot be divorced from the total context of industrial development. When considering industrial technology, and for that matter any technology a balance has therefore to be struck between considering it is the abstract and treating it as totally indistinguishable from the economic activity itself. To strike such a balance between these two trends, either of which by itself is likely to be misleading. There is a close interrelationship between industry & technology in general. Perhaps no other single branch of economic activity influences or gets influenced by technology more than industry.
