MGT301

Theme #7: [Theme wise mcq's]

1. Direct Fact-based MCQs

1. Which concept focuses on fulfilling customer needs profitably while keeping society's long-term welfare in mind?

a) Selling Concept

b) Product Concept

c) Societal Marketing Concept ✓

d) Marketing Myopia

2. According to Philip Kotler, what is the definition of marketing?

a) Meeting the needs profitably ✓

b) Selling products aggressively

c) Producing more to lower costs

d) Creating brand awareness only

3. Which demand situation occurs when customers have a negative perception about a product?

a) No Demand

b) Negative Demand ✓

c) Latent Demand

d) Overfull Demand

---

2. Conceptual Understanding MCQs

4. A company producing frozen food faces customers who believe frozen food is unhealthy. Which marketing strategy should be used?

a) Demarketing

b) Conversion Marketing ✓

c) Synchro-Marketing

d) Re-marketing

5. What is the key difference between Wants and Demands in marketing?

a) Wants are shaped by culture; demands are wants backed by buying power ✓

b) Wants are universal; demands are local

c) Wants are optional; demands are compulsory

d) Wants are temporary; demands are permanent

---

3. Scenario-based MCQs

6. A local electricity company charges high prices to reduce usage because demand is greater than supply. This is an example of:

a) Creative Marketing

b) Counter Marketing

c) Demarketing ✓

d) Latent Demand

7. A company launches an insurance policy that initially has little interest from customers, but later demand grows after highlighting its benefits. This is an example of:

a) Declining Demand

b) Latent Demand ✓

c) Negative Demand

d) Overfull Demand

– Theme #8: Marketing Environment

1. Direct Fact-based MCQs

1. Which type of marketing environment consists of the company, suppliers, intermediaries, competitors, customers, and publics?

a) Macroenvironment

b) Microenvironment ✓

c) Internal Environment

d) Cultural Environment

2. Which element of the macroenvironment focuses on population size, density, and distribution?

a) Economic Environment

b) Technological Environment

c) Demographic Environment ✓

d) Political Environment

3. Which type of public includes banks, investment analysts, and stockholders?

a) Government Public

b) Financial Public ✓

c) Media Public

d) Internal Public

---

2. Conceptual Understanding MCQs

4. Why is it important for marketers to monitor the natural environment?

a) To increase advertising effectiveness

b) To adapt to shortages of resources and environmental regulations ✓

c) To improve company's cultural image only

d) To avoid paying taxes

5. Which of the following best describes ‘Publics’ in marketing?

a) Only customers who buy the product

b) Any group with an interest in or impact on the company’s ability to achieve its goals ✓

c) Competitors selling the same product

d) Employees of the company only

---

3. Scenario-based MCQs

6. A company selling air conditioners offers heavy discounts in winter to maintain sales. This is an example of:

a) Declining Demand

b) Synchro-Marketing ✓

c) Conversion Marketing

d) Counter-Marketing

7. An international fast-food chain changes its menu in Pakistan to match local tastes. This is an example of adapting to which macroenvironment factor?

a) Economic

b) Cultural ✓

c) Technological

d) Political

– Theme #9: Organization and Marketing Strategy

1. Direct Fact-based MCQs

1. What is the process of developing and maintaining a strategic fit between organizational goals and capabilities and its changing marketing opportunities?

a) Marketing Analysis

b) Strategic Planning ✓

c) SWOT Analysis

d) Market Development

2. In BCG Matrix, products with high market share and high growth rate are called:

a) Question Marks

b) Stars ✓

c) Dogs

d) Cash Cows

3. Which tool is used to identify company growth opportunities through market penetration, product development, market development, and diversification?

a) SWOT Analysis

b) PESTEL Analysis

c) Product/Market Expansion Grid ✓

d) Portfolio Analysis

---

2. Conceptual Understanding MCQs

4. Which marketing strategy involves selling more of the existing products to the existing markets?

a) Market Development

b) Product Development

c) Market Penetration ✓

d) Diversification

5. How is market positioning different from market targeting?

a) Positioning selects the market; targeting creates brand image

b) Positioning creates a distinct image in the customer's mind, while targeting chooses which segments to serve ✓

c) Positioning is done before segmentation

d) Targeting is about product pricing

---

3. Scenario-based MCQs

6. A company identifies that its detergent has low growth rate but high market share. According to BCG Matrix, it is classified as:

a) Star

b) Question Mark

c) Cash Cow ✓

d) Dog

7. A sports brand enters a new country with the same product it sells locally. This is an example of:

a) Product Development

b) Market Development ✓

c) Diversification

d) Market Penetration

– Theme #10: Marketing Information System (MIS)

1. Direct Fact-based MCQs

1. What does MIS stand for in marketing?

a) Marketing Intelligence Service

b) Marketing Information System ✓

c) Market Industry Strategy

d) Marketing Investment Solution

2. Which type of marketing research is conducted to investigate an undefined problem at its initial stage?

a) Causal Research

b) Exploratory Research ✓

c) Descriptive Research

d) Experimental Research

3. Which research technique involves observing customer behavior in a natural setting?

a) Survey Research

b) Observational Research ✓

c) Ethnographic Research

d) Experimental Research

---

2. Conceptual Understanding MCQs

4. How is primary data different from secondary data?

a) Primary data is always cheaper than secondary data

b) Primary data is collected firsthand for a specific purpose, while secondary data is already available from other sources ✓

c) Secondary data is more accurate than primary data

d) Primary data is only collected online

5. Why do companies use ethnographic research?

a) To test new advertising designs

b) To deeply understand consumer lifestyle and behavior ✓

c) To calculate market share

d) To analyze competitors' prices

---

3. Scenario-based MCQs

6. A company wants to find out if a new packaging design will increase sales. They keep all other factors constant and only change the packaging. Which research type is this?

a) Exploratory

b) Causal ✓

c) Descriptive

d) Observational

7. A clothing brand sends surveys to customers asking about their satisfaction with the latest collection. This is an example of:

a) Descriptive Research ✓

b) Experimental Research

c) Causal Research

d) Ethnographic Research

– Theme #11: Consumer Buyer Behavior

1. Direct Fact-based MCQs

1. Which term refers to all end users who purchase goods or services for personal use?

a) Consumer Market ✓

b) Business Market

c) Retail Market

d) Global Market

2. According to Maslow's hierarchy of needs, which need comes immediately after safety needs?

a) Social Needs ✓

b) Physiological Needs

c) Esteem Needs

d) Self-Actualization

3. Which factor refers to learned values, perceptions, and behaviors from family or other institutions?

a) Personality

b) Culture ✓

c) Social Class

d) Motivation

---

2. Conceptual Understanding MCQs

4. How are reference groups different from membership groups?

a) Reference groups influence people who do not belong to them, while membership groups are those to which a person actually belongs ✓

b) Reference groups have no influence on buying behavior

c) Membership groups are online only

d) Reference groups are always family

5. Why is lifestyle an important factor in consumer behavior?

a) It only determines a person's income level

b) It reflects a person's activities, interests, and opinions that influence buying behavior ✓

c) It measures only cultural preferences

d) It is determined solely by social class

---

3. Scenario-based MCQs

6. A luxury watch brand targets customers seeking status and prestige. According to Maslow's hierarchy, which need are they addressing?

a) Safety Needs

b) Esteem Needs ✓

c) Social Needs

d) Physiological Needs

7. A sports shoe company uses a famous cricket player in its ad to influence cricket fans to buy its product. This is an example of:

a) Family Influence

b) Reference Group Influence ✓

c) Personal Factor

d) Cultural Factor

– Theme #12: Business Buyer Behavior

1. Direct Fact-based MCQs

1. What is the main difference between a business market and a consumer market?

a) Business markets sell only to end-users

b) Business markets involve fewer but larger buyers ✓

c) Business markets have no competition

d) Business markets never offer credit facilities

2. Which type of buying situation involves a buyer purchasing a product for the first time?

a) Straight Rebuy

b) New Task ✓

c) Modified Rebuy

d) Routine Purchase

3. In the business buying process, which stage comes immediately after recognizing a problem or need?

a) Supplier Search ✓

b) General Need Description

c) Proposal Solicitation

d) Order Specification

---

2. Conceptual Understanding MCQs

4. Why is derived demand important in business markets?

a) Because business demand comes directly from the demand for consumer goods ✓

b) Because business demand never changes

c) Because it is unrelated to consumer demand

d) Because it always decreases over time

5. Which role in the buying center has formal authority to select suppliers and arrange purchase terms?

a) Influencer

b) Decider

c) Buyer ✓

d) Gatekeeper

---

3. Scenario-based MCQs

6. A company regularly buys office paper from the same supplier without making any changes. This is an example of:

a) New Task

b) Modified Rebuy

c) Straight Rebuy ✓

d) Routine Task

7. A manufacturing firm's demand for steel increases because automobile sales have gone up. This is an example of:

a) Fluctuating Demand

b) Derived Demand ✓

c) Primary Demand

d) Seasonal Demand

– Theme #13: Marketing Channels

1. Direct Fact-based MCQs

1. What is the main role of a marketing channel?

a) To set product prices

b) To make products available to consumers ✓

c) To manufacture goods

d) To create advertisements

2. Which type of marketing channel has no intermediaries and sells directly to customers?

a) Indirect Channel

b) Direct Channel ✓

c) Dual Distribution

d) Vertical Marketing System

3. What does VMS stand for in marketing channels?

a) Value Market Share

b) Vertical Marketing System ✓

c) Vendor Management System

d) Variable Market Strategy

---

2. Conceptual Understanding MCQs

4. Why do companies use intermediaries in a distribution channel?

a) To increase the number of transactions

b) To make distribution more efficient and cost-effective ✓

c) To control prices

d) To reduce product quality

5. What is the main difference between a conventional distribution channel and a vertical marketing system?

a) In a VMS, all channel members act as separate entities

b) In a VMS, producers, wholesalers, and retailers work together as a unified system ✓

c) Conventional channels always have one member in control

d) VMS works only in online sales

---

3. Scenario-based MCQs

6. A company sells its handmade jewelry through its own website without using any retailers. This is an example of:

a) Indirect Marketing Channel

b) Direct Marketing Channel ✓

c) Dual Marketing Channel

d) Multi-level Marketing

7. A large retail chain owns its own warehouses, distribution centers, and retail stores. This is an example of:

a) Conventional Distribution Channel

b) Vertical Marketing System ✓

c) Horizontal Marketing System

d) Hybrid Marketing Channel