

ENG508

FINAL TERM PAPER

ZAINEE.....

OBJECTIVE PART

1. A scalar implicature is a quantity implicature based on the use of an informationally weak term in an implicational scale.
2. Cancellability is one of the properties of conversational implicature. It is also known as defeasibility.
3. These sentences can be chosen from any book whose 'indexical properties' may be discussed.
4. Existential Presupposition is the assumption of the existence of the entities named by the speaker.
5. Speech acts and their linguistic realizations are culturally bound.
6. Politeness is not like deference, which is a polite form expressing distance from and respect for people of a higher status.

7. There are two situational context factors that influence the way that we make a request.
8. Conversational analysis examines different levels of meaning within a text.
9. All the subparts of the referent can be treated as given information when a noun phrase is introduced into a discourse.
10. Conventional transcriptions of conversations use a standard orthographic script rather than phonemic transcription.
11. If the data are transcribable and analyzable, students move to the next stage which is transcribing it.
12. The transmitter encodes and transmits the message as a linguistic signal, which the receiver then decodes.
13. Communicative competence term was invented by the anthropologist and sociolinguist Dell Hymes.
14. Hyperbole is a figure of speech also known as an overstatement, in which a speaker expresses an exaggerated meaning than his words carry in themselves.
15. Reference must be assigned to indexicals and ambiguities must be resolved in examples.

16. Distinction between competence and performance allows linguists to focus on the properties of the grammatical system, abstracting away from how it is used.
17. Stephen C. Levinson introduce the face threatening act.
18. Convergence to the social norms occurs where the speaker indicates a desire to be a member of a community.
19. Identity becomes transparent in the course of conversations.
20. Social constructionism is based on the assumption that gender, like identity, is not a fixed characteristic of human beings.
21. Pragmatic Competence helps the learners to use the correct phrases in a particular situation.
22. Maxim violation is unostentatiously, quiet deceiving.
23. "Do me a big favor and let me use one of your pens". Is positive politeness.
24. Definiteness in English is marked by the choice of articles.
25. Linguistic material that is less than a complete sentence is called a fragment.
26. Local management system that is conventionally known by the members of a social group is turn taking.
27. Effective referential communication is inherently interactive.
28. In Austin's work, a misfire is one of the two ways in which a speech act can be unsuccessful.

29. The expressions which are used to refer an item within the same text is known as endophoric reference.

30. Corpus linguistics is the term used for compiling collections of texts and using them to probe language use.

31. The researchers emphasize on language use in context, which includes extra-textual variables such as

- a) Age
- b) Socioeconomic
- c) Gender
- d) All of these.

Confirm the correct answer at your own end from MCQ no. 32 to 40

32. Listener's behavior in cross-culture pragmatics generally signals----
?(alternativeness) (not sure)

33. Teachability of second language pragmatics involves pragmatic competence particularly to interact in spoken discourse. (answer not sure)

34. Background knowledge context refers to---- knowledge of a group.
(individual) (not sure)

35. Deictic expression such as this, that, these and those in English are called ---
- pronouns. (definite and specific) (not sure)

36. literal meaning of speech is indicated by----act. (locutionary) (not sure)
37. “This room is mess”. This expresses ---- speech act. (direct)
38. Computer program cannot automatically identify the---- category in text.
- a) Referentiality
 - b) Givenness
 - c) Topic
39. Face that seems socially distant is known as----?
40. The content which gives additional information is known as... content?

SUBJECTIVE PART

1. What happens when politeness is used inappropriately?
2. Explain the concept of face with reference to politeness?
3. Define the term discourse deixis?

Discourse deixis is also called text deixis. In discourse deixis, there are words that make reference to some statement or utterance to point to the current, preceding or following utterances in the same spoken or written discourse, e.g. ‘the next chapter’, ‘in the last paragraph’,

4. Searle’s four possible directions of fit. Enlist the names only?

According to Searle, there are four possible directions of fit. As well as word-to-world and world-to-word, there is the double direction of fit – both word-to-world and world-to-word – and the null direction of fit. Searle proposes that declarations have the double direction of fit.

Expressives have the null direction of fit: they express an emotional attitude towards a fact presumed to be true: for example, ‘I am sorry that I tripped you.’ (Allott, 1988). Commissives share the world-to-word direction of fit with directives and intention belonging to the speaker. This taxonomy of speech acts has been influential but has come in for serious criticism. (Allott, 1988). Searle wrote that it is ‘pointless and perverse’ to study language abstracting away from its use in communication (Allott, 1988).

5. Identify the sentence as generic and specific expression:

- a) It describes the bombardier beetle, which squirts a lethal mixture into the face of its enemy. (generic)
- b) The giraffe bent slowly forward and gingerly took a carrot from my palm. (specific)

6. Which of the four maxims are violated in the given sentences:

- a) Where are you off to?
- b) I was thinking of going out to get some of that funny white stuff for somebody.

c) Ok. But don't be long-dinner is nearly ready.

Answer via chatgpt:

Summary:

- Sentence 1 does not violate any maxim.
- Sentence 2 violates the Maxim of Quantity because of its vagueness.
- Sentence 3 violates the Maxim of Relation because of a possible lack of connection to the conversation.

7. Write down the possible entailment “Amina’s brother bought three horses”.

8. Define concept of vagueness?

9. Explain referential communication?

10. Identify the kinds of reference in the given sentences:

- a) The expressions which are used to refer an item within the same text is known as endophoric reference.
- b) The expressions which are used to refer an item within the same text is known as exophoric reference.
- c) The expression which links back to something that went before in the preceding text. Anaphora.
- d) The expressions which link forward to a referent in the text that follows. Cataphoric.

ENG508
FINAL TERM PAPER
ZAINEE...