3:what is the importance of pair work in speaking skills?

Topic 52: Speaking Skills - Pair Work

It plays an important role in developing speaking skills. Students often feel shy speaking to a higher authority. If this activity is done in pairs, where they speak to their partners and the teacher can supervise where they lack. She can note down their mistakes and give them collective feedback so as not to be embarrassing the students. This way they would not become conscious. Personal feedback can be given at a later level. In the beginning teachers should always give collective feedback without taking names. Otherwise, it would become very demotivating for the students. Teacher should explain her point and then she can observe their progress. Teachers should develop a structure of giving feedback when supervising pair work. It is also important to give positive feedback and praise where due. This would make the feedback authentic that the teacher was not only pointing mistakes but also appreciating the effort.

Topic 46: Formal Informative Writing - Curriculum Vitae or Resume

It is formal informative writing, as it is about providing facts based on reality. You have to inform the person about yourself, about facts that are always going to stay with you, like name, date of birth, nationality, religion etc. Layout of the CV is very important be it for higher education or job. It should be organized, starting with educational qualifications with the dates. You should specify if it is a degree, course or certification. The name of the institute must also be mentioned. Whether it was full time or part time should also be mentioned. You should stick with the format, whichever you are using. Divide your qualification in columns. It should be in chronological order. You should also mention extra-curricular activities; volunteer and charity work come under this.

It is similar to debates, but debates are oral and argumentative is a written form of debates. It is usually an argument between two people. There is a point taken with two sides on a coin while both sides are trying to prove a point. There is a sequence in the dialogues from both sides. One point is being discussed and then there is a counter argument. Both sides of the argument are to be taken into consideration. Opinion of both or more parties should be included in the dialogue writing. Punctuation is very important in the conversation to make the dialogues clear. Without punctuation the arguments won't be shown like a dialogue. Some words which are used in spoken language can be used in argumentative writing as well for e.g; "In my opinion", "I think"... Such phrases will make the argument evident. Polite phrases can be used according to the scenario for eg; "thank you for your opinion but..."

. what is word stress, intonation, collocation

Word stress – stress on the word to get meaning.
Intonation – high or low pitch of spoken sentence.
Collocation – two or more words that go well together

Word stress is also important because you can change the meaning of sentences. If you stress on a particular word you can change its meaning and tone. A sharp tone can imply rudeness. We are able to explain the meaning of a poem by using the correct stresses. Words should be said in their right context in a poem. Emphasize on the words which need to be emphasized. You can only do that when you know the meaning and context of a word

Topic 62: Speaking Skills - Intonation

Students should know the importance of intonation to bring out the meaning of the sentence. Usually language labs have audios, if they are not available; teachers can repeat the sentences to emphasize on the pronunciation and word stress. She should repeat a sentence five times. Usually a good listener needs to listen to a sentence at least three times. There can be an activity of compare and contrast. She can say

What is essay?

Topic 84: Essay

Essay is usually a part of the literature syllabus, but students should know how to analyze an essay. An essay is a collection of sentences and paragraphs. The beginning of each paragraph must express the purpose of that paragraph. A new idea must begin in a new paragraph. The linking pf paragraph is also significant to learn. The sentence formation usually has all the parts of speech in it. Students should use different kinds of adjectives. With the use of nouns it is difficult to use different words, e.g. a cupboard will always be a cupboard. It has been seen that students mostly stick to the words “good” and “bad” for adjectives. Teachers should teach students more alternative words. Too much use of the same word would not carry an authentic message moreover the examiner would not consider the writer to be a good writer. The teacher should encourage creative skills and rich language. Students should be encouraged to write their own option and imagination. Teachers can give them samples of good essays where there is rich exposure of language. By reading good essays students would be able to write good essays. The essay

Speaking skills are best learnt by fun. It is a natural instinct for people to speak comfortably in their own language. But in order to learn a foreign language, it is a good way to not to force people but use comedy and fun. When there is no stress on the brain, it is accepted freely. More words are picked by the learners in a game; funny words are very quickly absorbed by young learners. Words used in movies often become clichés and become popular among the mass mostly in a comical manner. Games in a classroom are a subtle way to convey the message. A teacher can find many language games online or in books. If a teacher likes to play games, she would become one of them. Students can enjoy and learn at the same time. Teachers should however maintain discipline in the classroom

It is common to give sheets of paper to students to write new words they have encountered. This way students will try to focus more and become good listeners. 6. Compare conditionals

Topic 100: Grammar Use - Third Conditionals

Third conditionals are mostly based on regret. Modal words are also used along with the use of if, e.g. “If I had worked hard I would have scored maximum marks”. The condition here is of working hard. Now I cannot work hard, the time has gone. The verb is in past as it is showing regret. If I could have seen my mother she would have blessed me. These regrets cannot be undone now, they have already caused harm. The condition is that this action should have been done in past therefore the verb is in past. E.g., “if I would have reached earlier” shows an irreversible regret. To put it simply, it is regret with a condition.

It is a good practice to make the students assess their peers. They like to listen to what the other person is saying especially if they are of the same age. They tend to focus more on what they are saying. It is like a chain building activity. The teacher should explain what she needs them to do. Students should be very honest and fair in assessing their peers. This way students will understand how an assessment is done. Students come to realize the accuracy of the teacher in assessing them. It is like a reciprocal activity. It has many advantages. Their listening skills are also developed. They can compare their own speaking skills and be motivated to learn from a better example. The

The teacher must bring a picture which should be interesting and elaborate. She should leave it to the imagination of the students to describe the picture. Students would develop imaginative skills. Teachers should not be too critical in judging student‟s imagination. A higher level student may relate the picture to some background story. It is the right of every student to learn, whether they are imaginative or not. Teachers should encourage students to participate in them. Students can practice this exercise outside the classroom as well.

The sentence carries a meaning of wish. Use of if shows the wish. Would is the modal word here. Second conditionals are also used when things are not really possible. Some second conditionals are also put in first conditionals; e.g. “if I had worked hard I would have been successful”, because it is not really possible. Usually the facts are in first conditionals, and impossible wishes are in second conditionals. Things that are never going to happen e.g.; if I was a billionaire I would buy the world.

Scene and situation is developed according to the basic theme of the short story. Is the situation of war, poverty, and peace etc, all these things have to be discussed at length by the teacher before students write the short story? This way students will have a context and a schema in their mind. Otherwise it will be a time-wasting activity. Understanding of the background and culture is important; e.g. students should have knowledge of a village if the story demands so. It is not expected of a student to write a short story without having words to write that, therefore teacher has to specify whether the short story has to be dramatic, real life incident, heroic act, series of events etc. Short stories in the newspaper have a series of events. Teacher has to determine this according to the level of the students.

how you can improve your students vocabulary? write different techniques

Vocabulary plays an important part, how can we read if we don‟t know what is written. It can be provided by resources. For primary school students, teachers can provide word banks on charts, board, slides etc. For higher level students, you can have a resource corner in the classroom where you can put newspapers, magazines for consulting when students are short of vocabulary. This reduces the burden on the teacher and enables students to work independently. Students develop a sense of responsibility and confidence. Building vocabulary also helps students become confident that they don‟t lack the ability to use words. Familiar words are better absorbed by the students. It should be a regular affair for the class activities. Teachers can have dictionaries placed in the classroom and inculcate the habit of using them, few times they would need teacher‟s help but later they would learn this habit.

Formal Writing
Formal writing has different definitions in different regions in the world. Academic writing like assignments and essays is mostly considered formal. Words in spoken English may not be used in formal writing. There is a proper format for formal writing. There is a beginning, title and ending with a formal greeting. An action verb and a subject is what make a present simple tense. A subject can be a noun or a pronoun. An object may be added. E.g., I eat an apple. This transition should be very gradual. Topic 15: Personal Response - Cohesion

Sometimes, such writings where we have argumentative type of texts or where we have discussions we need to look at the factor of cohesion and coherence. We need to look at the dialogues or the arguments that are being made, whether they do have some cohesion or coherence in the writing. This is mostly done at the higher level. This topic is a little advanced for the primary school children. This is an important part of the reading and writing process and as mentioned earlier it is a bit advanced, thus the teachers need to give clear instructions to students. The students should develop the skill of writing coherently as a personal response to the reading that they have done. This is a productive skill for their writing forms. In order to do good writing it is important to do good reading.

Topic 13: Personal Response

This is the response that the teacher expects from the students to respond after the reading activity. While doing the reading activity students need to know what the comprehensive text is. In order to do that the teacher needs to do a lot more before starting the reading activity. The pre reading, prediction and skimming help the students get an idea of what they are going to read and thus help in comprehending the text. The teacher needs to develop the whole environment of the understanding of the text to prepare them about what they are going to read. Students should be made familiar with the reading material maybe by giving them the words that they are going to encounter in the reading material. Giving the reading pieces in bit and reading in bit does not allow the students to comprehend the text.

As a personal response, the learner needs to know how the text is linked. Students should be clear how the sentences,
