SOC101 - Quiz No.5

Date: 07 January 2026

Q.1 What were the educational ideals promoted by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels?

A. Universal access to free education

B. Limited access to education

C. Educational privilege for the elite

D. No access to education for the proletariat

Q.2 What method has the state primarily employed in Pakistan to suppress political opposition?

A. Freedom of speech

B. Social control

C. Media censorship

D. Economic development

Q.3 What is one role of schools in replacing family functions?

A. Providing career opportunities

B. Offering childcare services

C. Fostering political activism

D. Encouraging cultural diversity

Q.4 The functionalist perspective suggests that religion contributes positively to social cohesion and stability.

A. False

B. True

Q.5 What is the primary focus of interactionists in the context of schools?

A. Historical events

B. Economic policies

C. Daily activities

D. Political structure

Q.6 Military juntas typically come to power through coups d'états in:

A. Middle East and Oceania

B. Central America and the Caribbean

C. South America, Asia, and Africa

D. Europe and North America

Q.7 Which of the following countries could be considered to have a strong emphasis on traditional gender roles?

A. Pakistan

B. Australia

C. Canada

D. United States

Q.8 Which one of the following is NOT the example of rebellion?

A. Political negotiations

B. Armed uprisings

Q.9 In the context of authoritarian governments, _____ concept is associated with the need to "prove" subjects' submission.

A. Activism

B. Pluralism

C. Obedience

D. Resistance

Q.10 How did Karl Marx describe religion's function as the "opiate of the people"?

A. Promotes social development

B. Inspires social activism

C. Numbs societal concerns

D. Promotes distrust
