

[Type text]

EDU410 CURRENT PAPER

BY CUCKOO

Q) Types of listening (5)

Types of listening depending upon the situation and the environment

- Whole-person listening-understanding the speaker, his words, thought, motive etc
- Appreciative Listening- Listening for appreciation and pleasure.
- Attentive Listening –attentively listening each and every word.
- Casual Listening- Listening not very attentive, listening casually without any interest.
- Evaluative Listening- Listening to evaluate or judge something.
- Evaluative listening is also called “critical listening
- Because we make judgements about what others person is saying
- Comprehensive Listening- listening to understand the message the speaker is communicating.
- Discriminative Listening- the objective is to focus on the sounds. At its most basic level this is to distinguishing the speaker’s gender, or the number of people in a conversation.

Q) How to develop writing skills in children (5)

1. Practice Every Day:

- Write something every day, like a diary or short story, to get better at writing.

2. Try Different Types:

- Explore different writing styles, such as stories, poems, or essays, to learn various ways of expressing ideas.

3. Get Feedback:

- Listen to advice about your writing, like fixing mistakes or making it better, so you can improve.

4. Read a Lot:

- Read different books and talk about them to understand how good writing looks and sounds.

[Type text]

[Type text]

5. Have Fun with Writing:

- Be creative and make up your own stories to enjoy writing and let your imagination flow.

Q) Describe 1st stage of teaching vocabulary (5)

1st Stage: Understanding New Words

1. Introducing nouns, things, objects, animals, etc. Visual elements work best with concrete nouns, but try to go beyond flashcards and illustrations. Try to use real objects whenever possible, or even sounds, smells, and tastes.
2. Introducing adjectives Opposites, like “big” and “small”, “long” and “short”, are usually illustrated with pictures, but here’s another case where regalia (real life objects) will help you teach new adjectives; the use of real life objects is wonderful for words like “soft” and “rough”.
3. Introducing abstracts there are things you simply cannot teach with a flashcard. What works best in these cases are synonyms, definitions, substitutions? For instance, teaching the difference between “early” and “late”,

Q) What are long vowels and examples (5)

1. Definition of Long Vowels:

- Long vowels are sounds pronounced for a longer time than short vowels, impacting the way words are spoken

2. Vowel Types:

- The vowels A, E, I, O, and U in English can create long vowel sounds.

3. Notation:

- Long vowels are often marked with a macron (ā, ē, ī, ō, ū) or occur in specific vowel combinations.

4. Pronunciation Impact:

- Understanding long vowels is crucial for accurate pronunciation

And spelling.

5. Occurrence Pattern:

- Long vowels commonly arise when a vowel is followed by a single vowel in a word, contributing to distinct sound patterns.

Q) Consonant blends (3)

Consonant blends (also called consonant clusters) are groups of two or three consonants in words that make a distinct consonant sound, such as "bl" or "spl."

[Type text]

[Type text]

Q) What is schwa and how many diphthong ends on schwa (3)

The unstressed central vowel sound represented by the symbol/ə/ in the international phonetic symbols. A schwa sound can be represented by any vowel.

There are three diphthongs ending on Schwa sound. Examples:

- /iə/ as in here
- /eə/ as in hair
- /ʊə/ as in tour

Q) What is word wall (3)

A word wall is a visual display in a classroom or educational setting that features a collection of words, typically organized alphabetically or thematically. The purpose of a word wall is to provide a reference for students, showcasing frequently used or important words in the curriculum. Teachers often use word walls to reinforce vocabulary, spelling, and language concepts, creating an interactive learning resource that students can refer to during various lessons and activities.

Q) Formula of present perfect tense (3)

Present perfect tense: present perfect tense means that some activity has been started in past and has completed in near present.

Subject + have/has + past participle

For Example: • I have played. • You have played.

Q) How to develop listening skills (3)

- Active Listening
- Diverse Listening Material
- Note-taking
- Repeat and Recap
- Interactive Conversations

Q) Reading proficiency (3)

1. Comprehension:
 - Reading proficiency involves the ability to understand and grasp the meaning of written text.
2. Fluency:
 - Proficient readers can read with speed, accuracy, and appropriate expression.
3. Vocabulary:
 - A key aspect is a strong vocabulary, enabling readers to comprehend a wide range of words and their meanings.

Q) Communicative approach (3)

[Type text]

[Type text]

The Communicative approach emphasizes the ability to communicate the message in terms of its meaning, instead of concentrating exclusively on grammatical perfection or phonetics.

Q) What is future perfect tense (5)

Some activity had been started in the past and have completed in the future. We use will have or shall have with the third form of verb. The formula for the future perfect tense is:

Subject + will have + past participle

For Example:

- I will have played.
- Will I have played?

Q) Briefly explain types of vowels sound (5)

There are mainly three types of vowel sounds:

1) Monophthongs: A vowel that has a single perceived auditory quality is called monophthong. There is no alteration in position of tongue. It has pure vowel sound, one whose articulation at both beginning and end is relatively fixed

2) Diphthongs: diphthongs are combination of two vowel sounds i.e. /ai /. A sound formed by the combination of two vowels in a single word, in which the sound begins as one vowel and moves towards another (as in coin, loud, side).

3) Triphthongs: Triphthongs are combination of three monophthongs or vowel sounds. A vowel sound in which the tongue changes position to produce the sound of three vowels one after another.

Q) Define speaking skill

Speaking skill refers to the ability to articulate thoughts and ideas coherently and effectively through spoken language. It involves clear pronunciation, proper use of vocabulary and grammar, and the capacity to communicate with confidence and clarity in various contexts.

Q) What is necessary in speaking skill?

- Clear pronunciation
- Proper vocabulary
- Grammar usage
- Confidence
- Ability to express thoughts coherently

Q) Strategies of teaching writing

[Type text]

[Type text]

Strategies that might help you when you teach writing:

1. Choose writing objective.
2. Find a writing exercise that helps to focus on the specific objective.
3. If possible, tie the subject matter to student needs.
4. Provide feedback through correction activities that call on students to correct their own mistakes.
5. Have students revise work.

Q) Basic types of tenses

	Simple	Progressive	Perfect	Perfect Progressive
Present	I eat	I am eating	I have eaten	I have been eating
Past	I ate	I was eating	I had eaten	I had been eating
Future	I will eat	I will be eating	I will have eaten	I will have been eating

Q) Strategies for writing

1. Prepare work area
2. Fight writer's block- return to prewriting if necessary
3. Take breaks
4. Get ideas down quickly
 - Begin with body of paper.
 - Introduction and conclusion will be written last
5. T/S the first draft it typing; D/S by hand
6. Write on only one side of the paper

Q) As a teacher how you teach spellings at higher level

Strategies for Teaching 'Spellings'

Use three kinds of experiences for the learner: auditory (listening), visual (seeing) and kinesthetic (through movements). In other words, allow students to hear the correct spelling of words, see the spellings, and have 'hands-on' experiences.

- A) Spell words using Scrabble tiles, letter cubes, magnetic letters, or even letters cut from newspapers and magazines.
- B) Trace the correct spellings of words. Or spell words by gluing string onto construction paper.
- C) Find spelling words on cereal boxes, toy packages and other everyday items.

[Type text]

[Type text]

Q) How you teach student "recognize the word"

1. Learn Sounds and Letters:

- Teach how letters sound to recognize words easily.

2. Practice Common Words:

- Repeat common words often for quick recognition.

3. Read in Sentences:

- Read words in sentences to understand them better.

4. Find Word Patterns:

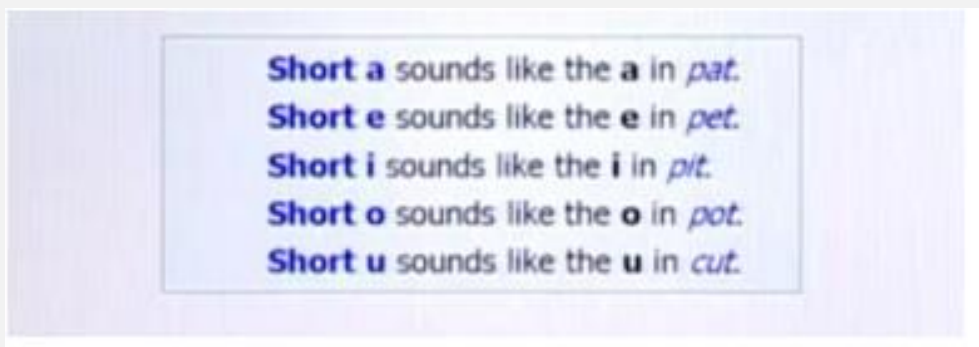

- Show how words are similar to recognize new ones.

5. Use Fun Activities:

- Play games and use visuals for a hands-on approach to learning words.

Q) What are short vowels?

A short vowel sound in any word is that does not allow the vowel within it to generate that vowel's long sound and which does not glide up or down towards a new position of articulation. In many dictionaries, the symbol for a short vowel is a cup-shaped curve over the vowel. For example, e[^] is the symbol for a short e. List of short vowel is:

Q) Independent clause with relevant example.

"Main (or independent) clause is a clause that expresses a complete thought and can stand as a sentence. Examples:

- I met the boy who had helped me.
- She is wearing a shirt which looks nice.

Q) Difficulties to speaker to speak triphthongs.

[Type text]

[Type text]

A triphthong is a glide from one vowel to another and then to a third, all produced rapidly without interruption.

There are five triphthongs in English. They are composed of the five closing diphthongs with / added at the end.

Three vowel sounds are produced from a limited space and there is a quick gliding of the tongue. So difficult to perceive and distinguish.

Q) Properties of short vowels and long vowels

Short Vowel	Long vowel
Brief Pronunciation	Extended Pronunciation
Single Sound	Multiple Sounds
Common Examples	Common Examples
"a" in "cat"	"a" in "cake"
"e" in "bed"	"e" in "bee"

Q) Briefly discuss grammar activities

1. Make Sentences:

- Practice creating different kinds of sentences.

2. Play Grammar Games:

- Have fun with games that teach grammar rules.

3. Fix Mistakes:

- Identify and correct errors in sentences.

4. Tell Stories:

- Create your own stories using proper grammar.

5. Act It Out:

- Use grammar while pretending in different situations.

Q) Principles of Grammar translation method

[Type text]

[Type text]

The grammar translation method is a method of teaching foreign languages derived from the classical (sometimes called traditional) method of teaching Greek and Latin

1. Classes taught in L1; little use of L2
2. Vocabulary taught in lists and isolated
3. Grammar explanation, memorization
4. Reading classical text early
5. Grammar analysis of text
6. Translation
7. 0 attention to pronunciation

Q) Why Idioms and collocations are difficult for learners

- Combination of correct words
- No proper translation
- Tricky use of words
- No grammatical rules
- Difficult to use
- First language interference

Q) Long vowel

Symbol of long vowel is /a:/, in short vowels there are two dots as part of symbol. Sound in short vowels is not stretched but in long vowel sound is stretched. Long vowel is also a monophthong. A long vowel sound in any word that generates that vowel's long sound and which does not glide up or down towards a new position of articulation.

Q) How we improve Grammar?

1. Read Regularly:

- Reading exposes you to correct grammar naturally.

2. Practice Writing:

- Regular writing helps reinforce grammar rules.

3. Use Grammar Apps:

- Interactive apps can make learning grammar more engaging.

4. Learn from Mistakes:

- Understand and correct grammar errors when you make them.

5. Ask for Feedback:

- Seek feedback on your writing to improve grammar skills.

Q) How make a word difficult

[Type text]

[Type text]

1. Pronunciation
2. Spelling
3. Length and complexity
4. Grammar
5. Meaning

Q) Enlist different types of speaking

- One-on-One
- Small-Group or Team-Based Oral Work
- Full-Class Discussions (Teacher- or Student-Led)
- In-Class Debates and Deliberations
- Speeches and Presentations
- Oral Examinations

Q) Audio lingual method

The Audio-Lingual method of teaching a foreign language is also known as the army method. It originated from the behaviorists theory of learning languages and was introduced to teach language to troops during World War 2.

This method relies on repetition drills and as a result it was used to teach large numbers of students at the same time.

Q) Importance of spelling in writing

1. Communication Clarity:

- Correct spelling ensures that your writing is clear and easily understood.

2. Professionalism:

- Proper spelling adds a level of professionalism to your written work.

3. Credibility:

- Accurate spelling enhances the credibility of your writing and ideas.

4. Avoid Misunderstandings:

- Spelling errors can lead to misunderstandings or misinterpretations.

5. Educational and Job Opportunities:

- Good spelling skills are often expected in academic and professional settings, impacting educational and job opportunities.

Q) Note on simple or indefinite tense

Simple Present Tense:

[Type text]

[Type text]

- Definition: The simple present tense is used to describe actions that happen regularly, habits, general truths, or present situations.

- Formula: \[\text{{Subject + Verb (base form) + Object}} \]

Simple Past Tense:

- Definition: The simple past tense is used to narrate actions that happened and were completed in the past.

- Formula: \[\text{{Subject + Verb (past tense) + Object}} \]

Simple Future Tense:

- Definition: The simple future tense is used to express actions that will happen in the future.

- Formula: \[\text{{Subject + will/shall + Verb (base form) + Object}} \]

Q) Diphthong end "i" sounds

2nd Group:

Ending on /I/Sound

There are three diphthongs ending on /I/ sound. Examples:

- /eI/ as in take
- /ɔI/ as in toy
- /aI/ as in tie

[Type text]