- 1. Coherence: Coherence refers to the quality of being logical and consistent, e.g., 'This essay, on the whole, lacks coherence'.
- 2. Context Models: Context models are special kinds of experience models. They represent communicative episodes in which we participate, often as part of other everyday episodes (conversation at breakfast, meeting at work, etc.).
- 3. Conversation Analysis: Conversation analysis (CA) is an approach to the study of social interaction, embracing both verbal and non-verbal conduct, in situations of everyday life.
- 4. Critical Linguistics: Critical Linguistics (CL) is “an approach to language study which uses linguistic techniques to investigate the ideologies (value systems and sets of beliefs) which underlie texts”
- 5. Dialectical Relational Approach: According to Dialectical Relational Approach CDA is based upon a view of semiosis as an irreducible element of all material social processes (Williams 1977). Semiosis is viewed as an element of the social process which is dialectically related to others.
- 6. Dialectics: The art or practice of arriving at the truth by the exchange of logical arguments.
- 7. Discourse: Discourse is a unit of language usually longer than a sentence but the deduced meaning is beyond the level of sentence.
- 8. Interpersonal Meanings: The interpersonal meanings are concerned with the interaction between speaker(s) and addressee(s).
- 9. Lexicon: A lexicon is the knowledge that a native speaker has about a language.
- 10. Mental Model: A mental model is an explanation of someone's thought process about how something works in the real world.
