Q.1 Which of the following is a “Market and Supply Allocation” decision

A. Location of facility
B. Processes to be performed at facilities
C. Sources to feed each facility
D. Capacity allocated to each facility

Q.2 A good information structure is needed to ensure:

A. Only historical data is used without planning for future demand
B. Retailer can provide product availability information to the customer
C. Data is inaccurate and shared only with top management
D. Each department keeps information to itself

Q.3 Which of the following is not influenced by the network structure?

A. All are dependent on network structure
B. Product variety
C. Order visibility
D. Customer experience

Q.4 The main role of information systems in network design is:

A. To decorate the office
B. To replace human decision-making entirely
C. To handle only customer complaints
D. To provide data for optimal facility location and capacity decisions

---

Q.5 The decision ‘what processes are to be performed at each facility’ is related to:

A. Facility role
B. Facility location
C. Capacity allocation
D. Supply allocation

Q.6 Which of the following competitive factors is not as important to consider as others while designing the network?

A. Competitors’ market share
B. Competitors’ size
C. Competitors’ strategy
D. Competitors’ location

VU TOOLKIT

Q.7 Which of the following distribution network designs face the greatest difficulty in handling returns

A. Retail storage with customer pick up

B. Manufacturing storage with direct shipping

C. Distributor storage with last mile delivery

D. Distributor storage with carrier delivery

Q.8 Supply chain design become more critical in recent years because:

A. Manufacturing is increasing in all countries

B. Companies prefer manual processes over information systems

C. Countries are outsourcing production and global supply chains are complex

D. Customers are less interested in delivery speed

Q.9 Material flow time in a supply chain refers to:

A. Time elapsed between when material enters the supply chain to when it exists

B. The time it takes to design a product

C. The time spent only in production

D. The time inventory stays in the warehouse without moving

Q.10 Which of the following is not true for ‘Distributor Storage with Last Mile Delivery’, if compared with ‘Distributor Storage with Carrier Delivery’?

A. Faster response time

B. Higher facility and handling costs

C. Higher inventory

D. Lower transportation cost

VU TOOLKIT