Process of Writing

Writing usually takes place in steps or stages.

There are five stages or steps in the writing process.

(1) Getting ideas: brainstorming, clustering & free writing

(2) Making brief outline

(3) Writing the 1st draft

(4) Revising

(5) Proof reading

What is Getting Ideas?

Primarily from reading, talking to people, listening to talk shows, TV programs on current issues etc.

What is Brainstorming?

Brainstorming combines a relaxed, informal approach to problem solving with lateral thinking. It encourages people to come up with thoughts and ideas that can, at first, seem a bit crazy. Some of these ideas can be crafted into original, creative solutions to a problem, while others can spark even more ideas.

What is Clustering?

Clustering is the task of dividing the population or data points into a number of groups such that data points in the same groups are more similar to other data points in the same group than those in other groups.

کلسٹرنگ کا مقصد آبادی یا ڈیٹا پوائنٹس کو متعدد گروہوں میں تقسیم کرنا ہے جیسے ایک ہی گروپ میں ڈیٹا پوائنٹ دوسرے گروپوں کے گروپوں کے مقابلے میں ایک ہی گروپ میں موجود دوسرے ڈیٹا پوائنٹس کی طرح ملتے ہیں۔ آسان الفاظ میں ، اس کا مقصد یہ ہے کہ ایک جیسے گروہوں کو الگ الگ گروپ بنائیں اور انہیں کلسٹر میں تفویض کریں

What is free writing?

This is also a very useful technique Continue writing for some time without stopping to worry about grammar or spellings etc.

Write down the writing problem solving of two tasks?

The writer has two tasks before him

- (a) The task of generating ideas and
- (b) Of composing those ideas into some sort of shape in other words giving structure to those ideas.

How can write journalistic or academic?

All writing, whether journalistic or academic (a report, an essay, an assignment, a term paper, a project) has structure. There is first the introduction, second the main body in which the ideas are developed and third the conclusion.

Write down the process of note-making forces?

The process of note-making forces you to:

- Summarize ideas and arguments
- Select points relevant to your purposes
- Understand and interpret the original source
- Continually clarify and adjust your perception of your essay topic in the light of your increasing understanding of the material.

How do you take notes?

Your notes will develop their own format depending on your purpose and on the nature of the sources.

There are 4 general principles which apply to all methods of note-making.

- Clear Identification
- Develop them flexibly
- Leave room for your comments
- Develop an abbreviation system

1- Clear Identification:

We should record the author, title, place of publication, publisher and edition and even the year of publication. Next to each key point or direct quotation you must note the exact page system.

Record your notes reference.

2- Develop them flexibly, in such a way that it is easy to rearrange them for the purpose of your essay; if on loose-paper, and then remember to number the pages.

3- Leave room for your comments

Leave wide margins. They are useful for writing your own comments, adding cross-references, etc.

4- Develop an abbreviation system

Common symbols can be used such as:

e.g. For example

B/w between

& and

Btw by the way

= is equal to

> Greater than or became

< Lesser than or came from

.. Therefore.

Write down the emphasis Essay Topic of three basic factors?

In this discussion of art history, we give special emphasis to three basic factors.

First, the background: the religious, social, and economic conditions that make art possible in any period.

Second, the foreground: the work of art itself, its style and its variation from other styles.

Third, the contribution of the individual artist reveals his inspirations and the extent of his gift.

Write down the essay of two wrong ways?

There are two wrong ideas we must guard against.

First, art history is not a development from primitive beginnings in the past to final perfection in our own period. Styles change but artistic quality is more constant.

Second, often one style of art is the characteristic expression of one period. It is useless to attempt any evaluation between styles that have little in common.

Tenses and Passive Sentences

Definition of Tens?

Tens play a crucial role in the English language. It denotes the time an action takes place, whether some time in the past, in the present or future.

What is difference between base form and past tense form?

The Base Form:

It is the form in which verbs are listed in the dictionary. It is used in the present tense for all subjects except third - person singular subjects.

Past Tense Form:

The past-tense form of most verbs is formed by adding -ed or -d to the basic form.

Definition of Present Participle?

It is the -ing form of a verb. The present participle is the form that is used with the helping verbs am, is, are, was, or were to show continuing action.

Definition of Past Participle?

The past participle of a verb is usually the same as its past tense form. The past participle is the form that is used with the helping verbs have, has, and had and with am, is, are, was, were.

Write down the name of main tenses?

There are six main tenses in English. They are present, past, future, present perfect, past perfect and future perfect.

Tense or example

Tense

Example

Present

I jump

Past	I jumped
Future	I will jump
Present perfect	I have jumped
Past perfect	I had jumped
Future perfect	I will have jumped

What is The Present Tense?

It is used to describe an action that is happening in the present or to describe a condition that exists at the present time regardless of the other verbs in the sentence.

What is The Past Tense?

It is used to describe an action or state of being that occurred some time in the past.

What is The Future Tense?

It is used to indicate an action which is to take place in the future or a state or condition that will exist sometime in the future.

The Three Perfect Tenses are formed by adding the helping verb have, has, or had to the past participle of the verb. The past participle of a regular verb is simply the form that ends in -ed.

The Present Perfect Tense is used to describe an action that started in the past and either has been finished or is continuing at the present time.

The present perfect tense is formed when we add has or have plus the past participle.

What is The Past Perfect Tense?

It describes an action that was completed in the past before another past action. The past perfect tense is formed when we add had plus the past participle.

What is Future Perfect Tense?

It describes an action that will be completed before sometime in the future. The future perfect tense is formed when we add shall have or will have to the past participle.

What is The Three Progressive Tenses?

As their name suggests, these tenses express actions still in progress at a particular time. They are made by adding a form of the helping verb -be to the -ing form of the verb.

1. Present Progressive Tense:

It expresses an action taking place at this moment or that will occur sometime in the future.

2. past Progressive Tense:

It expresses an action that was in progress at a certain time in the past.

3. Future Progressive Tense:

It expresses an action that will be in progressive at a certain time in the future.

1. Marina will be working tomorrow.

VERB TENSES IN PASSIVE SENTENCES

PRESENT TENSES

Jewels are bought by ladies.

Present Continuous:

Jewels are being bought by ladies

Present Perfect:

Ladies have been advised to declare their jewelry in their wealth tax forms.

Present Modals:

Steps must be taken to educate the public about filling in tax returns.

PAST TENSES

Simple Past:

Maps of the rebel's hide-out were shown to the press.

Past continuous:

Until recently hand crafted jewelry was not being designed locally.

Past Perfect:

Pakistani carpets had always been designed by local artists.

Perfect Modals:

The textile industry might not have been required by the government to pay taxes.

FUTURE TENSES

‘Will’ - teaching assistants will be used to assist teachers in evaluating students’ examination scripts.

Future Perfect

- By 2010 the new canal system will have been put into regular use.

What is The Agent in Passive Sentences?

A passive sentence can be written with or without the agent.

With the Agent:

The agent in the passive sentence answers the question by whom or by what the action is performed.

1. The agent is named if it is important or necessary to complete the meaning or understanding of the sentence. e.g.

The accident was caused by a cyclist.-

Without the Agent:

The agent in a passive sentence is not named under certain conditions.

1. When the identity of the agent is understood and does not have to be mentioned. e.g.

- The president has been re-elected for another year (by the council)
- Shina is spoken in many parts of northern areas of Pakistan (by people)

2. When the identity of the agent is unimportant. e.g.

-Pakistan television newscasts are translated into both English and Arabic. (By someone)

3. When the identity of the agent is unknown:

-An error has been made in the computer input data (by someone)

Write a note on USES OF PASSIVE?

1. When you want to give your writing an objective and impersonal tone. It is often used in scientific, business writing and newspaper reports.

2. When you want to focus attention on the receiver of an action. e.g.

If you were to write with active verbs, the reader might think your paper is about the person who made the discovery and not the discovery itself.

Topic 43 eng101
