

Lesson-23

Bilingualism, Code Mixing and Code Switching

Topic 133: Code Switching

Code switching is a well-recognized phenomenon in the speech of bilingual or multilingual people.

Multilingualism: The use of two or more languages by a single individual or a community of speakers

Multilingualism

- ❖ More than half of world's population is multilingual
- ❖ Engages in code switching Code switching
- ❖ The alternation between languages or varieties in the utterances of individuals
- ❖ The practice of moving back and forth between two languages or between two dialects

Code switching

- ❖ Alternation between varieties or codes, across sentences or clause boundaries

Code mixing

- ❖ Alternations between languages or varieties within a clause or phrase

Code mixing Examples

- Kio ke six seven hours te school de vich spend karde ne, they are speaking English all the time. (Punjabi/English)
- Have aqua please (Have water please). (Spanish/English)

Code switching Examples

- Why don't we all go together to New Delhi? N1 ki shaddi ki shopping bhi ho jaye gi
- Very soon, I will be a big star in Bollywood; main naumeed nahin hougini.

Topic 134: Phenomenon of Code Mixing

Code mixing may be intentional or unintentional

What prompts code mixing ?

Speakers may engage in code-mixing as a natural and unconscious language act

- ❖ No apparent reason Example: They are planning to go to Hardwar on Monday. I will tell you pucca tomorrow. What necessitates code mixing
- ❖ Representation of cultural elements of a situation She was absolutely free of any obligation from anyone — no one had the time to do sewa for her

What prompts code mixing?

- ❖ Participant relationships
- ❖ Situational factors
- ❖ Language attitudes
- ❖ Message intrinsic factors
- ❖ Interjections
- ❖ quotations

Borrowing functions to provide necessary elements that do not exist in the primary language being used a bilingual speaker lacks the exact word for the concept he or she wants to express

Lesson-24 Colonial Language Policy

Topic 141: Colonial Language Policy 2

Aim of colonial language policy

- ❖ To maintain British rule
- ❖ Fulfill the economic purpose of the colonies
- ❖ Avoidance of disruption to the empire

English: a language of anticolonial movements

- ❖ English from a means of exploitation to a means of resistance
- ❖ Empowerment of indigenous populations by learning English to oppose the empire
- ❖ English as an instrument of liberation
- ❖ Societal acquisition of English

Lesson-25 English in Language Policy and Planning

Topic 145: English in Language Policy Discourse

Language policy in inner circle countries

- ❖ English is the language of the majority
- ❖ The issues is the role to be given to minority languages
- ❖ Status planning involves different dialects of English
- ❖ Only a minority of population is proficient in English
- ❖ Despite being a minority language, English is powerful

Language policy in outer circle countries

- ❖ Used by the elite
- ❖ Language policy revolves around the role of English
- ❖ The functionality of English is recognized and accepted

Language policy in expanding-circle countries

- ❖ English lacks a strong population base
- ❖ No official status
- ❖ Enjoys a great deal of prestige
- ❖ Has instrumental value

Topic 150: Language Policy and Planning in Pakistan

1. The English language may be used for official purposes until arrangements are made for its replacement by Urdu. Post partition language policy
1. 2. A Provincial Assembly may by law prescribe measures for the teaching, promotion and use of a provincial language in addition to the national language - Rahman, 2003

Language policy for Urdu

- ❖ Urdu, the national language is the mother tongue of only 7.57 per cent of the population
- ❖ English is Pakistan's official language
- ❖ Urdu was made the language of instruction for the primary level

Rationale for privileging of Urdu

- ❖ Widely spread and is almost like the first language of all Pakistanis
- ❖ Most jobs available through Urdu
- ❖ A symbol of unity
- ❖ Serves the political purpose of resisting ethnicity

The policy for English

- ❖ Civil Service of Pakistan (CSP) and Army were two Anglicized bodies
- ❖ Continuation of English favoured this elite
- ❖ English medium of instruction was also maintained in elite and cadet schools and college

Privileging of the elite

- ❖ The armed forces created cadet colleges on the lines of British elitist schools
- ❖ The schools were subsidized by the state
- ❖ These schools were believed to produce suitable candidates for filling elitist positions in the military and civil services

Lesson-26 New Englishes

Topic 151: American English

American English and world Englishes

- ❖ Inner circle English
- ❖ A reference accent
- ❖ First colonial variety of British English
- ❖ Has undergone a process of linguistic and cultural appropriation
- ❖ A result of colonial expansion of the British Empire
- ❖ Stable and influential because of longer association with sociopolitical developments
- ❖ A history of in-migration
- ❖ Shows effects of language contact

Topic 153: Varieties of American English-I Regional dialects

Regional dialects

- ❖ Regional dialect differences are based on different pronunciation patterns and lexical choices
- ❖ The inland northern region comes closest to an “unmarked” accent globally perceived as “typically American”
- ❖ The Midlands are a transition region
- ❖ A small number of features of their own and an increasing number of northern or southern features
- ❖ Regional differences include differences in pronunciation and lexis Regional dialects

Example: Some dialects are characterized by the lack of a postvocalic /r/

Topic 154: Varieties of American English-II

Social dialects

- ❖ Variations based on location
- ❖ Variations based on social status
- ❖ Acceptability of the use of regional words and regional accents
- ❖ Unacceptability of non-standard grammatical use (like multiple negation, the use of ain't)

Ethnic varieties

- ❖ Produced by language contact
- ❖ Involves language shift on by a minority group from an ethnic language to English
- ❖ Involve modification of the dominant language
- ❖ Example: African American English (AAE)
- ❖ Perceived as homogeneous
- ❖ A strong degree of mixing, mutual accommodation, and koinéization
- ❖ Dialect studies show a great deal of phonetic, lexical, and grammatical variability
- ❖ No nationally uniform standard accent of American English
- ❖ Diversity has replaced homogeneity

Lesson 27 English in Australia and New Zealand

Topic 159: English in Australia and New Zealand: Linguistic Features

Distinguishing features: pronunciation

The pronunciation of vowels:

The vowel /ɪ/ as in bit

In Australia, /ɪ/ has been raised and fronted. It now appears to the front of /i/

sit = seat

The New Zealand /ɪ/ has gone in the opposite direction, centralizing to /ʌ/sit = sut

The merger of the vowels

/eə/ and /ɪə/ in NZE ear = air

Topic 161: Varieties of Australian English

Characteristics of aboriginal Australian English (AAusE)

- ❖ In phonology many vowel sounds are reduced
- ❖ Stress shift to the initial syllabus
- ❖ Fricatives are replaced by stops at the same place of articulation e.g. Father = pata

Lesson 28 Southeast Asian Englishes

Topic 164: Southeast Asian English: Singapore and Malaysia

Language teaching and use in Singapore

- ❖ English is the dominant language in education and business
- ❖ Use of Mandarin, Malay, and Tamil limited to the elementary level
- ❖ Use of English as the dominant language in education and business
- ❖ Singapore's efforts to become a centre of academic excellence in research and a knowledge society.

- ❖ English is now acquired as a first language by many Singaporeans

Topic 166: Southeast Asian English: Thailand, Vietnam and Indonesia

English in Thailand

- ❖ About 99 percent of Thai students study English at school
- ❖ Not many succeed in acquiring much English proficiency

English language policy in Thailand

- ❖ Has the longest record of English language teaching
- ❖ Began the teaching of English from Grade 1 in private schools and Grade 5 in government schools
- ❖ The policy was changed due to unavailability of teachers
- ❖ English was introduced in higher grades
- ❖ In 1996, English was reintroduced as a subject
- ❖ Taught from Grade 1 to 12

Lesson-29 African Englishes

Topic 170: African English: Origin and Development

Status and use

- ❖ The range and depth differs from context to context
- ❖ Used by a small number of people despite being the official language (e.g. Namibia) in some cases
- ❖ In others used by a large number of population (Liberia, Zimbabwe, South Africa)
- ❖ Has made a mark on the language use in Africa, despite relatively shorter period of colonization
- ❖ Enjoys a lot of power and prestige
- ❖ Used in the domains of government, education and commerce of several African countries (Ghana, Kenya, Nigeria, South Africa and Tanzania)

Lesson-30

Emerging Englishes

Topic 177: Emerging Englishes: Chinese

History of English in China

- ❖ English reached China in 1637 with British traders
- ❖ The term Chinese Pidgin English appeared in 1859
- ❖ Canton was the centre of world trade
- ❖ Opium wars and spread of English

Topic 179: Emerging Englishes: Japanese

Status of English in Japan

- ❖ A cline of proficiency in English in Japan from people who 'know a few words' to a relatively small segment who are fluent in the language
- ❖ The new government policy of 'cultivating "Japanese with English Abilities" '

Nativization

- ❖ Elements of English have been made an integral part of the Japanese language
- ❖ A large number of borrowings from English
- ❖ English has become nativized in various respects

Characteristics: Sounds

- ❖ Insertion of a vowel to simplify consonant clusters
- ❖ Addition of -u as a final syllabic in all other cases;

Stool sutuuru

- ❖ Addition of –o and –i as a final

gray zone gureezoon

Topic 180: Role of English in Europe

Nativization of English

- ❖ Three roles of English in Europe: native, foreign and international language
- ❖ Adaptations and innovations that show the European influence

European English

- ❖ Intra-European communication
- ❖ Distinctly European uses of English
- ❖ Distinguish European English speakers from speakers of other varieties
- ❖ Influence on the spread of English

Lesson 32 New Standard Englishes

Topic 187: On the Way to New Standard Englishes

Codification

- ❖ Codification and the acceptance of outer and expanding circle varieties
- ❖ Need for codification for prestige in inner and outer circles
- ❖ Local models as alternatives to British and American models
- ❖ The characteristics of local models need to be presented in dictionaries and grammar reference books
- ❖ Local models as alternatives to British and American models
- ❖ The characteristics of local models need to be presented in dictionaries and grammar reference books
- ❖ De jure and de facto systems
- ❖ Distinction to be made between items of local informal use and of international standard

Topic 190: Codification of Indigenized Variety of Englishes 3

Attempts at codifying IVEs

- ❖ Macquarie Regional Asian English Dictionary co-published as the Grolier International Dictionary: World English in an Asian Context
- ❖ Documents the English of South Asia and Southeast Asia
- ❖ Aims to meet the needs of the English speakers in the region
- ❖ Includes items of international currency along with local words which have never appeared in a dictionary before
- ❖ Recognizes inter and intra national needs of IVE speakers

Lesson 33 Power, Ideology and Attitudes

Topic 193 Linguistic Imperialism

Linguistic imperialism

- ❖ Spread of English is equated with linguistic imperialism
- ❖ The imposition of one language on speakers of other languages
- ❖ Assumes the active promotion of the language by the dominant class as an active expression of power of the powerful over the powerless (Phillipson, 1992)
- ❖ "The dominance asserted and maintained by the establishment and continuous reconstitution of structural and cultural inequalities between English and other languages." Phillipson cited in Kachru and Nelson, 2006
- ❖ dominance of English is considered as letting or facilitating cultural, economic, and sociopolitical hegemony of Anglo- and Eurocentric views over the rest of the world

Paradox of linguistic imperialism

- ❖ Linguistic imperialism as an outdated concept
- ❖ English as a tool empowerment and emancipation
- ❖ Widespread demand for more access to English

Lesson 34

World Englishes and Gender

Topic 202 Bilingual Women's Creativity

Women and English

- ❖ Bilingual women make language choices to:
- ❖ meet the needs of their speech community
- ❖ Ensure better future for themselves and their families
- ❖ Strengthen the status of English in world communities
- ❖ English-speaking bilingual women are considered as innovators of language change
- ❖ Advancing the progress of English
- ❖ Help it to gain acceptance and importance along with regional dialects
- ❖ Play a key role in the transmission of English in world contexts and in constructing new identities

Lesson 35

The Pedagogy of World Englishes

Topic 207: Implications of English language varieties for language pedagogy 2

World Englishes in the Classroom

Outer and expanding circle classrooms:

- ❖ Textbooks focus on inner circle varieties
- ❖ Research studies to raise awareness of students about the differences in local and international standards
- ❖ Local dialects to be part of English language classrooms

Topic 208 Native Vs. Non-Native Teachers

Native speakers as teachers

- ❖ Confusion between ENL and the teaching of English as a second language
- ❖ A native speaker assumed to have the expertise to teach English
- ❖ Lack the experience of having learned a language
- ❖ Lack pedagogical training

Non-native teachers

- ❖ Non-native speakers share the language learning experience with their students
- ❖ Awareness about appropriating and adapting a foreign language
- ❖ The learning experience is a useful resource for non-native teacher
- ❖ Having learned the English language is considered a weakness of non-native teachers

Lesson 36

Teaching World Englishes Courses

Topic 216 L2 in the Classroom and Non-Native Educators II

Use of mother tongue in classroom

- ❖ Appeals from the inner circle English language teaching establishment for more use of the mother tongue in the classroom
- ❖ The use of the mother tongue in the classroom considered one dimension of linguistic human rights

Lesson 38

Testing and Assessment in World Englishes Context

Topic 223: The Issue of Language Testing and World Englishes

World Englishes and language tests

- ❖ Disconnect between language tests and insights into English in the world context
- ❖ Language tests do not represent English varieties spoken and used in contact situations
- ❖ Inappropriacy of target norms in local contexts
- ❖ Language tests do not represent English varieties spoken and used in contact situations
- ❖ Tests developed in one setting may be invalid for another setting

- ❖ The 'correctness' of language test items may vary from context to context
- ❖ What is wrong in one setting may be considered right in another

Example: Choose the correct sentence from the following list:

1. Our company is buying some new equipment.
2. Our company is buying a new equipment.
3. Our company is buying some new equipments.
4. Our company is buying three new equipments

Lesson 40

World Englishes and Lexicography

Topic 235: Lexicography and World Englishes

Lexicography

- ❖ The process of writing, editing and compiling a dictionary
- ❖ An author or editor of a dictionary is called a lexicographer Lexicography vs. linguists
- ❖ The subject field of linguistics is language, whereas the subject field of lexicography is dictionaries

Topic 236: Language Legitimacy and the Dictionary

Legitimacy: "Legitimacy can be understood as a shorthand for identifying and establishing the varieties of Englishes that are used in various locations around the world

Functions of a dictionary

- ❖ A reference book/source
- ❖ Authority on almost all aspects of a language
- ❖ Source of confidence for the users of the language
- ❖ Source of reassurance about the legitimacy of a variety
- ❖ Does not provide recognition to the people as users of English
- ❖ Acknowledges the variety of English used by these people

Topic 237: Dictionary and the Notion of Standard

Power of the dictionary

- ❖ Publishing of a language's dictionary allows the users to develop the notion of a standard
- ❖ The idea of correctness linked with the dictionary
- ❖ Affects the public perception of the validity of a variety than many words spent

Lesson 44

Future of World Englishes

Topic 260: Linguistic Shift

Orthography

- ❖ Different ways of pronouncing the sequence 'ea' bead, head, bear, fear, pearl
- ❖ Different ways of pronouncing the sequence 'ough' cough, bough, dough, through, thorough Inherent difficulties of English language
- ❖ Silent letters at the beginning of words psychology, pneumonia, knife, know
- ❖ Silent letters at the end of words: thumb, limb, climb, bomb
- ❖ Silent medial letters

Muscle, fasten, castle, whistle

Inherent difficulties of English language

Pronunciation

- ❖ A large number of vowel phonemes: (Twenty)
- ❖ Extensive use of the central vowel schwa regardless of the spelling in prepositions, auxiliaries and pronouns:
- ❖ To, of, from, her, them, was, are, has

Inherent difficulties of English language

Grammar

- ❖ Verb forms and functions
- ❖ Link with time reference
- ❖ Modal verbs: may, might, can, could, will, would

Lesson 45

Future Directions: Research in World Englishes

Topic 267: Research in World Englishes: Changes in Grammar

Proximity agreement

- ❖ When a verb agrees with the nearest noun rather than with the sentence's more distant subject.
- ❖ The practice of relying on the noun that is closest to the verb to determine whether the verb should be singular or plural

Examples: - A majority of the voters support the amendments

- A flock of goats were seen grazing in the planes Subject-Verb agreement: rule

Compounding of noun

Examples: - Leftover macaroni and cheese is in the refrigerator

- Haider and Taha are coming to the party tonight

Code-Mixing and Code-Switching

- Code-mixing (CM) refers to the mixing of various linguistic units (morphemes, words, modifiers, phrases, clauses, and sentences) from two participating grammatical systems within a sentence. CM is intrasentential and is constrained by grammatical principles and motivated by sociopsychological motivations.
- Code-Switching (CS) refers to the mixing of various linguistic units (words, phrases, clauses, and sentences) from two participating grammatical systems across sentence boundaries within a speech event. CS is intersentential and subject to some discourse principles. It is motivated by social and psychological motivations. ami.ro
