ENG 301
Short notes
Lesson 23-45

Flourish Learning

Lesson 23
Letter Writing

Q1) What are Claim letters ?

When a product or service does not meet customers' expectations, the customers are disappointed and usually file a complaint.

Their complaints should not be called complaint letters, because complaint connotes irritation, unpleasantness, negativism, and even anger. Using a word with such negative connotations could lead to a bad attitude towards customers. Letters about such complaints should be called claim letters.

Q2) What are the causes for Claims? OR Reasons for claims mentioned any five?

Countless aspects of business dealings can break down, but the most common causes for claims are:

- An incorrect bill, invoice, or statement
- A bill for merchandise ordered but never received
- Delivery of unordered merchandise
- Delivery of incorrect merchandise
- Delivery of damaged or defective merchandise
- A request for an adjustment under a guarantee or warranty
- A request for restitution under an insurance policy.

MCQs or True False:

- A claim is written to inform the company of the problem and suggest a fair compensation.

- it is important to avoid a hostile or demanding tone in claim letter .
- A claim must be calm and polite though, of course, also firm.
- A claim should begin with the facts, first explaining the problem
- Then all the necessary details should be described in a logical order.
- Write a claim letter as soon as possible after the problem has been identified.
- In Claims State the need for replacement, refund or correction of the problem.
- To write claim Maintain a confident, factual, fair, unemotional tone for claims
- To write claim Present facts honestly, clearly, and politely.
- To write claim Eliminate threats, sarcasm, exaggeration, and hostility.

Q3) What are Adjustment letter?

An adjustment letter is the reply to a complaint (called a claim letter). In general, the best attitude is to give the customer the benefit of the doubt.

MCQs OR True false

- Most persons are honest in their claims
- Always choose neutral or positive language in referring to a complaint.
- An adjustment letter should NOT be negative or suspicious

Q4 What are the types of Adjustment letters? OR When the adjustment letters are written

- When the seller is at fault
- When the buyer is at fault
- When the third party is at fault

Lesson 24
Adjustment letter

Q5) When letter refusing adjustments are written

When the Buyer Is at Fault letters Refusing Adjustments are written

Q6) What are effective buffer paragraph techniques when writing bad news letters?

- Step 1: Buffer
- Step 2: Explanation
- Step 3: Your no (stated or implied)

Flourish Learning

- Step 4: a friendly close.

Q7) What are Credit letters?

A Promise of future payment in cash OR KIND GIVEN IN EXCHANGE for goods or service is called credit.

MCQs OR True False

- Credit is the instrument which enables manufacturers, producers, retailers and consumers to obtain goods at a time when they can be used or sold even if ready cash is not available.
- Credit letters are permanent record and protect in case of legal difficulties.
- Credit letter must be courteous, tactful and dignified.
- Credit Information is obtained from different sources; banks, commercial agencies, Financial statements, etc.

Q8) In how many categories Letters concerning credit are falls?

Letters concerning credit fall into these basic categories:

- Letters requesting credit.
- Letters extending credit.
- Letters refusing credit.

Q9) What are the three C's of credit?

The following three C's of credit form the basis for extending credit privileges:

- Character:
  It refers to a sense for honesty and ethical dealings with others. It means meeting obligations and is demonstrated by willingness to pay.
- Capacity:
  It is the ability to pay. It is evidenced by income or potential income.
- Capital:
  It refers to tangible assets in relation to debts. Capital also determines the ability to pay if the debtor does not pay willingly.

Q10) What are the objectives of Credit refusal letter?

Every credit-refusal letter has two objectives:

- To say no tactfully
- To keep the goodwill of the customer

Q11) What are the reasons of refusing credit letter?

There are various reasons for refusing credit. The main ones are:

Flourish Learning

- Lack of established credit.
- Overextension of credit, which may result in an inability to pay bills on time.
- Unwillingness to pay that which is owed according to credit reporting agencies.

LESSON 25
COLLECTION LETTERS

Q12) What is collection letters?

Collection letter is a formal written notification that informs customers of his due payments, late payment, and demands a payment settlement in certain time frame

MCQs Or True false

- The problem when writing a collection letter is how to get payment and at the same time keep a customer.
- The writer of a collection letter wants to get the money owed and maintain goodwill.
- Collection letters should be persuasive rather than forceful
- Collection letters must be firm rather than demanding
- A fair and tactful letter gets better results than a sarcastic or abusive one
- Collection letters should be "you-oriented"; courteous, considerate, and concerned about the customer's best interest.
- Collection letters are sensitive.

Q13) What is/are purpose/purposes of collection letter?

The purposes of collection letters are:

- To get the money
- To keep the customer and future business
- To build goodwill

Q14) Collections are sensitive so what practices should be avoided?

Following practices may be avoided:

- Falsely implying that a lawsuit has been filed
- Contact the debtor's employer or relatives about the debt
- Communication to the other persons that the person is in debt
- Harassing the debtor
- Using abusive or observe language
- Using defamatory language

Flourish Learning

- Intentionally causing mental stress
- Threatening violence

Q15) On What factors successful collection depends on?

Successful collection depends to on the following factors:

- Understanding of human nature
- Knowledge of collection policies and laws
- Using persuasive / positive appeals effectively

Q16) What types of appeals are generally used in collection letters?

The following four appeals are generally used:

- Appeal to fairness & justice
- Appeal to pride
- Appeal to goodwill
- Appeal to sympathy

MCQS are True False

- Right attitude for collection is Begin with assumption that most people will pay
- Collection letters are usually sent in a series.
- The first is mildest and most understanding
- The final letter in the series of collection, when all efforts have failed, threatens to turn the matter over to a lawyer or collection agency or court of law.
- The majority of bills are paid within ten days of receipt
- The monthly statement reminds the customer of outstanding bills.
- If the objective statement and reminder fail to get results, the collection process must gradually become more emotional and personal
- The tone in second stage should convey the assumption that the customer intends to pay.

  Second stage of collection ,stress on future sales, rather than on payment.
- In collection series third letter is stern letter but calmly written.
-

Q17) Every letter in a series of collection should contain what type of information?

Every letter in a series of collection should contain following information

- The amount owed (pori amount jo debtor sa lenii hai)
- How long the bill is overdue
- A specific action the customer may take

FlourishLearning

Lesson 26
Sales letters

Q18) What is sales letter?

To some extent, every letter is a sales letter.

But technically A sales letter is a letter written to publicise which is designed to persuade the reader to purchase a particular product or service in the absence of salesman.

Q19) What are the types of sales letter?

There are two kinds of sales letters:

Solicited letter:

The organization is invited to respond to sales messages

Unsolicited letter:

The organization sends out uninvited messages to sell a product or service.

MCQS or True false

- CSP stands for ~~Central testing point~~
- The central selling point (CSP) should be the item of information most likely to persuade the buyer to buy a product or service.
- Solicited sales are the letters that you write in response to an inquiry
- Use the direct plan for the solicited letter.
- Unsolicited sales letter are those letters which you write to people who can be persuaded through these letters to buy your product or service.
- Unsolicited letters demand superior writing skills.
- Unsolicited letters are written on ADIA plan
- ADIA is a four step approach.
- For sales, letters, get attention with a provocative question,
- Sales letters start with an attention-getting device.
- In short, writing successful sales letters is difficult.

Q20) Write any five ways to motivate the reader to action?

Here are some other Free trial of the product.

- No obligation to buy.
- Higher earnings.
- Special price for a limited time.
- Join with others who already are satisfied.
- No salesperson will call.
- Name will not be sold to other firms.

Flourish Learning

Lesson 27
Memorandum and circular

Q21) What is the basic purpose of memo?

When you wish to write to someone within your own company, you will send a memorandum. Memos are used to communicate with other employees, may be located – whether in the same office, in the same building, or in a branch office many miles away.

MCQs OR True False:

- The interoffice memorandum form was developed to save time.
- The formalities of an inside address, salutation, and complimentary closing is omitted in memorandum
- Office memos and letters have a great deal in common.
- The memorandum or 'memo' is a very flexible not rigid form used within an organization for communication at all levels and for many different reasons.
- Memo performs internally the same function as a letter does in external communication.
- Memo is used for reports, briefings or instructions, 'notes' and any kind of internal communication.
- In most companies and organizations, memorandums are written in the first person, just as business letters are
- Informal writing style characterizes the memos.
- The tone of the memo is influenced by the position held by the writer in relation to that held by the receiver.
- An important factor is the personality of the individual receiving the memorandum.
- Memorandum format will vary slightly according to the degree of formality
- In the From section of memorandum , the writer does not use a courtesy title.
- A memorandum, as the name suggests is an aid to memory of the reader.
- Although circulars are being sent to many people, it is important to suggest an interest in the recipient

Q22) What is flow of memo in an organization? Also important for true false.

Flourish Learning

A memorandum may be sent upwards, downwards or sideways in the organization. It may be sent from one individual to another, from one department to another or from one individual to a department or a larger body of staff.

Q23) How many parts of memorandum enlist them?

There are usually three main parts to a memorandum:

- The heading
- The subject and date
- The message

Q24) Why Are Memorandums Written?

They are written to help:

- Determine responsibility
- Clear up inconsistencies
- Record needed information

Q25) What are circular letters?

A circular letter is a written document that is used to circulate the special message to the large number of audience at the same time is known as circular letter

- Circular letters are Used to send the same information to a number of people
- Extensively used in sales campaigns and for announcing important developments in business, such as extension, re-organizations, changes of address, etc.

Lesson 28
Minutes of The meetings

MCQs OR True False

- In a typical business, many committees and task forces operate within the company.
- A standing committee is one that operates permanently year after year, although its members may change.
- The purpose of committees is to discuss various problems and to make recommendations to management
- A task force is a group of people who are appointed to solve a specific problem
- 'Task' assigned to them, the task force is disbanded
- Each department may have several committees that meet periodically

Flourish Learning

Q26) Mention five types of meetings?

1) Statutory meeting:
   It is a meeting of shareholders', creditors', directors', councilors etc law demands this meeting
2) Managerial meeting
   It is a meeting to inform of policy, to brief, to delegate tasks, to discuss problems, to reach group decisions, etc to progress company affairs.
3) Creative meeting:
   It is the meeting to 'brainstorm' around the idea of what the firm could design, manufacture; to produce an advertising slogan, poster, etc.
4) Negotiating meeting:
   The meeting in which management and trade union to agree upon pay increase/rise.
5) General/Public meeting:
   Annual General Meeting of shareholders or club membership meeting; public enquiries into planning proposals

Q27) Who are the members of meeting and what are their roles?

The Chairman's Role: to coordinate the work of the committee…leader, guide, umpire

The Secretary's Role:
to carry out the administrative work of the committee… organizer, chairman's right hand

The Treasurer's Role:
to monitor the committee's financial activities

The Committee Member's Role:
to participate at meetings and do work delegated to him or her

Q28) Enlist Any five special terms of meeting?

- AGM: Annual General Meeting
- Ad hoc: for the particular purpose of
- Honorary: performing a duty without payment
- Minutes: written summary of a meeting's business
- Agenda: a 'timetable' listing items for discussion at a meeting

MCQs OR True False:

Flourish Learning

- The written record of the proceedings of a meeting is called the minutes of the meeting.
- Since most meetings in business are informal
- The minutes are also informal
- Usually the minutes are signed by the person who took them and sometimes by the presiding officer as well.

- Minutes are usually duplicated
- Formal minutes do not include discussions.
- Narrative minutes are recorded in reported speech and instead of giving direct speech we use indirect speech.
- The main points of the background and discussion leading to a decision are recorded,
- Busy committees sometimes like to introduce a right hand blank column
- If the reported speech writer is not very careful, the reporting may easily slip into a dul

Q29) What are narrative minutes?
Sometimes referred to as minutes of narration, narrative minutes tell more of the 'story' of what happened and who said what at a meeting.

Q30) What are rules for minutes?
There are four rules for minutes which are following

- Persons/ Pronouns
- Tenses of verbs
- The distancing effect
- Conveying the Tone of the Direct Speech

Lesson 29
Business reports

Q31) What is business report? Highlighted words are Important for true false
A business report is an impartial, objective, planned presentation of facts to one or more persons for a specific business purpose or an orderly, objective message used to convey information from one organizational area to another or from one institution to another to assist in decision making or problem solving."

MCQs OR True False:

- A business report is an impartial, objective

Flourish Learning

- Reports have been classified in numerous ways by management and by report-preparation authorities.
- We classify reports on the bases of their forms, uses, contents, etc
- Business reports are planned presentation of facts to one or more persons for a specific business purpose.
- Informal reports are usually short messages with natural, casual use of language.
- The internal memorandum generally can be described as an informal report.
- 'Short-or-long' can be a confusing classification for reports.
- Business reports are like bridges spanning time and space.
- The purpose of a business report is to convey essential information in an organized, useful format.
- A well-prepared business report will provide COMPLETE, ACCURATE information about an aspect of a company's operations.
- The report must also be CLEAR, CONCISE, and READABLE.
- The style of a report depends upon the audience.
- The format of a business report may vary from a brief informal report
- In informal reports personal pronouns 'I' or 'We' are acceptable.
- A formal report, must be impersonal and expressed entirely in the third person
- Memo Reports Common for short (fewer than ten pages) informal reports distributed within an organization.
- Letter Reports Common for reports, of five or fewer pages
- Audience attitude is the basis for decisions about an organization.
- If the audience is considered, either receptive or open minded, use the direct approach.
- The text of conference reports is usually organized by topics discussed or presented simply in a chronological order.
- Periodic reports are prepared on pre-printed form.

Flourish Learning

Q32) What is classification of reports?

Reports can be divided into three types

- Formal reports
- Informal reports
- Short and long reports

Q33) What are formal and informal reports? Also important for MCQs and true false

Formal reports:

Formal reports are carefully structured; they stress objectivity and organization, contain much detail, and are written in a style that tends to eliminate such elements as personal pronouns.

Informal reports:

Informal reports are usually short messages with natural, casual use of language. The internal memorandum generally can be described as an informal report.

Q34) What is memo report?

A memo report is a cross between interoffice memo and a formal report

Q35) Memo reports are used for ?

Memo reports can be used to:

- ❖ Answer a request for information
- ❖ Report progress
- ❖ Make recommendations
- ❖ State facts
- ❖ Communicate ideas
- ❖ Send statistical data
- ❖ Explain trend within an organization

Q36) What are types of memo reports?

Two types of Memo Reports

1) Informational memorandum reports:
   The central purpose of informational reports is to inform and summarize information
   It is similar to speech
2) Analytical memo reports:
   This analytical memorandum report seeks to analyze a situation or problem; it may end with or without a specific recommendation.

Q37) What are the types of Informational memorandum reports?

There are three types of informational memorandum reports

1) Conference Reports:
   Topics for conference reports range from summaries of personal sales called conferences to write-ups of meetings attended by hundreds of persons.

Flourish Learning

2) Progress Reports:
Progress reports show, progress, accomplishments, or activity over time or at a given stage of a major assignment. The organizational plan is usually inductive, including topics similar to these.

3) Periodic Reports;
They are routine reports prepared at regular time interval-daily, weekly, monthly quarterly or annually.
Examples of such reports are:
- ❖ Sales Report
- ❖ Financial Reports

Lesson 30
Business reports

Q38) How many types of letter reports? Also important for True false
Letter reports are of two types:

- ❖ Informational letter reports:
A staff report to financial officer regarding issues concerning personnel turnover in the sales department
A report in reply to inquiry about product and services provided by your Company

- ❖ Analytical letter reports:
Calculation of financial ratios of a company in order to control its financial condition.

Q39) Letter reports includes what? OR What is format of letter reports?
- ❖ Date
- ❖ Inside address
- ❖ Salutation
- ❖ Body (the heart of the report)
- ❖ Complimentary close
- ❖ Signature
- ❖ Reference section

MCQs OR True False:

- ❖ A letter report is simply a report in letter form

Flourish Learning

- A letter report is often used when sending information to a reader outside your organization.
- Often the letter report has a subject line,
- Letter reports have two purposes: informational or analytical
- Letter report must be logical
- The opening is the first section in any report.
- A heading is a brief title at the start of a subdivision within a report
- Headings are useful markers for clarifying the framework of a report.
- Busy readers can quickly understand the gist of a document simply by scanning the headings.
- In headings same level of importance should be phrased in parallel form.
- A list is a series of words, names, or items arranged in a specific order.
- Lists facilitate the skimming process for busy readers.
- Lists can show the sequence of ideas or visually heighten their impact
- Previews are particularly helpful when the information is complex or unexpected.
- Review sections, obviously enough, come after a body of material and summarize the information for your readers.
- Ending is the final section of a report, leaves strong and lasting impression.
- For brief external reports, use letter format including a title or a subject line
- For brief internal reports, use memo or manuscript format.
- For short, routine memos use the subject line
- If using direct order, place conclusions and recommendations in the opening of short informal reports
- Avoid introducing new material in the summary, conclusions, or recommendations.

Q40) Mentioned any five errors of letter report?

The errors include in letter reports are following;

- Lack of objectivity
- Hasty generalization
- Hidden Assumptions
- Either or scenarios
- False Causal Relationships

Q41) What are headings and lists?

Heading:

Flourish Learning

A heading is a brief title at the start of a subdivision within a report that cues readers about the content of the section that follows.

Lists:

A list is a series of words, names, or items arranged in a specific order.

Lesson 31
Business Reports
Most Important Chapter

MCQs are True False:

- A formal report's format and impersonal tone convey an impression of professionalism.
- A formal report can be either short (fewer than 10 pages) or long (10 pages or more
- Formal report is informational or analytical, direct or indirect
- Formal report may be targeted to readers inside or outside the organization.
- There are three basic divisions of a formal report:
  - Prefatory Parts = 8
  - Text Parts = 6
  - Supplementary Parts = 3
- Use a cover only for long reports.
- Title Fly is a plain sheet of paper with the title of the report on it.
- A title in order to be effective must be clear, accurate, comprehensive, specific, concise and appropriately
- Do not number your title page, but count it as page (I)
- Letter of Acceptance (or memo of acceptance) acknowledges the assignment.
- Letter of transmittal has less formal tone
- Number the pages in table of content with Arabic numerals,

Q42) Mentioned Prefatory parts of formal report?

There are eight prefatory parts in formal reports:

- Cover
- Title fly
- Letter of authorization
- Letter of acceptance
- Letter of transmittal
- Table of contents

Flourish Learning

- List of illustrations
- Synopsis or executive summary

Q43) Mentioned text parts of formal reports?

There are six text parts in formal reports:

- Introduction
- Body
- Summary
- Conclusions
- Recommendations
- Notes

Q44) Mentioned supplementary parts of formal reports?

There are three supplementary parts of reports

- Appendixes
- Bibliography
- Index

Q45) What is synopsis or executive summary? Important for mcqs and true false as well

A synopsis is a brief overview (one page or less) of report's most important point. It is also called abstract.

Executive summary is a fully developed mini version of the report and is comprehensive.

Q46) Why Appendix are usually not included in the reports?

They contain materials related to the report but not included in the text because they were lengthy or not directly relevant. For example Statistics or measurements Maps, Long quotations, Photographs and complex formulas

Q47) What is Bibliography and Index ? Important for MCQS true false as well

Bibliography:

A bibliography is a list of source materials on a particular subject.

As part of the reference matter, it follows the appendix or appendices.

Index

An index is an alphabetical list of names, places and subjects mentioned in the report, along with the page on which they occur.

They are rarely include in unpublished reports

Flourish Learning

Lesson 32
Markets reports

- MCQs and True False:
- The place where we go to buy or sell commodities is commonly known as market
- Market is indeed a contact of buyer and seller
- A market report describes the condition of a commodity in the market on a certain date for a specific period.
- Market Report may be of a day, a week, a month, a year or even a number of years.
- Daily Market Report shows the price of goods on a mentioned date.
- Consumers take more interest in daily market report than in traders.
- Business communities show a keen interest in weekly market reports.
- Weekly Market Report gives the condition of the commodities for the past six days.
- Monthly Market Report is an analysis of business done during the whole month.
- The Market Report makes us aware of the volume and nature of business in the market.
- Traders become aware of different conditions of the market through market reports
- Market Reports help people guess the future movements of price.
- More practice is required to understand a market report.
- While explaining a Market Report, try to extract the hidden meaning.
- Sometimes a market report is reproduced and sometimes it is explained.
- RFP stands for request for proposal
- JIT stands for Just in time
- PRF stands for page request for
- Numerous groups solicit proposals.
- Governments are the foremost requesters
- Research proposal is usually academic in nature.
- Brief proposals usually don't request a table of contents
- Often the purpose is stated in infinitive form

Q48) What is market according to Prof. Chapman? Important for MCQs and true false

He says;

Flourish Learning

The market that it refers not a place but to a commodity or commodities, buyers and sellers of the same who are in direct competition with one another. We can name these as Rice Market, Wheat Market, Yarn Market, Fruit Market, etc.

Q49) Characteristics of good market reports mention any five of them ?

- A person writing a Market Report should have a comprehensive knowledge of the matter that has to be reported.
- It should be written using third person and the past tense.
- It should be easy to understand General readers should be able to understand the technical terms.
- Words should be used economically.
- Unnecessary details must be avoided.
- It should not be so short that misses the essential information.
- Market Report should be based upon the facts.
- Events should be written in the minute details in market reports
- Any writer of Market Report should be unbiased while concluding his report.
- There should be a good analysis of changes of prices and demand and supply relationship

Q50) What are proposals? Also Important for MCQs true false

Certain analytical reports are called proposals which include bids to perform work under a contract and plea for financial support from outsiders.
Such bids and pleas are almost always formal.

Q51) What are kinds of proposal?

There are two kinds of proposals

- Research Proposal
  A research proposal is usually academic in nature.
- Business Proposal
  Like reports, a proposal may be solicited or unsolicited while writing a solicited business proposal,

FlourishLearning

LESSON 33
Job Search And Employment

MCQs OR True False:

For most business students, one of the most important communication tasks is preparing your resume.

The resume is just one aspect of a complete communication package

Before you can sell a product, you need to know what the product is all about

Today, work place is influenced by numerous forces

Employment is more flexible.

Today, lifelong employees are less in number,

To begin setting objectives, you may want to ask yourself a series of questions

Finances: Investment bank, commercial banks savings and loans corporation and brokerage houses.

Accounting: Public account firms work as controllers or financial planners

Send resumes quickly and cheaply through e-mail

Study your purpose and your audience to tailor your message for maximum effect.

Communication skills are the skills valued highly by the majority of employers

A resume is a structured, written summary of a person's education, employment background, and job qualifications.

Resume is a form of advertising.

A successful resume inspires a prospective employer to invite you to interview with the company

Don't tell readers everything about you in resume.

In resume Your purpose is to create interest.

Resume Include pertinent personal history here pertinent means recent

A good resume is a flexible and can be customized for various situations and employers.

In a chronological resume, the work-experience section dominates, immediately after the name and address and the objective.

There are three types of resumes

- Chronological resume
- Functional resume
- Combination resume

The chorological approach is the most common way to organize a resume,

Flourish Learning

The chronological approach is especially appropriate if you have a strong employment history

Q52) What today's Employers Seek in job Applicants

Today Employers are looking for people who are:

- ❖ Able and willing to adapt to diverse situation
- ❖ Are unafraid to change
- ❖ Ready to learn on the job
- ❖ Are sensitive to cultural differences

Q53) What is good resume? Also important for MCQs

A good resume is a flexible and can be customized for various situations and employers.

To write good resume, you need to show that you

- ❖ Think in term of result
- ❖ know how to get things done
- ❖ are well rounded,
- ❖ show signs of progress(
- ❖ have personal standards of excellence
- ❖ are flexible and willing to try new things
- ❖ possess strong communication skills.

Q54) What is chronological resume?

In a chronological resume, the work-experience section dominates, immediately after the name and address and the objective

The chorological approach is the most common way to organize a resume,

The chronological approach is especially appropriate if you have a strong employment history

Q55) What are the advantages of chronological resume?

Many employers prefer this kind of resume because it has three key advantages

- ❖ Employers are familiar with it & can easily find information
- ❖ It highlights growth and career progression
- ❖ It highlights employment continuity and stability

Flourish Learning

Lesson 34
Resume writing

MCQs are true false:

- A functional resume emphasizes a list of skills and accomplishments
- Functional resume stresses individual areas of competence.
- Functional resume are useful for
    - People who are just entering the job market,
    - Want to redirect their careers,
    - Or have little continuous career-related experience.
- Was captain college xi and participated in many University Fixtures is example of public interaction
- Training part-time house wares employees in cash register operation and customer service is a example of managing
- Combination resume tends to be longer
- Combination resume can be repetitious
- Write your resume using a simple and direct style.
- Use short, crisp phrases instead of whole sentences
- Avoid using the word I instead, start your phrases with impressive action verb
- Experts disagree about the need to state a career objectives in resume.
- Goal of your resume is to generate interest immediately.
- If you are still in school, education is probably your strongest selling point.
- The availability of references is usually assumed is resume
- One in four resumes has a lie in it.
- The keys to writing a successful resume adopt the ‘you’ attitude
- Think about what the prospective employer's need, and then tailor your resume accordingly.
- The ‘perfect’ resume responds to the reader’s needs
- Try to keep your resume to one page.
- A typical recruiter devotes 45 seconds to each resume
- Use the chronological approach unless you have a weak employment history
- Use the functional approach if you are new to the job market, want to redirect your career, or have gaps in your employment history
- Use the combined approach to maximize the advantages of both chronological and functional resumes
- Omit personal details that might be seen as negative or used to discriminate against you.

Flourish Learning

- When submitting your resume by email, don't attach it as a separate document.
- Once your resume is complete, update it continuously,

Q56) What is functional resume?

A functional resume emphasizes a list of skills and accomplishments, identifying employers and academic experience in subordinate sections. Functional resume stresses individual areas of competence.

Q57) What are the advantages of functional resume?

This resume has three key advantages;

- Without having to read through job descriptions, employers can see what you can do for them,
- You can emphasize earlier job experience
- You can de-emphasize any lack of career progress or lengthy unemployment.

Q58) What is combination resume?

A combination resume includes the best features of the chronological and functional approaches.
it is not commonly used.

Q59) What are disadvantages of combination resume?

It has two major disadvantages:

- It tends to be longer
- It can be repetitious

Q60) Enlist any five action words that can be used in resume?

1) Approved 2) Developed 3) joined 4) Reduced 5) Created
6) Managed 7) performed 8) planned 9) trained 10) Targeted

Q61) What are the most frequent forms of resume deception mention any five?

The most frequent forms of deception include the following:

- Claiming nonexistent educational credits.
- Inflating grade-point averages.
- Stretching dates of employment to cover gaps.
- Claiming to be self-employed
- Claiming to have worked for companies that are out of business

Flourish Learning

- ❖ Omitting jobs that might cause embarrassment.
- ❖ Exaggerating expertise or experience

Q62) Enlist any five common faults of resume writing?

- ❖ Too long
- ❖ To short or sketchy
- ❖ Hard to Read
- ❖ Wordy
- ❖ Too Slick
- ❖ Boastful
- ❖ Dishonest
- ❖ Gimmicky
- ❖ Poorly Reproduced

Lesson 35
Resume And Application letter

MCQs OR True False

- ❖ Application letter to let readers know what you're sending, why you're sending it, and how they can benefit from reading it
- ❖ Your application letter is in your own style rather than the choppy, shorthand style of your resume.
- ❖ Send you resume and application letter together, because each has a unique job to perform.
- ❖ The purpose of your resume is to get employers interested enough to contact you for an interview.
- ❖ Imagine yourself in the recruiter's situation.
- ❖ Keep your application letter straightforward, fact-based, short, upbeat, and professional.
- ❖ When sending a cover letter by e-mail, make it a bit shorter
- ❖ E-mail readers want the gist very quickly
- ❖ Employers complain about the declining quality of written communication, including cover letters.
- ❖ The main difference between solicited and unsolicited is in the opening paragraph.
- ❖ In a solicited letter, you need no special attention-getter
- ❖ In an unsolicited letter, you need to start by capturing the reader's attention and interest.
- ❖ Follow the AIDA approach when writing your application letter:
- ❖ Like your resume, your application letter is a form of advertising,
- ❖ The opening of an application letter captures attention,

Flourish Learning

- ❖ The middle section of your application letter presents your strongest selling points
- ❖ The AIDA approach isn't appropriate for job seekers in every culture.
- ❖ Request an interview at the reader's convenience.
- ❖ Request a screening interview with the nearest regional representative,

Q63) Enlist types of job application letters?

There are two types of job application letters;

- ❖ Solicited job application letter
- ❖ Unsolicited job application letter

Q64) AIDA Stands for?

It is combination of four words means it has four parts which are following;

- ❖ A = Attention
- ❖ I = Interest
- ❖ D = Desire
- ❖ A = Action

Q65) Middle section of application letter does what?

The middle section of an application letter does the following.

- ❖ Summarize your relevant qualifications
- ❖ Emphasize your accomplishments
- ❖ Suggests desirable personal qualities
- ❖ Justifies salary requirements
- ❖ Refers to your resume

Q66) Final paragraph of application letters performs what functions?

The final paragraph of your application letter has the two important functions:

- ❖ To ask the reader for a specific action
- ❖ To make a reply easy. In almost all cases, the action you request is an interview.

Flourish Learning

Lesson 36
Job Inquiry Letter And Interview

MCQs OR True False:

- ❖ Some organizations require you to fill out and submit an application form before considering you for a position.

- Application form is a standardized data sheet that simplifies comparison of applicant's qualifications.
- When writing a job-Inquiry letter, plan for direct requests
- Don't hesitate to send a follow-up letter three months later to show that you are still interested.
- A follow-up letter can demonstrate that you're sincerely interested in working for the organization
- If your application letter and resume fail to bring a response within a month or so, follow up with a second letter to keep your file active.
- Big organization/ companies are handled by human resource managers or personnel department
- Small organization/ companies, the founder/top manager makes all hiring decisions.
- In large companies On campus recruiting programs, relatively small in number.
- An employment interview is a formal meeting in which both employer and applicant ask questions and exchange information
- In a typical job search, you can expect to have many interviews before you accept a job offer
- A candidate undergoes a rigorous interview process.
- Interviews at the screening stages are fairly structured
- During the screening stage of interviews, try to differentiate yourself from other candidates.
- Allowing employers to screen candidates by phone, video interview, or computer.
- Best approach during the selection stage is to show interest in the job, relate your skills and experience
- A structured interview is generally used in the screening stage.
- A Structured Interview is controlled by the interviewer to gather facts
- In structured interviews a series of prepared questions in a set order is asked
- Opening-ended interview is less formal and unstructured.
- In an open-ended interview, the recruiter encourages the candidate to speak freely.
- Group interviews are useful for judging interpersonal communication.
- The most unnerving types of interview are the stress interview.
- During a stress interview, you might be asked pointed questions designed to unsettle you.
- Video interviews require some special preparation.

Flourish Learning

- In situational interviews candidates must explain how they would handle a specific set of circumstances.
- Situational interview is a hands-on, at-work meeting between an employer and a worker.
- Each job requires a different mix of personality traits.
- Having the right personality traits for the job is important in today's workplace.
- EQ stands for Emotional quotient
- EI stands for Emotional intelligence
- Compatibility with the organization is judge on the basis of personal background attitudes, and style.

Q67) What are the stages takes place in interview process?

There are three stages that normally take place in the interview process.

- Screening stage
- Selection stage
- Final stage

Q68) Enlist types of Interviews?

Organizations use various types of interviews to discover your potentials .These interview are of the following types.

- Structured Interview
- Open-ended Interview
- Group Interview
- Stress Interview
- Video Interview
- Situational Interview

Q69) What employee looks for?

Having the right personality traits for the job is important in today's workplace.

Employers look for the people who are

- self-motivated,
- enthusiastic,
- not afraid to make decisions,
- willing to take risks,
- intelligent,
- good communicators,
- and considerate of others.

Flourish Learning

Many employers today seek candidates with a high "emotional intelligence," or EQ (emotional quotient)

Lesson 37
Process of preparing the Interview

MCQs OR True false:

- The interviewer may already have some idea of whether you have the right qualifications, based on a review of your resume
- Job skill tests are most common type, are designed to access competency or specific abilities needed to perform a job.
- Psychological tests usually take the form of questionnaires.
- Our personality is judged through psychological tests
- Dependability, commitment, honesty, and motivation are judged through psychological test
- Drug tests are not conducted in our country Pakistan.
- For a success interview, preparation is mandatory
- Today's companies expect serious candidates to demonstrate an understanding of the company's operations, its market, and its strategic and tactical problems.
- If you feel shy or self-conscious, remember that recruiter is human too.
- Staging mock interview with a friend is a good way to hone your style
- Physical appearance is important because clothing and grooming reveal a candidate's personality and professionalism.
- How you handle a particular interview depends on where you stand in the interview process.
- Paying attention to both verbal and nonverbal messages can help you turn the question and answer stage to your advantage
- Employers cannot legally discriminate a candidate on the basis of race, caste, colour, creed or gender.
- Conclude the interview with courtesy and enthusiasm.
- Be realistic in your salary expectations and diplomatic in your negotiations.
- If you don't like the offer, you might try to negotiate,
- Negotiating benefits may be one way to get more value from an employment package.
- Keep a written record of your job interviews.

Q70) On what basis suitability for the specific job is judged ?

Flourish Learning

Suitability for the specific job is judged on three basis

- Academic preparation
- Work experience
- Job-related personality traits

Q71) Enlist types of pre employment tests?

Three types of pre-employment tests frequently administered by companies are

- Job skill tests
  The most common type, are designed to access competency or specific abilities needed to perform a job.
- Psychological tests
  These tests can be used to assess overall intellectual ability, attitudes toward work, interests, managerial potential, or personality characteristics – including dependability, commitment, honesty, and motivation.
- Drug tests
  Drug tests are not conducted in our country Pakistan.

Q72) How to prepare ourselves for interview? For MCQs also important

Be prepared for the interview by

- Taking proof of your accomplishments
- Arriving on time
- Waiting graciously

Lesson 38
Oral Presentation

Q73) What is oral presentation?

The action of communication in which one speaker is doing most of the sending and a number of listeners are doing most of the receiving is known as oral presentation.

Q74) Enlist steps for oral presentation?

For oral presentations, you need the different steps to be effective in your oral presentation. These steps are the following.

- Stages for preparing oral presentations.
- Types of oral presentations.
- Art of delivering the oral message.

Flourish Learning

- Delivering the speech.
- Nonverbal delivery.

Q75) Enlist three steps of oral presentation process?

You will be more effective if you adopt an oral presentation process that follows these three steps:

- Planning your presentation
- Writing your presentation
- Completing your presentation

Q76) What are the basic purposes of giving presentation?

There are four basic purposes of giving presentation are:

- To inform
- To persuade
- To motivate
- To entertain

Q77) Enlist methods of delivering oral presentation?

Following are four main delivery methods, you can choose according to need and situation.

1. Extemporaneous
   This method of delivery is very carefully planned and practiced. In it, the speaker makes a presentation with the help of an outline, note cards, or visual aid.
2. Reading
   In this method the whole presentation is read aloud. It helps a speaker when the presentation has technical or complex topic.
3. Memorization:
   Few speakers today memorize complete speeches. However, it can be useful for short speechesThis technique may sound like a robot.
4. Impromptu
   It means a speech made without any preparation or made on the spur of the moment.

MCQs OR True False:

- Oral presentation creates mutual understanding between audience and speaker
- The content and style of speeches and presentations vary, depending on your purpose.

Flourish Learning

- Planning oral presentations is much like planning any other business message
- The four basic purposes for giving presentations are to inform, to persuade, to motivate, and to entertain
- To inform the accounting department of the new remote data-access policy.
- Purpose is to inform and To explain to the executive committee the financial ramifications of Omni Group's takeover offer
- Gauge the Audience's Level of Understanding
- While Writing Oral Presentation Brainstorm your ideas first.
- Effective presentation focuses on audience's need but also tailor messages to the time allowed.
- Fit your oral presentation to the time allotted.
- In one minute, the average speaker can delivery about one paragraph or 125 to 150 words.(7500 to 9000 wph)
- A Carefully prepared outline can be more than just the starting point for composing a speech or presentation
- In Oral presentation Don't try to impress your audience with obscure and unfamiliar words.
- Developing a major presentation is much like writing a formal report,
- The effectiveness of your presentation largely depends on how it is delivered.
- In reading method the whole presentation is read aloud.
- Reading method helps a speaker when the presentation has technical or complex topic.
- Forgetting a single line may cause disaster in memorization
- The technique of memorization sounds like a robot
- Memorization can be useful for short speeches
- You may feel a bit of stage fright at the time of delivering the speech in impromptu method
- In impromptu method speech made without any preparation or made on the spur of the moment.
- Avoid the temptation to beat about the bush in impromptu method of speech

Flourish Learning

Lesson 39
Oral Presentation

MCQs OR True false

- Knowing your material and practicing your delivery can build your confidence
- Rehearsal and think positively can help you to overcome anxiety
- You will be nervous at the beginning of your presentation. Don't worry – most people are nervous.
- Try not to speak too fast during the first couple of minutes.
- Remember your first impressions are very important
- Move during the speech show confidence
- Stand rather than sit when you are delivering your presentation
- You must be clearly audible at all times
- Use your visual aids confidently,
- In oral presentation Be ready to deal with any hostile questions. Polite, diplomatic answers are a good disarming tactic,
- Active verbs and concrete words are much clearer and easier to understand in oral presentation.

Lesson 40
Language Practice and negotiation skills

MCQs and true false

- Good negotiation meets at as many interests as possible with an agreement that is durable.
- Put yourself in the other person's position in negotiation
- Good negotiator's verbal and nonverbal communication is open
- Although negotiation has a specific purpose – to reach agreement – it does not always achieve this aim.
- Negotiation is a process in which two or more parties try to resolve differences, solve problems and reach agreement.
- In Win win strategy both parties are satisfied with the settlement negotiated,
- In win loose strategy the party who initiates the conflict being satisfied and the other dissatisfied.
- In Lose win strategy initiator is dissatisfied and the other is satisfied
- In lose lose strategy Both parties walk away from the negotiation dissatisfied.

Flourish Learning

- ❖ Self denying people are introverted and hide their feelings.
- ❖ Self protecting people hide their true feelings
- ❖ Self exposing people speaks loudly to get attention of others.
- ❖ Self bargaining people who show feelings and initiates negotiation
- ❖ Self actualizing people are ideal negotiators.
- ❖ When you are negotiating, psychological barriers may raise.
- ❖ Power can be exerted over one person or a group by another person or group.
- ❖ Power is a useful tool in the negotiation process;
- ❖ There are Five Types of workplace power

Q78) What is negotiation?

Negotiation is a process in which two or more parties try to resolve differences, solve problems and reach agreement.

Q79) Explain negotiation's strategies? Very important

There are four strategies of negotiation which are following;

1. Win-Win Strategy
   In this strategy, both parties are satisfied with the settlement negotiated, it aims to meet the needs of both parties, not to win position or gain victories on one party's expense.
2. Win-Lose Strategy
   Result in the party who initiates the conflict being satisfied and the other dissatisfied. This strategy focuses on the initiator's problem to the exclusion of the other's. The initiator wins.
3. Lose-Win Strategy
   This is a situation in which the initiator is dissatisfied and the other is satisfied. The loosing party usually makes too many concessions.
4. Lose-Lose Strategies
   Lose-lose strategies result from a situation in which the objectives of both parties are too rigid, or both parties are unable to collaborate, or unaware of the opportunity to do so. Both parties walk away from the negotiation dissatisfied.

Q80) What are personal styles in negotiation?

Whenever people come together to negotiate, they bring their own personal styles, and these affect the way they communicate and handle the conflict.

1. Self-denying;
   People difficult to negotiate, they are introverted and reticent with information (feedback), hide their feelings.

Flourish Learning

2. Self-protecting:
   People use divisionary tactics, discussing other people or sides tracking to other issues hide their true feelings.
3. Self-exposing:,
   People wish to be centre of attention, demand this attention by speaking loudly, and speak over other use attention-seeking body movement or by ignoring feedback and other's view.
4. Self-bargaining:
   People show feeling if you show yours, wait until you lead them in negotiation open up when others initiate the process.
5. Self-actualizing:
   People ideal negotiators, want information and feedback from others, present information constructively to aid the negotiation process, achieve goal without conflict (barriers).

Q81) What are types of workplace power? Also important for MCQs

There are Five Types of workplace power

1) Legitimate Power
   It bases on a person's position or role in an organization, their authority and control over resources give them power that is acknowledged.
2) Expertise Power
   People with more skill and strength than others have to them; their colleagues defer to them.
3) Reward Power
   It is exerted by someone who has control over resource desire by others.Such as person can influence and manipulate behavior.
4) Coercive Power
   It is exerted by those who use their authority or any force, emotional or physical, against the interest of the other party.
5) Consultative Power
   It is exerted by someone who seeks information, considers other's advice and makes plans with others.

Flourish Learning

Lesson 41
Negotiation and listening

MCQs Or True False

- A person, who has power, particularly over the allocation and use of resources, must be willing and able to use that power to make decisions and take action
- Don't depend solely on your workplace power source or your personal power,
- Negotiating is a process in which two or more people (or parties) with common or conflict interests
- Careful and thoughtful planning is essential before you negotiate
- Good negotiation strategies enable you to solve the problem in such a way that both parties win
- Once the agreement is concluded, confirm that each party is committed to it.
- People who negotiate honestly treat one another as equals
- Another approach to negotiating is principled bargaining
- Fisher and Ury (1991) developed a concept known as principled bargaining
- Principle bargaining well when a group of stakeholders have a common interest
- Problem solving by negotiation is dealt with by a team or group of people who already have a working relationship and want to solve a work-related problem.
- The competitive approach usually produces a win-lose result,
- Listening is an active process of receiving aural stimulus.
- Listening is an active rather than a passive process.
- A great time is spent on listening and talking.
- Hearing is a physical process
- Listening refers to the interpretive process
- Listening is the most important of all the communication skills.
- We spend most of our time engaged in listening
- The average thinking capacity of a person is up to 800 words per minute while the average speaker utters 80 to 160 words per minute.
- Remember that every sound or voice that we receive cannot be termed as listening
- Studies agree that listening efficiency is no better than 28 to 30 percent.

Flourish Learning

Q82) Enlist stages of negotiation?

There are five stages involve in negotiation which are following

1) Plan for Negotiation
2) Gather Information/ Organize
3) Discuss
4) Purpose
5) Negotiate the issue

Q83) BATNA and WATNA stands for ?

BATNA stands for the 'Best alternative to a negotiated agreement.'
WATNA stand for 'Worst alternative to a negotiated agreement

Q84) Enlist negotiating methods?

There are five methods of negotiation which are following;

- Compromise
  Compromise means to settle differences through concessions made by one or both parties.
- Collaboration
  Collaboration involves people cooperating to produce a solution satisfactory to both parties (win-win).
- Competition
  Competition often leads to one party gaining advantage over the other, if it can negotiate at the expense of the other's needs.
- Accommodation
  Accommodation means that only one party is willing to oblige or adapt to meet the needs of the other. It produces a win-lose outcome.
- Withdrawal or avoidance
  Withdrawal (avoidance) is a negotiation method that makes both parties loose, because one party retracts their point of view or backs away from the situation.

Q85) What is Listening?

Listening is an active process of receiving aural stimulus. Listening is an active rather than a passive process. Listening does not just happen we must make it happen. A great time is spent on listening and talking.

Q86) What are the purpose of listening process?

Listening serves a number of important purposes

- It enables the listener to check on the accuracy of understanding what the speaker said.

Flourish Learning

- Besides, the listener expresses acceptance of speaker's feelings
- Most important of all, listening provides a chance to the speaker to explore his or her feelings and thoughts further.
- As the sender of the message, listening to your receiver tells you how the other person has interpreted your message.
- As the receiver of a message listening to the other person allows you to understand their meaning.

Q87) Enlist five listening skills can be learned through practice?

A variety of listening skills can be learned and developed with practice. The following skills are worth practicing

- Attending listening
- Encouraging listening
- Pause
- Reflecting listening
- Active listening

Q88) Enlist the causes of faults in listening?

Following are the causes of listening pit falls:

- Prejudice
- Distraction
- Semantic Barrier
- Preshrinking

Q89) Ways to improve listening?

Here are some ways to improve listening:

- Be prepared. By knowing the speaker and the topic
- Show positive attitude.
- Don't make premature assumptions before listening to a certain speaker.
- Always be ready to learn new ideas or facts that you are not aware of.
- Listen to learn, not to refute.
- While listening, try to understand the points.
- Concentrate Pay attention to what is said.
- Jot down notes. If possible, take down main ideas. These notes will help you a lot later on.

Flourish Learning

Lesson 42
Thesis writing and presentation

Q90) Enlist the stages of presenting thesis?
While writing and presenting your Thesis or Dissertation, you go through many stages. These stages are very important. Anyone in this process must make sure that no stage is left out. These stages are the following.

- Thinking About it
- Preparing the Proposal
- Conducting the Research
- Writing the Research Paper
- Define research
- Discuss Basic Elements of a Research Paper
- Sharing the Research Outcomes with Others
- Revising the Research Paper

Q91) Explain thinking about stage of thesis?
The "thinking about it stage" is when you are finally faced with the reality of completing your degree. Usually the early phases of a graduate program proceed in clear and very structured ways. The beginning phases of a graduate program proceed in the same manner as an undergraduate degree program. There are clear requirements and expectations, and the graduate student moves along, step by step, getting ever closer to the completion of the program. One day, however, the clear structure begins to diminish and now you're approaching the thesis/dissertation stage. This is a new and different time. These next steps are more and more defined by you and not by your adviser, the program, or the department.

Q92) What is research? Important For True False And MCQS as well
The word research is used in different field in different senses.
A formal document
Knowing a subject thoroughly
Expression of ones undertaking About the topic
Result of one's intellectual curiosity
Analysis and syntheses of different resources
Reasonable bias free conclusion

Q93) What is research according to Howard and Sharp (1983)?
According to them research is

Flourish Learning

"Seeking through methodical processes to add to one's own body of knowing and hopefully, to that of others, by discovery of non-trivial facts and insight."

Q94(How's Drew defined research?
He says;
"Research is conducted to solve problems and expand knowledge. Research is a systematic way of asking questions, a systematic method of enquiry."

Q95) In which senses word research is being used?
We find the word research being used in two senses.

- The outcome of research is the establishment, publicizing or utilization of something that somebody-not the researcher or the person commissioning it already knows.
- The outcome of knowledge that nobody had before.

MCQS OR True false:
A good proposal should consist of the first three chapters of the dissertation.
Don't try to have your research cover too broad an area
The word research is used in different field in different senses.

Lesson 43
Thesis Writing and Presentation

MCQs OR True false:

- Introduction section of thesis is an introduction to the topic and the subject. It describes the background to the research,
- You should clearly state the problem that your thesis is going to address.
- You should also present relevant information about why this is an important problem.
- A social science research paper is not an editorial.
- You should present relevant literature that supports the need for your project.
- The rationale should define the larger problem being investigated
- Purpose of the thesis is based on the above background information, explain the purpose of the study.
- The hypothesis is the central question being researched
- A good hypothesis is comparative, measurable, and falsifiable.
- Hypotheses are usually defined in "cause -effect" relationships
- Underlying every theory is the issue of causality

Flourish Learning

- Hypothesis establishes the precise focus of the research study.
- Hypothesis is of speculative nature
- Hypothesis helps decide the aims and objectives of the study
- A thesis statement is what you'll PROVE, it is the ARGUMENT. If is the SCOPE, it is the MAIN IDEA and the PURPOSE of your paper
- A thesis, statement is one of the greatest unifying aspects of a paper.
- A thesis statement establishes the writer's point of view, set the stage or mood of the paper
- Often the thesis is stated clearly in one or two sentences at the end of the essay's introduction.
- A thesis statement is a sentence that clearly and concisely indicates the
- Subject of your paper,
- Thesis statement should act as mortar, holding together the various bricks of a paper,
- The literature review should discuss all of the research that has been done on the subject,
- Your hypothesis/hypotheses should be the conclusion of this “Review” section.
- External validity means that the results are generalizable to a wide range of situations.
- A methodology section can contain a flow chart
- It is not uncommon for novice researchers to collect a considerable amount of data and then realize that they don’t know what to do with it.
- Conclusions should summarize your results and discussion.
- In Bibliography all pieces of literature referred to should be listed at the end of the proposal using the referencing style appropriate to the department.
- If you have the material that is too long to include in a table (raw data, field notes, etc.) or not appropriate to a particular section it should be included as an appendix.
- Materials presented in tables and figures should not be duplicated in the text.
- Your raw data should always appear as part of the thesis.
- Raw data should appear as an appendix at the end of your thesis

Flourish Learning

Q96) Enlist sections of thesis? Most important Question
OR
Enlist the format of thesis?

- The following are sections that most theses should contain.

- Introduction
- Statement of the Problem
- Background and Need
- Rationale
- Purpose of the Project
- Research Questions/Hypotheses
- Literature Review
- Methodology
- Data Collection and Analysis Plan
- Discussion
- Conclusions
- Bibliography
- Appendices
- Tables and Figures

Q97) What are hypothesis? Write a note on hypothesis (It is also important For MCQS

Hypothesis is a guide or a sign post to the researcher that keeps one on the track. The researcher tests the initial presupposition or hypothesis while working along

- Hypothesis is formulated in such a way that it enables the researcher to test it.
- Hypothesis depicts and describes the method that follows during the study.
- Hypothesis is a kind of hunch that the researcher has about the topic.
- Hypothesis establishes the precise focus of the research study.
- Hypothesis helps decide the aims and objectives of the study.
- Hypothesis is of speculative nature, an imaginative preconception of "what might be true".
- Hypothesis is a well-established research question that can be in form of a descriptive statement or a question.

Q98) What is thesis statement?

The thesis statement is usually considered the most important sentence and the main point of your essay/ report or research paper because it outlines the central purpose of your essay.

A thesis statement is what you'll PROVE, it is the ARGUMENT. If is the SCOPE, it is the MAIN IDEA and the PURPOSE of your paper

Q99) What are the examples of general to specific thesis statements?

Notice the transition...from General to Specific

Flourish Learning

Men and women are different. Men and women communicate differently. Whereas men tend to focus on the literal aspect of what is being said in a conversation, women often "read between the lines" and focus more on intonation and body language; this phenomenon may significantly contribute to the high divorce rate among many couples. Hawthorn discusses evilness in Young Goodman Brown. In Young Goodman Brown, Hawthorn discusses evilness through symbols. In Young Goodman Brown, Hawthorn uses light and darkness to emphasize good and evil in the world

Q100) What is literature review in thesis?
The literature review should discuss all of the research that has been done on the subject, since the purpose of the literature review is to demonstrate concisely your level of understanding of the research related to your project. You should not discuss all of the literature in-depth. Rather you should group your literature according to some general topics and only discuss specific studies if they are "landmark" studies for your area of research (there should be 6-10 of these).

Lesson 44
Research Methodology

Q101) Enlist research perspectives?
There are two major perspectives:

- Quantitative perspective
  The quantitative perspective derives from a positivist epistemology, which holds that there is an objective reality that can be expressed numerically. As a consequence the quantitative perspective emphasizes studies that are experimental in nature, emphasize measurement, and search for relationships.
- Qualitative perspective
  On the other hand, a qualitative perspective emphasizes a phenomenological view in which reality inheres in the perceptions of individuals. Studies deriving from this perspective focus on meaning, understanding, and take place in naturally occurring situations .

Q102) How two perspectives can be combined mention four methods?
Morgan (1997) explains. He identifies four general ways of combining the two, based upon two factors: a) which one is primary and which secondary; b) which one is used first and which, second.

- Quantitative primary, qualitative first.

Flourish Learning

The researcher begins with a qualitative approach as the secondary method, using the qualitative data as a basis for collecting and interpreting the quantitative data (the primary method).

- Quantitative primary, quantitative first.
  The researcher begins with a quantitative approach as the primary method, using qualitative follow-up to evaluate and interpret the quantitative results.
- Qualitative primary, quantitative first.
  The researcher begins by collecting quantitative preliminary data as a basis for collecting and interpreting the primary qualitative data.
- Qualitative primary, qualitative first
  The researcher begins with the primary qualitative data, using quantitative follow up to interpret the qualitative data.

Q103) Enlist types of research that are primarily quantitative in nature.?

Here are the types of research are primarily quantitative in nature:

- Experimental research
- Quasi-experimental research
- Casual-comparative research (ex post facto)
- Co relational research
- Descriptive research
- Evaluation research

Q104) Enlist types of research that are primarily qualitative in nature?

Here are the types of research are primarily qualitative in nature:

- Case study research
- Ethnographic research
- Action research

Q105) What is Quasi-Experimental Research

A quasi-experimental design is one that follows the general procedures of experimental research, without the use of control group or without random assignment, since random assignment or the use of control groups is often not feasible in educational settings.

MCQs OR True False:

- Experimental research uses methods originally applied in the physical and biological sciences.

Flourish Learning

- ❖ Causal comparative studies are designed to determine the possible causes of a phenomenon.
- ❖ Casual comparative studies sometimes are called ex post facto research.
- ❖ Correlation studies are designed to analyze the relationships between two or more variables,
- ❖ The purpose of descriptive research is to describe a phenomenon. Descriptive studies report frequencies, averages, and percentages.
- ❖ You might study attitudes in descriptive research
- ❖ Evaluation research makes judgments about the merit or wroth of educational programs, products, and organizations.
- ❖ A case study is an empirical inquiry that investigates a contemporary phenomenon within its real life context
- ❖ Ethnographic research is special types of case study research
- ❖ Most action research documents deal with how an educational problem was identified, understood, and solved by practitioners.
- ❖ Research methods, as the term is used here, are the specific techniques used to collect data with respect to the research problem.
- ❖ Documents are analyzed to establish the record.
- ❖ Surveys are administered to assess opinions, perceptions, and attitudes.
- ❖ Tests are administered and measurements made to determine the extent of change.
- ❖ Interviews are conducted with individuals or groups to ascertain their perceptions.
- ❖ Observations are made to determine what is occurring and what individuals are doing.

Q106) Enlist research methods?

In general, five methods are typically used in educational research.

1) Test and measurements

Tests are administered and measurements made to determine the extent of change.

2) Interviews

Interviews are conducted with individuals or groups to ascertain their perceptions.

3) Observations

Observations are made to determine what is occurring and what individuals are doing.

4)Surveys

Surveys are administered to assess opinions, perceptions, and attitudes.

5)Documents

Flourish Learning

Documents are analyzed to establish the record.

Q107) Enlist section of Research thesis
OR
Write format of research thesis?
A research thesis probably includes:

- Title Page
- Inner Title
- Abstract (2 pages)
- Acceptance Certificate (Annex E)
- Dedication / Acknowledgements (optional)
- Content List
- Chapter 1: Introduction
- Chapter 2: Literature Review
- Chapter 3: Procedure of the study
- Chapter 4: Data Analysis
- Chapter 5: Conclusion
- Bibliography
- Appendices, if any

Flourish Learning

Lesson 45
Research Methodology

MCQs OR True False

- MLA stands for Modern language Association
- MLA Modern Language Association (name & page ref at each place where source is used, a parenthetical citation system
- APA stands for American Psychological Association
- APA is a parenthetical citation system source name and publication system and sometimes page reference
- Your essay should be typed, double-spaced on standard-sized paper
- Title page: includes a running head for publication, title, and byline and affiliation.
- If your instructor requires an abstract, write a 75-100 word overview of your essay
- Visuals such as tables and figures include graphs, charts, drawings, and photographs
- Try to keep the visuals as simple as possible and clearly label each visual with an Arabic numeral

- Your reference list should appear at the end of your paper.
- APA style requires authors to use the past tense or present perfect tense when using signal phrases to describe earlier research.
- When using APA format, follow the author-date method of in-text citation.
- Short quotation: If you are directly quoting from a work, you will need to include the author, year of publication, and the page number for the reference
- Long quotation: Place direct quotations longer than 40 words in a free-standing block of typewritten lines, and omit quotation marks.
- For interviews, letters, e-mails, and other person-to-person communication, cite the communicator's name,
- APA style dictates that authors are named last name followed by initials
- When an Internet document is more than one Web page, provide a URL that links to the home page or entry page for the document.

Complied By Flourish Learning

Email Address:
Afaqmalik0789@gmail.com
WhatsApp
0322-9795828
Youtube Channel
https://www.youtube.com/channel/UChs3YnKSrMUzVbjVUhsR-ZQ

WhatsApp Group Link
https://chat.whatsapp.com/Kd0cpFjNZ0G

Remember me In Your Prayers

Flourish Learning