1-Contemporary Management MGT511- Gov 12 -CDF

contemporary Management (ESLSCA Business School Paris (Egypt))

Scan to open on Studocu

Studocu is not sponsored or endorsed by any college or university
Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

Contemporary Management – MGT511

Instructor Name	Dr. Khaled Bekhit
University Email	Khaled.bekhit@eslsca.edu.eg
Course Duration / Semester	From	To
Lectures	In-Class ☐	Online ☐
Classroom / Campus
Room No.
Prerequisite

Course Description

This course provides students of all disciplines a broad overview of contemporary organizational management theory and best practices as they relate to the four primary functions of managers and leaders, namely: planning, organizing, leading and controlling. We will explore organizational behavior, planning and types of plans, managing in global context, decision-making styles and approaches, leadership vs management, organizational design and structure, characteristics of effective work teams, change management and control systems, communication process, and the importance of ethics, law, stakeholder management and social responsibility in today's fast-paced for-profit and non-profit organizations.

Course Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate theoretical knowledge in management course.
2. Gain practical skills and personal attributes and competencies that is required for managerial position.
3. Describe the four management functions of planning, organizing, leading, and controlling.
4. Explain how decisions are made within an organization and how those decisions are communicated to the various stakeholders.
5. Relate the basic concepts of planning: the importance of planning, strategic planning, and the types of objectives and plans developed by organizations.
6. Describe the various forms of structure available to an organization.
7. Learn how to Manage work teams and resolving work place conflict.
8. Compare and contrast early theories of leadership with contemporary and modern approaches to leadership.
9. Describe the control process including: the importance of control, tools for measuring organizational performance, and managerial actions.
10. Enhance writing skills through the use of team/individual assignments.

This document is available on studocu

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

- Required Course Materials

1. Reference Textbooks: The following main textbooks is required for this course.

Textbook	Management, Global Edition, 15/E, Stephen P. Robbins, Mary Coulter, ISBN: 9781292374468, Pearson, 2021.

2. University portal, course coordinator email, announcements, homework assignments, and lecture notes. Check it frequently for updates. I will also periodically post new articles, links or research papers pertinent to our class discussions to the University portal.

- Teaching Methods

Lectures & Seminars	☐
Research & reporting	☐
Projects	☐
Group Work	☐
Case Study	☐
Presentations	☐

- Assessment Strategy & Grade Distribution

The assessment has been designed to test the achievement of the course's learning outcomes and it requires students to think critically and apply the knowledge gained during the course. Accordingly, the course is assessed by the following components:

Course Requirement	Points
Class Participation & Attendance	10 Points
Assessment (1)- Online Midterm Exam - Chapters 1-5	30 Points
Assessment (2)- Individual Project	20 Points
Assessment (3)-Online Final Exam – Chapters 6-10	40 Points
Total Points	100 points

Important Note:

Modular, Blended, IMBA, technical, research study, or project nature courses may be subject to use different assessment strategy. The elements of assessment strategy in any of these courses resides fully with the course instructor.

Below is the detailed guidance for the required assessment items:

1. Class Participation (10 Points):

Students are expected to come to the online-class each week, open the camera, stay for the entire class session, and to be engaged in the class discussions.

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

2. Assessment (1) – Individual: (30 Points):
An online Quiz has been scheduled at the end of the first four chapters. This quiz is designed to test and evaluate your understanding of the material covered so far. Specifically, the quiz shall cover chapters from 1-4. The form of this quiz will only be multiple-choice questions.

3. Assessment (2) Individual Project: (20 Points)
Topic: An in-depth managerial analysis of a selected organization from the below given list, ideally, students will choose from this list of companies only:

1. The Company or the organization that your work in
2. Any company that is listed in Egypt stock of exchange. (See ESE website)

See attached Guideline and Project model to get more details about this assignment and see the attached Rubric on how your work is going to be evaluated.

4. Assessment (3) Final Exam (40 Points):
A final exam has been scheduled at the end of this course. The final exam is designed to test and evaluate your understanding of the material previously covered in the course. Specifically, the final exam shall cover only chapters from 5-10. The form of this exam will be multiple choices, True/False and short essay type questions.

- ESLSCA University Grading Scheme

Letter Grade	GPA	Percent	Description	Remarks
A	4.0	90-100	Superior performance
A-	3.7	85-89	Great performance
B+	3.3	80-84	Just above good performance
B	3.0	75-79	Good performance
B-	2.7	70-74	Just below good performance
C+	2.3	65-69	Fair performance
C	2.0	60-64	Acceptable performance
F	0.0	0-59	Failure

- Class Policies

1. What is Class Participation:
- Class participation is a principal component of all coursework in the program. Course grades reflect the quality of students' academic performance as a whole, which normally includes regular participation in the total class experience and are evaluated accordingly.

This document is available on studocu
Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

- You are expected to be thoroughly prepared at each class meeting (e.g., required readings). To reinforce this expectation, I will often randomly select a class member to comment on an issue.

2. Attendance Policy:

ESLSCA University expects students to attend all regularly-scheduled classes for instruction and examination. When a student is compelled for any reason to be absent from class, the student should immediately convey the reason for the absence directly with supported documents to the course coordinator and to academic affairs and finally to be approved by the course instructor. The student is responsible for all material presented in class and for all announcements and assignments.

The decision to permit students to make up work that is required in any missed class resides with the course instructor. Students are required to attend a minimum of 75 % of all course classes, students who exceed the permitted percentage of absence (25% of all course classes) will be administratively forced withdrawn (FW) from the course; a grade of F due to FW may be assigned when students fail to attend a minimum of 75% of the total course classes. Students who have not attended classes but still appear on the class rosters are considered No Show students.

3. Classroom Conduct:

- Punctuality: Lateness is disrespectful and disruptive. Chronic lateness will not be tolerated. Please be punctual for class and for your group meetings.
- Cellphones and Electronic Devices
- Cellphones are not permitted in class, please turn off your cellphones in class.

4. Academic Honesty & Plagiarism:

- All university, college, and department policies on academic honesty will be strictly enforced. The usual consequences of academic dishonesty are failure of the course and referral of the case to the dean of the management department for additional disciplinary action.
- The prevalence of group work is consistent with the principle that much of your education here will come from each other, and I encourage you to discuss all cases and other materials with your group prior to coverage in class. Group work accounts for a great part of your final grade. If your name is one the final product (e.g., case write-up or project report), you must have put significant effort into the preparation process. Individuals will not receive credit for group work in which they have not participated, and may receive a lower grade if their contribution is clearly below expectations. Such procedure is initiated by the group members who explain the issue to me in writing (email or letter, signed by a majority of group members). I will make the final decision after consulting all group members.
- Students shall avoid all forms of academic dishonesty, including but not limited to:

A. Plagiarism:

"Plagiarism is defined as the submission or presentation of work in any form that is not a student's own, without acknowledgement of the sources."

To avoid plagiarism, you must credit the sources used when writing as essay, research paper, or other assignment in accordance with the appropriate style manual or format required in your course. Specific approaches to appropriate

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

citation are found in writing style guides, such as Kate Turabian's a Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 6th Edition or The Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, (APA) 6th Edition.

B. Collusion:
When specifically prohibited in advance by the instructor, collaborating with another person in the preparation of notes, themes, reports or other written work offered for credit.

C. Cheating on an examination or quiz:
Giving or receiving information or using prepared material on an examination or quiz.

D. Falsification of data:
Manufacturing data, falsification of information, including providing false or misleading information, or selective use of data to support a particular conclusion or to avoid conducting actual research, or the use of data to support a particular conclusion or to avoid conducting actual research.

This document is available on studocu

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

- Overview of Course Schedule

Week	Topics	Assignments & Readings
1	Introduction to Management: - Managers and Management. - How managers are different from non-managerial employees? - What is the management role? - What skills do managers need?
2	Managing Social Responsibility and Ethics: - What it means to be socially responsible. - Factors that lead to ethical and unethical behavior. - Management's role in encouraging ethical behavior. - Current social responsibility and ethics issues.
3	Managing in a Global Environment: - Ethnocentric, polycentric, and geocentric attitudes toward global business. - The structures and techniques organizations use as they go international. - Political/legal, economic, and cultural environments to global business. - Know how to culturally aware.
4	Foundation of decision making: - Decision making process. - Types of decisions and decision making. - Contemporary decision making issues.
5	Foundations of planning: - Introduction to planning. - What planning strategies do managers use? - How do managers set goals and develop plans? - What contemporary planning issues do managers face?
6	Organizational structure and culture: - Introduction. - Variables affecting structure. - Different organizational designs. - Organizational culture and its importance.
7	Groups and managing work Team: - What is a group? - Stages of team development. - Major concepts of group behavior. - How to turn groups into effective teams?

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

	- Current issues in managing teams.
8	Being an Effective Leader: - Early theories of leadership. - Contemporary views of leadership. - Contemporary issues affecting leadership.
9	Foundations of Control: - Why control and why it is important? - What to measure and what to control? - Control and culture differences.
10	Managing Communication: - The nature and function of communication. - Effective interpersonal communication. - Communication flow in business organizations. - Contemporary issues in communication.
11	Final Exam

Important Note:

- Calendar is subject to change at the professor's discretion.
- All changes will be discussed in advance of the day affected

Midterm Exam date:_____
Project Delivery Date:_____
Final Exam date:_____

This document is available on studocu

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

Khaled E. Bekhit,
DBA, M.Phil., MBA
MBA Academic Director,
ESLSCA University, EGYPT

Biography

Khaled joined the ESLSCA University in Egypt as MBA Director in March 2021 following three years at Antalya International University in Turkey, and eight years at The American University in Cairo, Egypt. Khaled has an M.B.A. from Alexandria University, a Master of Philosophy from Maastricht School of Management (MSM) and a Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) from Maastricht School of Management (MSM), Netherlands. Since 2017 he has been adjunct professor at the ESLSCA University in Egypt, where he teaches many postgraduate courses on management discipline. Prior to joining academia, Khaled held more than 25 years of experience in different managerial posts in the private sector, specializing in export sales and international business cooperation, and has worked and travelled extensively to more than 50 countries worldwide. Khaled lives in Cairo with his wife and two daughters and can almost be fond of Squash playing with friends in an aggressive competing style.

Research

Khaled's doctoral research examined the impact of leadership styles and strategic practices in the development of organizational performance international of Egyptian SMEs. Since the award of his DBA, his research interests have developed order to incorporate perspectives from blue ocean strategy, design thinking, and innovative business models through his previous experience on senior managerial positions in international business and management.

Teaching Interest

As professional certified trainer and full time assistant professor, Khaled has taught a broad range of modules to undergraduates and post graduate levels within the discipline of management international business, but his particular interests' center around Strategic Management, Contemporary Management, international business, Entrepreneurship, Organization Behavior, and Human Resources Management.

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

ESLSCA University

- Evaluation Rubric 1 for Individual / Group Project

  The following rubric will be used in assessing the quality of individual / Group assignment:

Individual ☐ Group Project ☐

Content Categories		Excellent "A" (90-100) Substantially exceeds expectations	Good "B" (80-89) Exceeds expectations	Fair "C" (70-79) Meets expectations	Unacceptable "D" (60-69) Does not meet expectations	Credit "F" (<59) Unacceptable
Scope – 60%	1. Development	Applies unit material with logical order of Ideas, with no gaps in information.	Applies unit material with some logical order of ideas, with minimal gaps in information	Applies unit material with gaps in information.	Does not apply the unit principles and material as called for in the case study	Paper lacks flow from point to point, order of ideas is not clear, and gaps in information are present. Structure lacks organization.
	2. Adherence to assignment	Completely addresses the concepts, theories and material issues covered in unit and called for in the assignment instructions, and is supported by text and/or other literature.	Sustainability addresses issues covered in unit and called for in the assignment instructions, and is supported by text and/or other literature.	Addresses some of the issues covered in unit and called for in the assignment instructions	Does not address the relevant issues posed by the case study.	Major themes mentioned in the assignment instructions have not been met and are not supported by literature.
	3. Quality of presented content	Best and most applicable points are presented while unnecessary content is left out.	Important points are presented while unnecessary content is left out.	Some important points are addressed, but not fully covered.	You fail to make any important points and analyze the material presented in the unit and case study.	Applicable points are not presented and paper is full of unnecessary content.
	4. Logic of arguments	Points are logical and well-supported by evidence and research.	You make your point, but could present more logically. Points are supported by evidence and research.	You made some points, but they were not logically related to the case itself.	You fail to make your point, and do not use the concepts, theories and material presented in the unit.	Points are not logical and are not supported by evidence and research.
Originality – 20%	1. Interpretation and application	Demonstrates critical thinking about the topic and the student's own impressions and interpretations of research. The research is not merely presented, but is interpreted and applied to overall themes.	Demonstrates critical thinking about the topic and the student's own impressions and interpretations of research. The research is presented could be better interpreted and applied to overall themes.	Case study lacks some critical thinking about the topic and the student's own impressions and interpretations of research. The research presented could be better interpreted and applied to overall themes.	Case study lacks critical thinking about the topic and the student's own impressions and interpretations of research. The research is not interpreted and applied to overall themes.	No critical thinking about the topic and the student's own impressions and interpretations of research. The research is not interpreted and applied to overall themes.

This document is available on studocu

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)

- Evaluation Rubric 2 for Individual / Group Presentation

  The following rubric will be used in assessing the quality of individual / Group presentation:

  Individual ☐ Group Presentation ☐

Content Categories		Professional, no editing or revision required	Professional, some light editing may be useful	Revision Suggested	Revision Required	Revision Required
Presentation – 10%	1. APA Format	Proper editing of references and APA style, no editing or revision required.	Follows APA format with few errors.	Follows APA format about 50% of the time.	Follows APA format less than 50% of the time.	Does not follow APA format.
	2. Grammar and Mechanics	Proper sentence structure, punctuation, and spelling, no editing or revision required.	Few or no errors but sentence structure could be improved.	Overlooked errors in sentence structure, punctuation, and spelling.	Overlooked several errors in spelling, punctuation, and/or sentence structure showing carelessness.	Many errors in both mechanics and sentence structure, extremely poorly written.
Integration – 10%	1. Synthesis	Various themes and concepts throughout the paper are integrated and incorporated to form even stronger support for the thesis. Concepts are not presented independently of one another, but as part of a whole.	Various themes and concepts throughout the paper are integrated and incorporated to form strong support for the thesis. Concepts, overall, are presented as a whole.	50% of the themes and concepts throughout the paper are integrated and incorporated to support the thesis. 50 % of concepts are presented as a whole.	Themes and concepts are not integrated and incorporated to support the thesis. Concepts are not presented as a whole.	Themes and concepts do not support the thesis. Concepts are poorly presented.

Downloaded by Sameer Malik (sameermaliksameermalik895@gmail.com)