

ENG524

1. Discourse Analysis (DA)

Study of language use beyond sentences, examining patterns and social contexts.

2. Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA)

Focuses on how power, ideology, and social inequality are reproduced through language.

3. Zellig Harris

Introduced the term discourse analysis in 1952 to analyze language beyond sentences.

4. Pragmatics

Study of meaning in context and how language is used in social interactions.

5. Social Construction of Reality

How language shapes perceptions of reality and constructs identities.

6. Text and Context

Relationship between linguistic elements (text) and the situational background (context).

7. Genre Analysis

Examines structured patterns of language use within specific communicative events.

8. Cultural Rhetoric

How cultural norms influence language use in discourse.

9. Intertextuality

The relationship between texts where one text references or draws from another.

10. Ideology

Belief systems embedded within language that reflect power dynamics.

11. Power Relations

How authority and dominance are enacted and maintained in discourse.

12. Social Cognition

Shared mental frameworks that mediate language, society, and text.

13. Ruth Wodak

Key scholar in CDA who developed the Discourse-Historical Approach.

14. Norman Fairclough

A pioneer of CDA, focusing on the interplay between discourse, power, and ideology.

15. Teun A. van Dijk

CDA scholar emphasizing socio-cognitive aspects of discourse.

16. Socio-Cultural Approach

Framework linking discourse with social and cultural practices.

17. Discourse-Historical Approach (DHA)

Analyzes discourse in its historical, cultural, and social dimensions.

18. Socio-Cognitive Approach

Focuses on cognitive processes shared among social groups that influence discourse.

19. Nomination Strategy

Discursive practice that labels people, objects, or events in specific ways.

20. Predication Strategy

Assigning attributes to social actors or entities within discourse.

21. Argumentation Strategy

Discursive methods to validate claims and persuade others.

22. Mitigation

Reducing the impact or force of a statement in discourse.

23. Intensification

Enhancing the impact or emotional strength of a statement.

24. Genre

A socially recognized category of text or speech used for specific communicative purposes.

25. Critical Narrative Analysis (CNA)

Combines narrative and critical analysis to uncover power structures.

26. War-Normalizing Narratives

Discursive strategies that present war as a normal or acceptable state.

27. Recontextualization

Adapting discourse elements from one context to another.

28. Euphemization

Softening harsh realities using less direct language.

29. Naturalization

Presenting social phenomena as natural and inevitable.

30. Perspectivization

Positioning the speaker's or writer's viewpoint in discourse.

31. Intertextual Relationships

Connections and influences between different texts and discourses.

32. Macro-Level Analysis

Examining large-scale social structures and power dynamics in discourse.

33. Micro-Level Analysis

Focuses on smaller, detailed aspects of language use, like turn-taking in conversations.

34. Fields of Action

Contexts in which discourse operates, such as politics, media, or education.

35. Semiotic Practice

The use of signs, symbols, and language to create meaning.

36. Multimodal Discourse Analysis

Analyzing discourse across multiple modes, including visual and verbal.

37. Socio-Diagnostic Critique

Identifies ethical and social implications of discourse.

38. Prospective Critique

Application-oriented critique to improve communication practices.

39. Linguistic Description

Analyzing formal properties of text like grammar and vocabulary.

40. Discourse Practice

The production, distribution, and consumption of texts.

41. Sociocultural Practice

Connections between discourse and wider social, cultural, and political structures.

42. Systemic Functional Linguistics (SFL)

Analyzes the relationship between language structure and its social functions.

43. Contextualization Cues

Signals within discourse that guide interpretation, such as tone or gestures.

44. Face and Politeness Theory

Managing self-image and respect in social interactions through discourse.

45. Identity Construction

How language creates and reflects individual and group identities.

46. Critical Theory

Framework examining societal structures and their influence on power and oppression.

47. Triangulation

Using multiple data sources or methods to validate research findings.

48. Topoi

Argumentative strategies in discourse to support claims.

49. Interdiscursivity

Blending elements from multiple discourses within a single text.

50. Textual Analysis

Detailed examination of linguistic and structural features of texts.

- Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA): A research approach analyzing how discourse reflects and shapes power, dominance, and social inequality.
- Discourse Analysis (DA): The study of language beyond the sentence level, focusing on how language is used in context to construct meaning.
- Cultural Context: The influence of culture on how discourse is produced, understood, and interpreted.
- Social Construction of Reality: The idea that discourse plays a role in constructing and reinforcing social realities and norms.
- Pragmatics: The study of how context influences the interpretation of meaning in discourse.
- Intertextuality: The relationship between texts, where one text references or is influenced by another.
- Genre Analysis: Examining the structure and purpose of different types of texts within their social and cultural contexts.
- Ideology: A system of ideas, beliefs, or values reflected and perpetuated through discourse.
- Power Relations: The dynamics of power embedded and enacted through discourse.
- Nominalization: Turning actions or processes into nouns, often to obscure agency in discourse.
- Fairclough's 3D Model: A framework for CDA consisting of three dimensions: text analysis, discourse practice, and socio-cultural practice.
- Socio-Cultural Approach: A perspective in CDA analyzing the relationship between discourse and the broader socio-cultural context.

- Socio-Cognitive Approach: Focuses on how shared social cognitions mediate between discourse and society.
- Discourse-Historical Approach (DHA): Examines discourse in its historical context, emphasizing identity and social change.
- Social Cognition: Shared mental frameworks and knowledge within a group, shaping how discourse is interpreted.
- Discursive Strategies: Techniques used in discourse to achieve specific communicative purposes, such as persuasion or exclusion.
- Nomination: The naming of social actors, phenomena, or events in discourse, influencing how they are perceived.
- Predication: Assigning qualities or characteristics (positive or negative) to actors, objects, or events in discourse.
- Argumentation: Presenting arguments in discourse to justify or challenge claims.
- Perspectivization: Expressing a particular viewpoint or stance in discourse.
- Mitigation and Intensification: Adjusting the force or tone of statements to downplay or emphasize ideas.
- Macro-Level Analysis: Examining broader social structures, power dynamics, and ideologies in discourse.
- Micro-Level Analysis: Analyzing specific linguistic and textual elements of discourse.
- Textual Analysis: Close examination of linguistic features and structure within texts.
- Multimodal Discourse Analysis (MMDA): Analysis of multiple semiotic systems, including visuals, gestures, and sound, alongside language.
- Corpus Linguistics: The study of large collections of texts (corpora) to identify patterns and linguistic features.
- Systemic Functional Linguistics (SFL): A linguistic theory linking language use to its social and cultural functions.
- Social Practice: Actions and behaviors embedded in and shaped by social structures and discourse.
- Contextualization: The process of interpreting discourse by considering its situational, cultural, and historical context.
- Hymes' Speaking Mnemonics: A framework identifying contextual features like setting, participants, and purpose in analyzing communication.
- Interdiscursivity: The mixing of elements from different discourses within a single text or context.
- Rhetorical Genre Studies: Analyzing genres as socially recognized ways of using language to accomplish goals.
- Critical Narrative Analysis (CNA): Combines narrative analysis with CDA to explore how stories reflect and challenge power structures.
- Cultural Codes: Embedded social and cultural norms and values expressed through discourse.
- Discourse and Identity: How discourse constructs and reflects individual and group identities.
- Discourse and Politics: Examines the role of discourse in shaping political ideologies and practices.

- Language Barriers: Challenges in communication due to linguistic differences or lack of access to dominant discourses.
- Normalization Strategies: Techniques in discourse to present social phenomena as natural or inevitable.
- Peace-Estrangement Narrative: A discourse strategy that challenges or undermines positive views of peace.
- Argumentation Schemes (Topoi): Common patterns of reasoning used in discourse to support arguments.
- Cultural Memory: Shared recollections of past events shaping a group's identity and discourse.
- Social Inequality: Unequal distribution of resources, power, or status, often maintained through discourse.
- Technologization of Discourse: The influence of technological and institutional interventions on how discourse is produced and disseminated.
- Linguistic Analysis: Examination of language features like vocabulary, grammar, and sentence structure.
- Power Dynamics: The ways in which power is distributed and negotiated through discourse.
- Interactional Meta-discourse: Language features that guide reader interaction, such as transitions and engagement markers.
- Engagement Strategies: Techniques in discourse to involve or connect with the audience.
- Cohesion and Coherence: The ways in which a text's elements are logically connected and make sense as a whole.
- Historical Context: The influence of historical events and conditions on the production and interpretation of discourse.

<https://whatsapp.com/channel/0029VaazKAVBfxoDMH4l9U0u>

For Files

<https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1m6HPIs6iAPIL6v3xf85y4fylxg6dwqne?usp>