Mid-Term

ABSTRACT

This comprehensive collection of notes is accurately crafted to empower students to excel academically, ensuring they achieve a minimum of 80% marks in their examinations. The content is organized with clarity and precision, focusing on key concepts, critical analyses, and practical applications tailored to the syllabus. These notes serve as a reliable resource for both thorough preparation and last-minute revision. Designed to inspire confidence and mastery, this guide is an essential tool for students striving for academic excellence.

A Special Thanks to

1. The term ("tops") can be defined as an optimistically assume ultimately truth will prevail.
2. A key insight of CMT is that (conceptual metaphor) have their origins in our embodied experiences,
3. If u say something that represents a threat to another's person's self image (face-threatening act)
4. Maxims of quantity (Being brief)
5. Hammond and Macken Horarick (1999) argue that genre-based teaching students gain access to texts and discourses which will, hopefully, help them participate in second language (spoken and written) interactions
6. An understanding and critical (appraisal) of relevant literature
7. CARS stand Creating Search space
8. Parody (mocking questioning of presupposed knowledge which Macgilchrist considers a form of logical inversion with a limited scope for uptake)
9. CDS stand for Corpus assisted discourse
10. To understand the uniqueness of historical moments, we need to situate them in larger landscapes of time and space.
11. Inter-textual analysis links the text and discourse practice dimensions of the framework
12. it referring to language use as discourse, Fairclough has investigated it in a social theoretically informed way, as a form of social practice.
13. Fairclough considers 'language' and 'order of discourse' as two centripetal forces in any discursive event.
14. The term Discourse Analysis was first introduced by Zelling Harris.
15. Cook (2008) states: Advertising is one of the most prominent, powerful, and ubiquitous contemporary uses of language.
16. Collocation concerns the specific co-text of a word and the way the combination of words in a phrase can carry significant changes in meaning.
17. Who introduced the Discourse Historical Approach? (Wodak)
18. The investigation must be ____ (interdisciplinary)
19. The prototype theory was proposed by ____ (Rosch's (1978))
20. presuppositions of "I used to smoke" is ____ (sentence level)
21. Metaphor is seen as ____ process that involves conceptualize one thing in term of another (cognitive)
22. Set of other words used in the same phrase or sentence is called ____ (Co-text)
23. MCDA ____ (Multi-modal CDA)
24. The DHA is oriented this implies that the study of (problem)

25. In order to analyze understand and explain the complexity of the _____. (object)
26. Discourse Historical approach is problem oriented.
27. The process by which ends are related to means, intentions to capabilities is called strategy
28. Assumptions of discourse analysis are _____ 4
29. Discourse analysis was introduced by Zelling Hariis.
30. Stibbe argue that the term critical in critical discourse analysis does not imply being negative
31. The Pragmatic meta level is about procedural knowledge of how to make sense of discourse and the world.
32. Discourse undergoes historical change relating to social change
33. The process by which text and context come together in the creation of meaning is referred to as _____. Contextualization.
34. Do not say that for which you lack adequate evidence, is Grice's maxim of quality.
35. An act that represents a threat to another person's self-image is called a/an act. Face-threatening
36. The kind of analysis made for speeches and other political genres, genre analysis
37. Second meta function in SFL is interpersonal
38. Context is a key notion of Critical Discourse Studies
39. Images have been given special attention

Q. CDA

- CDA stand for Critical discourse analysis
- It was introduced in 1980
- Discourse analysis was interested by Zelling Hariis.

Q. The 2nd stage of Fairclough's 3D modal

- a. First stage: description
- b. Second stage: interpretation
- c. Third stage: explanation

Q. DHA

- DHA stand for Discourse-Historical Approach
- it follow 8 stage program.
- DHA is 3 dimensional

- The Discourse- Historical Approach distinguishes among four dimensions of “context.”
- Macgilchrist, however, has considered five counter discursive strategies.
- Hymes proposed the concept of ‘communicative competence.

Q. Three kinds of Acts given by (Austin)

1. Locutionary Act: Literal meanings of the actual words
2. Illocutionary Act: Speaker’s intention in uttering the words
3. Perlocutionary Act: The effect of an utterance on the thoughts or actions.

Q. Four maxims (known as Grice’s Maxim)

1. QUALITY (Being True)
2. QUANTITY (Being Brief)
3. RELATION (Being Relevant)
4. MANNER (Being Clear)

Q. Fill in the Blanks

Cultural Approach to Critical Discourse Analysis (CCDA) aims at exposing and examining the ways in which cultural codes are embedded in discourse, and contribute to the reproduction of abuses of power (Gavriely-Nuri 2013, 2015). Fairclough, CDA aims to shed light on the ways through which discourse helps to sustain social and political inequalities, abuses of power, and domination patterns.

Q. True false from Faircloughs CDA.

1. He began work on CDA in the early 1980s. True
2. The aim of linking CDA to his political activities. True
3. He has drawn upon the cultural-political economy True
4. His collaboration with Isabella Faircloughs to bring argumentation theory. True

Q. Fill in the blanks.

Given words(semiotic, context, text)

1. SFL helps to explore these semiotic recourses.
2. SFL also tends to use texts and other semiotic materials in order to establish ‘the grammar’, the underlying systemic resources.

3. Departing from the assumption that the semiotic behavior of sign-makers is guided by more or less the same conventions, regardless of the contexts and semiotic modes involved.

Q. Fill in the blanks

Given option (dysfunction, fieldwork, application oriented)

Prospective critique is strongly application-oriented. It is practical, aimed at reducing dysfunctional communication and language barriers, at improving communication within public institutions by elaborating proposals and guidelines on the basis of careful fieldwork.

Q. True false

1. MMDA focusses “specifically on how different semiotic resources are deployed in the re-contextualization of social practices for ideological purposes...True
2. Van Leeuwen and Wodak (1999) argue that social practices can be re contextualized in language through substitutions, additions, deletions and re-ordering of the sequences that comprise events. True
3. Social practices may have: participants, ideas, values and attitudes; activities; social relations; objects and instruments; time and setting and causality.....True

Q. Define Perlocutionary Act in One Line

Perlocutionary act: The effect of an utterance on the thoughts or actions of the other person.

Q. Difference Between Memory and History

- Memory: Connected with lived experience or testimony (e.g., “I was there”).
- History: A reformulation of experience into a scientific discourse (e.g., “someone somewhere did something”).

Q. Fill in the Blanks – "Strategies of Normalization"

The three strategies are:

- Euphemization – colors the social object positively.
- Naturalization – depicts it as inevitable or beyond human control.
- Justification – presents it as rational or just.

Q. Fill in the Blanks – "Strategies of Impersonalization"

This strategy removes the human factor, focusing instead on abstract organizational structures (e.g., states, movements).

Q. Three Tools of Second Language Acquisition (SLA)

- Locutionary act – literal meaning.
- Illocutionary act – speaker's intention.
- Perlocutionary act – effect on the listener.

1. Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA) Definition (Fairclough)

CDA explores the relationship between language, power, and ideology, focusing on how discourse shapes and is shaped by social and political contexts.

2. Genre Analysis

The study of structured communicative events (genres) with shared purposes, features, and constraints shaped by social and cultural contexts.

3. Discursive Strategy

Discursive strategies are intentional uses of language to construct, maintain, or challenge social meanings and power relations, including nomination, predication, argumentation, etc..

4. CDS (Critical Discourse Studies)

An interdisciplinary approach to studying discourse that investigates its role in power relations, ideology, and social change.

5. Discursive

Relating to discourse; emphasizing communication patterns used in text or talk to convey social meanings.

6. Define Corpus

A corpus is a large, structured set of texts (spoken or written) used for linguistic analysis.

7. Definition of Context

Context refers to the total conditions under which discourse is produced, circulated, and interpreted, including social, political, cultural, and cognitive environments.

8. Identity (Note)

Identity refers to the image of self or group shaped through discourse, influencing interpretation and meaning.

9. Metaphor in Discourse Analysis

Metaphors structure thought and language, revealing underlying ideologies by framing social reality metaphorically.

10. Image Schema Development

Image schemas are cognitive structures originating from bodily experiences that structure metaphorical thought in discourse.

11. Three Tools of Systemic Functional Linguistics (SFL)

- Ideational metafunction (content)
- Interpersonal metafunction (social relations)
- Textual metafunction (message organization).

12. Three Levels of Fairclough's 3D Model

1. Text (linguistic features)
2. Discursive Practice (production/consumption)
3. Sociocultural Practice (ideological context).

13. Navigation of Written Text

Refers to how layout, cohesion, and coherence guide reader comprehension and interpretation of written texts.

14. Three Modes of Communication

- Spoken
- Written
- Visual/multimodal (e.g., images, videos).

15. Textual and Interactional Components of SFL

Textual: theme, cohesion, structure.

Interactional: speaker stance, modality, engagement with the audience.

16. Interpersonal and Textual Elements

Interpersonal: tone, mood, modality.

Textual: cohesion, theme-rheme, coherence.

17. Face in Politeness Theory

Refers to a person's self-image in interaction:

- Positive face: desire to be liked.
- Negative face: desire not to be imposed upon.

18. Three Grice's Maxims

- Quantity: Be as informative as required.
- Quality: Be truthful.
- Relevance: Be relevant.

19. Counterfactual-Presuppositions in Pragmatics

Counterfactuals express hypothetical situations; presuppositions are implicit assumptions required for utterances to be meaningful.

20. Pragmatic Arguments

Use of language strategies (e.g., hedging, implicature, indirectness) to shape discourse persuasively based on context.

21. Characteristics of Corpus

- Large and authentic
- Machine-readable
- Representative of a specific language or genre.

22. Five Types of Corpora Based on Text Selection

- General-purpose corpora
- Specialized corpora
- Parallel corpora
- Learner corpora
- Historical corpora.

23. Name 3 General Purpose Corpora

- British National Corpus (BNC)
- Corpus of Contemporary American English (COCA)
- International Corpus of English (ICE)

Compilation

24. Corpus-Assisted Discourse Studies (CADS)

Combines corpus tools with CDA to analyze patterns of ideology and power across large text datasets.

25. Three CDA Approaches

- Fairclough's Socio-cultural model
- Van Dijk's Socio-cognitive model
- Wodak's Discourse-Historical Approach.

26. Two Types of Critique

- Text/Discourse immanent critique: focuses on contradictions in text (knowledge-related).
- Socio-diagnostic critique: uncovers manipulative elements based on ideology.

27. Why Text/Discourse Immanent Critique is Knowledge-Related

It evaluates coherence, logic, and argumentation within a text without needing external context.

28. Socio-Diagnostic Critique (Fill in the Blank)

Focuses on exposing ideologies or manipulation in discourse using historical, social, and political knowledge.

29. Re-contextualization of Social Practice

Refers to how practices are transferred and transformed into discourse (e.g., media, policy documents).

30. Difference between Race and Ethnicity (with Example)

- Race: biological traits (e.g., skin color – Black)
- Ethnicity: cultural traits (e.g., language – Pashtun).

31. Views of Marian Achugar on Memory & History

- Memory is linked to lived experience and identity.
- History reconstructs that experience scientifically.

Compilation

32. Views of Deleuze about Theory

Theory is not a system but a toolbox used to think and act differently, not bound by universal truths.

33. Hymes's SPEAKING Mnemonic

- Setting, Participants, Ends, Act sequence, Key, Instrumentalities, Norms, Genre.

34. Steen's Three-Dimensional Model of Metaphor

- Linguistic dimension
- Conceptual dimension
- Communicative dimension.

35. Scollon's PCDA Link with PDA

Scollon's Positioning in PCDA connects language to social actors and ideologies, forming a basis for Political Discourse Analysis (PDA).

36. CARS Model (Create a Research Space)

- Establish a territory
- Establish a niche
- Occupy the niche (present research).

37. Multimodal Discourse Analysis (Two Fill in the Blanks)

1. MMDA studies semiotic resources such as image, layout, sound, and gesture.
2. It analyzes how visual and verbal modes combine to communicate ideology.

42. Five Counter-Discursive Strategies

- Recontextualization
- Refocalization
- Reframing
- Rebuttal
- Satire or parody.
