Q. Classroom control

Classroom control is a very important element of classroom management. Without classroom control, there can be no classroom management. Teachers are the biggest sources to maintain class control.

Teachers need to be:

- Authoritative: students must feel the presence of the teacher. Teacher must be in full control, which is what called being authoritative in the class.
- In command: A teacher must know how to follow her lesson plan. How students must behave during lesson. How the activities in classroom will be possible? Mastery on the content, pedagogy and management made the teacher in command.
- Organized: It is extremely important for the teacher to be organized in the classroom.

Students need to:

- Act responsibly: Hidden curriculum teaches the students how to behave in the classroom. What rules he should follow without asking? So, responsibility comes from following the hidden curriculum that is manifested through the behaviour patterns of the different stakeholders in the school.
- Follow rules: Students need to follow rules which are mutually constructed by the students and teachers. Once they are mutually constructed then they need to be followed. So that an effective classroom control is possible.
- Respect teachers: Students need to respect their teachers that come from the hidden curriculum. Without respecting the teacher in the classroom there can be no classroom control.
- Take care of peers

Q. Routine maintenance

Routine maintenance is carried out periodically-monthly, quarterly or even annually depending on the agreed schedule by the class/school manager.

Q. Self-Evaluation

Student behavioral self-evaluation

1. Students should be encouraged to do their behavioral self-evaluation
2. The behavioral records should have a section on self evaluation and students should fill that section themselves
3. This exercise makes students more reflective and enables them to analysis their own behaviors

Q. Kinds of outdoor activities

Outdoor activities are dependent on the age level of the students. These are also dependent on the subjects they are dealt with. Outdoor activities are:

- Field trips

  These can be content related. They can deal with different subject areas. It can also be a recreation
- Nature experiments

  These are related with the science subjects.
- Research based studies of various phenomena

  These can be determined by the teachers.
- Fun activities, camping

  With academics other activities are also important for the students like camping. It includes both recreation and learning.

Q. Practice with it-ness

Helpful hints:

- Stand where you can see all students when you present a lesson.
- Make eye contact with as many students as possible.
- Keep your face towards the students when you move towards the chalkboard.

- Stand at an angle to write on the chalkboard so that you an see as many students as possible.
- Circulate to various parts of room.

Q. Communication skill

Communication can be verbal and non-verbal and just as in everyday life, poor communication can cause unnecessary problems. Good communication skills and being a good listener , as well as a good speaker , can help in preventing problems in the classroom. When students feel that they are welcomed into a nonthreatening environment where learning is encouraged, they usually come ready, willing, and able to learn.

Q. Overlapping

Overlapping means handling two or more situations or activities simultaneously.

A teacher who can instruct a group of students while responding to student concerns from outside of the group can keep an entire classroom working smoothly.

Practicing overlapping

Make eye contact with, move closer to, or stand beside a misbehaving student to deter off task behavior while continuing to direct other activities.

Direct a question to a student who has not been paying attention to regain his/her attention.

Remove an object a student is playing with without interrupting a presentation.

Q. What is school culture?

School culture is a set of unstated expectations and assumptions that direct the activities of school personnel and students.

It becomes the guide for behavior that is shared among members of the school at large.

Culture is the stream of norms, values, beliefs, traditions and rituals built up over time.

They must be upheld and communicated to the students as a way to prevent behavioral issues in schools.

Q. Self-control

A very important part of preventive management is teaching student self- control and social skill strategies.

Students need to be educated to take control of their emotions and safeguard the security of others around them.

Ways to Teach Self-Control

Embed self-control strategies in the school curriculum through:

- Group and pair work activities
- Task based activities
- Project work

Q. Maintenance of facilities

(i) Emergency repairs:

- Emergency repairs take place when a facility breaks down and urgent measures or steps had to be taken to remedy the situation. This normally occurs where people lack maintenance culture.
- It is expensive because the extent of damage may demand total replacement or high cost of repair.

(ii) Predictive maintenance:

- Here computer software is used to predict equipment failure
- This is based on age, user demand and performance measures

Q. Visual display

- Maps
- Flow charts
- Pictures
- Collages

Q. Effective management

Teacher who manages effectively create and maintain conditions in which students can learn efficiently.

Such teachers:

- Set a positive classroom climate.
- Organize classroom area.
- Establish group norms.
- Layout routines and procedures.
- Monitor learning.
- Maintain good student behavior.
- Evaluate classroom management and student achievement.

Q. Possible noisy surrounding

- Traffic noise
- Noise from adjoining classes
- Noise from the play ground

- Staff talking to each other in hallways

Q. Smoothness

Smoothness is shown by the teacher continuing with his/her lesson without digression.

Examples:

- Do not get distracted by an unplanned event
- Do not interrupt students from working
- Do not leave a learning activity mid-stream
- Time yourself well
- Do not show confusion
- Stay with the logical organization of the lesson

Q. Build self-esteem

Self-esteem means that we appreciate ourselves and our inherent worth. More specifically, it means we have a positive attitude, we evaluate ourselves highly, we are convinced of our own abilities and we see ourselves as competent and powerful in control of our own lives and able to do what we want.

EDU305_Solved Mid-Term

Teacher's role in building self-esteem:

- It is highly important for teachers to build the self-esteem of students. They must avoid sarcasm or actions that belittle students in front of classmates.
- Such students at times display the tendency to cause classroom management issues.

Actions:

- Display positive behaviour
- Do not demean students
- Help students work on their weak areas
- Help introvert students to come out of their shells and safe zones

Display empathy and pro-social behaviour

Q. Authoritarianism

There is a difference between authoritative teacher and an authoritarian teacher. Authoritative teacher still maintains discipline but in a friendly manner unlike an authoritarian teacher, who establishes things in classroom through a dictatorial approach.

Authoritarianism sets and enforces rules in a dictatorial way, using obtrusive discipline as necessary. He sets the limits in classroom through commands. It is the coercive use of power by the teacher.

Authoritarian teacher seeks to control student behaviour by:

- Issuing commands
- Giving orders
- Directives supplemented by careful monitoring

Q. Adler's theory The model

This model was articulated by Rudolf Dreikurs in 1968.

This model is based on Alfred Adler's idea that students' misbehavior is based on their unmet needs.

All students desire and need social recognition.

When these desires are not met, students exhibit a hierarchy of behaviors based on 'mistaken goal'.

When a student's need for recognition is unmet, that student will first display attention-seeking behaviors.

If those behaviors do not result in the desired recognition, the student will attempt to engage teachers in power struggles, followed by extracting revenge and then a display of inadequacy.

Q. Social emotional learning deals with the domain of affective education refers to

- Social networking
- Communal feelings
- Sharing and caring connections students have in schools

Q. Series of activities

A series of activities which provides a variety of:

- Content
- Materials
- Behavior

Q. Summative/FORMATIVE EVALUATION

Classroom management evaluation should be formative in a way that it provides continuous feedback as a way to improve learning.

Classroom management evaluation should also be summative, i.e. an end of term assessment to check the effectiveness of classroom management strategies.

Q. Rules can be different for

- Classroom
- Laboratories
- Playgrounds
- Walkways
- Auditorium

- Art room
- Computer room

Q. Cookbook management

This is an eclectic approach that may consist of applying a prescription of 'do's and don'ts', without any obviously consistent rationale. It may consist of adaptation of a number of most effective approaches which suit the situation or group of individuals.

Q. Key elements of classroom management

1. School wide discipline through curriculum: classroom discipline is not possible without school wide discipline, so it is very important to make classroom management a part of curriculum.
2. Classroom discipline: Both the teacher and students must know how to behave in classroom environment. Schools discipline is such element which the teachers must teach the students at the very start of their schooling. It is only possible through curriculum and school wide discipline.
3. Classroom based rules: Classroom discipline is made through classroom rules. There are certain rules for both students and the teachers to follow in classroom. We have ti had some boundaries and we need to respect the rules in order to learn in the classroom.
4. Identification of needs of students: It is very important for the teacher to identify the needs of the students. Management issues in classroom arise because sometimes teacher do not know the student needs. Teacher must know students interests and their individual needs. It is very important for the teacher to have age appropriate and need based rules in classroom so that students can follow them easily.
5. Involvement of major stakeholders: All stakeholders who are involved in the education of a student must be made aware of the phenomenon of classroom management. The major stakeholders are students themselves, teacher, parents, school administration, principals, coordinators, classroom community.

Q. Important dimensions that a teacher should consider

EDU305_Solved Mid-Term

There are four important dimensions for teaching that a teacher must consider:

1. Content knowledge
2. Pedagogical knowledge
3. Classroom management
4. Social emotional management

Q. Meaningful task

Students need to see a relationship between what is introduced to them in the classroom setting and their real life situations in order to view the activities as meaningful and interesting.

Q. Stakeholders are obligated to

All stakeholders are obligated to:

- Abide by rules and regulations
- Maintain discipline
- Build rapport
- Identify problems and solutions

Q. Intimidation

It is another approach of overt management approaches. It is a popular approach to maintain classroom discipline.

Intimidation is an approach used by teachers to control student behaviour. This is an overt approach in which the teacher uses power to regulate student behaviour. Most of the practices under intimidation are negative.

Q. Types of management approaches

- Overt Management Approaches
  Overt Management approaches are those approaches in which teachers use as an explicit effort to manage classroom based behavioural and management issues.
- Covert Management Approaches:
  Covert Management Approaches are those approaches which have an implied existence. They are not explicitly stated by teachers but are expected behaviors advocated through a school wide adherence to core values and norms.
