

ENG509

Quiz for Final-Term

ABSTRACT

This comprehensive collection of notes is accurately crafted to empower students to excel academically, ensuring they achieve a minimum of 80% marks in their examinations. The content is organized with clarity and precision, focusing on key concepts, critical analyses, and practical applications tailored to the syllabus. These notes serve as a reliable resource for both thorough preparation and last-minute revision. Designed to inspire confidence and mastery, this guide is an essential tool for students striving for academic excellence.

Maha Malik
Morphology & Syntax

ENG509_Morphology & Syntax
Quiz for Final-Term

ENG509_MCQs from Final Terms
1. What is exclamative clause?
What fun we have had!	Who wrote Helmet	Who is making noise	What is your color
2. Which is the subject question?
Who broke this glass	What is your name	Where do you live	You can speak what language
3. The head of adjective phrase is a/an _____ .
Preposition	Article	Adjective	Noun
4. The more morphological rules and tips you know the better _____ you will acquire
Vocabulary	Symmetry	Skills	Knowledge
5. Adjs (adjectives) like Vs (verbs) take _____ .
Commands	Compliments	Complements	Bars
6. The verb like look at, look for, look after, call on , call for etc. are called _____ verb
prepositional	Transitional	Infinite	Finite
7. Which one are Intransitive verbs?
Laugh	Kick	Help	Give
8. Structural organization of texts is____ that a sentence.
Similar to	same to	different to	none
9. Children with genetically transmitted algorithms for level the grammar, on the basis of their linguistic experience.
Speed acquisition systems	language acquisition program	Language development	speech learning tool

Maha Malik's Compilation

10.Idea of UG grammar first
1990s	1960s	1970s	1980s
11.All language have same parameters
Universal grammar	Transformative generative grammar	generative grammar	generative
12.Earlier form of the word 'shoe'
Shoo	shee	sheo	shoon
13.Modern plural form of shoe is
Shoon		shoes
14.X-bar is theory of syntactic Formation
Constituent	phrase	category	sentence
15.In English it is not possible to place adj together with its complement before a ?
Head V	head P	head N	S
16.One substitution affected the string, it considered a?
Alternative	portion	constituent	subject
17.Obviously lexical categories are? of some level,
they are minimal constituents of syntax	Portion constituents	substitutes	chunks
18.Rely + on are called
Finite	infinite	transitional	preposition verb
19.Which of the following is an alternative term of fronting?

Proposing	Preposing	Forecoming	Promination
20.Which of the following is regarded as the largest and highest unit on the hierarchical scale of constituents or the largest unit of syntactic
Description	Word	Clause	Sentence
21.The manipulation of _____ Can impact the part of speech that a word denotes
Preposition	Affixes	segment	Articles
22.children typically begin to say their first word between 12 and _____.
20	24	22	25
23.The study of morphology and syntax is also known as_____.
Morphosyntax	Morphonox	Syntaxology	Morpholsyntax
24.Unlike V-complement, adj- complement in English cannot be NPs, but be realized by PPs or
Vs	Ss	Ns	Ps
25.Which of the following constituents at more than one level in the representation?
Constituency	One substitution	One alteration	All of above
26.Since one-substitution effects this string, it may also be considered a
Portion	Constituent	Subject	Alternative
27.Catch up with, come up with are examples of_____ Verb.
Phrasal-prepositional	Prepositional	Phrasal	Transitional
28.I did not wish for to write a family saga. Embedded clause lacks of a/an --- subject.
Inclusive	Exclusive	Overt	Supportive

29.Ali hit the ball. Which option will be used in given sentence to form its interrogative form.
V-TO-T movement	T-TO-C movement	Do support	Auxiliary raising
30.Which option will be used in given sentence to form its negative form?
V-TO-T movement	Do support	T-TO-C movement	Auxiliary raising
31.Ali gave his mother a present. What is the direct object in sentence?
Ali	Present	Mother	Gave
32.In the following phrase, 'in' is somehow part of the----itself. [VP [v brought in] [NP the times]]"
Preposition	Article	Verb	Noun
33.In the following phrase, what is compliment of preposition 'in'? " [VP [v brought] [?pp in the times]]"
Brought	The	The times	Times
34.The red leaf is ----- phrase.
Determiner	Noun	Adverb	adjective
35.'one evening he asked her whether he might go home with her?'
Direct question	Indirect	Rhetoric	Tag question
36.NPs (noun phrase in the following sentence is)? The Tramp read the diary.
Tamp, diary	The tramp read	Read the diary	The tramp, the diary
37.Normally, Wh- question formation involves (a)wh-movement (b) SAI, with or without ?
IT-support	There- support	Wh-support	Do support

38.From the beginning of time, it has been accepted (that men who are on duty during the night will be tempted to sleep. What is the subject in given sentence?
It	Men	The night	Who
39.One important characteristics of prepositional transitive verb is that they allow
Activisation	Passivisation	notation	None of these
40.Intransitive verb
laugh	kick	help	give

41. The more morphological rules and tips u know the better _____ you will acquire. (vocabulary)

42. The study of _____ in generative linguistics was largely eclipsed by phonology and syntax in the early days. (morphology)

43. Children produce their first words at _____ months. (twelve)

44. People cultivate several species (patient)

45. Our planet revolve around the sun (pp)

46. The earth revolve around the sun (predicate)

47.I will came .will I came (T-to-c movement)

48. He enjoy is work (do support to form negative)

49. Who broke the glass (subject question)

50. You don't know him, doyou ? (tag question)

51. How badly he is behaving, (exclamatory clause)

52. Speakers often reduce redundancy by leaving out _____ information. (superfluous)

53.information which can easily be recovered from the situation or the context. (Superfluous)

54. Decoding and vocabulary development are pivotal to developing strong _____ skills. (reading)

55.is a critical element of successful vocabulary development and accurate decoding. (Morphology)

56.provides children with a genetically transmitted algorithm for developing a grammar, on the basis of their linguistic experience. (Language acquisition program)

57. The structural organization of texts is _____ from that of sentences. (different)

58. As a rule, verbs express _____ of some kind. (activities)

59. Myself pronoun is a _____ pronoun. (reflexive)

60.'There were three shops in village'. There is at the _____ position in sentence. (subject)

61. In the given sentence which is patient? "I watched the _____." (movie)

62. What fun we have had (exclamatory clause)

63. The gate keeper close the door (subject)

64. He rode the bicycle (patient)

65. There _____ /was awarded several prizes. (were)

66. The red leaf (determiner phrase)

67.A beautiful flower (determiner phrase)

68. To the school (pp)

69. Anwararrange the event (agent)

70.I watch the movie (patient)

71. That ,if ,for (complementizer)

72. In linguistics _____is set of rules. (syntax)

73. Ali give his mother a present (direct object)

74. Run ,play ,eat (action verb)

75. If (complementizer)

76. Most ambitious (Adjective Phrase)

77. Ali sold me her mobile (indirect object)

78. Snore (intransitive verb)

79. Agent less phrase is used In (official document)

80. Passivasetion allows the suppress the (agent)

81. Where are you going (direct question)

82. Has, am ,is (auxiliary verb)

83. Ali asked if she was studying (indirect question)

84."The beauriful flower" Which of the following pharse is correct? (Determiner)

85.IC stands for (Immediate Constituents)

86. Determiner Phrase (DP)

87. Complementizer Phrase (CP)

88.A diachronic perspective of morphology view 'what happens to morphology through (a time).

89. There are traditionally said to be two different types of word; namely content words and function words. (True)

90. The main lexical/substantive categories found in English are noun, verb, adjective, adverb and preposition. (True)

91. Which of the following is a determiner? (this)

92. Which of the following is a complementizer? (if)

93. Finite clauses must contain a verb which shows tense. (True)

94. Over 85% of languages usually place the subject first, either in the sequence SVO or the sequence SOV. (True)

95. The sentence 'Colorless green ideas sleep furiously.' is correct ---------- . (syntactically)

96. Most linguists believe that human infants are born pre-programmed to learn language the way as they are pre-programmed to walk upright. (True)

97. SVO is the basic word order of ----------. (English)

98. Over 85% of languages usually place the subject first, either in the sequence SVO or the sequence SOV. (True)

99. The sentence 'Colorless green ideas sleep furiously.' is correct ----------. (syntactically)

100. Most linguists believe that human infants are born pre-programmed to learn language the way as they are pre-programmed to walk upright. (True)

101. SVO is the basic word order of ----------. (English)

102. The passive involves promotion of an object phrase to a new position in the sentence, known as the subject position. (True)

103. At what age, children can acquire native like syntactic competence? (9 or 10)

104. Run' is a two-morpheme word. (False)

105. Chomsky claims human beings are biologically endowed with an innate language faculty. (True)

106. English is a non-null-subject language. (True)

107. At what age, children generally produce their first recognizable word (e.g. Mama or Dada)? (12)

108. Each word consists of one or two morphemes. (True)

109. John laughed. In this sentence John is a ___phrase. (Noun)

110. 'IC' analysis stands for Immediate Constituent. (True)

111. The clause is regarded as the largest or highest unit on the hierarchical scale of constituents. (False)

112. The syntactic analysis of the sentence does not usually go below the level of the word. (True)

113. Cleft sentence is considered a sentence in which some part is moved from its normal position into a different place to give it more emphasis. (True)

114. Pseudo-cleft sentence is a kind of cleft sentence in which the subordinated clause is a relative clause headed by an interrogative pro-form. (True)

115. Passivisation is a way of rearranging the information in a sentence. (True)

116. The term passivisation was coined by linguist Noam Chomsky. (True)

117. Word order in English is fixed to a large extent. (True)

118. 'A beautiful flower' is _____. (Determiner phrase)

119. A sentence which consists of a string of coordinated clauses (conjoins) is called a____ sentence. (compound)

120. English also has verbless clauses. (True)

121. The young German girl is ___ phrase. (noun)

122. Myself, yourself, himself, itself, ourselves, yourselves and themselves are known as ____ pronouns. (reflexives)

123. Coordinate clauses are introduced by coordinators (and, but, or, for, etc.). (True)
124. The head of an adjective phrase is a/an adjective. (True)
125. What is the verb phrase (VPs) in the following sentence? Jeffry is going out for a vacation. (Is going out for a vacation)
126. Label the underlined phrase in the following sentence. Sam is studying in his room. (Verb Phrase)
127. Non-finite VPs are those which exhibit no contrast between past and present tense. (True)
128. All Noun Phrases (NPs) happen to end with the Head noun (N). (True)
129. The Head of an AdvP is an ____. (adverb)
130. The Head of an AdjP is an adjective. (True)
131. Words are grammatical units which a speaker of a language can intuitively recognize. (True)
132. Lexical verbs can be preceded by one or more auxiliaries. (True)
133. Adjectives in English change in form to show number. (False)
134. 'To the tramp' is a _____. (prepositional phrase)
135. Dative movement refers to the transformation that relates a prepositional indirect-object construction. (True)
136. Unfortunately, certainly, in my view, in fact are referred as sentence adjuncts. (True)
137. The function of a Predicative Complement (Pc) is that of ascribing some property to the Subject of the sentence. (True)
138. The verb phrase (VP) contains two constituents in addition to the VP- Head and its specifires: an NP and a PP. (True)
139. Give, offer and pour are known as ____. (ditransitive verbs)
140. Complement is the obligatory constituent to complete VP. (True)
141. Each clause contains a VP preceded by an NP. (True)
142. Remain is a _____. (transitive verb)
143. Love is a ____ verb. (monotransitive)
144. In general, adverbial adjuncts are modifiers of the activity expressed by the verb. (True)
145. Snore is a/an _____ verb. (intranstive)
146. Eat is a _____ verb. (monotransitive)
147. The verbs put, word and remind are____. (transitive)
148. Verbs such as laugh, snore and yawn have no complement. (True)
149. Embedded clauses very often function as adjuncts. (True)
150. A verbless clause is a clause-like construction in which verb elements is implied but not present. (True)
151. Nonfinite verbs cannot perform action as the root of an independent clause. (True)
152. The morpheme -n't is not an independent word. (True)
153. Did you measure the distance? (Yes-No Question)
154. In basic sentences in English the noun phrase typically follows the____. (verb)

155. Wh-movement can operate in two ways. (correct)

156. Are you a vegetarian? (Yes-No Question)

157. Where are you going? (Direct question)

158. Ali asked if she was studying. (direct question)

159. Tense can never occur on its own; it must always be attached to a verb or an auxiliary. (True)

160. Mary wondered: 'What is John doing?' The string with quotation marks is an example of ____. (direct speech)

161. Relative clauses are also known as postmodifying. (True)

162. If the preposition is stranded, the moved wh-word on its own can be deleted. (True)

163. Normally, wh-question formation involves: (a)wh-movement (b)SAI, with or without do-support. (True)

164. Who is eating candies? (direct question)

165. The WH -words which relate the subordinate clause and the head are known relative pronouns. (True)

166. The fact of putting a word or phrase that does not normally come at the beginning of a sentence at the beginning, in order to emphasize it is known as ____. (fronting)

167. Passivisation makes a text impersonal and formal. (True)

168. Passivisation allows to suppress the agent. (True)

169. Agent-less passives are especially characteristic of the style of official documents, textbooks, scientific articles, instructions rules, etc. (True)

170. Relative clauses like these, which lack a real head noun, are called free relative clauses. (True)

171. It is possible to use the auxiliary have as a substitute for the whole VP. (True)

172. "That men who are ... will be tempted to sleep". In the given sentence there is wrong with the balance between Subject and Predicate. (True)

173. "The committee found the proposal unacceptable." In the given sentence the verbless clause contains a Subject and a Predicative Complement, but there is no verb to link them. (True)

174. "The shabby streets were round the little harbor". The given sentence has the pattern NP/Su [V-PP/Ac] (True)

175. There are alternative analyses for sentences with so-called complex transitive verbs. (True)

176. "They considered that she behaved badly with George very foolish." In the given sentence the subject of the verbless clause is a finite. (True)

177. The tendency to move heavy constituents to the right is very rare in English. (False)

178. Moving constituents out of an NP is also called extraposition. (True)

179. In the process of Pseudo-clefting, the focus remains on the VP and on other constituents at the same time. (True)

180. 'There were three shops in the village.' In the given sentence there are two subject candidates. (True)

181. Clefting is a device which is used to focus on a particular constituent in the sentence. (True)

182. The process of____ involves extracting a constituent from its basic position in the sentence and putting it in a more prominent position. (clefting)

183. It is very rare for an ellipsis to occur without a linguistic antecedent. (True)

184. Speakers often reduce redundancy by leaving out superfluous information. (True)

185. The Vicar believed evil communications to corrupt good manners. In the given sentence the subordinate clause is non-finite. (true)

186. Superfluous information is the information which can easily be recovered from the situation or the context. (True)

187. John was eating cornflakes and Mary --- porridge. This kind of deletion is known as _____. (verb gapping)

188. For me to be writing a book on this subject was an irrational act. In the given sentence the non-finite clause is the Subject. (True)

189. The non-lexical subject position '( )' is controlled by the subject of the higher clause. (False)

190. The gap left after movement cannot be filled by another lexical element. (True)

191. Which book did you wish for --- to become a success? The given sentence is a grammatical sentence. (False)

192. It seems that John has disappeared. John is the subject of the embedded finite clause. (True)

193. There is usually a paraphrase with a finite clause and extraposition. (True)

194. I did not wish (for) the book to become a family saga.

195. I did not wish to write a family saga.

196. Both clauses have an embedded Object clause. (True)

197. I want [s¯ [s ( ) to enjoy myself]] Myself is a reflexive pronoun and must be bound within its clause. (True)

198. I am eager [s¯ [s( ) to come to your party]]. The above example has a raising pattern. (false)

199. English also has control patterns which have no overt controller. (True)

200. Control adjectives are followed by non-finite clauses with controlled Subject positions. (True)

201. Raising verbs usually have a paraphrase with a _____ clause and extraposition. (finite)

202. The type of verb in the main clause determines whether the NP/Su or the NP/ Oi will be the controller. (True)

203. She went out. In the sentences above, the lexical verb is followed by another element that is closely linked with the verb. (True)

204. Adjuncts cannot be inserted between major constituents. (False)

205. John reads the Times and Susan reads the Guardian. In the given sentence there are three coordinated clauses. (False)

206. The Vicar settled down to his paper. This string is a phrasal verb. (True)

207. The Vicar settled down to his paper. In above sentence 'settle down' is intransitive. (True)

208. In English, there is an operation called gapping, which deletes the second occurrence of a lexical verb in a coordinated pattern. (True)

209. Look at, look for, look after, call on, call for, deal with are the examples of prepositional verbs. (True)

210. The particle of a phrasal verb may be placed before or after the NP, whereas the preposition of the prepositional verb can only occur before the NP. (True)

211. Phrasal-prepositional verbs are combinations of phrasal verbs and prepositional verbs. (True)

212. Difference between prepositional verbs and phrasal verbs is that it is usually fairly easy to insert an Adverbial Adjunct immediately before the preposition, but not immediately before the particle. (True)

213. NP, VP, AdjP, PP, AdvP are the phrasal categories. (True)

214. Phrasal categories are directly related to lexical categories. (True)

215. One-substitution, affect the constituents at more than one level in the representation. (True)

216. On the basis of one-substitution that there are good grounds for distinguishing two types of PP after the Head N. (True)

217. Unlike Verb Complements, Noun Complements are syntactically optional. (True)

218. Adjs, like Vs, take Complements. Unlike V-Complements, Adj-Complements in English cannot be NPs, but must be realised by PPs or Ss. (True)

219. By analogy, the distinction between levels of projection in NP and VP can also be extended to PPs. (True)

220. Not all NPs have Premodifiers or Postmodifiers, or N-Complements. (True)

221. X-bar theory is a theory of syntactic category formation. (True)

222. X-bar theory was first proposed by Noam Chomsky (1970). (True)

223. Theories of syntax that build on the X-bar schema tend to posit a large amount of sentence structure. (True)

224. It is possible to find the full AdjP as a Postmodifier. (True)

225. Discontinuous strings in AdjPs are the elements which belong together, but which are separated by intervening material. (True)

226. Morphology is at the conceptual center of linguistics. (True)

227. Linguistics involves many topics of learning a language, including the study of syntax. (True)

228. In Linguistics, the study of syntax involves learning how to structure sentences in a certain language (Smith, 2015). (True)

229. Most of the languages have a distinct class of adjectives. (True)

230. Children typically begin to say their first words between twelve and twenty months of age. (True)

231. Both morphology and syntax are highly important for pedagogical purpose of English as a second language. (True)

232. A language cannot develop without a well-established theory of word and sentence formation. (True)

233. Decoding and vocabulary development are pivotal to developing strong reading skills. (True)

234. Morphology is the study of word formation. (True)

235. Prince (2009) suggested four main instructional strategies from Lesaux's work with morphology. (True)

236. Textbooks and student writings in the early grades typically use words of Anglo-Saxon origin. (True)

BS English

https://whatsapp.com/channel/0029VaazKAVBfxoDMH4l9U0u

Maha Malik's Compilation