What is the organizational plan for order letters? Discuss each point briefly.

Handouts Page 82

1. Give the Information in a Clear Format

To make your letter easy to read, do one of the following:

- Write a separate, single-spaced paragraph for each item, with double spacing between paragraphs.
- Arrange your order in a tabular form similar to an order blank.

When several sets of numbers, items, and prices are given, tabular form is clearer than writing the information in sentences.

2. Write Orders, not Just Hints

Legally, an order letter is the “offer” portion of a contract. The “acceptance” portion of the contract is completed when the seller sends the merchandise. Use specific and direct openings such as “please send me” Or “Please ship...” rather than vague phrases such as “I’m interested in” Or “I’d like to....”

3. Give a Complete Description of Each Item

Include the following information in your order letter:

- i. Quantity ordered.
- ii. Catalog (or model or stock) number
- iii. Name of product
- iv. Description of product, including as much of the following as is appropriate (1) colour (2) size (3) material, (4) grade or quality, (5) pattern, (6) finish, and (7) any other details available.
- v. Unit price
- vi. Total price for desired quantity
- vii. Any other information that you have, including where you saw the product advertised.

4. Tell How You Will Pay for the Order

Give the mod of payment to be used (personal cheque, COD, money order, or credit card). Be sure to add any shipping charges and sales tax that may be part of the total cost. If you want the item charged to a credit card, give the credit card number and the expiry date. Also, if the printed name on the credit card differs from the signature and typed name on the letter, be sure to give the exact name of the cardholder.

5. Tell Where, When, & How you Want the Merchandise Shipped

Question No: 20 (Marks: 5)

What is the role of time, space and silence in effective communication?

Time

In effective communication time is very important it reflects the habits of different cultures as well eg. Persons in Latin America and the Middle East treat time more casually then do Americans, prefer promptness. Germans are considered time precise. In Latin American and in Buddhist cultures you may wait an hour; just reflecting a different concept of time; arriving late is a social accepted custom. Every nation have different concept of time.

Perceptions of time

- Is the concept of time considered linear or circular?
- What impact will time have upon business decisions?

- Is time considered valuable or an intangible asset?

Space

Space is also very important every nation use to keep space with varying length how do you react in Saudi Arabia when someone"s breathe intentionally brushes How would you react hanging onto the outside of a bus in Pakistan? How do you react to the cold stare of a German as your eyes invade the privacy of his or her yard? Some cultures consider those who stand close to you as intrusive, rude, pushy, and overbearing.

Silence

Silence is also used as feed back, although it is not much effective but it is gives feed back to sender.

All these factors countable in effective communication. Question No: 21 (Marks: 10)

What type of barriers in communication will be faced by a foreigner in a country he visited for the first time and how he will be able to overcome them?

Generally, foreigner will face two types of barriers and a in a country who is visiting first time will face them.

. Semantic Barriers

- Conversation mean

. Physical Barriers

- Psychological barriers

- Emotional barriers

- Perceptual barriers

- Barriers involving values attitudes etc

Semantic Barrier

These are the symbols the sender uses to communicate messages both sender and receiver must have same meaning of the message sent otherwise reciver will translate the message in different mean

Problem in Conventions of Meaning

Denotation

A denotation is usually the dictionary definition of a word.

Denotative meanings

name objects, people or events without indicating positive or negative qualities.

Such words as car, desk, book, house, and water convey denotative meanings. The receiver has a similar understanding of the thing in which the word is used.

Connotation

A connotation is an implication of a word or a suggestion separate from the usual definition. Some words have connotative meanings, that is, qualitative judgments and personal reactions. The word man is denotative, father, prophet, brother are connotative. Some words have positive connotations in some contexts and negative meanings in others. For example, slim girl and slim chances.

Physical Barriers

Communication does not consist of words alone. Another set of barriers is caused by your own physical appearance, your audience, or the context of the document or the presentation. Your ideas, however good and however skillfully imparted, are at the mercy of various potential physical barriers.

For Speaking

Mumbling, not enunciating, speaking too quickly, noises become of hissing ventilation, blowing air conditioning, ringing telephones, slamming doors etc.

Psychological Barriers

Because of the changing world, everyone has his own concept of reality. Also, human beings, sensory perceptions – touch, sight, hearing, smell, and taste are limited, and each person's mental filter is unique. In our daily interaction with others, we make various abstractions, inferences and evaluations of the world around us.

Emotional Barriers

One possible psychological block is emotional, you may be emotionally block is you are announcing a new policy you may become popular or unpopular

Perception of Reality

The perceptual problem is that people think differently. Selecting some details and omitting others is a process called abstracting. On many occasions abstracting is necessary. However, he should be cautious about "slanted" statements.

Differences in abstracting take place not only when persons describe events but also when they describe people and objects. Slanting is unfair in factual reporting.

When presenting some particular facts, you include your own biased ideas into it, you make slanting statement. Try not to let personal preferences affect your factual reporting of information.

Perception of Reality

Conclusions made by reasoning from evidence are called inferences. We make assumptions and draw conclusions even though we are not able to immediately verify the evidence. Some inferences are both necessary and desirable; others are risky, even dangerous.

Necessary Inferences

It is general expectation that when we reach a foreign country, we are sure that we will be treated politely.

When we post a letter, we infer that it will reach its destination. Conclusions we make about things we have not observed directly can often be against our wishes.

Barriers Involving Values, Attitudes etc.

Both personality and attitude are complex cognitive process. Personality usually is thought of as the whole person whereas attitude may make up the personality. The term attitude describes people and explains their behavior. More precisely an attitude can be defined as a persistent tendency to feel and behave in a particular way towards some object.

Eg. Some people does not like night shift, so there attitude is negative towards his work assign.

A receiver"s attitude toward a message can determine whether it is accepted or rejected. The effectiveness is influenced also by the values, attitudes, and opinions of the communicators. People react favorably when they receive agreeable message. Receivers' views of the information will affect their response. This response could be what the sender desires or just the opposite.

Occasionally people react according to their attitudes toward a situation rather than to the facts.

Closed Mind

There are people having rigid views on certain topics. They maintain their rigid views regardless of the circumstances. Such a closed minded person is very difficult to communicate to.

Sender's Credibility

Other factors effecting attitudes, opinions and responses

They are following

Environmental stresses, Personal problems, Sensitivity

Each and every factor is considerable.

What is buffer?

If u wants to say a bad new to an employ, for this purpose you will use neutral words, before telling bad new.
