Q.1 Which of the given option is not correct for destructor?

A. Destructor is a function with the same name as that of class but preceded with a tilde ~

B. Destructor is a function with the same name as that of class, but preceded with a tilde 'void ~'

C. Destructor is used to free the memory allocated through dynamic allocation.

D. Destructor is used to free the memory allocated through new operator.

---

Q.2 Which of the following is NOT true about constructor?

A. Constrcutor can be a constant function

B. Constructors are commonly public members

C. Constructor does not have return type

D. Constructor is a special function having the same name as the class name

---

Q.3 Which of the following is correct way of declaring the attribute as a public?

A. class Student public: { char *name;};

B. class public Student { char *name;};

C. class Student { char *name;};

D. class Student { public: char *name;};

---

Q.4 Which of the following option is false?

A. Member functions can be made private

B. Public members are accessible from other classes also

C. Data members can’t be inherited

D. Private members can be accessed using friend functions

---

Q.5 Which of the following is the default access specifier for members of a class?

A. protected and private

B. protected and public

C. public

D. private

---