

ENG512

Quiz from Assessments (Final-Term)

ABSTRACT

This comprehensive collection of notes is accurately crafted to empower students to excel academically, ensuring they achieve a minimum of 80% marks in their examinations. The content is organized with clarity and precision, focusing on key concepts, critical analyses, and practical applications tailored to the syllabus. These notes serve as a reliable resource for both thorough preparation and last-minute revision. Designed to inspire confidence and mastery, this guide is an essential tool for students striving for academic excellence.

Maha Malik
Bilingualism

ENG512_Bilingualism
Quiz from Assessments (Final-Term)

1. Bilingual schooling is at least --------- years old. (4000 to 5000)
2. Transitional bilingual education opened the door for schooling the masses. (correct)
3. Translation of classical texts into vernaculars has been a form of bilingual education. (correct)
4. The reading of sacred texts in one language and discussion in another language refers to ---------- education. (bilingual)
5. After World War I and II, bilingual education became an instrument of linguistically assimilating all people. (correct)
6. In 1953, UNESCO declared that it was axiomatic that a child be taught to read in their home language. (correct)
7. As a result of industrial and urban developments, languages became ----------. (modern)
8. Bilingual education improves the teaching of the language chosen for modernization. (correct)
9. There is no consensus on the number of languages in the world. (correct)
10. Language is a formidable and valuable instrument of manipulation and political control. (Correct)
11. States use language to consolidate political power. (Correct)
12. There are very few countries in the world that can be considered linguistically ----------. (homogeneous)
13. Languages are not socially constructed. (Incorrect)
14. Most children in the world are educated in a language other than that of the home. (Correct)
15. Glocalization is a combination of the words 'globalization' and 'localization'. (Correct)
16. It is the ability to go back and forth to the country of origin. (transnationalism)
17. There is a natural fixed structure to all languages. (incorrect)
18. Dialect is a subordinate variety of a language. (correct)
19. Historical dialects refer to ancestors of present language varieties. (correct)
20. Languages are fluid codes framed within social practices. (correct)
21. These are the languages that come into being in contact situations. (Pidgins)
22. Social dialects are associated with a place. (incorrect)
23. Pidgins are just another manifestation of how people language. (correct)
24. Pidgins are always learned as --------- languages. (second)
25. Restricting the languaging of students may severely limit their communicative and intellectual potential. (correct)
26. Standardization is an inherent characteristic of language. (incorrect)
27. Standard language refers to the prestigious variety of language. (correct)
28. A major goal of schooling is to expand the use of decontextualized language. (correct)
29. There is a difference between the way in which language is used in academic tasks and in conversation and intimacy. (correct)

Maha Malik's Compilation

30. Standardization of language is the result of a deliberate process. (correct)

31. The minoritized language practices of the home often have much to do with the standard minority language taught in school (incorrect)

32. Which of the following language is needed in order to participate in classrooms? (Decontextualized)

33. Prejudice against users of ---------- varieties of a language is as old as the history of language itself. (non-standard)

34. Powerful groups impose their language on the less powerful groups. (correct)

35. Linguicism refers to the discrimination based on language. (correct)

36. Hegemony is the social, cultural, ideological, or economic dominance of one group over another. (correct)

37. Linguicism is basically linguistically argued racism that ---------- social differences. (accentuates)

38. Our discursive practices, in which we all participate, are the examples of hegemony. (correct)

39. It is a matter of depriving people of power and influence due to their language. (Linguicism)

40. Global expansion of English is an example of linguistic imperialism. (correct)

41. Translanguaging is an approach to bilingualism that is centered on the practices of bilinguals that are readily observable. (correct)

42. A bilingual has equal experiences with each of the two languages. (Incorrect)

43. Bilinguals who are equally competent in two languages in all contexts and with all interlocutors are termed as ---------- bilinguals. (balanced)

44. Bilingual children are able to play with words and sounds of words much more than those who are monolingual. (correct)

45. Balanced bilingualism is hard to achieve. (correct)

46. It is an approach that allows and incorporates written and oral usage of different languages in the classroom. (Translanguaging)

47. Bilingual practices combine cultural knowledge that comes to bear upon language use. (correct)

48. It is the process by which a word from one language is adapted for use in another. (Language borrowing)

49. Inter-sentential code switching occurs between two or more sentences. (correct)

50. Code switching occurs mostly in bilingual communities. (correct)

51. This type of code switching occurs within a sentence or a clause. (Intra-sentential)

52. Code Mixing refers to the hybridization of two languages. (correct)

53. Linguistic choices for ---------- are greater. (bilinguals)

54. Code switching is the practice of moving back and forth between two or more languages. (correct)

55. Subtractive bilingualism is characterized by increasing loss of linguistic features of the first language. (correct)

56. It is a sociolinguistic situation in which a second language is adopted by a speech community without threatening the status of the first language. (Additive bilingualism)

57. Bilingualism is a phenomenon that is simply linear not dynamic. (Incorrect)

58. Subtractive bilingualism refers to the situation where a person learns the second language to the detriment of the first language. (correct)

59. Dynamic bilingualism is closely related to plurilingualism. (correct)

60. Plurilingualism is an educational value that is the basis of linguistic tolerance. (correct)

61. Native languages are regarded as first languages whereas non-native languages are referred to as second languages. (correct)

62. It refers to the unequal performance of bilingual children in their two languages. (Semilingualism)

63. For ----------, competence in one of the languages is superior to the competence in the other. (dominant bilinguals)

64. The term mother tongue refers to a person's native language. (correct)

65. The term heritage language refers to the languages spoken by ethnic communities. (correct)

66. It is a non-native language usually learned at a later stage. (Second language)

67. Receptive bilingual abilities mean that bilinguals are capable of speaking, writing and producing signs in more than one language. (incorrect)

68. Elective bilingualism is the acquisition of a second language by choice. (correct)

69. When individuals are forced to develop bilingual abilities, their bilingualism is ----------. (obligatory)

70. The term 'learning' a second language is used to indicate the study of the language as is done in school or other formal settings. (correct)

71. This type of bilingualism has been referred to as the acquisition of bilingualism as a first language. (Simultaneous)

72. Erasmus programs were introduced in _____. (1987)

73. You can only become bilingual if you start learning when you are a child. (incorrect)

74. According to Singleton, early second-language learners are neither more successful nor more efficient in acquiring a second language. (correct)

75. Children's communicative needs are simpler than those of adults. (correct)

76. This group has more time to practice and develop their bilingual competence. (Children)

77. In cases of minoritized languages, language shift may lead to language death. (correct)

78. The language maintenance of ---------- groups has been considered natural and uninteresting. (majority)

79. Language ---------- is concerned with halting and reversing the extinction of languages. (revitalization)

ENG512_Bilingualism
Quiz from Assessments (Final-Term)

80. There is a reciprocal relationship between language and identity. (correct)

81. Attitudes, values, and beliefs about a language are always ideological. (correct)

82. It refers to the beliefs about language and language use. (Language ideologies)

83. Modifying the status and prestige of a language is termed as ----------. (status planning)

84. Changing the form of a language itself through standardization, graphization and modernization is termed as ----------. (corpus planning)

85. Which of the following is not one of the seven goals of language policy discussed by Ager? (Frequency)

86. Skutnabb-Kangas's model of linguistic human rights for linguistic minorities rests on three principles for proper integration. (correct)

87. Bilingual education is a transdisciplinary endeavor that requires an ecological and sociocultural perspective. (Correct)

88. In bilingual allocation arrangements, equity between languages always means equality in time allocation. (Incorrect)

89. Bilingual allocation refers to the time allotments given to one language or the other in bilingual education. (Correct)

90. Most of the time, bilingual education programs have a sliding bilingual allocation. (Correct)

91. In sliding bilingual allocation, as bilingualism develops, the allocation of time to different languages changes. (Correct)

92. In bilingual arrangements, teacher-determined separation means that one teacher speaks only one language, and the second teacher solely speaks the other language. (Correct)

93. It refers to a situation where one particular classroom is used for instruction in one language, and a different classroom for instruction in the other. (Place-determined separation)

94. Subject-determined separation occurs when different subjects are taught through one or another language. (Correct)

95. In bilingual arrangements, strict separation means that the languages of a bilingual education curriculum are arranged by strictly separating them. (Correct)

96. While arranging languages in a curriculum if there is only one bilingual teacher per grade, a ---------- separation of languages is preferable. (time-determined)

97. Bilingual communities go for code switching as a way to achieve their full range of expression. (Correct)

98. Monolingual communities switch their styles from more informal to more formal registers. (Incorrect)

99. Random code-switching is often the way in which bilingual teachers use languages in transitional bilingual education classrooms. (Correct)

100. This type of code switches occur within a sentence and are most common in bilingual communities. (Intra-sentential)

ENG512_Bilingualism
Quiz from Assessments (Final-Term)

101. In monoliterate bilingualism, literacy is reserved only for the dominant language. (Correct)

102. Code-switching violates diglossia and creates a linguistic hegemony that may lead to language shift. (correct)

103. Bilingual arrangements that build on translanguaging are the only way to build the plurilingual abilities that we will need in the future. (correct)

104. Language alternation describes the alternating use of two languages in a bilingual education program. (correct)

105. ---------- in bilingual education occurs when a course, which is predominantly handled in one language, makes use of elements of the other language. (micro-alternation)

106. Bilingual education programs which have monolingualism as a goal encourage language mixing in ways that lead to language shift. (correct)

107. Code-switching is a scaffolding technique in bilingual classrooms, making the additional language more comprehensible. (correct)

108. Code-switching is a useful resource for mitigating the difficulties of learning through a foreign language. (correct)

109. Banishing the students' home language when instruction is taking place in a language they do not know well is appropriate. (incorrect)

110. Responsible code switching means to carefully control the quantity and quality of switching between languages in the classroom. (correct)

111. ---------- of code switching means that the main part of classroom instruction needs to take place in the language being developed. (quantity)

112. In flexible bilingual arrangements, the instructor gives the gist, the preview, most often in the ---------- of the students. (home language)

113. Throughout the world, Preview/View/Review is a popular flexible bilingual arrangement at the ----------level. (secondary)

114. According to Baker, ---------- involves the hearing, signing, or reading of lessons in one language and the development of the work in another language. (translanguaging)

115. Translanguaging is not about code-switching, but rather about an arrangement that normalizes bilingualism without functional separation. (correct)

116. Translanguaging promotes the development of competence in the weaker for bilingual or multilingual speakers. (correct)

117. A teacher showing a video documentary in one language with subtitles in another is an example of co-languaging. (Correct)

118. Co-languaging is a bilingual arrangement which means using both languages of a bilingual system simultaneously. (Correct)

119. Cross-linguistic awareness is the learners' awareness of specific links, commonalities and connections between their different language systems. (Correct)

120. Cross-linguistic awareness is a bilingual arrangement that makes it possible to build linguistic tolerance towards all varieties of languages. (Correct)

ENG512_Bilingualism
Quiz from Assessments (Final-Term)

121. Metalinguistic and metacognitive exercises offered in cross-linguistic work strengthen the bilingual students' languages. (Correct)

122. In classrooms, despite the language separations, children translanguage constantly to co-construct meaning. (Correct)

123. The sole purpose of translanguaging is ----------. (understanding)

124. Translanguaging is indeed a powerful mechanism to mediate understandings across language groups. (Correct)

125. It was a reaction to the immersion program. (bilingualism)

126. Translation is an activity that aims at conveying meaning or meanings of a given linguistic discourse from one language to another. (Correct)

127. In convergent bilingual teaching, the minority language is used only to support instruction in the majority language. (Correct)

128. ---------- bilingual teaching is an approach in which students hear and speak the second language almost exclusively in the classroom. (immersion)

129. Immersion bilingual teaching is often used when the minority language has to be protected because of the encroachment of the majority language. (Correct)

130. ---------- bilingual teaching includes translanguaging practices, plurilingual values of multilingual awareness and linguistic tolerance. (multiple)

131. In multiple bilingual teaching, two or more languages are always used in combination–neither concurrently nor separately. (Correct)

132. In transmission pedagogy, learning is viewed as the consumption, storage, memorization, and reproduction of information. (Correct)

133. ---------- pedagogy is built on the conviction that learning should involve social negotiation and interaction with others. (Constructivist)

134. Bilingual education does not integrate language and content. (incorrect)

135. The grammatical approach of bilingualism emphasizes the rules and structure of the language that is being acquired. (Correct)

136. Grammar-translation method focuses on translation of complex texts and grammatical accuracy. (Correct)

137. Which of the given options is not true for 'social justice'? (relevance)

138. Bilingual teaching combines two or more languages and cultures. (correct)

139. In bilingualism, good pedagogy that ignores the social justice principle is ineffective for bilingual instruction. (correct)

140. Bilingualism makes us more tolerant and open to interaction. (correct)

141. The social practice principle of bilingual pedagogy places learning through an additional language as a result of collaborative social practices. (correct)

142. Pakistan is a country with at least --------- major languages and 58 minor ones. (six)

143. Privileging Urdu language in Pakistan threatens linguistic and cultural diversity in the country. (correct)

144. English is as firmly entrenched in the domains of power in Pakistan as it was in 1947. (correct)

145. In Pakistan, the only provincial language which is used in education as well as in the lower administration and judiciary is ----------. (Sindhi)

146. In Punjab, unfortunately, there is widespread culture-shame about Punjabi. (correct)

BS English

https://whatsapp.com/channel/0029VaazKAVBfxoDMH4l9U0u

Maha Malik's