- Computers
- Entertainment

Unpopularity of other languages

- Lack of interest in learning other languages
- Reduced opportunities for learning other languages

Q2. How do English varieties integrate with SLA Paradigm? (Imp)

OR

Q3. What is SLA Paradigm?

The goal of SLA is to acquire native-like competence in the target language, i.e., be as proficient and fluent as a native speaker in pronunciation, grammar, and vocabulary, and also in the sociocultural conventions of language use.

2. The entire range and depth of input is or ought to be available to the learners so that they can achieve the goals of language acquisition defined above.

3. What functions the target language serves in the learners' community is irrelevant to SLA.

4. Learners' previous language(s) are not relevant to SLA except as a source of negative transfer, which is undesirable, or a source of positive transfer, which is acceptable.

5. Success in SLA depends crucially upon integrative motivation, i.e., the desire to become a part of the sociocultural milieu of the native speakers of the target language.

Q4. Explain borrowings in languages.

Locally coined words and expressions

- Considered the creativity of New English speakers by many world Englishes scholars
- Coinage
 - Addition of a prefix or suffix to an existing English word
 - Compounding local concepts with English items
- Adding a prefix or suffix

Examples:

- Stingko: Smelly (Singaporean English) Spacy: Spacious (Indian English)
- Heaty: Foods which make the body hot (Singaporean, Malaysian English)
- Examples:
- Teacheress: A female teacher (Indian English)
- Jeepey: A small bus (Philippines English)

- Enstool: To install a chief (Ghanian English)
- Destool: to depose a chief (Ghanian English)

Borrowing from indigenous languages

Examples:

- Chai: tea (East African, Pakistani, Indian English)
- Crore: Ten million
- Goondaism: Behaving in a noisy violent way
- Idioms
- Unsuccessful attempts to use idioms from the native English
- Stabilise New English idioms

Repetition

- He sells different different things
- She cut it into small small pieces
- She drove slowly slowly
- I don't like this type of dress – all frill frill, gather gather

Reduplication

The use of double words for one:

- Flower bouquet
- Young kid
- Cost price

- Proceed to go on

The use of two words for expressing one idea:

- ‘....for repairing or laying some sort of underground cables or lines’
- ‘....ever-growing and ever-increasing speeding traffic’
- ‘....without any obstruction and difficulty’

Alternatives to native non-native distinction

Use of the term 'expert' to describe accomplished users of English

Advantages of the term 'expert'

Expertise is not identity

Expertise is learned not innate

Expertise is relative

Expertise is partial

Expertise goes through testing and evaluation

Disadvantage of the term 'expert'

Implies value judgement when contrasted with non-expert

Q9.Explain 2 types of intelligibility. Or explain Comprehensibility, Interpretability. (imp)

Comprehensibility

The next level in Smith's complexity continuum of intelligibility Involves: assigning meaning to utterances, Recognizing an utterance's referents

Example:

Table

- Please put the package on the table.
- Invite guests of the committee to the table.
- Table a motion.
- Insert data into cells in a table.

Interpretability

To understand the purpose and intent of an utterance.

Most complex and most important.

Example:

Masterji must have heard.... He biked all the way ... his white beard rolled spiffily tight and his long hair tucked under a crisp chartreuse turban.... He was even carrying a kirpan.... Masterji was a Sikh... but very few went around with their ceremonial daggers strapped to their chests all day long.

Q10. What is afrogenesis. Explain .

Afrogenesis hypothesis:

Presented by Mc Whorter in 1995

Monogenetic

A single source accounts for the perceived similarities among pidgins

Slave trade as the origin:

Existence of English and French slave forts

Development of contact languages in slave forts

Contact languages are the bases of most pidgins

Evidence for the hypothesis:

Relative paucity of Spanish based creoles in the New World

Spain did not have large slave forts and settlements in Africa

It did not use labour-based cultivation systems

Q11. Explain 1st ,2nd and 3rd Diaspora. (imp)

Diaspora

- The movement or migration of a group of people away from their established or ancestral homeland

First diaspora

- English speakers from Britain carried the language to Australia, New Zealand, and North America
- They established substantial settlements and displaced the indigenous population

Second diaspora

- The second diaspora spread the language through colonization in Asia and Africa
- Settlements were fewer
- Maintained the indigenous population in subjugation
- Allowed a section of population to learn English as a second language
- English continued to be used even after the departure of the British

Third Diaspora

- Distinct manner of dispersal of English from the other two Diasporas
- Has a more recent history
- English was not transplanted through speaker migration
- The political and economic influence of Britain and the USA in East Asia, Middle East and Latin America and Europe
- Spread by individuals acquiring it as an additional language for international or international communication

Q12. Give two classification of English language. (imp)

new englishes	New Englishes
Resulting from the first Diaspora	Resulting from the second Diaspora.

It was comprised from the following countries. • North America (USA and Canada), • Australia, • New Zealand, • South Africa	It was comprised from the following countries. • Pakistani English, • Indian English, • Nigerian English, • Singapore English
Developing independently of the British English.	Being used as second languages by bilingual or multilingual people.
It was native.	It was non-native.
Independent status of ‘new’ and ‘New’ Englishes:	Independent status of ‘new’ and ‘New’ Englishes
It should be considered in their own right.	It should not be compared with other varieties of Englishes.
It was an acceptance of American English.	It was the reluctance to accept other varieties.

Q13. Give five Advantages of being native speakers in terms for linguistic diversity.

1. The monolingual tenet was central to the colonial agenda
2. It marginalizes the English language learners and privileges native speakers
3. Extends the colonial agenda of economic exploitation and cultural domination
4. “Economy is the engine that drives ELT”
5. Native speakerism unveils ELT as a tool for economic exploitation

Internationally most of the jobs are reserved for native English speaking teachers

6. Most text books are published by native English publishers
7. Teaching methods are introduced by native theorists and practitioners

Q14. Write a detail note on ‘Baby Talk’.

Origin

Proposed in 1876 by Charles Leland

Considered the earliest pidgin generation theory

Compares pidgin speakers to young children first learning to speak

Rationale.

Similarities identified between early speech of children and certain pidgins:

Use of a high proportion of content

Lack of structural words

Lack of morphological change

Approximation of standard pronunciation

Use of the baby-talk

The subordinate class perceived as unable to master the dominant class's language

Masters try to imitate their servants' incorrect speech patterns

Results from intentional simplification of speech

Q15. Limitations of kachru's model (imp)

Based on geography and history

Actual use of English by speakers in these regions overlooked.

Based on the basic distinction between native speakers and non-native speakers.

Native speakers being considered superior regardless of the quality of their language.

Pidgins and creoles do not fit into the categorisation.
