

ENG508

Quiz for Final-Term

ABSTRACT

This comprehensive collection of notes is accurately crafted to empower students to excel academically, ensuring they achieve a minimum of 80% marks in their examinations. The content is organized with clarity and precision, focusing on key concepts, critical analyses, and practical applications tailored to the syllabus. These notes serve as a reliable resource for both thorough preparation and last-minute revision. Designed to inspire confidence and mastery, this guide is an essential tool for students striving for academic excellence.

Maha Malik

Semantics and Pragmatics

ENG508_Semantics and Pragmatics
Quiz for Final-Term

1. Searle proposes that declarations have the DOUBLE direction to fit.
2. The only evidence to support action theory involves the sociolinguistic dimensions of interactional discourse
3. Searle treats language as a natural extension of NON-LINGUISTIC biological capacities.
4. According to LoCastro (2012), pragmatic competence for second language learners is important even more than acquiring high linguistic proficiency in the L2 (high)
5. Positive face-threatening acts are a direct challenge to the face of the listener. (direct)
6. communicative competence invented by the anthropologist and sociolinguist Dell Hymes
7. the demonstratives encode a way proximal/distal distinction (two)
8. "how fat you are" express according to praising
9. The British and North Americans have a sequence rather than just ending with a farewell (pre-closing)
10. A presupposition is something the speaker assumes to be the case prior to making an utterance
11. What is there less social distance there is less politeness and indirectness. (Negative)
12. An interlanguage translation model requires procedure one decoding procedure and one encoding procedure of the six language. (12)
13. The expression such as perhaps may be kind of and sort of etc. come under the heading of (Hedge)
14. Question like using isn't it on reserve isn't it? (Tag)
15. Conversational analysis examines level meaning with in a that (Different)
16. If I president. I would change the country condition (were)
17. LoCastro (2012) highlights a speech variable found in an individual's speech in Australia and the U.K., i.e. women may drop their h's.
18. Example of scale is _____ (Numerals, modals adverb, completion connective, adjectives; all of these)
19. This and That are the examples of _____ (deictic expression)
20. Conventional implicature is associated with speaker or rather than a sentence. (utterance)
21. Linguistic material that is less than a complete sentence is called (fragment)
22. Statement that expresses a proposition that is necessarily true is called a (Tautology)
23. The main concern is when teaching a _____ language (Foreign language)
24. According to Kanaggy (1999), the children in _____ are taught the cultural practices. (Japan)
25. corpus is a _____ word for body (Latin)
26. The study of language and power is often designated as CDA
27. complements carry pragmatics meaning across culture. (Different)

ENG508_Semantics and Pragmatics
Quiz for Final-Term

28. Fixedness of deictic center poses a particular _____ when we want to quote what others have said to us. (Problem)
29. indirect speech act have a _____ illocutionary that has meaning when taken literally (Descriptive)
30. Could you lend me a pen is a _____ politeness (Negative; Positive; Neutral; None of the given option)
31. Among the flowing _____ is an indirect directive redressing the face threatening act with negative (Formality of context)
32. In the educational system _____ enables students for audible transcription. (Pilot study)
33. Menard and Warwick (2009) state resistance to learning develops when education system failed to take into Account
34. The expression such as, perhaps, may be, kind of, sort of etc. Come under the heading of (Hedges)
35. According to Brown and Yule There are 2 main functions of talk.
36. in the politeness deference strategy used in _____. (Formal)
37. Synonymous words can be used in place of one another, corpora can show that it is not common for words to be readily substitutable for one another
38. which of the two news caption is inappropriate (As concern fire department evacuated people from center of square and near the building at 3 am on Sunday.)
39. Grice argued for intention-based theory, it means what's speaker's utterance and what speaker's mean by uttering (True)
40. Super or supreme principle identified by Grice. (True)
41. In flouting the manner, speaker appears to be clear, includes the third party. (False)
42. Violating the maxims of quantity and quality are same. (False)
43. We'll call you in about two weeks and then not call is an example of Maxim of quantity. (False)
44. Relevance theory is not called cognitive theory. (False)
45. Wilson and Sperber classified the relevance theory into three principles. (False)
46. A directly conveyed content is called Implicature. (False)
47. The vast majority of lexical items don't have the conceptual meaning. (False)
48. The degree of relevance is related to contextual effects and processing efforts. (True)
49. An Implicature is what a speaker can imply or suggests. (True)
50. Conventional Implicature is a subset of utterances. (True)
51. Listener don't need to focus on the background in order to understand the meaning. (True)
52. Some professors are famous; is an example of Scalar implication. (True)
53. When our conversation takes place in a very specific context, where locally recognized inferences are assumed. (True)
54. Conventional Implicature is not different from conversational Implicature. (True)

ENG508_Semantics and Pragmatics
Quiz for Final-Term

55. Defeasibility is known as cancel ability. (False)
56. Conventional Implicature is not associated with the utterance. (False)
57. The main communicative point of the utterance is called strong Implicature. (True)
58. Weak Implicature is not by itself the main communicative point of the utterance. (True)
59. Pointing via language is called Implicature. (False)
60. Spatial Deixis are used to indicate the relative location of people and things. (True)
61. Any expression used to point to a person is called person Deixis. (True)
62. Social Deixis do not refer to expressions which clearly encode social meaning. (False)
63. Time Deixis is also known as context Deixis. (False)
64. Text Deixis is also called Discourse Deixis. (True)
65. Pointing at a place in a map and saying “here” is, this property of language is called Textual analysis. (False)
66. Deictic Referents are typically denotations with limited descriptive power. (True)
67. When a person has good knowledge of English language and explains everything clearly, it means he has good pragmatic knowledge. (False)
68. When we hear a number of assumptions about the context is called Deictic center. (True)
69. A speaker assumes to be case prior to making an utterance is called Entailment (False)
70. Presupposition has six types. (False)
71. Some meanings of presupposition don't survive to become the meaning of complex sentence, this is known as projection problem. (True)
72. Word ‘any’ creates negative impression in the real world of presupposition. (True)
73. The truth of the second sentence necessarily follows from the truth of the first is defined as “entailment” by Crystal (1998). (True)
74. Performative utterances tend to begin with first person singular are called Implicit meanings. (False)
75. The sentence “I give my word” doesn't describe some states of affair rather doing certain things. (True)
76. The sentence “The earth is flat” is a statement of purpose. (False)
77. When the speaker promises to do something, there are four preparatory conditions. (False)
78. Whenever there's a direct relationship between a structure and a function we have a direct speech act. (True)
79. Directives are more often expressed as interrogatives than imperatives. (True)
80. Social distances can't give speakers power and authority. (False)
81. The one utterance can fall into more than one macro-class. (True)
82. The function in which language serves in the expression of content is called ‘transactional’. (True)
83. Illocutionary and per-Locationary speech acts help the students in the exploration of the text. (True)
84. Politeness generally refers to the modest and nice to other people. (True)

ENG508_Semantics and Pragmatics
Quiz for Final-Term

85. If you say something that represents a threat to another person's self-image that's called Threatening behavior. (False)
86. On record expressions are associated with expressions. (False)
87. Positive politeness is a strategy used when the speaker is not familiarized with the listener. (False)
88. Deference strategy is an impersonal strategy. (True)
89. Politeness is a phenomena which is in the function and the intended social meaning. (True)
90. Politeness is not influenced by the elements of the context. (False)
91. Variables that determine social distance are roles, age, gender are the examples of determine social distance. (True)
92. I'm worried about you is an example of positive politeness. (False)
93. Turn-taking is one of the feature of negative politeness. (False)
94. Backchannels are head nods, smiles and other facial expressions. (True)
95. A sequence of two related utterances by two different speakers is known as turn-taking. (False)
96. Opening sequences that are used to set up some specific potential actions are called pre-invitations. (False)
97. Cross cultural pragmatics is a subfield of stylistics. (False)
98. Modern languages include elements of communicative competence. (True)
99. Cultural values are not attached to cues more explicitly in one culture than other. (True)
100. Effective referential communication is inherently interactive. (True)
101. Interlanguage pragmatics focuses on the pragmatic development of L2 learners they seek to become proficient and successful learners. (True)
102. CALL is defined as the study of computer applications in teaching and learning. (True)
103. Computer corpora patterns are helpful in highlighting meanings, parts of speech and words. (True)
104. Researchers are not trying to use craft devices for language translation. (False)
105. It is mandatory to create turn-taking models of politeness before any computer application. (True)
106. The features of pragmatics have been less well explored in computational linguistics. (True)
107. When a noun phrase is introduced in the discourse, subparts of the referent can be treated as given information. (True)
108. Information structure requires the context of semantics and syntax. (False)
109. A noun phrase is either a pronoun or any group of words that can be replaced by a noun. (False)
110. Proper nouns and pronouns are generally definite (True)
111. Generalizations are important tool for transmission of knowledge. (True)

ENG508_Semantics and Pragmatics
Quiz for Final-Term

112. The hypothesis is wrong that two-years old can understand an indirect speech acts. (False)
113. We collect the data to test a hypothesis. (True)
114. Sequencing phenomena that needs to be marked is the overlap of three speakers. (False)
115. Folk view of talk is seen in politeness. (True)
116. If the data is transcribable and analyzable students move to the next stage, actually transcribing it. (True)
117. If it is assigned more than one meaning in grammar, it's ambiguity. (True)
118. According to code model the communication involves the transmission of meaning, the message by encoding it in language. (True)
119. Communicative competence means the ability to communicate in a language. (True)
120. In the sentence" Mary kicked John and Jane, Bill. Here the verb 'kicked' is ellipted. (True)
121. For space Deixis, demonstratives are frequently used for discourse Deixis. (True)
122. The term 'folk pragmatics' is modeled on contexts. (False)
123. Formal pragmatics is the study of pragmatic phenomena using techniques and notations from logic and mathematics. (True)
124. According to Nicholas Allott (1988) the role of language is to block the communication of thoughts. (False)
125. The difference between appearance and reality is called hyperbole. (False)
126. Fragment can be used to express complete propositions. (True)
127. Verbs cannot be used metaphorically. (False)
128. The Q principle is not intend to subsume Grice's first maxim of quantity and his first and second manners maxims. (False)
129. In linguistics determinacy thesis, there is not a general statement to arrive at a proposition expressed. (False)
130. Misfires are rare, and normally speakers are able to convey the meanings they intend with remarkable consistency. (True)
131. The word 'kine' is unmarked and the word 'cattle' is relatively marked. (False)
132. Tautology is not a statement that expresses a proposition that is necessarily true is called a tautology. (True)
133. The speaker can take the utterance as implicating information that is more specific. (True)
134. Austin considered both the speaker's intention and social conventions as possible candidates. (True)
135. Chomsky didn't introduce Generative grammar. (False)
136. The theory of meaning and theory of conversation introduced by Paul Grice. (True)

ENG508_Semantics and Pragmatics
Quiz for Final-Term

137. Levinson's theory describes two aspects of people's face. (True)
138. John Searle is British philosopher. (False)
139. Al-Issa analyzed a conversation of three interviewees used 'God willing' in their English refusal responses. (False)
140. Code-switching is to jump from one language to another one. (True)
141. Identity becomes transparent in the course of conversations. (True)
142. Identity is the clear part of discourse. (True)
143. The categories used to describe the features of human beings are called 'abstractions'. (True)
144. Clark's theory provides a framework for studying how speakers and listeners embed signals regarding their identities in their talk. (True)
145. The term 'gendered' clearly communicates the notion that gender is entity. (False)
146. In Japan women use 'Respectful prefixes' known as honorific which are based on politeness in formal context. (True)
147. Power has a role play in any consideration of gender. (True)
148. The study of language and power is often designated to CDA. (True)
149. If the purpose of interaction is problem solving then the imperatives can be 'softened'. (True)
150. It can be said that pragmatic competence can't be ignored in everyday conversation. (True)
151. According to Kanaggy (1999) the children in Japan are taught the cultural practices and context. (False)
152. McKay (2002) lists five reasons to ELT field to revise its goals and teachers their practices. (False)
153. Locastro mentioned "awareness raising" among teachers because there's a lack of teacher training programs. (True)
154. The instructional process outside of the traditional classroom comprised four phases through the workshops for new and old employers. (False)
155. It is seen that why pragmatic competence is important for ESL learners in classroom management. (True)

BS English

<https://whatsapp.com/channel/0029VaazKAVBfxoDMH4I9U0u>

Compilation