

ENG524

Finals 2K26

By Nimma Malik

IMP Acronyms

Critical discourse analysis (CDA)

Feminist critical discourse analysis (FCDA)

Budget Speeches (PBS)

Indian Budget Speeches (IBS)

Parts of Speech (POS)

Multimodal Critical Discourse Analysis (MCDA)

Social media critical discourse studies (SM-CDS)

Computer Mediated Communication (CMC)

Social Networking Sites (SNSs)

Great British Class Survey (GBCS)

Ideological state apparatuses (ISAs)

National Rifle Association (NRA)

Positive discourse analysis (PDA)

Critical discourse studies (CDS)

Ethnographic Discourse Analysis (EDA)

IMP MCQs

- 1) The headlines used in newspapers increase or decrease news worthiness of any incident and manipulate it by using linguistic markers. (discursive)
- 2) The concept of “mother tongue” relates to nativist —body-politics— of viewing and conceptualizing the nation as a body with the mother tongue.
- 3) Billig’s study (1995) of banal nationalism refers to everyday representations of the nation which build an “imaginary” of national solidarity and belonging.
- 4) Who argued against devising “further machinery for ‘guiding’ and ‘directing’ ” individuals”? (Hayek)
- 5) The way in which something is said speaker/writer comments on communication itself highlights the attitudinal kind of stance. (False) {Stylistic kind}
- 6) Bockman argued that neoliberalism can be seen as “the result of elites integrating critiques of capitalism into capitalism itself as sources of renewal”.
- 7) Subjectivity and positioning go hand in hand. (True)
- 8) Jessop (2013) has outlined five approaches examining neoliberalism.
- 9) Who stated “neoliberalism is bad for poor and working people, therefore we must oppose it”? (Ferguson)
- 10) Contextualization cues (or indexical signs) work by pointing beyond the utterance to its presupposed conditions of use. (TRUE)
- 11) Stance lacks the power to invoke presupposed systems of sociocultural values. (False)
- 12) All are the key components of stance triangles excluding. (Detachment)
- 13) The stance triangle provides an analytic toolkit of interconnected concepts and methods designed to explain various elements and processes of stance. (True)

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 14) The research exploring the hidden meanings through the study of ‘parts of speech (POS)’ focuses on _____ within text. (Nouns, pronouns, adjectives, and verbs).
- 15) What can be the function of using pronoun “I” in the speech? (To show assertion and authority and also in order to digress the discussion)
- 16) A research study found that the representation of in beauty product is more persuasive and tactical. (gender)
- 17) The responses of the viewer’s reveal their _____ for entertainment oriented, exaggerated, unfair, and moderately informative headlines of news channels. (dislike)
- 18) After 9/11, western filmmakers projected Muslim women in movie as _____ helpless and ignorant in the public and private spheres. (Victims)
- 19) Through referential strategies, framing and word choices, newspapers have based on their interests. (bias)
- 20) The analysis and the construction and reproduction of ideology through lexical choices/syntactic structures specifically can be studies at _____ level. Micro level (Textual/Linguistic/ word level)
- 21) In order to make the text cohesive and coherent _____ can be used as effective strategy. (formal links, contextual links, logical connectors)
- 22) Analysis of films provides depictions of society and paves way for combinations of CDA methods and _____ analysis. (sociocultural)
- 23) In reality TV, the _____ actor analysis focuses on the representational strategies used to depict participants and their actions. (social)
- 24) The perspective to see reality TV as a cultural technology depicts citizens as _____ versions of them. (better and happier)
- 25) Reality TV has been discussed as low-culture, a form of cheap, trivial and empty entertainment.
- 26) Which notion fits the most for analyzing the social media discourse from a Faircloughian perspective? (Production and consumption process)
- 27) Multimodal Analysis can also be important to analyze non-verbal communication such as tagging, likes, annotation, sharing, hyperlinks, etc.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 28) What are the two main types of contextual analysis from the given choices? Comparative-synchronic and Historical-diachronic
- 29) In FCDA, how does perpetrator mitigation affect the accountability of individuals responsible for violence? it minimizes and reduces the severity of their actions
- 30) In feminist CDA research, what is emphasized for understanding gender dynamics in the contemporary period? the need to challenge and dismantle oppressive power relations
- 31) According to Clark's analysis of news reports on violence against British women, victims in the reports were categorized as either 'genuine' or _____ victims. (non-genuine)
- 32) Power is a central focus in critical investigations of gender identities and relations.
- 33) Feminist critical discourse analysis (FCDA) studies have focused on investigating: “newer” gender ideologies
- 34) The term ‘feminist’ in ‘feminist CDA’ focus on ‘ _____ ’ as an object of CDA research. (gender)
- 35) Esteban noted in studies that the communicative behavior of women managers as seen inappropriate by employees and it led to their social _____ making their promotion difficult. (isolation)
- 36) Traditionally, domestic sphere seemed to be associated with in most of the gender based studies in CDA. (women)
- 37) While looking at immigration policy, a particular area in CDA studies on elite racism focuses on “increasing articulation” between race and (immigrants)
- 38) The traditional definition of race and ethnicity is related to biological and sociological factors respectively.
- 39) The discourse of illusion is thus grounded in a sociocultural mesh of beliefs and ideas about what the world is like and what it should be like.
- 40) Who gave the theoretical framework discourse of illusion? (Bhatia, 2015)
- 41) Often academics and political analysts find the word “terrorism” as a calculated element of propaganda.
- 42) Gellner defines nationalism as: Primarily, a political principle that holds that the political and the national unit should be congruent.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 43) Who proposed the eclectic framework? (Sicurella (2015))
- 44) After 9/11, the Bush administration was perceived as the official sponsor of the War on Terror, enforcing a state of moral order through the “emotionalization of facts”.
- 45) Through _____ for war, one tries to make subjective realities as legitimate and objective. (justification).
- 46) Studying the construction of text tells us about ideological beliefs and social effects. (True)
- 47) Lexical items specifically has relation with _____. (co-textual context)
- 48) Integration discourse as both _____ and producer of controlling institutional frameworks. (product)
- 49) Construction of identity of any political party can be done simply by in political discourse. (names)
- 50) For nations ‘ _____ for war’ is important, in order to prove legitimate reason/s to take any kind of definitive action in the eyes of the world. (pre-text)
- 51) It is important then to “recognize [that]” “terrorism” is simply a word, a subjective epithet, not an objective reality.
- 52) The discursive construction of terrorism is often a powerful tool of propaganda used to achieve _____ goals. (socio-political)
- 53) The fusion of politics and media over time has led to _____ transforming politicians into media celebrities. (political socialization)
- 54) An example of _____ is brown, white, or black skin (all from various parts of the world). (race)
- 55) The process of involves _____ “ideological construction as well as an apparatus of legal, political and social discrimination and oppression”. (racialization)
- 56) Scholars often refer to everyday contexts _____ as opposed to the “global”, “macro” level of institutions (local or micro)
- 57) Perhaps a single methodological approach may not be _____ to analyze historical and ideological textual discourses. (sufficient/ enough)
- 58) As biased reporting may have serious socio-psychological effects on readers.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 59) The CDA analysis of Jinnah's speech in the first constituent assembly reveals that Jinnah wanted to make Pakistan democratic, just and _____ state. (impartial)
- 60) Multimodal approach focuses on how reality TV can reproduce ideologies by involving all _____ resources. (semiotic)
- 61) According to Androutsopoulos (2012), the employment of code switching in films depicting ethnically diverse situations.
- 62) Media text can be best analyzed by adopting Van Dijk model (1995) and Fairclough & _____ model (1997). (Wodak)
- 63) Social media critical discourse analysis (SM-CDS) deals with discourse, not technology, as its central object of analysis.
- 64) The _____ square model of Van Dijk can be employed as the theoretical framework for the study of propagation of ideology. (Ideological)
- 65) How are 'objects' defined in the context of 'textual analysis' in the framework of analysis of media discourse (Carvalho, 2008)? (Layout and structural organization of the text)
- 66) The concept of 'order of discourse' is provided by _____ in CDA. (Fairclough)
- 67) According to Chilton (2004: 46) "representation is one of the obvious functions of discourse".
- 68) 'Language helps us in presenting a given view of reality' is the point of view of _____ linguist. (Chilton)
- 69) Class has not been a central focus among CDA researchers.
- 70) Emerging literature foregrounds _____ as the central focus of discourse analysis is Social Media. (discursive practice)
- 71) Gramsci's notion of hegemony is the most relevant concept taken up in CDS.
- 72) Domination is represented through _____ according to Gramsci's notion of hegemony. (private organizations)
- 73) The analysis of the news headlines reveal that Pakistani news headlines are infused with varying ideologies and power relations.
- 74) The post-Marxist theories and focuses on reality TV and how it can legitimate class differences.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 75) Politicians employ certain linguistic strategies to persuade people to follow their hidden agendas.
- 76) How can your speech establish 'in-group' or 'out-group' category? (through inclusive pronouns and vocabulary)
- 77) SFL highlights the role of naturalization, nominalization, authorial voice and cause-and-effect relations in history textbooks.
- 78) A corpus based methodology operates on a _____ collection of naturally occurring texts/discourse. (huge)/Large
- 79) There has been a limited research on the ways in which the general public has produced knowledge of the economy through intellectual engagement and debate in the media with economists.
- 80) Nations and national identities as systems of cultural representation are based on (grand) historical narratives.
- 81) Neoliberalism is a term that deals specifically with economic ideas about free markets.
- 82) Neoliberalism was originally referred to as "globalization" and began with "Free Trade deals" in the 80s and 90s.
- 83) Except _____ all are component of stance making..... A) stance taker B) resources C) stance object D) (epistemic knowledge)
- 84) The use of flags in everyday contexts refers to _____ concepts of nationalism. (Billig's)
- 85) In Neoliberalism, the term deregulation suggests the business operations more _____ with less regulations. (smoother)
- 86) Jessop (2013) has outlined five approaches examining neoliberalism.
- 87) Ferguson (2010) provocatively point out "neoliberalism is _____ for poor and working people". (bad)
- 88) Border politics is defined by _____ language and it is part of national identity politics. (national)
- 89) Stance in the theories of discourse analysis is _____. A) ideology B) maxim C) act

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 90) For a politician, _____ the important element. a) identity of politician b) public manifesto c) manifesto d) ideology
- 91) The phenomenon of 'political theory' is related to _____ in society. a) government interests b) public concerns c) public concern d) harmony
- 92) Epistemic modality refers to _____ in the analysis of political stance. a) suppositions b) illustrations c) commitment to the truth d) imaginations
- 93) Historiographical research is produced from certain _____ locations. (political, socioeconomic, all of the given, cultural)
- 94) Except _____ all are the key components of the stance triangle..... A) positioning B) objectivity C) evaluation D) alignment
- 95) Historical knowledge is constructed through semiotic practices that allow the interpretation of traces as indexes of social meanings.
- 96) The social welfare state emerged in _____ era in Western Europe, Canada, Australia, the UK and the United states. (world war II)
- 97) 'Like' refers to _____ in the sentence 'I like winters'. (stance position)/Affective
- 98) The phenomenon of 'political theory' is related to _____ in society. (public theory)
- 99) Construction of identity of any political party can be done simply by _____ in political discourse. (names)
- 100) A strong link between CDS and social theory is a necessity.
- 101) Subjective feelings such as happiness and anger are termed as _____ in stance referring. (affective)
- 102) The lexical level operates at _____ in political discourse. (words and phrases) / Word level.
- 103) Names play a crucial part in the construction of any identity.
- 104) "Shallow environmentalism" The books do address environmental topics to raise awareness of ecological destruction, they do not reflect on the underlying economic, cultural and political issues, nor do they encourage students to actively participate in transformative ecological practice.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 105) Deontic modality refers to _____ in the analysis of political stance. (emphasizing speaker's authority)
- 106) In Sweden, “eco-certified” citizens are trained through educational-content.
- 107) The third side of the triangle (the vertical line on the left) represents alignment between the two subjects.
- 108) _____ is fluid, changeable and non-static. (social media)
- 109) Clark’s findings revealed a pattern of blame (re)assignment, in which responsibility for an attack got transferred to the victim
- 110) Lazar (2018) aims to show that ‘victim blaming’ and ‘perpetrator mitigation’ function as wider transcultural discursive logics at work.
- 111) Yousuf Raza Gillani on May 09, 2011. This study is an analysis of the speech to see how certain linguistic features have been used to take people in confidence with the help of the most important political position?
- 112) social media is fluid, changeable and non-static.
- 113) The “class talk”, may invoke a “culture of poverty” ideology and ignores structural conditions and causes of poverty.
- 114) The term _____ can be defined as an optimistically assume. (Topos)
- 115) The three nodes of the stance triangle represent the three key entities in the stance act, namely the first subject, the second subject, and the (shared) stance object.
- 116) Choice of shops, buying brands or not, ecological/organic consumption, etc. (Behavior)
- 117) Reality TV is ‘the most exorbitantly “noticed” form of programming in television history’.
- 118) Van Leeuwen (2008) also points out that recontextualizations involve legitimations and evaluations of social practices.
- 119) The article written by Fairclough and Graham (2002) is entitled Marx as Critical Discourse Analyst.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 120) Race refers to a person's physical characteristics, such as bone structure and skin, hair, or eye color.
- 121) The Conservatism is a _____. (noun)
- 122) Political theory is “a body of knowledge” related to the phenomenon of the state. While “theory” refers to “a systematic knowledge”, “political” refers to “matters of public concern”.
- 123) Ethnicity, however, refers to cultural factors, including nationality, regional culture, ancestry, and language.
- 124) Feminist CDA is a political perspective which investigates the complex and diverse ways by which gender ideologies that entrench power asymmetries become ‘common sense’.
- 125) According to Rogers (2018), the majority of CDA work in education in the past decade has focused on the bottom-up forces of teachers and learners across educational sites.
- 126) Evaluation may subsume both epistemic and affective stances.
- 127) Within the more general context of political discourse, the discourses of war, terrorism, and violence have also received a fair share of attention, particularly after the 9/11 terrorist attacks in America.
- 128) Rees-Miller thinks that there is a lack of reciprocity between language scholars and other language workers.
- 129) Terrorism as a socio-political construct is difficult to be defined objectively and universally Largely context-based.
- 130) Terrorism was conceptualized as “savage acts of violence” which strive to “stop the advance of freedom”.
- 131) A key insight of CMT is that conceptual metaphors have their origins in our embodied experiences.
- 132) A free market is one that is unhindered by regulations, and is operated by private entities rather than State (public) owners.
- 133) Both privatization and deregulation contribute to the creation of free markets.
- 134) Some researchers tend to exclude this work from their publications such is the demand for _____ over the practical. (theoretical)

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 135) The findings reveal that the media discourse may not necessarily present public opinion and certain pro-government newspapers exploit news report to support the government perspective.
- 136) Transnationalism refers to the establishment of social, cultural, economic and political ties that operate beyond the nation-state.
- 137) Such a move would mean a fuller embrace of Fairclough's “radical view” of CDA, and a firmer base in political economy.
- 138) earlier feminist theories introduced the concept of “patriarchy” to refer to a social system which privileges men at the expense of women
- 139) The act of calibrating the relationship between two stances, and by implication between two stance takers (e.g. ‘I agree’). (Alignment)
- 140) Cook (2008) states: Advertising is one of the most prominent, powerful, and ubiquitous contemporary uses of language.
- 141) The study aims to explore how powerful groups in a society may control the policies and discourse of media.
- 142) Aristotle speaks of the unique human capacity for speech.
- 143) The books do address environmental topics to raise awareness of ecological destruction, they do not reflect on the underlying economic, cultural and political issues, nor do they encourage students to actively participate in transformative ecological practice.
- 144) According to Deleuze (1997), a theory is exactly like a box of tools. It must be useful. It must function.
- 145) FCDA stands for _____. (feminist critical discourse analysis)
- 146) Chouliaraki and Fairclough (1999) argue that CDA begins from the perception of a problem in society.
- 147) Modern nationalism originated in Europe in the period following the French Revolution
- 148) ccording to Krzyżanowski (2011), conducting interviews and focus groups as classic audience studies methods can be incorporated in SM-CDS but application of such methods should only be justified within the specific scope and aims of every study.
- 149) History is rewritten to highlight foundation myths of a “pure people” in “homogenous” nation-states.

- 150) van Leeuwen (2008: vii) draws on Foucault's concept of discourse as constructions of specific aspects of reality that is knowledge, combining this with a notion of discourse as a social practice and legitimation.
- 151) Co-opted a range of progressive women-centric discourses in its promotional material.
- 152) In a campaign called "Refuse to be a Victim", the NRA explicitly drew upon feminist slogans of the 1970s, which had advocated an attitudinal change in women's traditional depictions as victims of violence.
- 153) Textual and Rhetoric Analysis of News Headlines is an attempt to find out the textual and contextual differences by using different aspects of Critical Discourse Analysis.
- 154) Political critique of discourse can be viewed not only for action, but as action.
- 155) According to Macgilchrist, textbooks result from a complex production process involving various institutions and individuals.
- 156) The "_____ "protests of the 90s were attempts to resist neoliberalism. The term neoliberalism came to prominence in academics in the early 2000s. (anti-globalization)
- 157) Fairclough (1995) thinks that the influence of cultural studies is discernible more generally in CDA research.
- 158) Context, defined as a construct of "socio-cultural conventions from which the online pragmatic processing of language takes its bearing"
- 159) Persuasion & Political Discourse: A Critical Discourse Analysis of Imran Khan's Election Speech (2013)
- 160) reconnection with politics among the youth in the West, the changes in dynamics of discursive power cannot be ignored.
- 161) Privatization - Neoliberalism posits that the state should not be involved in business and industry - sell off assets. Any assets, resources, industries, services etc. are better run by private interests.
- 162) The public domain is associated traditionally with men
- 163) Van Dijk (2004) also argued that an "explicit theory of context".
- 164) The neoliberal era began in the 1970s and continues to the present.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 165) The methodology is based on the collections of methods called Multimodal Critical Discourse Analysis (MCDA)
- 166) The domestic sphere is associated with women.
- 167) Journalism is typically a discursive re-construction of reality.
- 168) Through _____ for war, one tries to make subjective realities as legitimate and objective. (justification)
- 169) According to Rogers (2005), there were only 46 articles published between 1983 and 2005.
- 170) The model of class developed by Savage et al. is clearly Bourdieusian.
- 171) SM-CDS deals with discourse, not _____ , as its central object of analysis. (technology)
- 172) But in the last 8 years, total 257 articles were published on CDA and Education.
- 173) In a campaign called “Refuse to be a Victim”, the NRA explicitly drew upon feminist slogans of the 1970s
- 174) Evaluation: Perhaps the most salient and widely recognized kind.
- 175) Terrorism and tyranny are illustrated as unstable and subjective conceptualizations of “fanaticism”, and “radicalism”.
- 176) Insaaf (PTI), a major political party in Pakistan - which he delivered from Shoukat Khanam hospital two days prior to the general elections (2013) in Pakistan.
- 177) Largely context-based Terrorism cannot really be simplistically defined as the “systematic use of violence and intimidation to achieve some goal”
- 178) Wodak (1999), he has introduced Discourse-Historical Method.
- 179) It is a specific form of free market Capitalism that has largely come to dominate global economics.
- 180) Relation to the construction of orders of discourse (Fairclough 1992).
- 181) giving Fairclough's (2002) “language of new capitalism” research programme a stronger “materialist” identity.

- 182) Ruth Wodak views discourse as a form of social practice.
- 183) A number of critical language scholars like Norman Fairclough (1999), Deborah Cameron (2000, 2010) and Monika Heller (2003, 2010) are well known for tracking the ways.
- 184) Foucault (1977) claims that sense theory does not express, translate, or serve to apply practice; It is practice.
- 185) Labour is a noun (for example, vote for Labour) which can also be used as a pre-nominal modifier (e.g., the Labour Party, a Labour government). In this, the Labour Party differs from the Conservative Party, whose name is an adjective also used as a noun (the Conservatives)
- 186) The noun Conservatism refers solely to political principles, not to the party.
- 187) Social Media refers to the use of web-based and mobile technologies to turn communication into an interactive dialogue.
- 188) Findings revealed that the Muslim women, in these movies, are seen as slaves, victims, helpless, ignorant and duped caricatures in the public and private spheres.
- 189) . The results reveal that the text of Jinnah's speech is very rich so far as CDA is concerned.
- 190) A comparative- synchronic analysis means looking at various representations of an issue at the time of the writing of one specific news text.
- 191) there is Skegg's notion of "inscription", as the way value is transferred onto bodies and read off them.
- 192) To understand the uniqueness of historical moments, we need to situate them in larger landscapes of time and space.
- 193) According to Fairclough (1989: 29–37), each social domain has an associated "order of discourse" (Foucault 1981)
- 194) As such terrorism came to represent the metaphorical divide between the "return of tyranny and the death of democracy"
- 195) Core strands in CDS have been influenced by two dominant social theories to answer these questions. Karl Marx and (neo-) Marxist approaches.
- 196) Identities are dynamic, fluid and fragmented.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 197) The recontextualisation of Barack Obama's "Yes, we can" speech into a song in the 2008 presidential election campaigns.
- 198) Sense theory is an activity conducted alongside those who _____ for power, and not their illumination from a safe distance. (struggle)
- 199) National identity also includes religious symbols, apart from language.
- 200) A weaker language cannot be expected to survive over a long period unless it receives government help.
- 201) Imran Khan's speech for the election shows the _____ and power ideologies. (Persuasion & Political Discourse)
- 202) "At a time when globally young women are self-identifying as "postfeminist" uninterested in feminist politics.
- 203) KhosraviNik (2014) has used a term bottom-up language, that how social media is used to manipulate the audience in order to influence their minds.
- 204) In the production of Politics I, 70% of the material was to be taken from previous versions.
- 205) The principle of FCDA is the ideological character of gender.
- 206) Who has outlined five approaches examining neoliberalism? (Jessop)
- 207) According to KhosraviNik (2014), the nature, location, and dynamics of discursive power in Social Media.
- 208) The object of study is historical in the sense of exploring change and the dynamic nature of discourse in relation to the construction of orders of discourse. (Fairclough)
- 209) Social Networking Sites (SNSs) include Facebook, Instagram, Tumblr, Twitter; and Instant Messaging Apps.
- 210) The _____ draws on social theory and contextual knowledge to point out the "manipulative character" of some discursive practices. (Socio-diagnostic critique)
- 211) Media studies examine the political, _____ implications of individual mediums like newspapers, television and radio, and their combined power and authority as "the media". (social, economic, cultural, all)
- 212) A number of critical language scholars like _____ (1999). (Norman Fairclough)

213) Who stated “neoliberalism is bad for poor and working people, therefore we must oppose it” (Ferguson)

214) which one among the choices is defines as “a political principle that holds that the political and the national unit should be congruent” (nationalism)

215) the institutional core of neoliberalism “consists of an articulation of state, market, and citizenship that harnesses the first to impose the stamp of the second onto the third”

216) Who argued that _____ can be seen as “the result of elites integrating critiques of capitalism into capitalism itself as sources of renewal” (neoliberalism)

217) Billig’s study (1995) of _____ refers to everyday representations of the nation which build an “imaginary” of national solidarity and belonging. (banal nationalism)

218) “In this sense”, neoliberalism was both conceived and born as a “crisis theory”.

219) According to Du Bois (2007) a “stance” is a social act, something we do through communication when we evaluate or align ourselves with objects or others.

220) For the remaining 30% they could write their own texts and select their own materials.

221) Van Dijk (1988) offers a biography of the text.

Subjective

Three kinds of stance specified by Georgalou? Explain

1) Epistemic Stance (Knowledge & Belief)

- Shows how sure or unsure the speaker is.
- Tells whether something is certain, possible, or doubtful.
- Also shows where the information comes from.

Examples:

- ❖ definitely
- ❖ I know
- ❖ I think
- ❖ maybe
- ❖ possibly
- ❖ might
- ❖ According to...

2) Attitudinal (Affective) Stance:

- Shows the speaker's feelings, emotions, or personal opinion.

Examples:

- ❖ fortunately
- ❖ unfortunately
- ❖ happily
- ❖ sadly
- ❖ I love...
- ❖ I fear...

3) Stylistic Stance:

- Shows how the speaker chooses to say something.
- The speaker comments on their own way of speaking.

Examples:

- ❖ honestly
- ❖ with all due respect
- ❖ if I may say so

Fill in the blanks on the concept of CDA & Media studies. (Leads, sociology, discourse)

- 1) van Dijk's orientation to social psychology leads him towards cognition instead of sociology.
- 2) The second strand foregrounds questions about which discourse are privileged in media.
- 3) A third strand in media discourse analysis focuses on the sociological implications of media discourses.
- 4) Researchers explicate the semantic and grammatical properties of different media genres and the ideological function of particular text types such as headlines and leads.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 5) Critical Discourse Analysis has usually been deployed to analyze discrete media texts and the intertextual relationship between thematically linked media content.
- 6) Researchers in the first strand explicit the ideological functions of text types such as headlines and leads.

True / false based on the concept of Framework for the analysis of Media text

See Lecture-35

- 1) CDA has contributed significantly to the analysis of journalistic discourse. True
- 2) The time plane in discourse analysis has been thoroughly researched. False (Correct statement: The time plane in discourse analysis remains under-researched.)
- 3) Discursive strategies of social actors are one of the under-researched aspects. True
- 4) Journalistic discourse is independent of language. False (Correct statement: Language is central to journalism, and understanding how it is used in the construction of meaning is a natural concern among media scholars)
- 5) Fowler (1991) examined linguistic aspects of news language. True
- 6) CDA only studies texts and ignores institutional and sociocultural contexts. False (Correct statement: CDA has set itself the goal of looking beyond texts and taking into account institutional and sociocultural contexts)
- 7) Fairclough (1995) proposed systematic analyses of journalistic discourse. True
- 8) Developing a research programme covering the entire life of a news text has already been fully accomplished. False (Correct statement: Developing a research programme that encompasses all the moments in the “life” of a particular news text is a key but unaccomplished goal of the CDA research community)
- 9) Journalism intersects with all fields of society. True
- 10) CDA aims to look beyond texts by considering institutional and sociocultural contexts. True

Fill in the blanks on the concept of Research in CDA & Educational discourse. (De constructively, production, everywhere, class, social)

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- A) Foucault (1980) pointed out that power is everywhere.
- B) Luke (1995) emphasized on the potential of CDA to operate both de constructively and constructively.
- C) It needs to be considered as a productive network
- D) Power runs through the whole social body”.
- E) Ayers (2005) conducted a research on a community college in USA and claimed that the college is a site for reproducing class inequalities.

Framework for Analysis of Media Discourse (Carvalho, 2008)?

- 1) Textual analysis: Layout and structural organization Objects and Actors Language, grammar and rhetoric Discursive strategies Ideological standpoints
- 2) Contextual analysis: Comparative-synchronic analysis Historical-diachronic analysis

True / false related to CDA and discourses about terrorism.

See Lecture-27

- i. The fusion of politics and media has increased academic interest in political discourse. True
- ii. Terrorism can be defined objectively and universally. False (True Statement: Terrorism is difficult to be defined objectively and universally)
- iii. The discourse of terrorism is often linked with religion and identity. True
- iv. People can engage in war without the mediating force of discourse. False (True Statement: People cannot engage in war and violence without the mediating force of discourse).
- v. CDA focuses on language as social practice. True

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- vi. CDA is interested only in investigating linguistic units. False (True Statement: CDA is not interested in investigating a linguistic unit per se but in studying social phenomena requiring a multidisciplinary and multi-methodical approach.)
- vii. The discursive construction of terrorism can be a powerful tool of propaganda. True
- viii. Bush's speeches remained the same throughout the War on Terror. False (True Statement: Bush's speeches reveal three specific time periods: pre-war, build-up to war, and post-war.)
- ix. After 9/11, terrorism was portrayed as evil and barbarism. True
- x. Only one methodological approach is enough to analyze discourses of terrorism. False (True Statement: A single methodological approach may not be enough to analyze such historically and ideologically textured discourses.)

True / false related to subjectivity and positioning.

See Topic-106

- i) Subjectivity and positioning go hand in hand. True
- ii) The act of positioning never involves speaker's subjectivity. False (Correct statement: The act of positioning regularly invokes a dimension of speaker's subjectivity.)
- iii) The personal pronoun "I" points directly to the speaking subject. True
- iv) Affective verbs include like, don't like, love, and hate. True
- v) The sentence "I like this song" does not specify the object of stance. False (Correct statement: The sentence "I like this song" directly specifies the object of stance)
- vi) The stance object in "I like this song" is "this song." True
- vii) The example "I like this song" illustrates the coexistence of subjective and objective elements within a unified stance. True

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

viii) To express subjectivity, only the speaking subject is required; no stance object is needed. False (Correct statement: To articulate this kind of subjectivity, an orientation to a specific object of the speaking subject's stance is required, together with a particular intentional relation.)

ix) Intentional relations include desiring, loving, hating, liking, and not liking. True

x) Jamie likes the song, while Sam does not like those. True

Mariana achugar views on memory and history two constructs of historiography?

- ❖ Memory is based on personal experience. (Example: "I was there.")
- ❖ History is based on facts and research. (Example: "Someone did something in the past.")
- ❖ Memory tries to remember the past as it was.
- ❖ History tries to tell the true facts about the past.
- ❖ Memory focuses on personal experiences and continuity.
- ❖ History explains changes and why they happened.

Discursive construction of national identities comprised three dimensions?

- ✚ Content
- ✚ strategies
- ✚ realizations

What is the relation between the discursive and extra-discursive?

The relation between the discursive and extra-discursive means how language (discourse) is connected with real social life, actions, and institutions.

- Discursive = Language, texts, and communication.
- Extra-discursive = Real-world things like society, culture, politics, economy, and institutions.

True / false on the concept of Research in CDA: Pakistani perspective.

See Lecture-39 to Lecture-40

- 1) The study on pro-government and independent press explores how powerful groups control media discourse. True
- 2) The findings reveal that media discourse always presents public opinion. False (True Statement: The findings reveal that the media discourse may not necessarily present public opinion)

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 3) Powerful individuals and institutions affect the production of newspaper discourse in Pakistan. True
- 4) The study on Muslim women found that films portray them as empowered and never marginalized. False (True Statement: The findings revealed that Muslim women are seen as slaves, victims, helpless, ignorant and dangerously marginalized.)
- 5) The aim of Imran Khan's speech analysis was to explore how a political leader propagates ideology through language. True
- 6) Politicians never use linguistic strategies to persuade people. False (True Statement: Politicians employ certain linguistic strategies to persuade people to follow their hidden agendas.)
- 7) Jinnah wanted Pakistan to become a liberal, democratic, just and impartial state. True
- 8) The New York Times portrayed the APS attack more impartially than Dawn. True
- 9) Newspapers always report the same event in exactly the same way. False (True Statement: Newspapers report the same event in different ways by manipulating headlines.)
- 10) Different newspapers showed variations in ideology, power, and hegemony. True
- 11) Pakistani news bulletin headlines are free from ideology and power relations. False (True Statement: Pakistani news bulletin headlines are infused with varying ideologies and power relations)
- 12) Hyperbole is the most frequently used rhetorical device in beauty product advertisements. True

Define political discourse analysis?

Political discourse analysis is a field of discourse analysis which focuses on discourse in political forums (such as debates, speeches, and hearings) as the phenomenon of interest. Political discourse is a formal discussion where people share ideas and choose the best solution to solve a social problem. Political Discourse Analysis is the analysis of political language to understand how politicians use language to influence people and achieve political goals.

Example: Imran Khan's Election Speech (2013) — analyzed to show how a political leader uses language to propagate ideology and persuade people.

Write a note on contested past and CDA?

Contested past means that different people or groups have different views about the same historical event. Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA) studies how language constructs and presents these views. It explains that historical meanings are created through words, images, and different types of discourse. These meanings can change over time because different communities interpret history differently. CDA also studies the language features used in history texts to understand how meanings are formed. It shows how language shapes identities and national discourses. According to Flowerdew (2012), discourse analysis plays an important role in writing and understanding history. Thus, CDA helps us read historical events critically and understand different perspectives.

Example:

The same war may be described as a victory by one country and a loss or tragedy by another country. This is called a contested past

According to DU Bois (2007) – Kinds of Stance?

1) Evaluation:

Evaluation is the most common and well-known type of stance. It shows what a speaker thinks or feels about something. It includes both epistemic stance (knowledge, certainty, or doubt) and affective stance (feelings and emotions).

2) Alignment:

Alignment means showing agreement or disagreement with another person's stance. It is the way a speaker matches or adjusts their opinion with someone else's opinion. For example: "I agree."

Definition of neoliberalism? Also True/False from this Neoliberalism is a term that deals specifically with economic ideas about free markets. Neoliberalism is characterized by free market trade, deregulation of financial markets, privatization, individualization, and the shift away from state welfare provision. The neoliberal era began in the 1970s and continues to the present. It is a specific form of free market Capitalism that has largely come to dominate global economics. It was originally referred to as "globalization" and began with "Free Trade deals" in the 80s and 90s. The "anti-globalization" protests of the 90s were attempts to resist neoliberalism.

Four analytical tiers of the media studies?

- i) Production
- ii) Representation
- iii) Distribution
- iv) Reception

Importance of Journalistic Media Discourse?

- ❖ It shapes public opinion.
- ❖ It reflects and constructs ideology.
- ❖ It reveals power relations.
- ❖ It helps uncover bias and manipulation.
- ❖ It explains how news is produced, distributed, and consumed

T/F from Introduction to class related discourse and CDA.

See Topic-138

- A) A radical view of CDA emphasizes the power behind discourse rather than just the power in discourse. True
- B) A radical view of CDA focuses only on power in specific interactions such as interviews. False (Correct statement: A radical view of CDA emphasizes how people with power shape the order of discourse as well as the social order in general.)
- C) CDA emphasizes ideology rather than just persuasion and manipulation. True
- D) CDA views discourse as a stake in social struggle as well as a site of social struggle. True
- E) CDA ignores class struggle as a part of social struggle. False (Correct statement: CDA views social struggle as including class struggle)
- F) One aim of CDA is to raise people's consciousness of how language contributes to domination True
- G) CDA is based on one homogeneous theoretical framework and fixed methodological tools. False (Correct statement: CDA is neither constituted by a homogeneous theoretical framework nor by a set of fixed methodological tools.)
- H) CDA focuses exclusively on discourse as language. False (Correct statement: The focus is not exclusively on discourse as language, but on semiosis, the processes of meaning-making.)
- I) CDA contains an explicit commitment to critique problematic social practices and transform them for the better. True
- J) CDA believes that social science is completely neutral and value-free. False (Correct statement: There is no neutral and value-free social science)

K) CDA researchers are interested in combating injustices in contemporary societies. True

L) CDA cannot help in class analysis. False (Correct statement: CDA can help in class analysis by analyzing class as culture, as meaning-making, and as (re)presented reality.)

M) CDA can be used to understand the rise of right-wing populist parties in Europe. True

T/F from Introduction to reality television?

See Topic-168

i) Reality TV is the most exorbitantly "noticed" form of programming in television history. True

ii) Reality TV is generally praised by media commentators for its high moral values. False (Correct statement: Reality TV has faced massive criticism from media commentators who associate it with humiliation and bullying and who see it as morally degrading.)

iii) Reality TV has attracted huge audiences despite criticism. True

iv) Reality TV usually involves ordinary people who appear to be themselves rather than following a script. True

v) Reality shows only focus on political and historical events. False (Correct statement: Reality shows are generally structured around mundane matters or domestic life.)

vi) Reality TV often exposes private and intimate aspects of participants' lives. True

vii) A key feature of reality TV is its capacity to provoke emotions. True viii) According to Sayer (2005), emotions should not be viewed as evaluative judgments. False (Correct statement: Emotions should be viewed as evaluative judgments.)

ix) Emotions can create and preserve distinctions between groups of people. True

x) Reality TV can legitimate or de-legitimate social practices and their participants. True

xi) MCDA ignores talk, music, graphics, camera work, and editing during analysis. False (Correct statement: This approach focuses on how all the involved semiotic resources (talk, music, audio effects, graphics, camera work, editing, etc.) are combined to portray participants and their actions.)

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

xii) Lischinsky presented an approach for critically examining reality TV and how it can provoke feelings. True

xiii) MCDA stands for Multimodal Critical Discourse Analysis. True

xiv) MCDA views actions and artefacts used in communication as semiotic resources. True

xv) Reality TV can reproduce ideologies. True

T/F from Violence against women.....

See Topic-134: Violence against women

- 1) Feminist discourse scholarship highlights institutionally validated sexism in the discourse of violence against women. True
- 2) Clark (1992) analyzed news reports using naming and transitivity analysis. True
- 3) Clark's study found that responsibility for attacks was always placed on the perpetrators. False (Correct statement: Clark's findings revealed a pattern of blame (re)assignment in which responsibility for an attack was often transferred to the victim or another woman, while excuses were found for the perpetrators.)
- 4) Victims were categorized as "genuine" and "non-genuine" victims. True
- 5) According to Clark, wives, mothers, and girls were considered "non-genuine" victims. False (Correct statement: Wives, mothers, and girls were categorized as "genuine" victims.)
- 6) Unmarried mothers, divorcees, and blondes were categorized as "non-genuine" victims. True
- 7) Clark argued that the distinction between victims reflected a patriarchal viewpoint. True
- 8) Men who attacked their spouses were portrayed as fiends. False (Correct statement: Men who attacked their spouses were humanized and depicted sympathetically as victims of circumstances.)
- 9) Men described as "fiends" were sometimes excused because they were shown as acting out of past traumas. True

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- 10) Ehrlich (2001) found that adjudication processes challenged androcentric assumptions. False (Correct statement: Ehrlich (2001) found that androcentric assumptions legitimized male violence and reproduced gender inequalities.)
- 11) During cross-examination, the complainants' credibility came under critical scrutiny. True
- 12) The complainants were blamed for resisting clearly and forcefully enough. False (Correct statement: The complainants were blamed for not resisting clearly and forcefully enough)
- 13) Probable consent was inferred from what was considered inadequate resistance. True
- 14) The adjudication processes fully acknowledged the gendered power dynamics shaping the complainants' responses. False (Correct statement: The adjudication processes failed to acknowledge the gendered power dynamics that had shaped and constrained the complainants' responses to the threat of sexual violence.)

How Ethnographic Discourse Analysis Contributes to CDA?

According to Macgilchrist, Ethnographic Discourse Analysis (EDA) is a way of seeing and understanding how people use language in their daily lives. It studies real-life interactions through fieldwork, such as interviews, informal conversations, participant observation, and recorded meetings. EDA helps researchers understand how discourse is produced, how hegemonic ideas are created or challenged, and how texts develop from their beginning to publication. By observing people in real situations, EDA gives deeper and more accurate insights into discourse than studying texts alone.

15) Explain De-constructivist and Constructivist turn?

De-constructivist turn:

The de-constructivist turn of CDA focuses on exposing and criticizing power, domination, oppression, and social inequality. It shows how language and discourse are used by institutions such as the media, politics, and governments to control people and reproduce unequal power relations. According to Van Dijk (2005), CDA studies how power, abuse, dominance, and inequality are expressed and resisted through texts and talk.

Constructivist turn:

The constructivist turn focuses on creating positive social change instead of only criticizing problems. It helps people understand how texts position them and gives them the ability to challenge unfair power relations. Martin (2004) called this Positive Discourse Analysis (PDA), which studies how language can promote justice, cooperation, equality, and solutions rather than only exposing problems. According to Bartlett (2012), PDA is a critical approach that focuses on solutions instead of problems.

True/ False.....

- + Racism and anti-racism in educational practices can be studied under the light of CDA. True
- + For example, the analysis of an inter-racial alliance between teacher education students contributes to a broadened view of CDA. True
- + According to Rogers (2018), most CDA work in education has focused on top-down forces associated with oppression and injustice. False (Correct statement: According to Rogers (2018), the majority of CDA work in education has focused on the bottom-up forces of teachers and learners making room for transformational practices)

T/F from Intro to the CDS & Social theory-2.....

- 1) CL emphasized the need for „unveiling“ and „demystification“ Language use they regarded as dehumanizing“ (Fowler and Kress 1979: 196) True
- 2) Althusser (2001: 109–115) defined ideology as “representing the imaginary relationship of individuals to their real conditions of existence” which “has a material existence” True
- 3) Macgilchrist(2016)focuses on the construction of their fissures and dislocations instead of their social orders and stability . False (True Statement: Macgilchrist (2016)focuses on the construction of social orders and stability instead of their fissures and dislocations.)
- 4) Ideology was “a systematic body of ideas, organized from a particular point of view” and manifest in linguistic choices (Kress and Hodge 1979: 6). True
- 5) Baker (2014) adopts a Foucauldian notion of discourse. True

The Discursive Study of Imran Khan’s Speech?

The study analyzed Imran Khan's 2013 election speech to show how he used language to promote his political ideology. Using Fairclough's CDA framework, the researchers found that Khan used persuasive language, repetition, positive self-representation, and negative other-representation to influence people. His main aim was to promote the ideas of "Change" and "New Pakistan" and gain public support.

T/F

- ❖ The traditional unidirectional, one-to-many interface of mass media is replaced with a many - to- many dynamic of discursive practice in social media True

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- ❖ Social media allows communications that is both interpersonal and mass communication, either simultaneously or separately (True)
- ❖ Web 2.0 is defined as the second stage of the internet characterized by static web pages and no user-generated content (False) (True statement: Web 2.0 is the second stage of development of the Internet, characterized by the change from static web pages to dynamic or user-generated content and the growth of social media.)

Fill in the Blanks

- a) This methodology is based on the collections of methods called _____ theorizing on discourse as recontextualized social practice. Answer: MCDA
- b) Lischinsky suggests that _____ approach can be helpful to analyze actions and artefacts in communication as resources critically. Answer: MCDA
- c) The other is based on post-Marxist theories and focuses on reality TV and how it can legitimate _____ differences. Answer: class
- d) One _____ is shown as superior over another. Answer: class
- e) Reality shows are generally _____ around mundane matters or domestic life. Answer: structured

Give general categories by Savage et al. OR five general categories which are then subdivided into dimensions? OR Five Categories of the Model of Class

- 1) Economic resources
- 2) Sociocultural resources
- 3) Behavior
- 4) Life conditions
- 5) Spatial conditions

Fill in the blanks.....

- ✚ A common feature of both elite and everyday racism seems to be the increasingly covert ways in which it is reproduced
- ✚ Direct attention from skin color as a relevant marker of difference racism tends to be associated with individual prejudice, ignorance, and backwardness that result in direct manifestations of stereotypical beliefs about certain groups.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

- ✚ Indirect racism still draws on interest-serving legitimizations of what is normal, natural or better in a particular context.

Research on a piece of literature. Five component?

- 1) Introduction
- 2) Research gap
- 3) Analysis/Findings
- 4) Theoretical framework
- 5) Thematic discussion of findings

What is Discourse-Historical Method (DHM)?

Discourse-Historical Method (DHM) (also called the Discourse-Historical Approach – DHA) is a Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA) method developed by Ruth Wodak. Discourse-Historical Method (DHM) is an approach of Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA) that studies language by looking at its historical, social, and political context. It explains that we cannot fully understand a text or speech without knowing the events and background in which it was produced. DHM also examines how language is used to create identities, express power, and spread ideologies by connecting present discourse with past events.

Fill in the blanks from FCDA (fluid, gender, geopolitics)

- The first principle of FCDA is the ideological character of gender.
- Contemporary theories have shown that gender-in-context is fluid and plural.
- Gender, importantly, exists in a matrix of other socially stratified identities including sexuality, race/ethnicity, class, profession, age, culture and geopolitics.

Explain Racism?

Racism:

Racism is unfair treatment or discrimination against people because of their race, ethnicity, or skin color. Race as a category of analysis, and racism as a dominant ideology.

Forms of racism:

1) Elite Racism:

Elite racism is racism shown by powerful people or institutions, such as politicians, media, or government, through their decisions, policies, or public statements.

2) Everyday Racism:

Everyday racism is racism that happens in daily life, such as in schools, workplaces, neighborhoods, or ordinary conversations.

3) Overt Racism:

Overt racism is open and obvious racism. People clearly express racist words or actions. For Example: Using racial insults or refusing to serve someone because of their race.

4) Covert Racism:

Covert racism is hidden or indirect racism. It is not openly expressed but appears through subtle behavior, unfair treatment, or discrimination.

Definition of ideology by Althusser?

Althusser defined ideology as “representing the imaginary relationship of individuals to their real conditions of existence” which “has a material existence”. Ideology is not just an idea. It is shown in people's real life and daily actions. According to Althusser, ideology turns ordinary people into subjects by influencing how they think, behave, and see themselves in society.

True/false from the concept of class division & CDA?

- + The class talk often focuses on surface-level approaches of poverty. True
- + A class-central CDA would focus on material inequalities in society. True
- + Discourse Analysis can help understand the policies behind welfare reform and policy changes. True

Cook's View on Advertising and CDA

Cook (2008) states: “Advertising is one of the most prominent, powerful, and ubiquitous contemporary uses of language. Advertising's creative use of language makes it a particularly rich site for language and discourse analysis”.

Fill in the Blanks (Gaze, maintained, affiliation)

- i) Alignment is achieved when interactants are cooperative in creating an interaction and must be continually maintained in a conversational
- ii) Strivers (2008) distinguish between alignment and affiliation where the latter involves displaying support for and endorsing the teller's Stance towards described events.
- iii) Charles Goodwin's analyses of alignment often focuses on both the talk of participant's physical aspects of interaction, such as Gaze.

True/false concept on political discourse.....

- ❖ Political discourse can signal political distinctions through language change True
- ❖ The use of pronouns in political discourse cannot express distance or solidarity. False
(Correct statement: The use of pronouns in political discourse can express distance or solidarity.)

True/false from the concept of CDA and text books.....

See Lecture-33

- 1) School textbooks are considered a unique resource to explore which knowledge is of most worth in a given place and time. — True
- 2) Textbooks are not intended to shape the values and knowledge of future generations. — False. Textbooks are one of the few media explicitly oriented to shaping the values, knowledge's and subjectivities of the future generation.
- 3) According to Macgilchrist, textbooks result from a complex production process involving various institutions and individuals. — True
- 4) Textbooks reflect and co-constitute what is collectively accepted as say-able in a given time and space. — True
- 5) Critical approaches to textbook discourse reconceptualize textbooks as cultural and political practices. — True
- 6) Critical approaches to textbook studies ignore the cultural politics of education and knowledge production. — False. Critical approaches foreground the cultural politics of education and of knowledge production.
- 7) Textbooks help young generations understand how the world works and which ways of living are desirable. — True
- 8) One strength of CDA of textbooks is its insistence on a research aesthetic of "smallness" and "slowness". — True
- 9) Semantic, argumentation, and lexicogrammatical patterns play no role in constructing knowledge. — False. Semantic, argumentation and lexicogrammatical patterns construct knowledge's and address readers as particular student-subjects.
- 10) Textbook discourse can be used to examine the politics of visibility and environmental issues. — True

- 11) According to Macgilchrist, textbook design can help or hinder teaching and learning processes. — True
- 12) Macgilchrist suggests that critical approaches to textbook discourse can explore racism, nationalism, immigration, and other topics. — True
- 13) Critical approaches to textbook discourse focus only on Critical Discourse Analysis and ignore SFL and social semiotics. — False. Critical approaches may focus on Systemic Functional Linguistics (SFL), social semiotics or Critical Discourse Analysis.
- 14) The findings of textbook research contribute to understanding the construction and theory of knowledge. — True

Explain Textbook Production Practices?

Macgilchrist has taken an example from Germany to make the concept of Textbook Production and CDA clear. According to him, Textbook Production Practices includes the following specifics:

1) Curriculum:

Each German state has its own curriculum. Textbooks are written according to that curriculum, so the content is controlled to match the required learning outcomes.

2) Approval Process:

Political textbooks must pass an official approval process. They are reviewed by teachers and finally approved by the Ministry of Education.

3) Use of Previous Books:

Most of the textbook (about 70%) is taken from older editions. Only 30% is new. Authors mainly update information, rearrange topics, and adapt the book to fit the new curriculum.

4) Outsourcing:

The editor works independently (self-employed) and is paid a fixed amount for completing the book. Outsourcing helps publishers reduce costs and improve efficiency.

Blanks based on violence against women (circumstances, wives, fiends, victim, patriarchal)

- i) Genuine“ victims were sexually “unavailable” women like wives, mothers and girls.
- ii) ‘Fiends’ were men who were involved in stranger attacks of “respectable” women while “non-fiends” were those who either attacked their spouses or women deemed “available”.

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

iii) Clark observed that every permutation of blame entailed a patriarchal advantage accorded to British men. OR

Clark noted, reflected a patriarchal viewpoint whereby women were categorized in terms of possible sexual encounters with men.

iv) Husbands who attacked their wives were humanized and depicted sympathetically as victims of circumstances.

Fill in the Blanks from Concept research in CDA (three, I, Fairclough's hyperbole, ideologies)

A) Hyperbole is the most used rhetorical device.

B) "I" was used to show assertion and authority and also in order to digress the discussion from the topic.

C) Compared three different Pakistani news channels.

D) Three dimensional model of the analysis of text.

E) The advertisements were collected from 3 Dawn English magazines and 3 Mag English magazines over a period of three months.

F) The three-dimensional Fairclough model of the analysis of the text.

G) A critical approach has been used to analyze this speech and some features of critical discourse model presented by Norman Fairclough were selected to look closely into the text.

H) The analysis of newspaper text has been done by adopting Fairclough & Wodak model (1997) and Van Dijk model.

I) This research has explicated the ideological constructions through Fairclough's framework for critical discourse analysis (CDA).

J) To find out the impact of headlines in construction and propagation of ideologies.

K) The analysis of the news headlines reveal that Pakistani news headlines are infused with varying ideologies and power relations.

Fill in the blanks from Justification of war.....

- ❖ “Triumph of democracy and tolerance in Iraq, in Afghanistan . . . would be a grave setback for international
- ❖ Terrorism” transforming terrorism into “a totalitarian empire that denies all political and religious freedom”
- ❖ Over time the conceptualization of terrorism evolved from its more specific, domestic-centric understanding as evil, to a more international yet specialized definition of terrorism.

Fill in the blanks from Approaches of Neoliberalism.....

- 1) First approach is about the examination of how its ideology emerged (e.g. the discussion of Hayek) during the 1940s that was dismissed by mainstream economists at the time as being on the fringe, only to achieve hegemonic status in the 1970s during the worldwide economic crisis.
- 2) Second approach explores neoliberalism as a political project or even “a style of politics characterized by market-centrism, conviction politics and an authoritarian populism
- 3) Third approach that views neoliberalism through the lens of an economic framework in its specifically economic policies purportedly designed to increase competition and spread market forces both locally and globally.
- 4) Fourth approach interprets neoliberalism as “the form taken by a capitalist offensive against organized labour after the crisis of the post-war mode of growth.
- 5) Fifth approach situates neoliberalism and its specific hegemonic rise in its material practices and policies starting in the 1970s that is characterized by the “advance of globalization based on free trade, transnational production, and the free movement of financial capital”.

How is the relation between action and structure perceived?

The relation between action and structure is about whether people's actions are shaped by social structures or whether people act freely on their own.

- Structure (society, rules, institutions) influences and guides people's behavior.
- Action means individuals can also make their own choices and decisions.

What are the Elements of stance?

- ✚ Evaluation: Expresses opinion or judgment.
- ✚ Modality: Expresses possibility, certainty, or obligation.
- ✚ Epistemic: Expresses knowledge or belief.

✚ Affective: Expresses feelings or emotions.

What are the Components of Stance?

- 1) Stance-taker
- 2) Stance-object
- 3) Resources
- 4) Addressee/s
- 5) Stance-takers
- 6) Photographer
- 7) Viewer
- 8) Stance resources
- 9) Editing, filters
- 10) Stance objects
- 11) Views on images + photography
- 12) Talk about self + others
- 13) Talk about events related to content of photo
- 14) Attitudes towards languages

Approaches of neoliberalism? OR 5 components by Jessop

Jessop (2013) has outlined five approaches examining neoliberalism:

1) Historical Approach:

This approach is about the examination of how its ideology emerged. It studies how neoliberalism started and became popular. It began in the 1940s, but became dominant in the 1970s during the global economic crisis.

2) Political Approach:

This approach sees neoliberalism as a political system that focuses on free markets and uses politics to support market-based ideas.

3) Economic Approach:

This approach views neoliberalism as an economic policy that encourages competition, free markets, and global trade.

4) Capitalist Approach:

This approach says neoliberalism supports capitalism and powerful business groups. It increased the power of companies and investors, especially over workers.

5) Globalization Approach:

ENG524 – Finals 2K26

This approach explains that neoliberalism grew through globalization. It promotes free trade, international business, and the free movement of money across countries.

Three types of characters?

- ❖ Protagonist – central character.
- ❖ Antagonist – opposes the protagonist
- ❖ Supporting characters – help develop the main plot.

Explain Social media critical discourse studies (SM-CDS)?

According to KhosraviNik (2014), at first Computer Mediated Communication (CMC), such as emails and instant messaging, was mostly ignored by mass media researchers because it looked like normal person-to-person communication. However, linguists studied CMC because they were interested in how people interact through language. Many studies used Conversation Analysis and Interactional Sociolinguistics to examine online communication. Today, researchers focus more on discursive practices in social media, which means how people use language and digital tools to communicate and become part of social groups. They believe it is important to study both the online texts and the people who create them. Recent research gives more importance to society than technology and explains how different communities use social media in different ways.

Five content-related areas were investigated BY Wodak?

- a) The construction of the Homo Austriacus
- b) The narration and construction of a shared political past
- c) The discursive construction of a shared culture
- d) The discursive construction of a shared political present and future
- e) The discursive construction of a “national body”
- f) New Dimensions of National identities

Two strengths of critical discourse analyses of textbooks?

i) Detailed Analysis:

First, their insistence on a research aesthetic of ‘smallness’ and ‘slowness’. CDA studies textbooks carefully and in detail. It examines words, grammar, meanings, and arguments to understand how knowledge is presented and how students are influenced.

ii) Critical Understanding:

CDA helps question important social and political issues, such as who is visible or invisible in textbooks, how people can solve problems, and how dominant ideas are presented.

Fill in the blanks and true false from these topics:(FCDA, Text books, Iraq war, Imran Khan Speech, Terrorism etc.)

See relevant topics (ab itna k kam to ap kr skty han na.....)

Explain Principles of Feminist Critical Discourse Analysis (FCDA)?

1) Gender as an Ideology:

Gender is not just a biological difference. It is a social and ideological system that often treats men and women unequally. Gender is also influenced by class, race, age, culture, and other social factors.

2) Power and Gender:

FCDA studies how power creates gender inequality. It explains that men often have more power in society (patriarchy), but power also works through social rules and institutions, as explained by Foucault.

3) Discourse Shapes Gender:

FCDA believes that language and discourse create and maintain gender identities. People learn and perform the roles of "men" and "women" through everyday language and social practices.

4) Critical Reflexivity:

FCDA encourages people to think critically about gender issues and challenge sexism. It supports equality by promoting inclusive language and questioning unfair gender stereotypes.

5) Analytical Activism:

FCDA is not only about studying language but also about bringing social change. It uses research and education to raise awareness and promote gender equality and social justice.

Write Note on CDA of Films?

According to Wodak and Meyer (2015), Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA) studies not only language but also non-verbal communication, such as images, gestures, and films, the internet, and multimedia. In film analysis, both spoken and written languages are examined. Researchers also analyze code-switching in films to understand social and cultural meanings. CDA studies how films represent different social groups, such as race, class, gender, and ethnicity. It also explains that images and visuals carry ideological and cultural messages. Documentaries are important because they make truth claims, so CDA examines how these claims are presented. Overall, CDA explores the relationship between language, images, power, ideology, and media, showing that films influence how people understand society and culture.

Write objective of female critical discourse analysis?

The main objective of Feminist Critical Discourse Analysis (FCDA) is to analyze how language and discourse create, maintain, or challenge gender inequality and unequal power relations. It aims to expose sexism, discrimination, and patriarchal ideologies in society and promote gender equality and social justice.

Write a note on Multimodal Critical Discourse Analysis (MCDA)?

According to Lischinsky, Multimodal Critical Discourse Analysis (MCDA) is used to study reality TV. It examines how different semiotic resources such as talk, music, sound effects, graphics, camera angles, and editing work together to create meaning and influence viewers' emotions. MCDA explains that these elements can reproduce ideologies and shape the way participants and their actions are presented. Therefore, MCDA studies how reality TV uses multiple communication resources to affect audiences and construct particular messages.

According to Lin (2014), what are the three areas where CDS is applied in Applied Linguistics?

According to Lin (2014), CDS can be deployed in three areas of Applied Linguistics:

- ✚ Studies of textbooks and school curricula
- ✚ School leadership and student identities
- ✚ Public-media discourse

How do we understand central notions in CDS like critique and emancipation, demystification and ideology, power and hegemony?

- ✚ Critique: Examining and questioning unfair social practices.
- ✚ Emancipation: Helping people become free from oppression and inequality.
- ✚ Demystification: Revealing the hidden meanings and hidden power behind language.
- ✚ Ideology: A set of beliefs or ideas that influence how people think and act.
- ✚ Power: The ability to influence or control people through language and social practices.
- ✚ Hegemony: The dominance of one group over others by making its ideas seem normal and acceptable.

Write New Directions for Critical Discourse Studies?

According to Thurlow (2018), Critical Discourse Studies (CDS) should use discourses that are understood by both researchers and society so that criticism can bring real change. CDS should also study new workplaces and professional fields instead of focusing only on traditional institutions. It should remain open to new ideas and methods and avoid following only one academic approach. Researchers should work more closely with professionals, such as advertisers and copywriters, to understand how they use language in real life. Advertising is an important area for future CDS because it uses language creatively and strongly influences people. Pennycook (1990) also suggested that researchers should be humble, listen to different views, and learn from others instead of believing that only their own ideas are correct.

Write Approaches of Political Discourse?

- i) Political discourse operates indexically
- ii) Political discourse operates as an interaction
- iii) Interaction functions to negotiate representations
- iv) Modal properties of language promote political interaction
- v) Binary conceptualizations and political discourse
- vi) Political discourse draws on spatial cognition
- vii) Political discourse involves metaphorical reasoning
- viii) Political discourse has specific connections to the emotional centers of the brain

What are the principles of the historiographical approach in CDA? OR Summarize the historiographical approach in CDA? OR What does CDA need to do from a historiographical approach?

According to the historiographical approach, CDA should:

- 1) Contextualize the past – Study the past in its social context.
- 2) Study production – Examine how historical discourse is created.
- 3) Study reception – Examine how people understand historical discourse.
- 4) Explore meanings – Analyze different meanings and interpretations of the past.
- 5) Check legitimacy and distribution – Study how historical discourse gains acceptance, value, and spreads in society.

What are discursive strategies? Also mention important discursive strategies?

In Discourse Analysis and especially Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA), discursive strategies are the methods or techniques speakers and writers use to present ideas, influence people, shape opinions, or create a particular image through language. The notion of discursive strategies helps us perceive the link between “source strategies” and media representations.

Important Discursive Strategies:

i) Framing:

Framing means presenting an issue from a particular point of view. It includes choosing what information to include or leave out and arranging it to create a specific meaning.

ii) Positioning:

Positioning means showing people in a particular role or relationship through language. It helps create a person's identity and role in society.

iii) Legitimation:

Legitimation means justifying or supporting an action, decision, or power by giving reasons or making it seem acceptable.

iv) Politicization:

Politicization means turning an issue into a political matter or giving it political importance, such as climate change becoming a political issue.

What is Perpetrator mitigation?

Perpetrator mitigation means using language to reduce or soften the responsibility of the criminal (offender).

Instead of calling an act a crime, people use softer words like "tragedy," "error," or "accident." This makes the crime seem less serious and reduces the offender's accountability. Another way is sexualising rape, which shifts attention away from the fact that rape is an act of violence and power.

Example:

Instead of saying:

- "He committed rape."

Someone says:

- "It was an unfortunate accident."

How Labor Party different from Conservative Party?

The Labour Party and the Conservative Party are different in the way their names are used.

- Labour Party is usually called "Labour" and is used in the singular.
- Conservative Party is often called "the Conservatives" (plural).
- Conservatism refers to the political ideology, not to the Conservative Party itself.
- The name "Tory/Tories" is another name for the Conservative Party, but it is mostly used by opponents, not by the party members themselves.
- The passage also explains that a party's name works like a brand, helping people recognize and remember it.

What is reality TV?

Reality TV is a type of television program that shows real people and real-life situations rather than professional actors following a scripted story. Reality TV is 'the most exorbitantly “noticed” form of programming in television history’. Reality TV has been discussed as low-culture, a form of cheap, trivial and empty entertainment.

Example:

- Big Brother
- Survivor
- MasterChef

Explain Comparative-synchronic analysis and a historical- diachronic analysis?

Comparative-synchronic analysis:

Comparative-synchronic analysis means comparing different news reports about the same event at the same time. Researchers compare reports from different newspapers, TV channels, or websites to understand how each one presents the issue. This helps identify different viewpoints, biases, and discursive strategies, and gives a more complete picture of the event.

Example: On the same day, Dawn, The News, and BBC report on the same election. A researcher compares all three reports to see how each newspaper presents the same event differently.

Historical- diachronic analysis

Historical-diachronic analysis means studying how a topic or issue changes over time. It examines the historical, political, social, and economic background and analyzes how media representations develop from the past to the present. This helps researchers understand how discourse evolves and what effects it has on society.

Example: A researcher studies how media representations of Islamophobia changed before and after 9/11.

What is Positive Discourse Analysis (PDA)?

Positive Discourse Analysis (PDA) is an approach that studies how language creates positive social change, cooperation, justice, and equality. It focuses on solutions rather than problems. It is introduced by Martin (2004). Unlike CDA, which mainly criticizes power and inequality, PDA studies successful and positive examples.

Explain Trading users' information?

Trading users' information for advertising purposes is the most common practice. Trading users' information means social media companies collect users' personal data and use or share it for advertising purposes. This helps them show personalized (targeted) ads based on users' interests, searches, likes, and online activities. The more users spend time on social media and share information, the more data companies collect. This increases advertising profits and helps companies earn more money.

What are the stance triangle Key components?

- ✚ Evaluation
- ✚ Positioning
- ✚ alignment

What is Race and ethnicity?

Race: refers to a group of people who share physical characteristics, such as skin color, hair type, or facial features. For Example: White, Black, Asian.

Ethnicity: refers to a group of people who share the same culture, language, traditions, history, or nationality. For Example: Punjabi, Pashtun, Sindhi, Baloch.

What is Border Politics in Discourse Studies?

“Border politics” are part of national identity politics and are now increasingly defined by the national language (“the mother tongue”), by ethnicity and culture, transcending the political borders of the nation-state. Border Politics in Discourse Studies examines how language is used to create ideas about national identity, borders, and immigration. It shows that some political parties use nationalist and racist discourse to present the nation as one culture, one language, and one territory. The idea of “mother tongue” is linked with nationalism, while immigrants or minorities may be portrayed as outsiders or even “parasites” (as in the Jobbik election poster). CDA studies how such language spreads ideology, racism, and exclusion.

What is Victim blaming?

Victim blaming means holding the victim responsible for the crime instead of blaming the offender. It suggests that the victim's behavior, clothes, or actions caused the attack.

In the Delhi case, words like “a decent girl,” “dressed decently,” “a respected lady,” and “a girl of respect” show that society judges women based on traditional cultural values. If a woman does not follow these expectations, some people blame her for the attack, using the idea that “she asked for it.” For example: A person says: “She was out late at night, so it was her fault.”

What are the main arguments of Fairclough and Graham (2002) in “Marx as Critical Discourse Analyst”?

According to Fairclough and Graham (2002):

- ❖ Language has become more important in late capitalism.

- ❖ Marx understood that language and society are closely connected. Language and material social life influence each other (the dialectical relationship between discourse and society).

According to Phelan, his discussion four sections?

- 1) Emergence of CDA – Explains how CDA developed in the 1980s and 1990s.
- 2) CDA in media research – Discusses how CDA has been used and criticized in media studies.
- 3) Future of media discourse studies – Suggests new directions beyond the traditional CDA approach.
- 4) Ideology critique – Gives an example of analyzing media discourse, especially neoliberalism, to show how ideology can be studied.

What is Subjectivity and Positioning?

Subjectivity means expressing the speaker's own feelings, opinions, or personal viewpoint. Positioning means showing the speaker's relationship or attitude toward a person, object, or idea through language.

In sentences like "I like this song" or "I don't like those," the word "I" shows subjectivity, while the verbs "like" and "don't like" show the speaker's position toward the object (the song). Thus, subjectivity and positioning work together to express a person's feelings and stance.

What is terrorism?

Terrorism is the use of violence, threats, or fear to achieve political, religious, or ideological goals. It usually targets civilians or public places to spread fear and pressure governments or societies. Terrorism was conceptualized as "savage acts of violence" which strive to "stop the advance of freedom" (Bush, 28/6/05).

Remember me in your precious prayers and best of luck!